

POLITICIANS HERE SEE WOOD SETBACK

Analysis of Michigan Vote Is Viewed as Making Johnson a "Serious Contender."

FATAL BLOW TO PALMER

"Wet" Sentiment in Democratic Party Shown in Edwards's Big Vote.

Political leaders here yesterday who were able to assay the result of the Michigan primaries without bias expressed the opinion that the vote had been a serious setback for the Republican Presidential nomination.

It was a serious check to the progress of the boom for Major-General Leonard Wood.

It was indicated that Gov. Frank O. Lowden did not have the strength with the voters that his friends had hoped he would have.

It was noted that Herbert Hoover had little strength as a Republican candidate, but was a popular choice of the Democrats for the nomination.

It was indicated that the strength of the "wet" sentiment in the Democratic party when Edward I. Edwards of New Jersey, practically unknown in the party outside of his fight for the repeal of the eighteenth Amendment, polled 40 per cent more votes than William Jennings Bryan.

It was indicated that of the men who have been mentioned by the national Democratic leaders as possible nominees William G. McAdoo was the greatest favorite.

At the time the Michigan primaries were held Herbert Hoover had issued the statement in which he placed himself squarely on record as a Republican.

It was indicated that the men who have been mentioned by the national Democratic leaders as possible nominees William G. McAdoo was the greatest favorite.

It was indicated that the men who have been mentioned by the national Democratic leaders as possible nominees William G. McAdoo was the greatest favorite.

It was indicated that the men who have been mentioned by the national Democratic leaders as possible nominees William G. McAdoo was the greatest favorite.

It was indicated that the men who have been mentioned by the national Democratic leaders as possible nominees William G. McAdoo was the greatest favorite.

It was indicated that the men who have been mentioned by the national Democratic leaders as possible nominees William G. McAdoo was the greatest favorite.

It was indicated that the men who have been mentioned by the national Democratic leaders as possible nominees William G. McAdoo was the greatest favorite.

It was indicated that the men who have been mentioned by the national Democratic leaders as possible nominees William G. McAdoo was the greatest favorite.

It was indicated that the men who have been mentioned by the national Democratic leaders as possible nominees William G. McAdoo was the greatest favorite.

It was indicated that the men who have been mentioned by the national Democratic leaders as possible nominees William G. McAdoo was the greatest favorite.

It was indicated that the men who have been mentioned by the national Democratic leaders as possible nominees William G. McAdoo was the greatest favorite.

It was indicated that the men who have been mentioned by the national Democratic leaders as possible nominees William G. McAdoo was the greatest favorite.

It was indicated that the men who have been mentioned by the national Democratic leaders as possible nominees William G. McAdoo was the greatest favorite.

It was indicated that the men who have been mentioned by the national Democratic leaders as possible nominees William G. McAdoo was the greatest favorite.

It was indicated that the men who have been mentioned by the national Democratic leaders as possible nominees William G. McAdoo was the greatest favorite.

It was indicated that the men who have been mentioned by the national Democratic leaders as possible nominees William G. McAdoo was the greatest favorite.

It was indicated that the men who have been mentioned by the national Democratic leaders as possible nominees William G. McAdoo was the greatest favorite.

It was indicated that the men who have been mentioned by the national Democratic leaders as possible nominees William G. McAdoo was the greatest favorite.

It was indicated that the men who have been mentioned by the national Democratic leaders as possible nominees William G. McAdoo was the greatest favorite.

It was indicated that the men who have been mentioned by the national Democratic leaders as possible nominees William G. McAdoo was the greatest favorite.

It was indicated that the men who have been mentioned by the national Democratic leaders as possible nominees William G. McAdoo was the greatest favorite.

It was indicated that the men who have been mentioned by the national Democratic leaders as possible nominees William G. McAdoo was the greatest favorite.

It was indicated that the men who have been mentioned by the national Democratic leaders as possible nominees William G. McAdoo was the greatest favorite.

It was indicated that the men who have been mentioned by the national Democratic leaders as possible nominees William G. McAdoo was the greatest favorite.

It was indicated that the men who have been mentioned by the national Democratic leaders as possible nominees William G. McAdoo was the greatest favorite.

You Invest-- We Do The Rest. No worry nor care for you when you invest in Guaranteed First Mortgage Certificates. We attend to all the necessary details and guarantee that you will receive your principal and interest.

LAWYERS MORTGAGE CO. RICHARD M. HURD, President. Capital and Surplus $9,000,000. 59 Liberty St., N.Y. 154 Montague St., Bkn.

