BRANDEIS IS CONDEMNED BY CUMMINS AND WORKS

Senate Sub-Committee Split on Report; Walsh, Chilton and Fletcher for Confirmation—Wilson Nominee Branded Lobbyist—Committee Vote Monday.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—A report was made formally to the Senate Committee on Judiciary to-day by the sub-committee which investigated the case of Louis D. Brandeis, President Wilson's nominee for the Supreme Court.

The full committee probably will take no action until next Monday. Senators Walsh and Chilton filed reports defending the nominee and recommending his confirmation. Senators Cummins and Works filed individual reports disapproving the appointment.

Senator Cummins was severe on Mr. Brandeis. He did not condemn him, however, on all counts in the bill of allegations, but singled out his attitude on the 5 per cent. rate case for special criticism. Condemning his conduct in the United Shoe Machinery Company case Senator Cummins said:

PENSIONS FOR LETTER CARRIERS ARE URGED

Everybody who is interested in having Uncle Sam pension his superannuated letter carriers and other postal employees instead of compelling them to work until they die in harness is being urged to write immediately to his Congressman, asking him to see that the Post Office Committee of the House of Representatives reports out one of the several bills that are now before it.

BAY STATE HOLDS COLONEL'S INTEREST

Fight Developing There May Net Him Many G. O. P. Delegates.

TO TALK HERE APRIL 27

OSTER BAY, I. T., April 3.—Col. Roosevelt betrayed no outward sign of interest this evening in the outcome of the primary election to-morrow of State delegates to the national convention. I was the situation in Massachusetts, and not in New York, that was brought more forcibly to the Colonel's attention, and this was done in a letter from Gratford D. Cushing, Charles Sumner Bird, Augustus P. Gardner and Robert M. Washburn, the pro-Roosevelt candidates for delegates at large to the Republican convention from the Bay State.

Outline Their Policy.

Their policy follows: DEAR COLONEL, ROOSEVELT: We have earnestly considered your insistent request to Mr. Bird that your name should not be used in the Massachusetts primary.

Your name is not on the ballot. As to agreeing not to use your name in our campaign, we regret that we do not need the Republican committee with your request. We are, however, in hearty accord with the spirit of your Trinidad statement, and if elected to the convention you are pledged in the sense that while you are our first choice we shall be free and open minded to support that man who is the strongest and best qualified to represent those principles that you are so courageously advocating and which you so successfully maintained when President.

May Get Many Delegates.

The contest is developing into a family fight between the two factions of the Republican party. Either way it goes it will result, according to the present indications, in the election of Mr. Bird to the convention at least two of the four delegates at large and many of the district delegates, who will be for Roosevelt.

U. S. BUSINESS BOOM HAS NEW HEADWAY

'Manufacturers Overwhelmed,' Says New York Reserve Agent's Report.

LABOR, MATERIALS SHORT

WASHINGTON, April 3.—The country's prosperity now is practically without a "spot," according to reports from twelve Federal reserve agents, made today by the Federal Reserve Board. One tangible evidence given of the tide of prosperity is the shortage of labor in both the Boston and New York districts, directly attributed to business extensions.

LABOR, MATERIALS SHORT

The reserve agent at Boston says that "in almost all lines of trade exceptionally good business is reported," the principal deterring factors being the embargo on freight, high cost of raw material and shortage of skilled labor. "Manufacturers are overwhelmed with orders," says the report of the New York agent, "but are hampered by a scarcity of raw materials, especially dyestuffs, and by a scant supply of labor. The absence of supplies is further aggravated by a serious car shortage, which is uncommon at this period of the year, and has caused the railroads to declare additional embargoes."

LABOR, MATERIALS SHORT

The shortage of labor, transportation and raw materials is regarded in official circles as epitomizing conditions generally. Philadelphia reports that "general business throughout this district is good and our dependence on emergency orders is diminishing. Complaints of difficulty in obtaining raw material and satisfactory delivery is becoming rather general. Deliveries are breaking records in many lines and prospects for the future are considered to be favorable."

LABOR, MATERIALS SHORT

Cleveland notes few changes in the prosperous conditions reported for February other than a difficulty in getting raw materials and parts of machinery. An increase in the number of building permits sought in the cities of the fourth reserve district are referred to by the Cleveland agent.

LABOR, MATERIALS SHORT

St. Louis states that February saw no new activity in the erection of apartment buildings and small manufacturing plants and a recent expansion of the furniture industry.

LABOR, MATERIALS SHORT

Chicago reports no change in the general business in the Kansas City district. It is observed that it continues to increase rapidly and previous high records are constantly being broken in many lines.

LABOR, MATERIALS SHORT

The same tone of optimism pervades the reports of the San Francisco, Dallas, Atlanta and Richmond agents. Several of the reserve agents comment on the decrease in the number of business failures as compared with February, 1915.

LABOR, MATERIALS SHORT

Among the four other candidates for delegates who have been opposing the Cushing-Bird-Gardner-Washburn ticket, the Timothy D. Sullivan group expected to go to Chicago ready to support Roosevelt, and the Colonel may find himself in even better luck as a result of the campaign.

