

Johnson votes, it is understood they were secretly for Harding. However, both have promised to abide by the preferential vote.

The Democrats had no candidates entered for the Presidential preference and no contests for delegates at large. There were four contests in Congress districts, but they were merely local and had no bearing on the Presidential situation.

The Democratic "Big Four" chosen to go to the San Francisco convention is as follows: Gov. Edward I. Edwards of Jersey City; Frederick W. Donnelly of Trenton; Frank Hague of Jersey City; James R. Nugent of Newark.

The district contests were in the First, Third, Fourth and seventh districts. Following are the Congressional District delegates elected by the Democrats to go to San Francisco, according to latest returns from the contested districts:

1-Rudolph S. Ayers 2-P. J. Van Noort 3-James H. Burch 4-John J. Cain 5-Charles J. Collins 6-A. McGinnon 7-Bonham M. Gannett 8-Charles F. Herr 9-Morris A. Rice 10-Alan G. Archibald 11-Dallas Flanagan 12-George Richter 13-Patrick A. Griffin 14-Fred H. Stewart 15-John J. Harney 16-William Conklin 17-John F. Boyle 18-James P. Shurtz 19-Chas. F. O'Brien 20-Edwards for President. Other delegates not included.

There was an attempt to get Democrats in Essex county to write in the name of Senator Johnson on their ballots. James R. Nugent, the Democratic leader, denounced it as a despicable trick. "The Democratic organization in New Jersey is solidly behind Gov. Edwards," he said, "and it is mighty presumptuous for the Johnson men to attempt to line up Democrats for him."

Cards Cause Hard Feelings. The cards that were distributed read as follows: "If you are opposed to the League of Nations make your opposition count. Republicans—An X in the square to the left of the name of Hiram W. Johnson and the Johnson delegates on the Republican ticket. Democrats—Write in the name of Hiram W. Johnson and mark an X in front of his name on this ticket. Underneath the name of the last delegate on the Democratic ballot."

At the bottom of the card is this statement: "Senator Johnson is 100 per cent American. He kept us out of the League of Nations." The cards bear a union label and the imprint "Paid for by the Johnson League of New Jersey." Johnson headquarters denied all knowledge of the origin of the cards. The vote was light throughout the State because of bad weather. A light rain and mist prevailed in all parts of the State from the time the polls were opened at 12:30 P. M. until they closed at 5 o'clock, Eastern standard time.

There was so much confusion on the issue because of the various local fights between the leaders that it was almost impossible to forecast the outcome. Arkansas Delegate for Lowden. LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 27.—Republicans of the First Congressional District today at Wayne elected C. T. Bloodgood of Corning as delegate to the Chicago convention and instructed him to vote for Frank O. Lowden of Illinois for the Presidential nomination.

JERSEY CITY Y. W. C. A. INSTRUCTOR MISSING Girl Giving Same Name Arrested for Shoplifting. Miss Dorothy L. Smith of Elgin, Ill., an instructor in physical culture and aesthetic dancing at the Highway (N. J.) Y. W. C. A. and a resident of Jersey City, was reported missing at Police Headquarters yesterday. Friends, who brought the case to the attention of the detectives, expressed the fear that she had met with foul play.

It was reported at the same time from the Jefferson Market prison that a young woman named Dorothy L. Smith, whose home was given as Jersey City, had been locked up there Monday night on a charge of larceny. She was freed yesterday in $500 bail after being arraigned in the Women's Day Court, it was stated. The charge against her involves a theft from an uptown department store.

The Dorothy L. Smith who was reported missing lives at 204 Clerk street, Jersey City. She is a daughter of Theodore L. Schmitz, an officer of the Elgin Watch Company, and, according to her friends, has been well supplied with money since she came to New Jersey to do welfare work.

JIM HAM AND M'ADOO AS HARMONY TICKET

Ex-Senator Says, 'He Uses Razor, I Do Not'; Ergo.

Special Despatch to THE EVENING SUN. WASHINGTON, April 27.—Former Senator James Hamilton Lewis (Ill.) in an interview here today settled most of the problems that are bothering both political parties. For the Republicans he consistently eliminated all the present candidates for the Presidency, and chose Charles E. Hughes or Senator Frank B. Kellogg of Minnesota as the candidate, with the chances favoring Hughes.

For the Democrats he modestly offered himself as a candidate for Vice-President with the subtle suggestion that the interests of his own candidacy would be best served by the nomination of William G. McAdoo for President.

Mr. Lewis said that owing to the exigencies of the Republican situation, Illinois is to be deprived of the honor of a Presidential candidate, but its geographical location makes it the ideal home for a Vice-Presidential candidate. "And in that connection," Mr. Lewis said with an amiable sweep of the hand and a ruddy smile through his receding pink whiskers:

"I might say that my name has been suggested. It has been suggested to Mr. McAdoo that our candidacies might be united and I am informed that Mr. McAdoo agreed that it would tend to harmony since he uses a razor and I do not."

BRYAN SEEKS COLER FOR SECOND PLACE

Asks 'Dry' New Yorker if He'd Run for Vice-President.