BEER AND WINE BILL GIVEN UP IN ALBANY

Anti-Saloon League Investigation Also Sidetracked by the Wets.

Special to THE SUN and NEW YORK HERALD. ALBANY, April 6.—The "wets" apparently have given up hope of putting through any liberal drink bills at this session of the Legislature.

Indications to-night were that they would soft pedal also the proposed investigation of the Anti-Saloon League and its superintendent, William H. Anderson.

After repeated assertions that he would go the limit to pass his beer and wine bill, or force the members of the Assembly to be counted on the question through a motion to discharge the committee, Col. Ransom H. Gillett announced that he would put off further efforts for the measure until after April 19.

On that date the United States Supreme Court is expected to hand down its decision on the constitutional questions involved in the Volstead act litigation.

If no decision is handed down by the court on April 19 the Colonel said that he would renew the fight for his beer and wine bill. The session, however, is scheduled to adjourn April 24, and in the grind of the last five days there will be little or no chance for motions to discharge a committee.

Members who have "pork barrel" bills tied up in the Rules Committee would not care to oppose Speaker Sweet by voting for any motion to discharge that committee at that critical period in the session.

Indications are that the Republican leaders have made up their minds to sidetrack all action on prohibition or light wine and beer. The total result of three months of agitation for light wine and beer seems to have come to nothing.

The lawmakers apparently will not pay much attention even to the demand of Anderson that the Legislature either proceed with its proposed investigation of the Anti-Saloon League and the contempt charges against him or disavow its action in passing the resolution for an inquiry. The disposition now is to let out Anderson as gracefully as possible.

Should the Supreme Court hold that the States have the right to pass laws purporting their own interpretation of what is an intoxicating beverage and that they are not bound by the Volstead act, the way will be open for Gov. Smith to call an extra session of the Legislature.

The Republicans are evidently accepting the challenge of Gov. Smith, who had come out on a "wet" platform. By not passing any beer or wine bills they are standing pat in their position on the Federal prohibition amendment.

Should the Supreme Court hold that the States have the right to pass laws purporting their own interpretation of what is an intoxicating beverage and that they are not bound by the Volstead act, the way will be open for Gov. Smith to call an extra session of the Legislature.

The Republicans are evidently accepting the challenge of Gov. Smith, who had come out on a "wet" platform. By not passing any beer or wine bills they are standing pat in their position on the Federal prohibition amendment.

Should the Supreme Court hold that the States have the right to pass laws purporting their own interpretation of what is an intoxicating beverage and that they are not bound by the Volstead act, the way will be open for Gov. Smith to call an extra session of the Legislature.

The Republicans are evidently accepting the challenge of Gov. Smith, who had come out on a "wet" platform. By not passing any beer or wine bills they are standing pat in their position on the Federal prohibition amendment.

Should the Supreme Court hold that the States have the right to pass laws purporting their own interpretation of what is an intoxicating beverage and that they are not bound by the Volstead act, the way will be open for Gov. Smith to call an extra session of the Legislature.

The Republicans are evidently accepting the challenge of Gov. Smith, who had come out on a "wet" platform. By not passing any beer or wine bills they are standing pat in their position on the Federal prohibition amendment.

Should the Supreme Court hold that the States have the right to pass laws purporting their own interpretation of what is an intoxicating beverage and that they are not bound by the Volstead act, the way will be open for Gov. Smith to call an extra session of the Legislature.

The Republicans are evidently accepting the challenge of Gov. Smith, who had come out on a "wet" platform. By not passing any beer or wine bills they are standing pat in their position on the Federal prohibition amendment.

Should the Supreme Court hold that the States have the right to pass laws purporting their own interpretation of what is an intoxicating beverage and that they are not bound by the Volstead act, the way will be open for Gov. Smith to call an extra session of the Legislature.

The Republicans are evidently accepting the challenge of Gov. Smith, who had come out on a "wet" platform. By not passing any beer or wine bills they are standing pat in their position on the Federal prohibition amendment.

Should the Supreme Court hold that the States have the right to pass laws purporting their own interpretation of what is an intoxicating beverage and that they are not bound by the Volstead act, the way will be open for Gov. Smith to call an extra session of the Legislature.

The Republicans are evidently accepting the challenge of Gov. Smith, who had come out on a "wet" platform. By not passing any beer or wine bills they are standing pat in their position on the Federal prohibition amendment.

