Serbian Consul-General Denounces Austria as Tyrant of His Countrymen.

CHARGES INGRATITUDE

Says Serbs Gave Invaluable Service to Dual Monarchy for Two Centuries.

Prof. Michael I. Pupin of Columbia University, Serbian Consul-General here and the acknowledged leader of the Serbs in the United States in the present crisis, issued a statement last night in reply to an interview recently given by Dr. Dumba, the Austrian Ambassador, on the Serbian situation and the causes that have led up to it.

Dr. Dumba holds that Serbia is responsible for the Pan-Serb propaganda which led to the assassination of the Crown Prince and his consort at Sarajevo and he asserts that Austria's purpose now is solely to maintain her rule in Bosnia and suppress Serbian agitation in her border provinces.

but this propaganda is among the Serbs and Croats in Austria, and not among the Serbs in Serbia or Montenegro.

HEIRESS DESERTED HER TITLED HUSBAND

Libel Plea Reveals That the Hon. J. F. Mitford's German Bride Tired of Him.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun. LONDON, July 29.—The separation of the Hon. John Freeman Mitford, a son of Baron Redcliffe, and his wife, formerly Maria Anna von Friedlanderfeld, daughter of Berlin's coal king, who were married in Berlin on January 5, became known through an application made by the husband to the High Court for a criminal information against Editor De Witt Fenton of the "Pink Un" for libel.

The application was refused on technical grounds, the Lord Chief Justice holding that a criminal information was inadmissible in such a case.

A letter was read at the argument on the application written by Mrs. Mitford to her husband's mother paying a tribute to Mr. Mitford's devotion and behavior and referring to him in an affectionate manner.

EXCURSION BOAT HITS SCOW; TWO DROWN

Captain of Barge and a Woman Are Victims of East River Crash.

TIDE A TROUBLE MAKER

Passenger Attempts Rescue and Nearly Loses Life—Newark Chowder Party in Distress.

One woman, a captain of a brick barge, the Cullen No. 21, of the Cullen Transportation Company, and possibly another woman, believed to be the captain's wife, were drowned last night when the excursion steamer Majestic with 200 members of the James F. Monahan Association of Newark, homeward bound from a clubhouse at Glen Island, crashed into the barge in the East River off Eighty-sixth street. One body, that of a woman, was recovered.

The tide was strong in the river and Capt. James Burke of the Majestic found as he neared Eighty-sixth street that his steering gear was not working well. The boat was being carried close to the barge near to the Manhattan shore and entirely out of her course. He signalled for full speed astern. The wheels responded, but the rudder was jammed, it seemed, and the boat rammed head on into the rear of one of three scows, the Cullen No. 24 of the Cullen Transportation Company of Broadway.

The Majestic righted herself at once, but there was considerable excitement among the passengers. One of them, Paul F. Schorr of 526 South Seventeenth street, Newark, a brother-in-law of City Treasurer Elmer F. Day, standing on the upper deck, saw a woman run out of the cabin of the scow. He leaped over the rail just as the woman rolled into the water.

The scow about the barge nearly cost him his own life. Some one in a row-boat near the pier at Eighty-sixth street rescued him and brought him to the dock, where he was properly cared for. The woman's body floated out from under the barge and was seen by several members of the Sunken Boat Club at Eighty-fourth street, who rowed out to it. Physicians at the Reception Hospital worked over the woman for an hour.

The Majestic swung into the side of the pier at Eighty-sixth street, where a meagre report of the collision was obtained by the police. As it came alongside two men more excited than the others jumped from the upper deck to the pier and sprained their ankles. They were Adolph Diner of 179 Ferry street, Newark and James McCauley of 193 Jefferson street, Newark. Both were treated by Dr. Gayer of the Reception Hospital. The excursion boat then proceeded on her way to Newark.

The barge, after turning over, broke away from the other two scows and floated down the river. Shortly after 2 o'clock it was reported off the foot of East Twenty-second street. The police of the harbor squads were notified, but up to midnight it had not been taken in tow.

The municipal fireboat Richmond reported that it struck a party sunken scow awash about fifty feet from the Battery slip about 10 o'clock. It was probably the Cullen scow.

NOT RUNNING AMUCK, DECLARES PRESIDENT

Trying to Settle Business Unrest and Hopes to Succeed in Six Weeks.

TAKE OFF COATS AND WORK

May Not Be Proceeding in Wisest Way, but Has Country's Interest at Heart.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—President Wilson made a strong statement today of the purpose of the Administration not to run amuck as far as business is concerned, but to bring to an end the period of uncertainty and attack which has handicapped business for so long a time.

The President had two important conferences today with business men. The first was with Hugh Chalmers, the automobile manufacturer. Mr. Chalmers turned out to be a supporter of the President's plan to conclude the trust programme at this session and he made some optimistic predictions that prosperity is at hand.

The second conference was with thirty representatives of half a dozen wholesale dealers' associations, who came to discuss anti-trust legislation. These men talked little about business conditions, the only reference being to the condition of the glass industry.

A representative of the Glass Distributors Association declared that although the Underwood-Simmons tariff had cut duty on glass in half it had not damaged the industry. The President made the following remarks:

"We have had ten or fifteen years of ceaseless agitation about business. During that length of time we have read stories in the newspapers and in the magazines of the extravagantly wrong things that were going on, and an atmosphere of almost universal suspicion has been created, so that if a man became a business man in a big way he had the uncomfortable feeling that his fellow men probably looked upon him as not coming by his money in the right way."