William Jennings Bryan, who is solicited to lead the Democratic party straggle into the path that lead away from prohibition, has asked Bird S. Coler, once candidate for Governor in this State, whether he would consider accepting second place on the next national ticket.

Mr. Coler, who has been boosting prohibition since it went into effect, acknowledged this yesterday. It is not clear, however, whether Mr. Bryan was planning to have Mr. Coler run second to himself or to some other advocate of the Eighteenth Amendment.

"It is true," said Mr. Coler last night, "that Mr. Bryan asked me if I was in a position to accept second place on the national ticket. However, I am too poor to run for office."

Asked in regard to his attitude on prohibition, Mr. Coler said: "I am free to say that in the main I endorse Colonel Bryan's opposition to hard liquor."

He probably explains the cryptic remark of Mr. Bryan at his birthday dinner here, when he said he was prepared to support Mr. Coler in the fight he was about to make.

WOMEN WHO HISS JOHNSON REBUKED

Mrs. Douglas Robinson Asks Courtesy for Rivals.

Women who hissed the name of Senator Hiram Johnson were rebuked yesterday by Mrs. Douglas Robinson, who addressed a Republican meeting in the Commodore Hotel. The small ballroom was well filled with feminine supporters of the candidacy of Major-Gen. Leonard Wood, of whose campaign committee Mrs. Robinson serves.

Mrs. Robinson told the women they should not hiss the name of the opposing aspirant for Presidential honors for several reasons, one of which was that he had been a friend of her brother, Colonel Theodore Roosevelt; that he was also one of her friends, but most important of all, that he stood an excellent chance of winning the Republican nomination.

"Hiram Johnson has gone far on the road toward radicalism," said Mrs. Robinson. "He stands a very good chance of receiving the Presidential nomination, because of the way the Republican vote will be split by Hoover and Wood supporters. Please don't hiss the name of Johnson. Instead, double your activities to nominate Gen. Wood. The threatened split in the Republican party is a greater menace than you realize."

Mrs. John Henry Hammond, Prof. McElroy of Princeton University and Burr McIntosh were the other speakers.

CANDIDATES REPLY TO FARM QUESTIONS

Five More on Record on Big Issues Outlined by National Organization.

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Approval of cooperative bargaining, improved rural credits, reduction in the "growing evil" of farm tenancy and national conservation were voted by Presidential candidates who have answered the recent political questionnaire of the National Board of Farm Organizations. Replies were made public today from Gov. Lowden, Senator Owen, James V. Gerard, Herbert Hoover and Major-Gen. Leonard Wood. That from William G. McAdoo has already been published.

WOOD FOR 'EQUAL DEAL'

War Burden Should Be Spread Over Longer Period, General Says.

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Major-Gen. Wood 2nd Gov. William C. Sprout of Pennsylvania sat side by side tonight at the speakers' table at the Grand Day dinner of the American Club here. Gen. Wood responded to the toast "Grant" and Gov. Sprout spoke on "Pennsylvania and the Nation," while Senator Selden H. Spencer of Missouri addressed the thousand or more guests on the "Republican Party and Patriotism."

"What this country needs today is a government characterized by the Americanism of Grant," said Gen. Wood. "What are we working for today is government of the people, for the people and by the people, absolute democracy, courts untroubled by politics, independence of all outside influence, no class legislation, a square deal for everybody, a strong but not quarrelsome foreign policy, friendly relations with all nations, the building up of arbitration before resorting to force, bringing women into politics wholeheartedly and without any reservations, pushing forward American business at home and abroad, building up a sound public school system with an adequately paid teaching force, industrial justice, a more careful regulation of immigration to protect American labor from the horde which will come with the official declaration of peace, and to Americanize the newcomers—the development of a strong American merchant marine, the fostering and upbuilding of agriculture so as to stop the drift from the farm to the city."

Speaking of the League of Nations Gen. Wood said he did not think it should be left as an issue at the polls because "not one man in a thousand has read it, and very few can understand its technical phraseology and far-reaching effects."

"My own idea," he added, "is that we should accept the league with the Lodge Senate reservations, reservations which absolutely and completely Americanize it."

Hoover Beats Butler by One Vote. From the Columbia Department of Public Information came last night the information that Hoover ran first and Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler second in the Presidential preference poll conducted by the Winsted (Conn.) Citizen. Dr. Butler was defeated by a single vote. Other candidates came in the following order: Edwards, Wilson, Wood, Johnson, Debs, McAdoo, Hughes and Taft.

G. O. P. Wins Two of Three Offices. The village elections at Port Chester yesterday put two Republicans and one Democrat in office. Ralph S. Palmer, Republican, was elected treasurer to succeed William A. Darcey, and the new trustees are David J. Kelly, Republican, and Halsey T. Munson, Democrat.

JUDICIARY DRIVE IS PLANNED. Non-Partisan Committee Seeks Re-election of Justices. A non-partisan judiciary committee for the Second Judicial district, comprising Richmond, Kings, Queens, Nassau and Suffolk counties, has been organized, with former Chief Justice of the Court of Appeals Edgar M. Cullen of Brooklyn as chairman. Former Chief Justice Wilford Bartlett of the Court of Appeals, has been named vice-chairman.