Should the Supreme Court hold that the States have the right to pass laws purporting their own interpretation of what is an intoxicating beverage and that they are not bound by the Volstead act, the way will be open for Gov. Smith to call an extra session of the Legislature.

The Republicans are evidently accepting the challenge of Gov. Smith, who had come out on a "wet" platform. By not passing any beer or wine bills they are standing pat in their position on the Federal prohibition amendment.

Should the Supreme Court hold that the States have the right to pass laws purporting their own interpretation of what is an intoxicating beverage and that they are not bound by the Volstead act, the way will be open for Gov. Smith to call an extra session of the Legislature.

The Republicans are evidently accepting the challenge of Gov. Smith, who had come out on a "wet" platform. By not passing any beer or wine bills they are standing pat in their position on the Federal prohibition amendment.

Should the Supreme Court hold that the States have the right to pass laws purporting their own interpretation of what is an intoxicating beverage and that they are not bound by the Volstead act, the way will be open for Gov. Smith to call an extra session of the Legislature.

The Republicans are evidently accepting the challenge of Gov. Smith, who had come out on a "wet" platform. By not passing any beer or wine bills they are standing pat in their position on the Federal prohibition amendment.

Should the Supreme Court hold that the States have the right to pass laws purporting their own interpretation of what is an intoxicating beverage and that they are not bound by the Volstead act, the way will be open for Gov. Smith to call an extra session of the Legislature.

G. O. P. LEADERS PICK BILLS FOR PASSAGE

Speaker, Walters and Others Decide on Measures for Speedy Action.

SOLDIERS TO GET BONUS

Increased Pay for Teachers Also on Programme for Last Weeks of Legislature.

Special to THE SUN and NEW YORK HERALD. ALBANY, April 6.—Speaker Sweet, Senator Walters and other Republican leaders of the Legislature at a conference today decided what legislation is to pass and what is slated for the discard. Quick action is to mark the remaining three weeks of the session, after three months in which about the only important legislation enacted was in connection with the recent rent bills. Nearly all the important bills decided upon to be passed are still in the making and will be the subject of future conferences. They are: Soldiers' bonus, teachers' salary increases, appropriation for New York-New Jersey vehicle tunnel, barge canal referendum, appropriation for new highway construction, Republican reconstruction plan, legislation for New York harbor development, Lusk committee anti-sedition bills, also bills aimed at the Socialist party.

In the discard will go the women's welfare bills and all of Gov. Smith's legislative programme. The Republican reconstruction plan will be substituted for the reconstruction bills recommended by the Governor at the beginning of the session.

Halt on Four Year Term. The Republicans will not stand for either a four year term for Governor or an executive budget as Gov. Smith has proposed. They plan to make the office of State Treasurer and Secretary of State appointive instead of elective. They would create a big tax department to take over the present tax commission and all the tax collecting bureaus of the Comptroller and Secretary of State, including the income tax and automobile bureaus.

The first of the Republican reconstruction bills was introduced today by Senator Henry M. Sage. It proposes an amendment to the State Constitution under which the Department of Charities, Fiscal Supervisor, State Hospital Commission, Prison Department, Prison Commission and their subsidiary commissions would be consolidated into a commission of mental hygiene, charities and correction.

The Republicans have not yet decided whether they will retain the State Engineer as an elective officer, but the Attorney-General is to remain in the elective class. Gov. Smith's plan called for the election of only Governor, Lieutenant-Governor and Comptroller.

While Speaker Sweet said the soldiers' bonus was to be the subject of further conference, it is expected that the $10 for each month of service plan will be adopted.

More Pay for Teachers. How the money will be raised is still undetermined. Teachers are to get a substantial increase for which the State will provide about $30,000,000. The sum of $2,500,000 will be appropriated, $13,300,000 will be raised by an addition of one mill to the direct tax rate and the Education Department has on hand $13,000,000.

The barge canal bond issue will be for about $21,000,000, which will be devoted to claims, terminals and elevators at Buffalo, Oswego and New York. The legislative leaders have decided that there shall be no more highway bonds issued. They have adopted the pay as you go policy. It is expected that $10,000,000 will be appropriated this year for new highway construction. The sum of $7,500,000 has so far been appropriated for maintenance.

Speaker Sweet said today that requests had been made to him for some relief legislation for the tenancy of office and loft buildings in New York city. It is stated that the rent proffering by the owners of these buildings is largely responsible for the high cost of clothes and other commodities. It is expected that the Lockwood housing committee will act on loft building rents tomorrow.

