

PLANS BIG JOHNSON DRIVE IN NEW YORK

William Bennett, Manager in This State, to Seek Place on "Big Four."

KNOWN AS A FIGHTER

Vigorous Campaign to Be Conducted Here for the California Senator.

It is not all unlikely, indeed it is quite probable, that the boom for United States Senator William W. Johnson for the Republican Presidential nomination will make more noise in New York State than any other of the various candidates.

William M. Bennett has been chosen as the Johnson manager for this State, and Republicans here know "Bill" Bennett for a fighter. While the plans have not been definitely made, it is said to be well within the range of possibility that Mr. Bennett will place himself in nomination as a candidate for delegate at large in opposition to the four to be recommended by the unofficial State convention, who will be instructed, according to present plans.

At the Johnson meeting on Friday night Mr. Bennett was empowered to name a committee to consider the advisability of nominating candidates for delegates to the national convention who should be pledged to Senator Johnson.

It is known he has been advised that with his experience in primary running he might stand a just excellent chance of winning a place on the "Big Four."

The strategy would be this: If a complete Johnson ticket for the "Big Four" should be placed in the field, it probably would be defeated by the organization candidates. But if there were only one opposition candidate he would, in addition to his own strength, draw the votes of every person who for any reason whatever desires to scratch any of the "regular" delegates.

The organization slate, as it stands today, consists of United States Senators James W. Wadsworth, Jr., and William M. Calder, William H. Thompson and former United States Senator Elihu Root. Of course, there are many women who would like to vote against Senator Wadsworth, even as a delegate to the national convention, although the opposition of Miss Mary Garrett Hay does not extend that far. Senator Calder has aroused the wrath of many Brooklynites because of his failure to endorse the candidacy of Congressman Eugene M. Travis for the gubernatorial nomination. And the others probably will lose some votes to any candidate on the ticket who might be substituted for them.

The change in a fight of this character would be that Mr. Bennett would win at the expense of the low man of the organization slate.

Although Mr. Bennett is at odds with the local New York county organization, he is popular in Brooklyn and Queens. In his various experiences as a candidate in the primaries—a candidate for the nomination for Mayor in 1917, for Governor in 1918 and for President of the Board of Aldermen in 1919—Mr. Bennett has gained valuable experience.

Also, he has picked up lieutenants who will help him in gathering together a State organization for Johnson.

Mr. Bennett knows how to campaign and he is fully aware of the value of publicity. He has not gone into Johnson fight in any half-hearted manner. While other candidates for the Presidential nomination have so far indicated that they would remain out of New York in deference to Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, the Johnson managers have not looked upon the latter's candidacy as a fight from a free fight in the "red."

ARTMOUTH MAKES ADMISSION HARDER

New Rules Will Go Into Effect September, 1921.

HANOVER, N. H., Feb. 1.—A change in requirements for entrance to Dartmouth College, which is considered the first step in a considerable revision as affecting high and preparatory schools with the certificate privilege, was announced today by President Ernest M. Hopkins.

Under the new plan certificates from accredited high and preparatory schools will be accepted only from students who for their four years in school have stood in the first quarter of their class. Under the present plan an average grade of 85 per cent. is required for the certificate privilege. The new plan will go into effect in September, 1921.

It was deemed advisable to adopt the new method, President Hopkins said, because of the great number of applications being received for admission.

"The college will assume the responsibility of turning out men of the same grade as heretofore," he added.

IDEAS FOR WAR MEMORIAL

Time for Receiving Them Ends and Mayor Will Name Committee.

Mayor Hylan's art committee, of which Rodman Wanamaker is chairman, has received the first suggestions for New York's permanent war memorial and has declared the time limit expired within which the public's ideas would be entertained. Just who, however, is to determine finally the precise artistic question of what shall be erected and where and why, is yet to be announced.

Some time ago Mr. Wanamaker said a committee of 350 persons would be selected to sit in judgment but he did not specify what they should know about art, so the American Federation of Arts, the National Sculpture Society and others are apprehensive. Last New York awoke some morning to see some monstrosity rearing its unworthy head in its midst.

One thought appears to dominate very suggestion made: "a memorial which will combine grace, beauty and sentimental suitability with utility. Most of the suggestions are for community buildings, amphitheatres or arches. M. H. Winkler of 19 Wall street, for example, submitted on Saturday a plan for a memorial hall in Central Park seating 60,000, and for the conversion of the lower reservoir into a sunken garden to go with it. Other ideas are for the 60,000 Victory Hall project opposite Grand Central Terminal, a permanent Victory arch in Madison Square, a great water gate at Battery Park and a memorial bridge. The various proposals will be exhibited in the Board of Estimate chamber in the City Hall for two weeks beginning on February 16. Joseph H. Appel, secretary of the Mayor's committee yesterday said that the committee of 350 would be announced within a few days.

