

Midsummer Finds Seashore and Mountain Resorts Filled With Pleasure Seekers

Dancing Parties in White Mountains

Many Entertainments Held During Tennis Tournament—Arrivals at Resorts.

WHITE MOUNTAINS, N. H., July 31.

THE last week of July in the White Mountains came into prominence through the annual lawn tennis tournament at Crawford Notch. This was the fifteenth season for this event, and that it is one of the outstanding sport features in the White Mountains was proved by the large entry, which included many Metropolitan and West Side players.

Mr. and Mrs. William Fearing and Master William Ivelin Fearing of New York arrived at the Crawford House this week. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas V. Sall have arrived from New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Fleming Tuckerman and Mr. Arthur Tuckerman are here from New York to spend two months. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ingraham and party of Oakland, R. I., came for the week of tennis.

Bridge parties and teas play an important part in the activities at Crawford House. Mrs. George Froth of Camden, N. J., entertained a large party on Thursday at the clubhouse. Mrs. Frederick Everett Thompson of New York is a frequent hostess.

At the Mount Washington Hotel at Bretton Woods are Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Costello of New York, Mr. and Mrs. William W. Gurley, Miss Helen K. Gurley, Mrs. W. W. Kimball, Miss Alice Knight and Mrs. George H. Knight of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. William Cummings, Mr. E. A. Shevan, Mr. J. Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Marshall of New York, Mrs. Adam K. Luke and the Messrs. Grange and Rose Luke, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Trusdale, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Maynard, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Lucien B. Chase.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Seibert of New York who were in the mountains at Manchester, N. H., for golf have arrived at the Mount Washington to spend some time before returning to New York. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fletcher of New York spent a short time here. Mrs. Samuel D. Brewster of New York will spend the season at the Mount Washington, where Mr. Egerton Warburton and party of Philadelphia will be for several weeks.

Mr. Walton H. Marshall and Mrs. Marshall of the Hotel Vanderbilt will arrive at the Mount Pleasant to-morrow. Francis Guimet, the golfer, who played with James Guilford against Harry Vardon and Edward Ray on Friday at Belmont Springs Country Club, will be at the Mount Pleasant during August. Mr. A. H. Hight of New York and party will pass the first two weeks of August here.

The colony at the Front House, at Franconia Notch, and at the cottages here is well established. Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Lawrence of Tuxedo have come to live with General and Mrs. W. N. P. Darrow at their cottage. Tron Alone, Mrs. Frederick Wendell Jackson of New York who has planned to spend the summer at her cottage, will not be able to come this season because of the illness of her sister, Mrs. Louis J. Belloni, who had expected to be there with her, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Sadie Belloni. The Jackson cottage will be occupied by Mrs. Jackson's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Jackson of New York, and also by B. Cornell, both families coming from Irlip, L. I., where they have summer homes. Coming from New York to occupy the Cornell cottage at Franconia Notch are Mr. and Mrs. Edwin H. Cornell and Mr. and Mrs. William B. Symmes, who have been at their summer home at Bearhill, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Flammer of New York, who have had a cottage at the Front House, Mrs. Bernice H. Evans of Pittsburg, will entertain during August her sons-in-law and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Watling and Mrs. James G. Blaine of New York.

Mr. James R. Jessup of New York, accompanied by her niece, Miss Mary H. Flieger of Millbrook, a granddaughter of the late Mrs. Jessup, who arrived at the Front House by automobile from Lenox, Mass., stopping en route at the Vendome, in Boston. They will remain at Franconia Notch for the remainder of the season.

Mrs. William Bailey of New York, who passed July at Bar Harbor, will pass August at Franconia Notch. Mr. John Hill Darrin of New York and Mrs. Helen Rhoades of New York, who arrived at the Front House, where Mr. H. W. Jones and Miss M. A. Jones are passing the season.