The bills aimed at the Socialist party are now being prepared by Frank R. Gilbert, Deputy Commissioner of Education, and will be ready for introduction tomorrow.

DREICER & CO Pearl Necklaces. FIFTH AVENUE at FORTY-SIXTH

Should the Supreme Court hold that the States have the right to pass laws purporting their own interpretation of what is an intoxicating beverage and that they are not bound by the Volstead act, the way will be open for Gov. Smith to call an extra session of the Legislature.

The Republicans are evidently accepting the challenge of Gov. Smith, who had come out on a "wet" platform. By not passing any beer or wine bills they are standing pat in their position on the Federal prohibition amendment.

Should the Supreme Court hold that the States have the right to pass laws purporting their own interpretation of what is an intoxicating beverage and that they are not bound by the Volstead act, the way will be open for Gov. Smith to call an extra session of the Legislature.

The Republicans are evidently accepting the challenge of Gov. Smith, who had come out on a "wet" platform. By not passing any beer or wine bills they are standing pat in their position on the Federal prohibition amendment.

Should the Supreme Court hold that the States have the right to pass laws purporting their own interpretation of what is an intoxicating beverage and that they are not bound by the Volstead act, the way will be open for Gov. Smith to call an extra session of the Legislature.

The Republicans are evidently accepting the challenge of Gov. Smith, who had come out on a "wet" platform. By not passing any beer or wine bills they are standing pat in their position on the Federal prohibition amendment.

Should the Supreme Court hold that the States have the right to pass laws purporting their own interpretation of what is an intoxicating beverage and that they are not bound by the Volstead act, the way will be open for Gov. Smith to call an extra session of the Legislature.

The Republicans are evidently accepting the challenge of Gov. Smith, who had come out on a "wet" platform. By not passing any beer or wine bills they are standing pat in their position on the Federal prohibition amendment.

Should the Supreme Court hold that the States have the right to pass laws purporting their own interpretation of what is an intoxicating beverage and that they are not bound by the Volstead act, the way will be open for Gov. Smith to call an extra session of the Legislature.

The Republicans are evidently accepting the challenge of Gov. Smith, who had come out on a "wet" platform. By not passing any beer or wine bills they are standing pat in their position on the Federal prohibition amendment.

Should the Supreme Court hold that the States have the right to pass laws purporting their own interpretation of what is an intoxicating beverage and that they are not bound by the Volstead act, the way will be open for Gov. Smith to call an extra session of the Legislature.

The Republicans are evidently accepting the challenge of Gov. Smith, who had come out on a "wet" platform. By not passing any beer or wine bills they are standing pat in their position on the Federal prohibition amendment.

Should the Supreme Court hold that the States have the right to pass laws purporting their own interpretation of what is an intoxicating beverage and that they are not bound by the Volstead act, the way will be open for Gov. Smith to call an extra session of the Legislature.

The Republicans are evidently accepting the challenge of Gov. Smith, who had come out on a "wet" platform. By not passing any beer or wine bills they are standing pat in their position on the Federal prohibition amendment.

Should the Supreme Court hold that the States have the right to pass laws purporting their own interpretation of what is an intoxicating beverage and that they are not bound by the Volstead act, the way will be open for Gov. Smith to call an extra session of the Legislature.

The Republicans are evidently accepting the challenge of Gov. Smith, who had come out on a "wet" platform. By not passing any beer or wine bills they are standing pat in their position on the Federal prohibition amendment.

Should the Supreme Court hold that the States have the right to pass laws purporting their own interpretation of what is an intoxicating beverage and that they are not bound by the Volstead act, the way will be open for Gov. Smith to call an extra session of the Legislature.

The Republicans are evidently accepting the challenge of Gov. Smith, who had come out on a "wet" platform. By not passing any beer or wine bills they are standing pat in their position on the Federal prohibition amendment.

Should the Supreme Court hold that the States have the right to pass laws purporting their own interpretation of what is an intoxicating beverage and that they are not bound by the Volstead act, the way will be open for Gov. Smith to call an extra session of the Legislature.

The Republicans are evidently accepting the challenge of Gov. Smith, who had come out on a "wet" platform. By not passing any beer or wine bills they are standing pat in their position on the Federal prohibition amendment.

Should the Supreme Court hold that the States have the right to pass laws purporting their own interpretation of what is an intoxicating beverage and that they are not bound by the Volstead act, the way will be open for Gov. Smith to call an extra session of the Legislature.

