

BARNES PLANS TO FASTEN HIS HOLD ON G. O. P.

Waits for a Chance to Play Role of Party Rescuer at Albany.

HIS POLICY SEEN IN LETTING THINGS DRIFT

ALBANY, March 28.—The belief prevalent in political circles here that William Barnes is deliberately avoiding any active participation in legislative and governmental matters at the Capitol.

His reasons for assuming this attitude are said to be twofold. First, to let the legislators as well as the people see how the government will drift without an experienced guiding hand at the wheel.

The mere fact that the present session of the Legislature will not end for four weeks, while the 1914 Legislature adjourned just a year ago to-day, looked upon as proof that cohesion of plan and purpose among the leaders of the Legislature and the Governor is a minus quantity.

The present idea is to have the Legislature adjourn sine die on April 23 or 24. The constitutional convention will meet on Thursday of next week, April 6, and after remaining in session 10 days to organize will take a recess for three weeks, or until April 27.

The Let Alone Policy.

There is every indication here that Mr. Barnes, as one man put it, is "letting the legislators and the Governor stew in their own juice." As proof of the absence of bossism it is pointed out that the Senate has been doing its business only after frequent conferences of the Republican members in the rooms of the majority leader, Senator Elton H. Brown.

The Assembly Republicans also have had no conferences, frequently resulting in differences with the Senate. The Governor apparently is receiving sound political advice from his kitchen.

It is suggested by this informant that Mr. Morgan may bid for an issue of $15,000,000, which tenders have already been invited. The sale of these securities in America would give England a gold credit there that would go far toward stopping the present gold flow to England.

Mr. Tanner's Visits. A. J. Tanner, the present Assembly speaker, is in Albany every week for a few days. He passed the Legislature time here early in the day, but he doesn't stop here now for any length of time.

Another member of the Legislature, Mr. Whitman, has been in Albany for a few days. He is reported to be in Albany for a few days, but he doesn't stop here now for any length of time.

Mr. Whitman's bill, which already passed the Assembly, a bill which would increase the full crew law and the bill reorganizing the State Conservation Commission.

Another instance of the lack of a working plan is shown by the fact that the Senate has inserted in the bill legislating the Conservation Commission an office a clause which puts back into the bill a provision for an Adirondack water gauge commission consisting of three members.

Garrison Orders Inquiry Made to Prepare the U. S.

All Departments Directed to Present Views and Uncover Defects.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Secretary Garrison has instituted throughout the entire War Department and the army an inquiry into the needs of the military establishment.

This action was taken after the adjournment of Congress and was partly the result of failure of the six bills recommended by the Secretary to reach the floor of either house.

The Secretary has called on all bureau heads in the War Department, the heads of the separate corps and commanders of the several departmental departments and the insular department to furnish statements of their views.

The Secretary's instructions refer particularly to questions of organization. It is proposed to supplement if possible and bring up to date the document known as "a report on the organization of the land forces of the United States," submitted in 1912.

The purpose is to present more completely than ever before precisely what the needs of the army, to what extent they can be supplied by existing actions and what legislation is necessary to make the desired reforms.

It is intended, however, to ask Congress for a more comprehensive enactment of army legislation than has been had in many years. The programme will, it is expected, cover matters of organization as well as more detailed problems.

It is also planned to seek action in regard to the modernization of the coast defense guns. A report was presented to the last Congress showing the need of many changes in the coast fortifications. In addition, officers in all the coast fortifications divisions have been instructed to make careful examinations of the equipment and plans of the United States land forces are to be brought up to the standard necessary to fit this country to engage another Power in war.

TO STOP GOLD FLOW TO U. S.

J. P. Morgan May Take Large Issue of British Notes.

LONDON, March 28.—An English financier is credited with the statement that J. P. Morgan has proposed to arrange means here to stop further gold payments by England to America for war supplies.

Recent payments amounting to $50,000,000 were mentioned, and it was predicted that if the present flow of gold from England to America continues there will be great embarrassment in both countries in England because of a shortage of the metal and in America because of an overabundance of it.

It is suggested by this informant that Mr. Morgan may bid for an issue of $15,000,000, which tenders have already been invited. The sale of these securities in America would give England a gold credit there that would go far toward stopping the present gold flow to England.

