

MISS PARKHURST IN FEAR FOR AMERICA

Kaiser May Spread War Here, She Hints in Carnegie Hall Speech.

"Germany should win in the present war," said Miss Charlotte Parkhurst in her speech at Carnegie Hall yesterday afternoon. "It would be the greatest possible blow to the woman suffrage movement. Germany is exclusively a male nation, a nation that believes might is right. It is for this reason that women, who, as the Germans say, are good for only bread, church and cooking, have been forced to stand back in Germany and see this armed conflict forced upon the world."

"The victory of the allies would mean the highest victory for Germany itself. The Germany of Beethoven and of Goethe is dead. There remains only the Germany of the Kaiser. Germany has harked her way through Belgium, she has harked her way through France, and she is only waiting to do the same in Great Britain. Should she succeed, what guarantee have you that she will not do the same to America?"

"Knowing that America wishes to hear all sides, I am speaking to-day for the cause of the allies, as a woman sees it. Americans are being asked by the German professors in their midst to believe that the allied nations are the aggressors in this terrible war. America has not yet pronounced her judgment on that point, but another great nation has already done so. That nation is Italy. Italy has refused to fight with Austria and Germany because she believes them to be the aggressors—believes them to be fighting an offensive and not a defensive war."

"Miss Parkhurst said that international peace would come only when women were enfranchised."

At the conclusion of her speech, she was bombarded with questions. In response to one of those, she said: "Some one asks me why we champion Belgium and Ireland and not our own country. I say that Ireland lies bound at our door. The Irish dominate the House of Parliament. An Irishman has more influence than I. I do not wish to compare them to the Belgians. I am answering another questioner, she said: "You ask, 'What about Great Britain's policy in the Boer war?' I do not defend the Boers. I do not defend the British. I am asking you to ask, 'Where are the Boers to-day?' They are fighting side by side in the trenches with the English. If the Boers can forgive us, I guess you can."

While there were one or two hisses, the meeting ended without any disturbance.
