

ANTI-HUGHES DELEGATES FROM GEORGIA ARE SEATED

Jackson Faction, Counted as Roosevelt Men, Win Decisively in National Committee—"Steam Roller" Seems to Be in Scrap Heap.

CHICAGO, June 1.—The Republican National Committee to-night gave the places on the convention rolls to the list of delegates from Georgia headed by Henry Jackson and Henry Lincoln Johnson. The decision affects only the delegates at large, but as the issue involved was the same in the contests for district delegates it is accepted as certain that the entire delegation from Georgia will be given to the Jackson faction.

The vote was overwhelmingly in favor of the Jackson delegates. The result is a setback for the Hughes managers, who had relied upon seating the Henry Blum delegates at large, whose votes were pledged to the Hughes cause.

Most of the seventeen Georgians who were seated will cast their votes for Roosevelt. The result is a setback for the Hughes managers, who had relied upon seating the Henry Blum delegates at large, whose votes were pledged to the Hughes cause.

It was apparent to-day as the National Committee proceeded with the convention floor, the "steam roller" once the feature of every Republican national convention, has been relegated to the scrap heap. Party leaders of all factions are admitted to the Georgia case, although they had hopes of seating the Hughes men.

HUGHES BOOM IS LACKING IN PUNCH

Arrival of New York Delegation Is Expected to Give It More Force.

CHICAGO, June 1.—The arrival of the New York delegation is being awaited with much interest here. With the spread of Hughes sentiment about yesterday, there were all kinds of speculation as to how the New Yorkers would line up with respect to Justice Hughes.

The situation in the New York delegation undoubtedly will have an important bearing on the movement to put the Justice name at the head of the ticket because of the effect it will have on the uncommitted delegates from many States whose attitude is still in a state of flux.

Two contests from Florida, involving the Fifth and Sixth districts, were referred to the full delegation from that State. Contests from Texas were passed over, with the chance that delegates chosen will all be seated and given half a vote each.

Five Absent Six Proxies. Lack of the old time strife and spirit in the contests was illustrated by the fact that five members of the committee were absent and six others were represented by proxy.

MOOSE WILL WAIT FOR G. O. P. TICKET

George W. Perkins Does Not Fear That Progressives Will Not Be Held.

CHICAGO, June 1.—The complete programme for the Progressive convention will not be made up until the National Committee meets next Monday. Only a few of the committee members are here.

George W. Perkins, who arrived this morning, had conferences with George von L. Meyer of the Roosevelt Republican League and with John W. McCreath, the Col. Roosevelt's secretary. Mr. Perkins confirmed the announcement made in THE SUN this morning that the Progressive nomination will be held up for two days, or until the Republicans have had a chance to indicate their choice.

Mr. Perkins did not appear to share the fear which some of his lieutenants have expressed—that it would be difficult to hold the Bull Moose for two days without taking any action on candidates. A few of the Progressives are still talking a third ticket and saying that the party ought to be kept going, even if the Colonel does not get the Republican nomination.

They insisted that even though their vote be cut to pieces there would still be enough to form the nucleus of a liberal movement of some kind four years from now, which might be necessary if the reactionaries won this year.