Hungry, Kills Rabbit, Pays With Jail Term

SOMERSET, N. J., March 28.—Another rabbit killing case, which in some respects rivals the famous Oscar Phillips case in North Plainfield, was up before Justice Peter D. Lane at Fair Hills this afternoon, and as the prisoner had not the money to pay his fine he was sent to the county jail for thirty days, notwithstanding his protest that he was out of work and hungry and killed the rabbit for food only.

Today's prisoner was Jasper Svarka, 24 years of age, a former farmhand who has been out of work for some time. Late yesterday afternoon Svarka saw a rabbit near Short Hills and he hurled a stone at it. His aim was good and he killed the rabbit. He picked it up and carried it home, where he was arrested by Special Game Warden Charles Myers and having admitted that he had killed the rabbit, and he also admitted knowing that this is the "flood season."

Today the game warden arraigned Svarka before Justice Lane at Fair Hills on a charge of killing a rabbit. He was fined $100, but as he had no money to pay the fine and he was sent to jail for thirty days in default.

JUNK EXPLODES; TWO MAY DIE, MANY IN PANIC

Discarded Cartridges Wreck Stable and Alarm East Side Workers.

Three men were seriously burned, two probably fatally and five hundred factory employees were thrown into a panic yesterday afternoon when the explosion of more than sixty pounds of loose gunpowder wrecked the interior of the office of a livery stable at 71 Pike street.

The three injured men and the owner of the stable have been placed under arrest, charged with having explosives in their possession.

The injured. YANKELOVITZ, ISRAEL, 28, a junk dealer of 77 Monroe street. Removed to Gouverneur Hospital suffering from severe burns about the face, head and body.

STERN, EDWARD, 28, no home, removed to Gouverneur Hospital, badly burned about the face, head and body.

THIERMAN, MORRIS, 22, a junk dealer, of 339 Cherry street, treated for burns on face and hands. Locked up at Police Headquarters.

Although the explosion occurred at 2:30 o'clock the police did not learn that the three men were injured until nearly two hours later, when two boys approached Patrolman Smith of the Madison street station and told him that two men had been burned had gone into 69 Cherry street.

With Owen Egan, inspector of the bureau of combustibles, the patrolman went into the cellar, where he found Stern buried under a pile of refuse near one of the stalls. His clothes had been torn from his body and he had been wrapped in a horse blanket.

Only a Few Hours to Live. Stern was near death from burns, and would not doubt have died in the cellar had it not been for the information furnished by the boys. He was summoned. After an examination he said that Stern had only a few hours to live.

As Stern's hands were burned almost to crisp and his eyes were burned out of his head, the police are at a loss to account for his presence under the pile of refuse. It was explained that the boys engaged in taking apart a close questioned today by the detectives, who wish to learn why they did not mention their injured companion, Stern, as a German, the others are Hungarian.

According to the story told by Thierman at Police Headquarters, the three men were engaged in taking apart a number of old and revolver cartridges and shotgun shells when the explosion occurred. He blamed Yankelovitz's haste in removing the lead from a cartridge, in exploding the shells.

The two men, who are partners, purchased the ammunition on Thursday in a job lot sale at Central market. They were engaged in taking apart a number of old and revolver cartridges and shotgun shells were taken to the stable. Yesterday morning they hired Stern, described as a "knockabout" assist them in separating the copper, lead and brass. He was to have been given 40 cents for the day's work.

The room in which the men were working is about six feet square, with a wooden bench running around three sides. A window in front of which they were sitting, fronts on Pike street.

Blames Impudent Blow. About sixty pounds of the powder had been removed from the cartridges and shells and placed in the wooden bench. The rest of the material was arranged in piles along the bench. Thierman declared that Yankelovitz, finding some difficulty in squeezing the lead bullet from the cartridge, struck it a sharp blow with the pistol he was using.

The force of the explosion rocked the building and the employees in the floors above rushed panic-stricken down the stairways to the street. Many of them fell in the flight to safety and were trampled upon by those following. Several were treated for cuts and bruises in the nearby drug stores. Windows in the building were broken by the concussion.

