AMERICAN REALTY FAILS; LIABILITIES ARE $14,196,349

Largest Concern of Kind in City Owns Property Appraised at $24,627,745—Action Taken to Prevent Sacrificing Holdings to Meet Maturing Bonds.

RECEIVERS APPOINTED

Receivers were appointed yesterday for the American Real Estate Company, the largest concern of its kind in the city, because of its inability to meet payments on bonds without selling valuable property at a sacrifice.

The case was taken into court through a friendly suit in equity brought by J. J. Stephens, Inc., and Henry Schmitt, Jr., on behalf of the mortgage bond holders.

TROUBLES BEGAN LAST JUNE.

In a statement issued by Edward B. Boynton, president of the company, he says that $13,000,000 of outstanding bonds, more than $1,000,000 of which mature within twelve months and more than $1,000,000 of which are due on or before the election of the holders in the same time.

STATEMENT BY PRESIDENT.

Mr. Boynton issued the following statement yesterday: "At a meeting of the board of directors held yesterday it was resolved that under existing conditions the company should be liquidated."

MYSTERIOUS ATTACK ON POLICEMAN'S WIFE

Lawyer Presses Judgment Against Woman Who Takes in Washing. Mrs. Bertha G. Loether of 305 East Eighty-fourth street, who supports a large family by taking in washing, is facing a week in jail because she is unable to pay a judgment obtained by William C. Abernethy, a lawyer, of 21 Nassau street.

EXPECTATIONS NOT REALIZED.

The result of continuing business under such conditions would be a sacrifice of the assets of the company, and this is what the holders of the bonds are not prepared to do.

BAFF SLAYERS SENTENCED.

Archieello and Ferraro to Die Week Beginning May 20. Without indicating that they would be willing to give information concerning the plot to kill Ernest Hoff, the West Washington hoodlums, in November, 1914, Giuseppe Archieello and Frank Ferraro were sentenced yesterday by Justice Shearn in the Supreme Court, Criminal Term, to hang for the slaying of Hoff during the week beginning May 20.

NOISY CROWD AT TRIAL

In a court room thronged with friends and sympathizers, Emma Goldman, the anarchist, decided yesterday to spend fifteen days in the workhouse rather than pay a fine of $100 imposed by Justice O'Keefe, Herbert and Moss.

CLAMOROUS CROWD AT DOOR.

Fearing that zealous supporters of Miss Goldman might attempt a demonstration in the court room, the police authorities sent Capt. Haupt of the Elizabeth street station with a sergeant and six reavers to preserve order.

WIFE SAYS DR. WAITE USED POISON GERMS

When They Had No Effect on Mrs. Peck He Resorted to Tablets. GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., April 20.—The theory that Mrs. John E. Peck was poisoned by Arthur Warren Waite, her son-in-law, after he had made an attempt to cure her of gonorrhea with germ cultures, has been strengthened here by Francis X. Manusso, assistant district attorney of New York, in conversation with Mrs. Clara Waite Peck.

WIRETAPPERS SHUT FROM CHARITY ROW

Strong Refuses to Admit Notes of Listeners at Telephones. Evidence offered by the Charities Department to prove that Charities Commissioner John A. Kingsbury was justified in requesting Police Commissioner Woods to tap the telephone wires of Father Farrell, Dr. D. C. Potter and Dean Potter was ruled out of the charities investigation yesterday when Commissioner Charles H. Strong declined to permit the introduction of reports of conversations over the telephone.

WIRETAPPERS SHUT FROM CHARITY ROW

Commissioner Strong had spent the preceding night in going over the notes of conversations in which the three witnesses at the inquiry were said to have taken part. The police had typewritten about one hundred of these conversations. The Commissioner announced his decision when he opened the hearing in the Bar Association Building yesterday.

'OLD TIME BLAZE' IMPERILS FIREMEN

Warehouse Aflame Outside of High Pressure Zone—Many Engines Out.

WAREHOUSE ABLAZE OUTSIDE OF HIGH PRESSURE ZONE

An "old fashioned fire"—a rare spectacle in these high pressure days—illuminated the middle West Side last night, drew a crowd of 15,000 persons, including all the gilt edge buffs, imperiled the lives of two companies caught by a backdraft and caused all the engines between Fourteenth and Seventy-second streets to scorch the pavements in getting into action on four alarms.

WAREHOUSE ABLAZE OUTSIDE OF HIGH PRESSURE ZONE

The fire was sucked up an elevator shaft and spread to a second story building at 519-523 West Thirty-eighth street, between Tenth and Eleventh avenues, which housed the Penn Storage Warehouse, the theatrical scene painting loft of John Brunton and a stable and automobile storeroom.

WAREHOUSE ABLAZE OUTSIDE OF HIGH PRESSURE ZONE

As a truckman, Dietrich Lankenau, was driving a horse-drawn wagon into John Carlton's stable on the roof floor at 7:30 o'clock, the vehicle tipped over. Two cans of shellac broke open as they fell from the wagon.

WAREHOUSE ABLAZE OUTSIDE OF HIGH PRESSURE ZONE

The case goods in the warehouse burned furiously. For ten minutes there was a cloud of smoke that could be seen from the city.

WIRETAPPERS SHUT FROM CHARITY ROW

Strong Refuses to Admit Notes of Listeners at Telephones.

