

185,479 REGISTER IN CITY PRECINCTS

Voters Turn Out Well on First Day Throughout Metropolitan District.

75,392 OUT IN MANHATTAN

Registration figures for yesterday, the first day this year for qualifying for the election, show that there is good interest in the election. The total registration for the city for the day was 185,479, about 2,000 less than on the first day of 1913, when there was the special interest of municipal election.

Two years ago 14,421 more persons registered on the first day, but in that year there was the election of a President and of a Governor to pull out the voters. The best comparison is with the figures of four years ago, 180,000, which was exactly the same as this year's, except that the voters did not then choose a United States Senator.

The figures on the first day then were 183,458, which was less than this year's for the city. Manhattan sent 75,392 to the registration booths yesterday, only 343 less than last year, but 2,492 less than in 1912 and 4,752 less than in 1913. Brooklyn, with 47,773, sent all figures for herself except the 1912 figures, which were 74,555. The Bronx registration was 264 less than last year, but more than the first day in any other year, less than 1912, when it was 47,773, but beat her other figures, while Richmond was less than she has been in the last four years.

N. Y. Central Merger O.K.'d by Public Service Board

Consolidation With the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern and Allied Lines Held Advisable in the Way of Efficiency and Economy.

PLAN IS NO VIOLATION OF THE ANTI-TRUST LAW

ALBANY, Oct. 9.—The up-State Public Service Commission approved to-day the consolidation of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Company with the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railway Company and other railroad corporations already controlled by them into the New York Central Railroad Company, with principal offices at Albany.

This proposed consolidation has been pending before the commission for several months and has been considered by the Interstate Commerce Commission, the United States courts and the public service commissions of other States. In the opinion written by Chairman Van Santvoord, and in which the four other members of the commission concur, he says:

"We find nothing to indicate any intent on the part of the petitioners to overcapitalise either in stock or bonds. The proposed stock issue of about $250,000,000 by the new company is some $50,000,000 in amount less than the combined capital in stock of the constituents, while the outstanding bonded indebtedness of the new company on account of the New York Central-Lake Shore collateral trust bonds issued at no time and under no circumstances exceeded the precise amount at that time unpaid of the original bond, whether represented by the original bonds or by the new 4s."

The Resulting Benefits.

The opinion comments favorably on the improved position which the consolidation should create for the business now conducted under many distinct corporate heads. It is suggested that these benefits will be not only along the lines of economy and efficiency in management but that the financial prospect created by both novel and pleasing. Chairman Van Santvoord continues:

"We concur in the opinion of the Interstate Commerce Commission that from the standpoint of economy and operation and facility in financing the proposed consolidation is warranted."

The opinion takes up in detail the five principal objections raised by the petitioners raised by Caldwell, Wickesham & Taft, representing William A. Read and other Lake Shore minority stockholders, and J. Applin, Dodge, for C. H. Yennner & Co., and other stockholders of both the Lake Shore and the New York Central.

These objections have been urged not only before this commission but also before the Interstate Commerce Commission in its Congressional investigation of the proposed merger and upon no less than three occasions in the Federal courts for restraining orders in connection with the regular electric chair.

The regular electric chair, it is only a new contrivance for taking the life off by means of certain kinds of currents. The lecturer was careful to say "athletes," but all the while he was pointing out of the corner of his eyes at some women a little inclined to stoutness, who were hanging on his words, and at one or two fat men, who were asking where they had reduced, which was asking the new fat reducer, which was asking to be effective, looks like an ordinary armchair with some electrodes attached to the back and galvanic wires over the body. Technically speaking, the man explained, weight is reduced "primarily through the synchronous contraction of the muscular, and secondarily, through the electro-chemical action of the faradic current passing through the tissues."

This did not faze the stout persons and they were last seen sitting down at night. The show itself was crowded last night.

CHARLTON PUNISHED IN JAIL.

Wife Slayer in Solitary Confinement for Being Guard.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. Cozo, Oct. 9.—Dorothy Carlton, the young American who killed his wife at Moltruso four years ago and is awaiting trial here, has been put in solitary confinement as a result of the finding of copious correspondence written by him on the person of one of the prison guards, who is said to have been making letters for the prisoner for monetary considerations. The guard has been suspended and will be tried for violation of the prison regulations.