After hearing Thierman's story the police arrested Joseph Herman, 32, of 197 Monroe street, owner of the stables. He, too, is charged with having explosives in his possession.

YANKELOVITZ, ISRAEL, 28, a junk dealer of 77 Monroe street. Removed to Gouverneur Hospital suffering from severe burns about the face, head and body.

Wreckers Caught Only an Anchor, Not Submarine F-4

Believed Boat Is Now Located, as Part of Her Periscope Is Recovered.

By wireless to San Francisco. HONOLULU, March 28.—Great disappointment was felt here to-day when the announcement was made that the searchers for the missing submarine F-4 had thus far failed to locate her in spite of previous statements that she had been found and partly raised.

As a result the search has been renewed with the hope that the hull of the sunken boat will soon be grappled. This hope is chiefly inspired by the fact that the searchers in the vicinity of the spot where it is believed the F-4 lies brought up a section of her periscope to-day.

In his dive Azrag wore only a helmet. He spent twenty-two minutes on the downward journey and nine and a half minutes on the upward. It is said that the experience caused him no distress.

Another diver, Evans, also went down, but reported that he found nothing. It was Azrag who discovered the anchor.

Naval Constructor Julius Furer made the positive statement to-day that the four submarines of the Hawaiian division were examined as to their stability only a month ago and all were found in good condition.

Not Feeling Very Well. He said that he expects to see Miss Tanzer at 200 Madison street, on Monday, and promised to have an important statement ready early tomorrow evening. Mr. Slade added that he was feeling very well.

Expect to Find Gray Suit. In one of them is supposed to be the gray suit which Rose and Dana Tanzer have said that James W. Osborne all but certainly had. Her effects were found in a trunk at the Grand Central Station and then shipped them back to the house. They are there now.

Death Drives Auto: Crash! Man at Wheel Found a Victim of Apoplexy. Driver of a New York automobile was a light squaring at some point on the bridge last night and shouted warnings to the man heading over the steering wheel. The car sped on and crashed into a wagon.

Blames Impudent Blow. About sixty pounds of the powder had been removed from the cartridges and shells and placed in the wooden bench. The rest of the material was arranged in piles along the bench.

Blames Impudent Blow. About sixty pounds of the powder had been removed from the cartridges and shells and placed in the wooden bench. The rest of the material was arranged in piles along the bench.

Blames Impudent Blow. About sixty pounds of the powder had been removed from the cartridges and shells and placed in the wooden bench. The rest of the material was arranged in piles along the bench.

Blames Impudent Blow. About sixty pounds of the powder had been removed from the cartridges and shells and placed in the wooden bench. The rest of the material was arranged in piles along the bench.

Blames Impudent Blow. About sixty pounds of the powder had been removed from the cartridges and shells and placed in the wooden bench. The rest of the material was arranged in piles along the bench.

Blames Impudent Blow. About sixty pounds of the powder had been removed from the cartridges and shells and placed in the wooden bench. The rest of the material was arranged in piles along the bench.

Blames Impudent Blow. About sixty pounds of the powder had been removed from the cartridges and shells and placed in the wooden bench. The rest of the material was arranged in piles along the bench.

Blames Impudent Blow. About sixty pounds of the powder had been removed from the cartridges and shells and placed in the wooden bench. The rest of the material was arranged in piles along the bench.

DOESN'T KNOW WHERE RAE IS, SLADE ADMITS

"Food for Thought." He Says of Expected Osborne Case Statement.

MARSHALL AWAITING FRAUD STORY TO-DAY. Unless something entirely unexpected develops to-day United States Attorney Marshall believes that by nightfall there will be no more mystery as to the causes or circumstances of James W. Osborne's suit against James W. Osborne.

An appointment has been made for one of the most important figures in the case, a woman, to see Mr. Marshall during the day and lay bare what Mr. Marshall says is a "scheme to defraud."

This statement is confidently expected by M. Marshall and his assistants. When asked yesterday what he thought of the intimations made by members of Mr. Marshall's staff Mr. Slade said he didn't know anything about an expected statement or confession.