"I think I am right in saying that what the present Administration has tried to do has been to bring all these questions to a clear understanding and settle up the balance of judgment. It may have seemed sudden to do so many things in one Congress; but wasn't it high time to just have a clearance and settle these things?"

"I am not maintaining that they are settled in the wisest way in which they could be settled, but certainly the men engaged have tried to settle them in the interest of the country, and I think in the main they have succeeded. We had many conditions, banking conditions, economic conditions, of which the country said 'they are wrong.' Now we have undertaken to give a remedy and until that was done business could not settle down to anything because the agitation was sure to come again."

"I just want to leave that thought with you, that we are not running amuck; we are trying to close this era of suspicion and of recrimination by putting in the law what the moral judgment of the community has said ought to be there. And I honestly believe that when it is done—and I hope it will not be more than six weeks now when it is done—we can all take off our coats and get to work and look one another in the face and say: 'This is a nation of honest men and we are going to do business as such.' Don't you think that is a reasonable view to take of the present situation?"

CRONIN ACCUSES MCCOBEY

Ex-Senator Testifies at Hearing of Charges Against Voorhis.

Ex-Senator Barth S. Cronin of Brooklyn, a Democrat, was a witness yesterday in the hearing of charges of incompetency and neglect against State Superintendent of Elections John H. Voorhis at the Bar Association.

It was called by the Honest Ballot Association to show that the office of State Superintendent of Elections had been used to aid in factional fights in 1911.

John H. McCobey, he testified, in the year, by influencing the State Superintendent, had Deputy Superintendent Election Hayes and Kearney removed and Mulcahy and Murtha appointed in their places. This was done, he said, to injure Hoffmann and Wogan, district leaders in Cronin's Senate district.

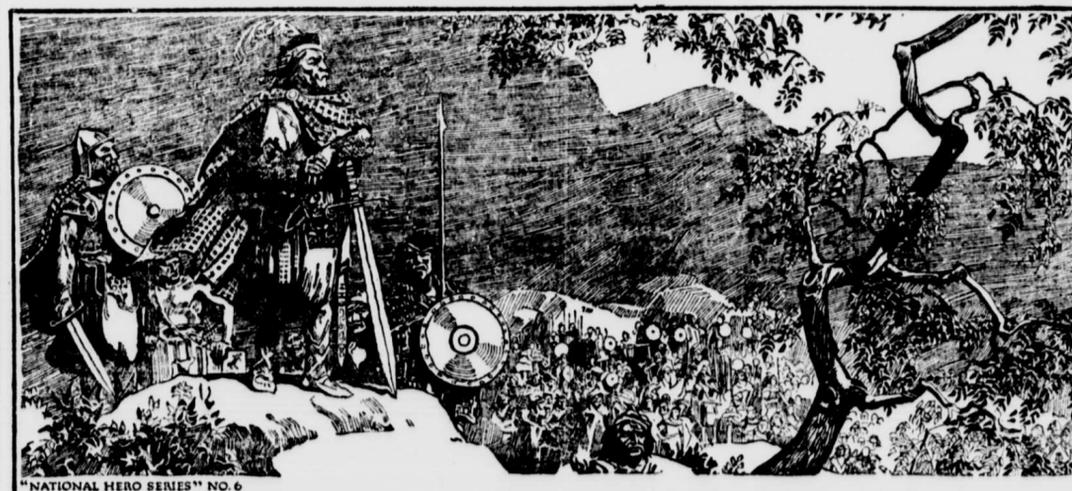

W. C. Runyon, attorney for the ballot association, asked that Voorhis' duties be assigned to the hearing, since the complainants had been unable to serve subpoenas at the Superintendent's office, but the motion was denied.

BARNES BRANDS T. R. AS BOLTER

Support of Hinman, He Says, Evidence of Party Fickleness.

What he calls the inconsistency of Col. Roosevelt was dwelt upon by William Barnes yesterday in a brief detailed statement regarding the Colonel's announced intention of supporting Harvey D. Hinman even if he fails of nomination in the Progressive primaries. Said Mr. Barnes:

"If that statement that Roosevelt will not be true it strongly indicates that he had the same attitude of mind toward the Progressives that he had toward the Republicans. Many thoughtful and patriotic men supported Roosevelt in 1912 on the theory that he had shown that that was an illusion. The Republicans tried to point out. But they could never get as much to destroy that illusion as Mr. Roosevelt is doing himself today."

William Wallace—Scotland's Great Patriot

FOR nearly seven hundred years the sons and daughters of Scotland have revered the memory of Wallace. It is not too much to say that this will continue for seventy times seven hundred years. When but a youth the love of Personal and National Liberty burned so fiercely in the breast of Wallace that he revolted against England's tyrannous rule. At the head of his gallant band of riders he won skirmish after skirmish, and finally, at the opportune time, quickly organized an army and routed the English at Stirling Bridge. William Wallace admired a good Barley-Malt brew just as do the Scotchmen of today. Prohibition has ever been a detestable word to the Scotch people. They will not have it enter into their private lives, and the Scotch vote is always registered by a large majority against such sumptuary legislation. In America they have done much to build up the country. Thousands of our solid Scotch citizens are patrons of the honest brews of Anheuser-Busch and have been constant users of BUDWEISER. They have helped to make the annual sales of this world-famed brand exceed those of any other beer by millions of bottles.