The Republicans are evidently accepting the challenge of Gov. Smith, who had come out on a "wet" platform. By not passing any beer or wine bills they are standing pat in their position on the Federal prohibition amendment.

Should the Supreme Court hold that the States have the right to pass laws purporting their own interpretation of what is an intoxicating beverage and that they are not bound by the Volstead act, the way will be open for Gov. Smith to call an extra session of the Legislature.

The Republicans are evidently accepting the challenge of Gov. Smith, who had come out on a "wet" platform. By not passing any beer or wine bills they are standing pat in their position on the Federal prohibition amendment.

Should the Supreme Court hold that the States have the right to pass laws purporting their own interpretation of what is an intoxicating beverage and that they are not bound by the Volstead act, the way will be open for Gov. Smith to call an extra session of the Legislature.

The Republicans are evidently accepting the challenge of Gov. Smith, who had come out on a "wet" platform. By not passing any beer or wine bills they are standing pat in their position on the Federal prohibition amendment.

Should the Supreme Court hold that the States have the right to pass laws purporting their own interpretation of what is an intoxicating beverage and that they are not bound by the Volstead act, the way will be open for Gov. Smith to call an extra session of the Legislature.

The Republicans are evidently accepting the challenge of Gov. Smith, who had come out on a "wet" platform. By not passing any beer or wine bills they are standing pat in their position on the Federal prohibition amendment.

Should the Supreme Court hold that the States have the right to pass laws purporting their own interpretation of what is an intoxicating beverage and that they are not bound by the Volstead act, the way will be open for Gov. Smith to call an extra session of the Legislature.

The final test for every manufacturer's product. Is your reputation crumbling on the dealer's counter?

YOU may have perfected the finest product of its sort on the market—you may have an enthusiastic sales force, and a big advertising appropriation—But all your efforts are wasted unless your goods can meet the final test—unless consumer demand pulls them across the dealer's counter. Success or failure in this final test may depend entirely upon your package. If your product is dressed in a dull, drab package of inferior workmanship, it's handicapped in the race with its competitors. You must have a package which carries a message of superiority to the most casual eye—the sort that stands out on the dealer's shelf—the sort that inspires confidence and a desire to buy. More important still is the matter of protection. Once your product has left your factory, the protection of its quality depends upon its package. No matter how careful the processes of manufacture, you'll never achieve success unless your product reaches the consumer with quality unimpaired. Goods that deteriorate in transit or on the shelf are the sort a dealer has to put on the bargain counter to get rid of—the sort that ruin a manufacturer's reputation. Solving package problems for the leaders in every industry. To manufacture an attractive, dependable package for your particular product demands careful study and long experience. The Robert Gair Company.

- We serve the greatest package merchandisers of the country. Among our clients are: Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., General Cigar Co., Inc., National Biscuit Co., Singer Sewing Machine Co., White Rock Mineral Spring Co., Woolson Spice Co., Royal Baking Powder Co., National Sugar Refining Co., Lazell Perfumery, Inc., Kirkman & Son, Inc., Gerhard Mennen Chemical Co., S. S. Stafford, Inc., American Chiclet Co., Colgate & Co., Andrew Jergens Co.

ROBERT GAIR COMPANY BROOKLYN. Folding boxes Labels Shipping cases Window display advertising. The entire line for package merchandising—folding box, label, shipping case, window display advertising.

FRANKLIN SIMON, MEN'S SHOPS. 210 S WEST 38th STREET. Should be a rush for these Men's Rubberized Raincoats $16.50. That is, if you don't judge them as most of us sometimes judge people—by the dollar sign instead of by the attributes of quality. Sixteen and a half is the price but it is far from representing their worth. They are cemented and stitched, and guaranteed waterproof. Go farther than the Eighteenth Amendment, for they even prohibit water! Tan, green or gray. Must be bought at once. Franklin Simon & Co. FIFTH AVENUE

The Bright Jewel of the Avenue. In the celebration of Fifth Avenue Week remember that at Fifth Avenue and 53rd Street is the Demonstration Salon of the famous Sonora. THE INSTRUMENT OF QUALITY. CLEAR AS A BELL. The Highest Class Talking Machine in the World. You are cordially invited to visit us and hear the instrument which won highest score for tone at the Panama Pacific Exposition. Incidentally, you will admire not only the Sonora but its home, which is one of the show places of New York. Sonora Phonograph Company, Inc. George E. Brighton, President. DEALERS EVERYWHERE. No common gum is this! 19 Gold Medals awarded for Purity and Flavor. LISTERATED GUM.