Not Feeling Very Well. He said that he expects to see Miss Tanzer at 200 Madison street, on Monday, and promised to have an important statement ready early tomorrow evening. Mr. Slade added that he was feeling very well.

Expect to Find Gray Suit. In one of them is supposed to be the gray suit which Rose and Dana Tanzer have said that James W. Osborne all but certainly had. Her effects were found in a trunk at the Grand Central Station and then shipped them back to the house. They are there now.

Expect to Find Gray Suit. In one of them is supposed to be the gray suit which Rose and Dana Tanzer have said that James W. Osborne all but certainly had. Her effects were found in a trunk at the Grand Central Station and then shipped them back to the house. They are there now.

Expect to Find Gray Suit. In one of them is supposed to be the gray suit which Rose and Dana Tanzer have said that James W. Osborne all but certainly had. Her effects were found in a trunk at the Grand Central Station and then shipped them back to the house. They are there now.

Expect to Find Gray Suit. In one of them is supposed to be the gray suit which Rose and Dana Tanzer have said that James W. Osborne all but certainly had. Her effects were found in a trunk at the Grand Central Station and then shipped them back to the house. They are there now.

Expect to Find Gray Suit. In one of them is supposed to be the gray suit which Rose and Dana Tanzer have said that James W. Osborne all but certainly had. Her effects were found in a trunk at the Grand Central Station and then shipped them back to the house. They are there now.

Expect to Find Gray Suit. In one of them is supposed to be the gray suit which Rose and Dana Tanzer have said that James W. Osborne all but certainly had. Her effects were found in a trunk at the Grand Central Station and then shipped them back to the house. They are there now.

Expect to Find Gray Suit. In one of them is supposed to be the gray suit which Rose and Dana Tanzer have said that James W. Osborne all but certainly had. Her effects were found in a trunk at the Grand Central Station and then shipped them back to the house. They are there now.

Expect to Find Gray Suit. In one of them is supposed to be the gray suit which Rose and Dana Tanzer have said that James W. Osborne all but certainly had. Her effects were found in a trunk at the Grand Central Station and then shipped them back to the house. They are there now.

Expect to Find Gray Suit. In one of them is supposed to be the gray suit which Rose and Dana Tanzer have said that James W. Osborne all but certainly had. Her effects were found in a trunk at the Grand Central Station and then shipped them back to the house. They are there now.

Expect to Find Gray Suit. In one of them is supposed to be the gray suit which Rose and Dana Tanzer have said that James W. Osborne all but certainly had. Her effects were found in a trunk at the Grand Central Station and then shipped them back to the house. They are there now.

Expect to Find Gray Suit. In one of them is supposed to be the gray suit which Rose and Dana Tanzer have said that James W. Osborne all but certainly had. Her effects were found in a trunk at the Grand Central Station and then shipped them back to the house. They are there now.

Expect to Find Gray Suit. In one of them is supposed to be the gray suit which Rose and Dana Tanzer have said that James W. Osborne all but certainly had. Her effects were found in a trunk at the Grand Central Station and then shipped them back to the house. They are there now.

Ring Around England Is Tightening, Says German Commander of Submarine

"Our Work Is Becoming More Effective Daily." U-16's Captain Says.

HAS NO FEAR OF BEING TREATED AS PIRATE. BY KARL H. VON WIEGAND. Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.

KIEL, March 24 (via London, March 27).—Every day that our submarine warfare against the British mercantile marine continues the more effective will our navy become. War under the sea is new to us; it is new to the world. There are no past experiences to learn from or profit by.

Creed of One German Submarine Commander. "Every day that our submarine warfare against the British mercantile marine continues the more effective will our navy become."

Creed of One German Submarine Commander. "Every day that our submarine warfare against the British mercantile marine continues the more effective will our navy become."

Creed of One German Submarine Commander. "Every day that our submarine warfare against the British mercantile marine continues the more effective will our navy become."

Creed of One German Submarine Commander. "Every day that our submarine warfare against the British mercantile marine continues the more effective will our navy become."

Creed of One German Submarine Commander. "Every day that our submarine warfare against the British mercantile marine continues the more effective will our navy become."

Creed of One German Submarine Commander. "Every day that our submarine warfare against the British mercantile marine continues the more effective will our navy become."

