AMERICAN LEAGUE STANDING

Table with 4 columns: Club, W, L, P.C. for American League Standing.

Today's Schedule

Philadelphia at New York, Washington at Boston, St. Louis at Chicago, Detroit at Cleveland.

The wabbling fielding game played by the Yankees in the latter part of their clash with the Athletics yesterday put them in danger, and the victory over the team with the uneven front presented by Connie Mack was not as easy as won as it could have been.

The front winds which eddied about the Polo grounds had Bob Shawkey's ineptness freely and blowing in his hands most of the time.

WOODWARD IN CONFLICT WITH NEW ENGLAND CLUBS

President of U. S. G. A. Says Ouimet Should Not Play Even in Local Competitions—Eastern Golfers Invite Him to Tournaments.

The elimination of Francis Ouimet from the amateur ranks has far outstripped the national organization regarding the amateur status of any Woodland member, and he said today that he would not be a member of the United States Golf Association. This was the first time since the formation of the executive committee of that organization that it has recommended that a member of the association should not be permitted to take part in club tournaments, and also in the elimination of Francis Ouimet from the amateur ranks has far outstripped the national organization regarding the amateur status of any Woodland member, and he said today that he would not be a member of the United States Golf Association.

ANDERSON IN NO DANGER His Amateur Standing Is Not Questioned by U. S. G. A.

There is no likelihood that John G. Anderson will be barred from amateur competitions by the United States Golf Association, which has recently notified Francis Ouimet and John H. Sullivan, Jr., that their amateur standing has been taken away from them.

BOSTON IS WITH OUIMET. Four Clubs Ask Him to Play in Their Tournaments.

Boston, April 18.—New England golfers discussed nothing but the disqualification of Francis Ouimet today and the scheme of the members of New York to play in their tournaments.

TRAVIS SEEKS OPINIONS. Asks Leading Golfers for Their Views on Ouimet Matter.

Walter J. Travis, in his capacity as editor of a golf magazine, has taken a hand in the discussion precipitated by the disqualification of Francis Ouimet from the amateur ranks because of his connection with sporting goods houses, and his friends, too, are outspoken in their criticism of the U. S. G. A.