WORK FOR HOOVER AND FOR JOHNSON

Women in Charge of Both Primary Headquarters. Among the most active of the new workers yesterday were the women working for the nomination for President of Herbert Hoover and Hiram Johnson. Headquarters of both these political committees in charge of women, were thronged with anxious primary ballot markers and the chairman had their watchers and vote getters hard at it all day.

From the Hoover headquarters in the Manhattan Hotel it was announced that 100 women were in the field. Their fight was concentrated in the Seventh and Tenth districts. Among the leaders taking part in the election were Miss Mabel Kirtledge of the downtown district, Mrs. Oscar Straus of the West Side district, and Miss Edith Parsons Morgan of the Upper West Side district.

Others canvassing, watching were Mrs. Edith Parsons Morgan, Mrs. Watson Washburn, Mrs. F. Louis Slade, Miss D. Weir, Mrs. C. A. Platt, Mrs. Myrtle, Miss Jennings, Miss M. Strong, Miss Demorest, Miss J. Robb, Mrs. A. Hesse, Miss R. Todd, Miss C. Wise, Miss P. Turle, Miss R. Halowell, Mrs. McLaughlin, Mrs. Woodruff, Miss P. Marshall, Mrs. Marion Cothren, Miss Katherine Lister, Miss A. Sawyer, Miss Simolian, Mrs. H. T. Seymour, Mrs. P. Williams and Mrs. Burger.

The Hiram Johnson workers were directed by Mrs. Margaret M. Crumpacker, chairman of the women's division of the campaign committee from the Pennsylvania Hotel, and their activities were centered in Brooklyn and the Bronx. The workers included Mrs. Julius J. Wolf, Miss Helen Muller, Mrs. J. J. Martin, Miss Katherine Burke, Mrs. J. J. Muller, Miss Rita Kellogg, Miss Ada Lockett, Miss Alice Wayne, Miss Du Moulin, Miss Catherine L. Bohannon, Mrs. Katherine Howard, Miss Katherine McCabe, Miss Katherine McHugh, Mrs. Anthony W. Morse and Mrs. Philip Lewitohn.

Some for Children Needed. The Health Home for Children in Garmentville, N. Y., is appealing to some property owners in the city or suburbs to rent a house of about thirty rooms to care for 100 weak or anemic children. Out of the twenty-eight it now looks after, the home is self-supporting. Dr. J. J. Faust, the director, announced, and had been particularly successful in sweetening children for the after effects of infantile paralysis.

Will Ask for Special Election. The five ousted Socialist legislators will make application today to Gov. Smith for a special election to fill the vacancies in their districts, and in the event of the Governor granting this request they will become candidates to succeed themselves. This course was decided upon last night at a meeting of the Committee of Eight, which handled the defence of the Socialists, and the plan for making a court contest over the ousting was abandoned.

LA FOLLETTE TICKET BEHIND IN WISCONSIN. Candidates Assailed by Wood Men Run Ahead. Special to THE SUN and NEW YORK HERALD. MILWAUKEE, April 6.—First returns from the city of Milwaukee to-night in the delegate primary in Wisconsin gave the uninstructed delegates a big lead. Two slates were in the field, an uninstructed ticket, headed by Gov. E. L. Philipp, George A. West, chairman of the State Republican Central Committee; Otto Boshard, and William H. Hatton.

Opposed to these was the La Follette ticket, pledged to follow the wishes of La Follette at the National Convention. The four candidates as delegates at large are: E. J. Gross, Henry Krumrey, James Thompson, who will be the La Follette choice to succeed Irvin L. Lenroot as Senator, and John J. Blaine.

Charges were made that the Philipp faction was unfriendly to the Wood movement. Wood managers said that when Wood announced his candidacy Gov. Philipp said that the right man for the Republican nomination had not appeared and the successful candidate at the convention probably would be a "dark horse." Since Hoover made his entry Philipp is said to have been friendly to his interests.

Wood built up a wonderful Michigan organization, advertised heavily in the agricultural newspapers, where Lowden's strength was supposed to lie, carried on speaking campaigns in all sections of the State and was exceedingly confident of winning. Yet Senator Johnson with a few speeches in Detroit and a short tour by Senator Borah swept in by an overwhelming plurality of 50,000.