Creed of One German Submarine Commander. "Every day that our submarine warfare against the British mercantile marine continues the more effective will our navy become."

Creed of One German Submarine Commander. "Every day that our submarine warfare against the British mercantile marine continues the more effective will our navy become."

Creed of One German Submarine Commander. "Every day that our submarine warfare against the British mercantile marine continues the more effective will our navy become."

Creed of One German Submarine Commander. "Every day that our submarine warfare against the British mercantile marine continues the more effective will our navy become."

Creed of One German Submarine Commander. "Every day that our submarine warfare against the British mercantile marine continues the more effective will our navy become."

Creed of One German Submarine Commander. "Every day that our submarine warfare against the British mercantile marine continues the more effective will our navy become."

Creed of One German Submarine Commander. "Every day that our submarine warfare against the British mercantile marine continues the more effective will our navy become."

Creed of One German Submarine Commander. "Every day that our submarine warfare against the British mercantile marine continues the more effective will our navy become."

ITALY DELAYS INTERVENTION FOR A MONTH

Hopes That Before End of April Austria Will Seek Peace.

ROME, March 28.—Italy's intervention has been postponed again despite the pressure during the past week. Notwithstanding the failure of Peace von Bismarck's negotiations to conclude a permanent agreement between Austria and Italy, the Austrian correspondent has positive evidence, the source of which will not be given, that this country will not enter the war until toward the end of April.

ROME, March 28.—Italy's intervention has been postponed again despite the pressure during the past week. Notwithstanding the failure of Peace von Bismarck's negotiations to conclude a permanent agreement between Austria and Italy, the Austrian correspondent has positive evidence, the source of which will not be given, that this country will not enter the war until toward the end of April.

ROME, March 28.—Italy's intervention has been postponed again despite the pressure during the past week. Notwithstanding the failure of Peace von Bismarck's negotiations to conclude a permanent agreement between Austria and Italy, the Austrian correspondent has positive evidence, the source of which will not be given, that this country will not enter the war until toward the end of April.

ROME, March 28.—Italy's intervention has been postponed again despite the pressure during the past week. Notwithstanding the failure of Peace von Bismarck's negotiations to conclude a permanent agreement between Austria and Italy, the Austrian correspondent has positive evidence, the source of which will not be given, that this country will not enter the war until toward the end of April.

ROME, March 28.—Italy's intervention has been postponed again despite the pressure during the past week. Notwithstanding the failure of Peace von Bismarck's negotiations to conclude a permanent agreement between Austria and Italy, the Austrian correspondent has positive evidence, the source of which will not be given, that this country will not enter the war until toward the end of April.

ROME, March 28.—Italy's intervention has been postponed again despite the pressure during the past week. Notwithstanding the failure of Peace von Bismarck's negotiations to conclude a permanent agreement between Austria and Italy, the Austrian correspondent has positive evidence, the source of which will not be given, that this country will not enter the war until toward the end of April.

ROME, March 28.—Italy's intervention has been postponed again despite the pressure during the past week. Notwithstanding the failure of Peace von Bismarck's negotiations to conclude a permanent agreement between Austria and Italy, the Austrian correspondent has positive evidence, the source of which will not be given, that this country will not enter the war until toward the end of April.

ROME, March 28.—Italy's intervention has been postponed again despite the pressure during the past week. Notwithstanding the failure of Peace von Bismarck's negotiations to conclude a permanent agreement between Austria and Italy, the Austrian correspondent has positive evidence, the source of which will not be given, that this country will not enter the war until toward the end of April.

ROME, March 28.—Italy's intervention has been postponed again despite the pressure during the past week. Notwithstanding the failure of Peace von Bismarck's negotiations to conclude a permanent agreement between Austria and Italy, the Austrian correspondent has positive evidence, the source of which will not be given, that this country will not enter the war until toward the end of April.

ROME, March 28.—Italy's intervention has been postponed again despite the pressure during the past week. Notwithstanding the failure of Peace von Bismarck's negotiations to conclude a permanent agreement between Austria and Italy, the Austrian correspondent has positive evidence, the source of which will not be given, that this country will not enter the war until toward the end of April.