At the Waumbek, at Jefferson, weekly bridge parties and Friday afternoon bridge parties were started this week. Miss Alice Harriman of New York is with the Misses Conover of Bergen Point and Miss McLaughlin of Jersey City, N. J. Other arrivals include Mrs. and Mrs. J. Kennedy Tod of New York and Round Beach, Conn., and Miss Margaret W. Stevenson of Montreal and Mrs. Sarah King, Mrs. Featherston Conover, Mrs. Frank F. Shute, as arrived at Jefferson from Philadelphia with her son, Mr. Edmund D. Conner.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jaffray of New York, who spent last week at Franconia Notch, are at the Balsams, at Dixville Notch, with Mr. and Mrs. John P. Tamm and the Misses Louise and Gladys Tamm. Other arrivals include Mrs. Samuel M. Rice of New York also are Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Lane Folger of New York, who are occupying the Sunset House, at Dixville Notch, and have as a guest Mrs. Mary Helms of Brooklyn, Mrs. Folger's brother, Mr. Alexander Ballwitz and Mrs. Ballwitz, who were with them during July, have returned to their home at Dixville Notch. Miss Gladys Hyde of New York is at the Maplewood.

Mr. George R. Crawford, one of the heads of the Bethlehem Country Club, has arrived at the Sunset House, at Dixville Notch, with Mr. and Mrs. John P. Tamm and the Misses Louise and Gladys Tamm. Other arrivals include Mrs. Samuel M. Rice of New York also are Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Lane Folger of New York, who are occupying the Sunset House, at Dixville Notch, and have as a guest Mrs. Mary Helms of Brooklyn, Mrs. Folger's brother, Mr. Alexander Ballwitz and Mrs. Ballwitz, who were with them during July, have returned to their home at Dixville Notch. Miss Gladys Hyde of New York is at the Maplewood.

Secretary Baker is here sticking close to his duties. In a party the Baker family at Cleveland Park, are in the same position with regard to going away for the summer as the President and Mrs. Wilson. It is at their homes at Cleveland Park, where they are so much more comfortable and they are than they are at all likely to be at any resort they are not worrying about getting out of Washington. The Towandand Russell place, out back of the Cathedral Close, which Mr. and Mrs. Baker have for the summer, is attractive—a big, airy house, set in ten acres of ground.

Secretary and Mrs. Baker and the children are all well, the family invalids being Mrs. Baker's young cousin, Miss Elizabeth F. Frazee, and her brother, Mr. Ralph Leopold, both just back from Walter Reed Hospital.

Mrs. Meredith Has Guests. Secretary and Mrs. Meredith also are here. They arrived on Sunday, and Mrs. Meredith has as guests Mr. and Mrs. Evelyn Burleson of New York, Mrs. Margaret Ray of Des Moines, Ia. The Postmaster General and Mrs. Turleson are in their rather empty house. For their daughters, except Mrs. Burleson, who is married, and even she is out of the city much of the time. Just now she is at Cape May with her eldest sister, Mrs. Van Wyck Negley, who is established there with her husband. Mr. and Mrs. Meredith also are here. They arrived on Sunday, and Mrs. Meredith has as guests Mr. and Mrs. Evelyn Burleson of New York, Mrs. Margaret Ray of Des Moines, Ia. The Postmaster General and Mrs. Turleson are in their rather empty house. For their daughters, except Mrs. Burleson, who is married, and even she is out of the city much of the time. Just now she is at Cape May with her eldest sister, Mrs. Van Wyck Negley, who is established there with her husband. Mr. and Mrs. Meredith also are here.

That accounts for just half of the Cabinet members who would be available for a Cabinet meeting, and half is certainly a quorum. Of the others, Secretary Wilson and Alexander are at their respective homes—the one in Missouri, the other in Pennsylvania—and Secretaries Daniels and Payne are on their way home from their trip to Alaska, on which they started at the close of the convention. Mr. Daniels has gone to meet the Secretary at the Yellowstone, and they are headed east by rather a circuitous route.

Of the former Cabinet members Mr. Robert Lansing and Mrs. Lansing are having their first summer in the country for a long time. Mrs. Lansing has not been near Washington since the middle of June. But Mr. Lansing was here the other day. He has an office here. John W. Davis, Ambassador to Great Britain, is expected home shortly on his first vacation since he took the post. Presumably Mrs. Davis will be with him. The members of our own diplomatic corps home on leave were fairly swarming here a while ago—their presence being the excuse for a certain number of official parties. They always entertain and are entertained by the diplomatic representatives here of the country to which they are accredited, and some of the State Department chiefs seem to feel obliged to give breakfasts and luncheons for them. But most of them having finished their business with the Department made their homes, etc., and now are having their real vacation at the resorts or at their homes. They will be back for a few days, getting any instructions they may require, before they return to their posts. There will be some more parties for them.