LORIMER SEEKS QUICK TRIAL.

Will Make No Appeal if Convicted Fairly, Says His Lawyer.

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—William Lorimer, who was indicted yesterday on the charge of misappropriating funds of the La Salle Street National Bank, authorized Albert Fink, his attorney, to make the following statement to-day:

"I do not wish to be brought to an immediate trial on the merits. There will be neither delay nor any effort to shield Lorimer behind any technicalities if upon a fair trial he is declared guilty. If a jury is prepared to pay the penalty. Under such circumstances there will be no appeal."

GLYNN TO CAMPAIGN UP TO LAST MINUTE

Speaking Engagements Will Take Governor All Over the State.

LOCKWOOD GOES WITH HIM

A schedule of speaking engagements which will keep Gov. Glynn and Thomas R. Lockwood, Democratic nominee for Lieutenant-Governor, busy until the night before election was arranged at the State headquarters of their party yesterday. The Governor will start and finish in this city, and on his up-State wanderings with Mr. Lockwood will skirt the Canadian border on the north and the great lakes on the west.

After the opening rally in the Brooklyn Academy of Music on Tuesday night, October 13, in which Secretary Bryan, Senator Ellis James and Congressman Sawyer Sherry will participate, the Governor and Mr. Lockwood will divide Wednesday between New York and Queens counties.

On Thursday their special train will take them up the Hudson Valley, with half a dozen stops, including Yonkers in the morning, Poughkeepsie at noon and Troy and Albany at night. On Friday they will penetrate the Catskills and speak at Kingston, Newburgh, Cornwall and Haverstraw on the West Branch of the Delaware. On Saturday they will cover Westchester county and Nassau and Suffolk on Long Island, returning to this city to rest over Sunday.

Will Go Near Canadian Line.

Mechanicville will be the first stop on Monday, October 19, and on the same day the campaigners will visit Glens Falls, Ticonderoga and other points in Saratoga, Washington and Essex counties, with a night meeting at Plattsburgh on Lake Champlain. Approaching the Canadian frontier on Tuesday, they will stop at Malone, Potsdam, Canton, Ogdensburg and Watertown on the West Branch of the St. Lawrence. On Wednesday they will go through Jefferson, Lewis, Oswego, Montgomery and Oneida counties, with night meetings at Home and Utica.

On Thursday they will visit Herkimer, Little Falls, Johnston, Gloversville, Amsterdam, Cohoes and Schenectady; on Friday, Elmira and Binghamton on Friday; Oswego, Ithaca, Cortland, Auburn and Syracuse on Saturday.

Spending Sunday in Syracuse, Gov. Glynn and Mr. Lockwood will cover Wayne, Seneca and neighboring counties on Monday, October 26, ending the day at Rochester. On Tuesday they will speak at Brockport, Medina, Lockport, Niagara Falls and Buffalo.

In the two final days of the campaign the two candidates will be separated. Mr. Lockwood will tour Erie, Cattaraugus, Chautauque, Allegany and Steuben counties, while the Governor will come from Buffalo to visit any candidate, but will not visit the voters of Brooklyn and Manhattan. The campaign here will probably end with a mass meeting in Madison Square Garden on Saturday.

Expect Wilson's Help.

Meanwhile State Chairman Osborn and Senator George A. Bayvelt of Rockland county are at State headquarters working out the details of the campaign book system which was adopted at Thursday's meeting of the executive committee. Each member of the executive committee is to have supervision over a specified district.

When the list of candidates was made up, Mr. Bayvelt, who was asked to give the word with the voters of Brooklyn and Manhattan. The campaign here will probably end with a mass meeting in Madison Square Garden on Saturday.

Excellent, very good," was the word following his finger on Mr. Tanner's published assertion that the Court of Appeals decision nullifying the rural registration law means 50,000 additional votes for the Republican Democratic State Chairman Osborn challenged Mr. Tanner yesterday to explain why this is so, if it is so, which Mr. Osborn doubts. Mr. Tanner said he would prepare an answer to-day.

DANBURY STRIKE SUIT UP AGAIN

Motion to Be Made in Supreme Court to Advance Civil Action.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—A motion will be made in the Supreme Court next week to advance one of the suits growing out of the Danbury hat-makers' strike, which occurred several years ago at Danbury, Conn.