LABOR, MATERIALS SHORT

Joseph Alsop, a Progressive leader of Connecticut, has written to Mr. Bird today to tell the Colonel about the strong sentiment for him in that State, and Edward Pinchot was another visitor who thought things were looking up.

LABOR, MATERIALS SHORT

The Colonel said today that he is going to deliver an address before the Methodist conference in New York City on the subject of "The Christian and the War." He will be just before his trip to Chicago, where he is to talk on "Preparedness" on the twenty-ninth.

SURE SHACKLETON REACHED THE POLE

First Officer of the Aurora Tells of Perilous Voyage in Antarctica.

SHIP CRUSHED BY ICE

DUNEDIN, New Zealand, April 3.—The steamship Aurora of the Shackleton Antarctic expedition arrived here today. The vessel was in bad condition, having buckled under the pressure of the ice fields. The Aurora brought no news of the whereabouts of Shackleton and his party. J. R. Stenhouse, first officer, who is in command of the vessel, told how she had drifted away from the Ross Sea base, where she was awaiting the arrival of Sir Ernest Shackleton after a journey across the south polar regions from the South American side. He expressed confidence that Shackleton had reached the south pole.

SHIP CRUSHED BY ICE

Mr. Stenhouse said that he thought Sir Ernest Shackleton would make his trip according to his plans. He said, however, that the party laying depots for the expedition has not been able to send supplies as far south as Cape Horn, as originally planned. Evidently the explorers encountered much worse weather than usually is experienced in the Antarctic in summer. A series of blizzards hampered the work of the shore parties whose business it was to establish depots. Nevertheless enough food was put on the ice which was available from the stores landed. Fuel and clothing may prove to be short. Capt. Mackintosh, the party which went inland had been missing for some time before the Aurora broke loose. Another party which went to get in touch with Mackintosh's party, but without success, blizzards making all travel extremely dangerous.

SHIP CRUSHED BY ICE

Shackleton hoped after crossing the pole to be met at Beardmore Glacier. It is very doubtful whether Capt. Mackintosh, even if he has surmounted his own dangers, will be able to meet him there. The shore party was staying. Mr. Stenhouse said that he hoped to be able to go back with the crew of the Aurora to take off those left ashore.

SHIP CRUSHED BY ICE

The explorers had been entirely cut off from the outside world for seventeen months and were eager to hear the news.

CARNEGIE SHIP IN PORT

Non-Magnetic Vessel Back From Tour of Antarctic.

LONDON, April 3.—A despatch received here today from Wellington, New Zealand, states that the non-magnetic vessel Carnegie has returned to Lyttelton, New Zealand, after making magnetic observations in the antarctic regions. A distance of 17,000 miles was made in 120 days by the vessel.

CARNEGIE SHIP IN PORT

The captain was greatly interested in the news of the Aurora of the Shackleton expedition, and said that if it could be arranged to visit the Aurora, he would have passed over her course about two days ahead of her.

CARNEGIE SHIP IN PORT

The Carnegie has been engaged for many years in gathering exact data concerning magnetic influences which it would be impossible to obtain from iron ships to sea. In 1912, she completed a four-year tour of the world, which much new information for magnetic charts was secured. She later made a trip to the north Atlantic.

GOVERNMENT WAGE BARS SANTA CLAUS

Father's Story Stirs House Committee in Favor of Increasing Federal Pay.

WOE OF A LITTLE GIRL

WASHINGTON, April 3.—A father's story of the disillusionment of a girl of 6 years who believed in Santa Claus moved to sympathy a sub-committee of the House Committee on Labor to-day. Harry Goldman, a white messenger in the office of the Adjutant-General of the army, told the committee how he struggled to support a family of four on a Government salary of $2 a day, and made an effective argument for the Nolan bill, which provides a $2 per day minimum in the Government service. Goldman said:

"I tell you, gentlemen, you don't know what it means to try and live on $2 a day, when you have a family of four, including a wife who isn't strong. It's denial and hardship all the time. "I used to illustrate the things that worry me. I want to tell you about last Christmas. We have a little girl 6 years old. She had always believed in Santa Claus. We were glad of it, for children ought to believe in Santa Claus, don't you think?"

"She wanted a tricycle last Christmas and she used to pray for it, and get as blue as corn when she asked for it. My wife and I promised it to her. We thought we could make it. Just before Christmas came I saw we wouldn't have the money to buy the tricycle. I talked it over, and there was only one thing to do—tell the child there wasn't any Santa Claus, or let Christmas morning go without the tricycle. "We decided to tell her, although we hated to tell the truth to a little girl of 6 years. My wife took her aside and said:

"Listen, baby, there isn't any Santa Claus. Mamma and papa are what you have known as Santa Claus. We can't buy you a tricycle this year, for we haven't any money. "Goldman told the committee that his youngest child, a baby of 5 months, wore linen that were made over from the old underclothing. Goldman said he has never been able to purchase talcum powder for the newest born. Doctor's bills and prescriptions came high, and he had to get by on $2.50 for insurance, $1.50 for gas, $1.50 for milk and the rest for coal and other necessities.