The object of the committee is to bring about the renomination and election by both parties of Judge Frederick E. Crane of the Court of Appeals, and the reelection of the four Supreme Court justices in the Second district whose terms expire this year. They are Justices Aspinall, Scudder, Jaycox and Clark. Committee have been appointed to act in each of the five counties in the district.

LEADERS IN HOUSE ASSAIL BONUS BILLS

terms, but I am afraid that the real soldiers of our country are destined to very bitter disappointment when they find that the result of this attempt at legislation is without profit to them. It is hateful and oppressive to me. This is the first time in the history of the country when soldiers coming back after the performance of their duty stand up and say, 'I want a present, I want a bonus for my service to the flag.'"

Champ Clark, attacking the plan to allow no amendments to the bill after it is reported to the House, said: "I don't believe they can pass a rule, and if they bring it in they'll have the hardest scuffle they have had in a long time."

"So far as the present bill is concerned, Congress ought never to pass a bill that will produce more irritation than revenue. While soldiers were fighting and dying abroad people at home were piling up dollars by the bagful. I'm in favor of getting it out of them. Let's take the $1,500,000,000, or $200,000,000 out of those about to pay."

Representative Arner (Texas) charged the Republicans with making a partisan matter of the bonus legislation by considering it in secret session of the majority members of the Ways and Means Committee.

Want Profiteers to Disgorge. "I defy a single man to find in the hearings before the committee a single expression from a soldier who did not say they wanted a bonus because they were deprived of the opportunity of making money during the war, while those who stayed at home flourished on big salaries and tremendous profits, charged the Republicans with making a partisan matter of the bonus legislation by considering it in secret session of the majority members of the Ways and Means Committee."

Then the soldier organizations got the idea they needed a bonus and came down here demanding it," he said. Representative Longworth (Ohio) and Green (Iowa) made a vigorous defense of the committee's bonus plans and bitterly attacked the recent speech of Representative Rainey (Ill.), charging that Republican leaders were seeking to protect war profits.

GEN. WOOD URGES LODGE LEAGUE IDEA

Tells Diners in Pittsburgh Country Needs Americanism of Grant.

Knox Hopes Resolution Will Be Ready to Lay Before Senate To-day.

WASHINGTON, April 27.—The resolution declaring peace with Germany which will be presented to the Senate by its Foreign Relations Committee is nearly completed. Senator Knox (Pa.) is drafting it and hopes it may be ready to lay before the Senate to-morrow. It will provide:

1. For a flat repeal of the resolution of April 6, 1917, declaring war against Germany.

2. For restoring forthwith the status of peace with Germany, on which subject the language of the Porter House resolution is adopted.

3. For negotiations between the United States and Germany looking to reestablishment of commerce and friendly intercourse. The President is asked to initiate these negotiations.

4. For full protection of all claims of American nationals against Germany or any parts of the late German Empire. This is accomplished by holding up all funds and properties in control of the Alien Property Custodian or of other Government agencies wherein German citizens have interest until Germany gives complete assurance of the protection of American claims.

5. For retaining to the United States all rights, interests and advantages against Germany which it would have secured under the treaty of Versailles if that treaty had been ratified until such time as direct negotiations between the United States and Germany all these matters be adjusted.

6. For the repeal of all war legislation just as provided in the House resolution.

On one point there has not yet been final determination by the Republican majority of the committee. That is whether the resolution shall embrace both Germany and Austria or whether Austria shall be dealt with by a separate resolution. If the latter course is adopted the two resolutions will be handled together.

As now formulated the Republicans on the committee favor the redrafted resolutions excepting possibly Senator McCumber (N. D.), who has a resolution of his own pending to restore commercial relations without actually declaring peace. Whether he finally will decide to unite with the rest of his Republican colleagues and drop his own resolution is not yet certain.

UNDERWOOD LEADS SENATE DEMOCRATS

Expected Action Takes Place at Party Caucus.

Special to THE SUN AND NEW YORK HERALD. WASHINGTON, April 27.—Without an opposing vote, Senator Underwood (Ala.) was elected to-day Democratic leader by the Democratic caucus. The result had been foreshadowed by the withdrawal last week of Senator Hitchcock (Neb.), who had charge of the Administration's fight for the treaty.

Passing of the reins to Senator Underwood restores the Southern wing to complete domination of the party in the Senate. Since the death of Senator Martin (Va.), several months ago, there has been no regular leader, but Senator Hitchcock, as vice-chairman of the caucus, has been acting leader.

Senator Underwood was Democrat's leader of the House from 1911 to 1913.

Last Year's Price for This Spring's FOULARD SCARFS $1.50

Woven under the Rising Sun Printed under the Union Jack Tailored under the Stars and Stripes

Talking of high prices, a dollar-fifty isn't much for a scarf woven in Japan, shipped 'round the world to England to be hand-printed and re-shipped to the States to be tailored and sold, is it? But to get down to particulars, these silk foulards this spring exhibit a prodigality of pattern and color such as we have never before seen in any foulard selections. Incidentally, our selections are the largest in town. Bat Wings, $1.00