The firm of D. B. Loew & Co., hat manufacturers of Danbury, Conn., caused a criminal action to be begun against the United Hatters of America, a labor organization, which conducted a strike at the firm's plant and instituted a boycott against its products.

For the first time the case was carried to the Supreme Court of the United States, which held that a labor organization was within the Sherman anti-trust law and could be prosecuted for a conspiracy to restrain trade if it practiced a boycott which had that effect.

The two Cabinet members are reminded of the loyalty of the Independents in supporting the President, but are urged to respect the established line of cleavage between State and national affairs.

OBJECTS TO W. T. EMMET.

Max H. Winkler Wants Him Removed as Phone Investigator.

Max H. Winkler, who is seeking an investigation of the case of the New York Telephone Company within the city limits, announced yesterday that he had filed with the Public Service Commission of the Second district an affidavit protesting against the appointment of William Temple Emmet on the investigating commission.

Mr. Winkler states in his affidavit that Mr. Emmet was formerly a member of the law firm of Emmet, Fish, that the firm was general counsel for the New York Life Insurance and Trust Company, that Mr. Emmet's brother is now a member of that firm and that the insurance company is one of the largest stockholders of record in the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, which owns the stock of the New York Telephone Company.

Chairman Van Santvoord of the up-State Public Service Commission said in Albany yesterday that Mr. Winkler's affidavit had been received and that it will be referred to the commission at a meeting next Tuesday.

The protest is not worth talking about," said Mr. Emmet last night. "In the first place, I have not been associated with Emmet & Fish for years and in the second place I doubt very much that the insurance company owns any stock in the Bell Telephone Company."

MAXWELL CO.'S FIRST REPORT.

Net Income of Motor Concern Shows To Be $1,505,467.

The first annual report of the Maxwell Motor Company, incorporated, for the year ended July 31, 1914, shows that the net earnings from operations were $1,430,444, with other income of $399,979, making total income of $1,770,423. The net income after depreciation, repairs and replacements amounted to $264,956, leaving a net income for the year of $1,505,467.

As it has been decided to conserve the resources of the company, no dividends were paid and this amount was carried to the profit and loss surplus of the company.

Late Warring Groups in G. O. P. United in His Advisory Committee.

WHITMAN CAMPAIGN PLANS

Fred Tanner, Republican State chairman, has gathered around him an advisory committee representing all the now dissolved groups which were fighting one another before the primary. He made the names public yesterday after the committee had luncheon at the Republican Club.

William Barnes is a member and attended the luncheon. Another is Harvey D. Hinman, who was not in town yesterday, but who sent word that he would serve. Also on the committee are ex-Governor B. H. Odell, Jr., Edgar T. Brackett and John R. Rose of the Hinman group, Luther B. Little, who was the manager of Job Hedge's campaign; Ogden L. Mills, defeated candidate for State Chairman, Herbert Parsons and George W. Aldridge of Rochester, who if they attend the meetings will be looking across the table at their political antagonist William Barnes.

The other members are Ellihu Root, Seth Low, William H. Cohen, Samuel W. Fairchild, president Union League Club; Borough President Marcus M. Marks, Charles D. Hillis, chairman National Republican Committee; William M. Calder, Francis Hendricks of Syracuse, James R. Sheffield, president Republican Club; William L. Ward of Westchester, John G. Wickser of Buffalo, Cornelius N. Bliss, William Herri, William J. Tully.

How to get an adequate campaign fund in this troublesome year was one of the main questions discussed at the luncheon. Mr. Tanner says that the advisory committee will be a real working body, holding frequent meetings and consulting on all points of strategy.

In opening the campaign at Kismet Temple, Brooklyn, next Wednesday night Charles S. Whitman and James W. Wadsworth, Jr., will be assisted by Edward Schoneck, Francis M. Hugo, Egbert E. Woodbury, James M. Wells and Eugene M. Travis, other State nominees. On the same night Mr. Whitman will speak at the Richmond Hill Republican Club and the Young Men's Republican Club of Brooklyn.

On Thursday he will speak at noon at the Young Men's Republican Club, Sixteenth street and Broadway, and at night on the West Side. On Friday he will visit Amsterdam, on Saturday Medina and on Monday, October 19, Rochester. The rest of the schedule is incomplete.