TWO DAY CARNIVAL FOR JEWISH RELIEF

71st Regiment Armory to Be Used for Bazaar and Dancing.

To raise money to feed some of the 400,000 needy Jewish children in eastern Europe a "carnival bazaar" will be held in the Seventy-first Regiment Armory on February 22 and 23 under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary of the Jewish People's Relief Committee of America and the direction of Mrs. Philip Lewinsohn and others.

There will be booths, vaudeville, motion pictures, a buffet and restaurant and a special ballroom. At the price of $1 each a ticket for an adult will sustain life in one of the needy children two weeks, it is said. A somewhat similar undertaking several months ago raised $50,000.

Mrs. Philip Lewinsohn is head of the committee. Her aids are members of the auxiliary which has offices at 135 East Broadway and 125 East Elizabeth street. Mrs. Julius Halpern of 16 East Ninety-sixth street is financial secretary and Mrs. Benjamin Friedland of 240 Riverside Drive secretary and chairman of the ticket committee. Among their associates are Mrs. Charles S. Guggenheimer, Mrs. Randolph Guggenheimer, Mrs. Benjamin Guggenheimer, Mrs. Arnold Velpo, Dr. Katherine E. Marston, Dr. Fanny Dembo, Miss Lily Benoit, Mrs. Selig Rosenbaum, Dr. S. Marquise Nelson, Mrs. M. Spark and Mrs. Harry Vogel. Most of these women are chairmen of committees or directors of booths.

Brooklyn Hears Appeal

Henry Mungenthan, former United States Ambassador to Turkey, said in an address at the Academy of Music in Brooklyn yesterday afternoon that American citizens contribute their money to relieve the suffering of the Armenians those people will not be able to prevent the Turks from gathering strength, forming an alliance with the Bolsheviks and starting a new war.

Capt. George B. Hyde, who served abroad with the Red Cross, and in Turkey as a worker for the Near East Relief, told how hundreds of Armenian families had been scattered by the rule of the Turk, the men driven to drudgery, the children left to the street and the women subjected to indignities.

WARNS ZIONISTS OF BOLSHEVIK MENACE

Secretary Daniels Impresses on Them the Danger of Evils Flowing in Reds' Wake.

Sounding a note of warning against the "Bolshevik" prophets of the Zionists, Secretary of the Navy, in a speech before the Zionist organization of America in the Pennsylvania Hotel last night, told God speed to all men and women engaged in restoring Palestine to the Jews.

Judge Albert F. Elias of the New York State Court of Appeals presided. Judge Julian W. Mack of the United States Circuit Court, president of the Zionist organization, followed Secretary Daniels in a plea for a $100,000 restoration fund. Joseph H. Schiff and many other prominent Jews were present. Rear Admiral Samuel McGowan, Paymaster-General of the navy, accompanied Secretary Daniels as his aid.

"The Constitution is no sacrosanct object instrument," declared Secretary Daniels. "The people of the twentieth century are tied to no procrustean bed. In its very terms is recognition that 'We, the People' have the right to amend the Constitution and the method prescribed. Any man who thinks, for example, that the Senate ought to be abolished has the right to say so and to agitate to that end in the confidence that if 'We, the People' agree with his desire to abolish the upper chamber there will be no Senate. Indeed, there are some people who have thought the Senate should not be abolished, but that there should be some magic injected into it to make it transmute great business and to ratify a great covenant."

"For a year we have been humiliated and this great nation has been placed in the eyes of the world as a quitter. We have been sawing wood to the shame of us."

"That the man who undertakes to secure changes in the constitutional government by dynamite or anarchy is a criminal and should be dealt with under the penal laws. If he is an alien we have but one legal way to deal with him and that is to deport him."

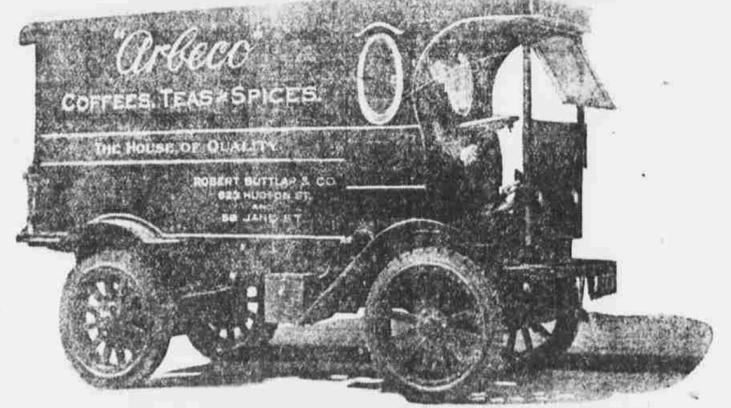

Reverting to the purpose of the Zionist organization, Secretary Daniels said: "I come here today as a Christian, devoutly believing in the divinity of Jesus Christ, to say that this holy movement has our God speed to all who are engaged in it."