WIRETAPPERS SHUT FROM CHARITY ROW

Evidence offered by the Charities Department to prove that Charities Commissioner John A. Kingsbury was justified in requesting Police Commissioner Woods to tap the telephone wires of Father Farrell, Dr. D. C. Potter and Dean Potter was ruled out of the charities investigation yesterday when Commissioner Charles H. Strong declined to permit the introduction of reports of conversations over the telephone.

WIRETAPPERS SHUT FROM CHARITY ROW

Commissioner Strong had spent the preceding night in going over the notes of conversations in which the three witnesses at the inquiry were said to have taken part. The police had typewritten about one hundred of these conversations.

WIRETAPPERS SHUT FROM CHARITY ROW

The Commissioner announced his decision when he opened the hearing in the Bar Association Building yesterday.

WIRETAPPERS SHUT FROM CHARITY ROW

"It is not for me to take evidence simply with respect to its bearing upon the question whether a crime has been committed, whether wiretapping, libel, perjury or conspiracy," said Commissioner Strong. "Those questions are for another tribunal."

WIRETAPPERS SHUT FROM CHARITY ROW

Talk Stricken From Record. The Commissioner then ordered that the conversation already put into the record be expunged. This exclusion of the telephone reports was hailed as a triumph for John M. Bowers, counsel for the State Board of Charities, the original point from which the charities inquiry started.

WIRETAPPERS SHUT FROM CHARITY ROW

His advantage may not be lasting, however, as Commissioner Strong said that he would receive the telephone records of the State Board of Charities, in an effort to show that Mr. Hebbard has some connection with the "Farrell pamphlets." Though keeping these reports out for the present, Commissioner Strong gave this outline of their contents:

WIRETAPPERS SHUT FROM CHARITY ROW

"They tend to indicate the existence of a connection between persons, some of whom apparently are persons who have been witnesses and some of whom have not,—first, to attempt to induce the governor to revoke or cancel this commission; secondly, to attack and discredit the commission itself; thirdly, to attack and discredit Mr. Hebbard's character; fourthly, to spirit persons desired as witnesses away from the jurisdiction of the courts and the commission; and, finally, to advise witnesses what to say and what not to say when on the stand."

WIRETAPPERS SHUT FROM CHARITY ROW

Serious, Says Commissioner. "Much of this is extremely serious and may well later be transmitted to the District Attorney of the Grand Jury and is of course always held at their disposal."

WIRETAPPERS SHUT FROM CHARITY ROW

This fitted in with the desire of Alfred J. Talley, representing Father Farrell, Dr. Potter and Dean Potter, to have the matter laid before the Grand Jury. The lawyer thinks that the Mayor, the Police Commissioner and Commissioner Kingsbury should be summoned before that body to settle the charges that perjury was committed at the inquiry.

WIRETAPPERS SHUT FROM CHARITY ROW

After the memoranda had been merely identified by members of the wiretapping squad the hearing was adjourned until Monday morning at 10 o'clock, when the District Attorney will be summoned.

WIRETAPPERS SHUT FROM CHARITY ROW

The Right Rev. Charles E. McDonnell, Bishop of Brooklyn, denounced the wiretapping yesterday as "about the most outrageous offense on the constitutional rights of the people that has ever been committed here."

WIRETAPPERS SHUT FROM CHARITY ROW

Several weeks before Mrs. Peck's death the Waite family had received long rides in his closed car. Mrs. Waite told Manusso. After they were well under way he would lower the windshield so the road could be seen. When they were thoroughly chilled he would hasten home, advise them to be careful to guard against cold, and with this as his excuse he would get in his automobile and spray the germ cultures and spray their throats and nostrils.

WIRETAPPERS SHUT FROM CHARITY ROW

After almost a week of this sort of thing, Mrs. Waite said, she became impatient and began giving Mrs. Peck the tablets. On the two days before Mrs. Peck died, Mrs. Waite said, she had given her the tablets. Mrs. Manusso also said to-day he has discovered evidence which will show that Waite was a spy of the most pronounced kind. He had been in South Africa he made love to six different girls at the time he was courting Mrs. Waite. To all she professed profound devotion and quickly won them. In every case he made a long inquiry as to financial status of their families. Besides all this love making here, Manusso is informed, Waite married six other girls at times when he was not busy with his more pretentious woman.

WIRETAPPERS SHUT FROM CHARITY ROW

Part of a letter which was found in the apartment of the elopers, which was sent to court yesterday, was a letter from the girl to the boy, in which she said she had always intended getting married. Ella's father objected, though, and they decided to run away.

WIRETAPPERS SHUT FROM CHARITY ROW

The girl was here on April 8 and they told the officer they had lived on 54 since then. After buying food they had no money left for a marriage license.

WIRETAPPERS SHUT FROM CHARITY ROW

Philip was arrested on a technical charge of abduction and he was arraigned in the Yorkville court before Magistrate McQuade. The case was adjourned until this morning for hearing and bail was fixed at $2,000. The girl was sent to the shelter of the Children's Society.

WIRETAPPERS SHUT FROM CHARITY ROW

In the meantime the parents of the boy and girl were notified and they are expected to come to the city to-day and consent to a marriage. When summoned the girl was accompanied by Judge McQuade to take Philip away.