Picking his finger on Mr. Tanner's published assertion that the Court of Appeals decision nullifying the rural registration law means 50,000 additional votes for the Republican Democratic State Chairman Osborn challenged Mr. Tanner yesterday to explain why this is so, if it is so, which Mr. Osborn doubts. Mr. Tanner said he would prepare an answer to-day.

WILSON'S EFFORTS RESENTED.

Bryan and Daniels Invited to Stay Away From Tennessee.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 9.—Independent or Carmack Democrats who were the original supporters of President Wilson before the Baltimore convention, are resenting the interference of the national Administration in the Governorship fight. They are backing Gov. Hoover, Republican, for reelection on a platform of local issues.

The Independent State committee wired Secretary Bryan and Daniels to-night that it wouldn't be proper for them to come to Tennessee and discuss local matters.

PARKER SAYS RAID ON HEINZE WAS WRONG

Gould's Lawyer Agrees Injustice Was Done by United States Marshals.

STOCK SUIT ADJOURNED

Fritz Augustus Heinze complained in the Supreme Court yesterday that the United States Government violated his constitutional rights when deputy marshals were sent to his office to cart away his books and papers. Heinze was testifying before Justice Page and a jury in the suit brought by Edwin Gould to recover $1,200,000 as the balance due on the purchase from Gould of control of the Mercantile National Bank early in 1907.

Heinze's view of his rights met with the approval of ex-Chief Justice Alton B. Parker, who is attorney for Mr. Gould. Heinze was able to offer only two checks given him by Charles W. Morse to substantiate his contention that Morse had a half interest in the purchase of the Mercantile stock and was acting as Gould's agent. Judge Parker insisted that Heinze ought to be able to prove his contention by his books and asked him where they were.

"Doesn't know where Books Are." "I don't know," replied Heinze. "Where were they when you saw them last?"

In a room in the Federal Building about one-quarter of the size of this court room, I tried to get them back after I had been acquitted. It was the first time I had ever been indicted, and after I was acquitted I thought it was only right that the government should give me back the books I lost from me by force.

"How many books did they take?" asked Judge Parker.

"Marshals Henkel or some of his deputies drove up to my office in Brooklyn one day when I wasn't there and went away with a whole vanload—all they could lay their hands on. If I had been there I wouldn't have let them have them, as I think they invaded my constitutional rights in taking all my personal books and the books of the various companies with which I was connected when there were under investigation only the books relating to the Mercantile National Bank or the United Copper Company."

Parker Agrees With Heinze. "I think the same way," said Judge Parker. "They had no right to take your books. Did you ever try to get them back after you were acquitted in May, 1910?"

"I have asked my lawyers to try to get them back, but they don't seem to have been successful."

Heinze denied that he told his former private secretary, Haskin, that he was to have received $125 a share from the Gould interests when they bought back the bank stock.

Justice Page adjourned the case until next Tuesday to take under consideration matters relating to the Mercantile National Bank on the ground that Heinze failed to give testimony to support his defenses.

JEWELLER SHOT—4 ARRESTED.

During Noon Holdup, Police Say, Only Part of Gang's Work.

The shooting and robbery of Joseph Jewell, jeweller, in his store at 127½ Broadway, Brooklyn, led to the arrest of four men, two of whom the police charge with having perpetrated the daring holdups in United Clear stores. The last of these robberies took place at 12 Deane street. They are also charged with the theft on three successive nights last month of nearly 100 express and parcels post packages from the Grand Central station.

John Gaskin, 25, whose admissions to the police led to the others' arrest, was identified last night at Bushwick Hospital by Sorensen as the man who shot him. Gaskin is being tried for trying to escape in a waiting automobile with three others. Following his arrest Inspector Paul and Detectives Stapleton, Grieco, La Hite and England went in Commissioner Wicks' automobile to a flat at 231 East Fourth street, where they arrested Harry Wallon, 26, and William Deff, who they say were with Gaskin when Sorensen was shot. A revolver loaded with bullets cut off of him to make them dumdlums was found. Abraham Morris, who Gaskin says, drove the car, was arrested later. The police say Gaskin is the man who stole the valuable jewelry from the store, which had been twice burglarized on the block since September 1 and no arrests.