ROME, March 28.—Italy's intervention has been postponed again despite the pressure during the past week. Notwithstanding the failure of Peace von Bismarck's negotiations to conclude a permanent agreement between Austria and Italy, the Austrian correspondent has positive evidence, the source of which will not be given, that this country will not enter the war until toward the end of April.

ROME, March 28.—Italy's intervention has been postponed again despite the pressure during the past week. Notwithstanding the failure of Peace von Bismarck's negotiations to conclude a permanent agreement between Austria and Italy, the Austrian correspondent has positive evidence, the source of which will not be given, that this country will not enter the war until toward the end of April.

ROME, March 28.—Italy's intervention has been postponed again despite the pressure during the past week. Notwithstanding the failure of Peace von Bismarck's negotiations to conclude a permanent agreement between Austria and Italy, the Austrian correspondent has positive evidence, the source of which will not be given, that this country will not enter the war until toward the end of April.

ROME, March 28.—Italy's intervention has been postponed again despite the pressure during the past week. Notwithstanding the failure of Peace von Bismarck's negotiations to conclude a permanent agreement between Austria and Italy, the Austrian correspondent has positive evidence, the source of which will not be given, that this country will not enter the war until toward the end of April.

ROME, March 28.—Italy's intervention has been postponed again despite the pressure during the past week. Notwithstanding the failure of Peace von Bismarck's negotiations to conclude a permanent agreement between Austria and Italy, the Austrian correspondent has positive evidence, the source of which will not be given, that this country will not enter the war until toward the end of April.

ROME, March 28.—Italy's intervention has been postponed again despite the pressure during the past week. Notwithstanding the failure of Peace von Bismarck's negotiations to conclude a permanent agreement between Austria and Italy, the Austrian correspondent has positive evidence, the source of which will not be given, that this country will not enter the war until toward the end of April.

ROME MOB WRECKS SHOPS OF GERMANS

Threatens Austrian Embassy, but Is Beaten Off by Troops.

ROME, March 28.—A mob of 500 Germans wrecked shops and damaged property in the city of Rome yesterday. The mob was driven off by troops.

ROME, March 28.—A mob of 500 Germans wrecked shops and damaged property in the city of Rome yesterday. The mob was driven off by troops.

ROME, March 28.—A mob of 500 Germans wrecked shops and damaged property in the city of Rome yesterday. The mob was driven off by troops.

ROME, March 28.—A mob of 500 Germans wrecked shops and damaged property in the city of Rome yesterday. The mob was driven off by troops.

ROME, March 28.—A mob of 500 Germans wrecked shops and damaged property in the city of Rome yesterday. The mob was driven off by troops.

ROME, March 28.—A mob of 500 Germans wrecked shops and damaged property in the city of Rome yesterday. The mob was driven off by troops.

ROME, March 28.—A mob of 500 Germans wrecked shops and damaged property in the city of Rome yesterday. The mob was driven off by troops.

ROME, March 28.—A mob of 500 Germans wrecked shops and damaged property in the city of Rome yesterday. The mob was driven off by troops.

ROME, March 28.—A mob of 500 Germans wrecked shops and damaged property in the city of Rome yesterday. The mob was driven off by troops.

ROME, March 28.—A mob of 500 Germans wrecked shops and damaged property in the city of Rome yesterday. The mob was driven off by troops.

ROME, March 28.—A mob of 500 Germans wrecked shops and damaged property in the city of Rome yesterday. The mob was driven off by troops.

ROME, March 28.—A mob of 500 Germans wrecked shops and damaged property in the city of Rome yesterday. The mob was driven off by troops.

ROME, March 28.—A mob of 500 Germans wrecked shops and damaged property in the city of Rome yesterday. The mob was driven off by troops.

ROME, March 28.—A mob of 500 Germans wrecked shops and damaged property in the city of Rome yesterday. The mob was driven off by troops.

ROME, March 28.—A mob of 500 Germans wrecked shops and damaged property in the city of Rome yesterday. The mob was driven off by troops.

ROME, March 28.—A mob of 500 Germans wrecked shops and damaged property in the city of Rome yesterday. The mob was driven off by troops.