As for the foreign diplomatic corps here—well, one doesn't know whether it's here or not. The French Embassy staff seems to be here, but it is keeping very quiet. Saying nothing and saying

MRS. EDWARD F. FLAMMER OF NEW YORK ON THE GOLF LINKS AT ELIZABETHTOWN

Lambs in 'Follies' at Elizabethtown

Entertainment Held for the Cobble Hill Golf Club—Cups Offered for Tournament.

ELIZABETHTOWN, N. Y., July 31.—The Cobble Hill Golf Club, for the benefit of which "Elizabethtown Follies" was successfully presented in the village opera house last night and the night before by members of the Lambs Club of New York, is now ready to begin next week its annual August tournament.

The events will open on Wednesday with an eighteen hole handicap for a cup, offered by the club, and at the same time by Mr. Samuel Campe of New York. On Wednesday, August 11, there will be a handicap tournament for the Suter cup, given by Mr. Alfred Suter of New York. Monday, August 16, a miniature tournament for the Deers Head Inn cup, by Mr. Benjamin F. Stetson, Thursday, August 19, handicap tournament for the Gerswald cup, by Mr. Frank A. Munsey, and Monday, August 23, miniature tournament for the Windsor cup, by Mr. Henry S. Duncan. A miniature tournament open to women only, eight to qualify, will be played on Monday, August 30, for a prize offered by Mrs. Edward F. Flammer of New York. The club championship and the ladies' championship events, both restricted to members of the club, will both start on Wednesday, August 25. The tournament will conclude with the Labor Day handicap event, on September 6.

Mr. Edward F. Flammer of New York, under whose direction the "Follies" was arranged and given, is receiving congratulations for the splendid entertainment. Among those who came from distant points was Mr. William Morris, manager for Sir Harry Lauder, who attended the party of friends on his summer place, Camp Internation, on Lake Colby, near Saratoga Lake village.

Some of the artists who participated in the "Follies," including Barney Bernard,

Block Dances at Water Gap

Fishing, Bathing, Golf and Tennis Also Among Diversions for Sojourners.

DELAWARE WATER GAP, Pa., July 31.—Fishing and bathing, as well as golf and tennis, are enjoyed by the crowds at this resort.

Block dances are held at Stroudsburg weekly. The Stroudsburg Band gives special dance numbers. Arrivals at the Kittatinny include Messrs. William Engleberg and Walter E. Deltz, Mrs. J. W. Greenburg, Miss Ruth Smith, Messrs. F. A. Newfield, M. A. Pargatton and Warren Feber, Miss H. M. Curry, Messrs. Francis Barnaby, S. G. Foster, Louis Salter, Mrs. Andrew Blass, Miss Agnes Sweeney and Mr. M. E. Farrell of New York. Glenwood—Miss Ruth S. Gould, Messrs. A. S. Brunner and W. R. Gillett, Miss Harriet Guaner, Messrs. M. K. Kidu, William L. Hogan and Edward Daniels, Jr., of New York; Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Bower of Brooklyn. Riverview House—Miss Claire Hicks, Mr. W. P. Martinez, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Hicks of New York, Mr. Frank W. Ahrens, Misses Victoria Wildfooster, Helen J. Bowen and Jane P. Morehouse, Forest House—Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Seeley, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Beck, Mrs. J. J. Pettit, Miss G. S. Pettit and Mr. Peter J. Hines of New York. Central—Messrs. Frank Jones, George F. Archer and J. C. Warden, Misses Frances Kasper and Anna M. Nieme and Mr. and Mrs. C. Z. Hauch of New York. Hillcrest—Misses Mabel Winters and Sadie Brent, Mr. Thomas L. Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Kingston, Mrs. F. H. Stillman and Messrs. H. Kelly and H. G. Hills of New York. Maplehurst—Mr. Alexander Emmanuel, Miss May Little, Mrs. M. Little and Mr. William A. O'Leary of New York and Messrs. Charles Lang and Richard W. Lapp of Brooklyn.

ELKS' FIELD DAY AT CAIRO.

CAIRO, N. Y., July 31.—The Elks' field day, under the auspices of the Cairo, N. Y., Lodge of Elks, will be held on August 11. The programme will include horse, motorcycle, bicycle and running races, a baseball game and other attractions. The Cairo Fair, as the annual fair of the Greene County Agricultural Society is best known, also will be held in August.

A barn dance was held at the Maple Lawn Hotel on Thursday night. Arrivals at the hotel include Mr. E. L. Combes, Mr. C. H. Tomlinson, Miss Mary Cullen, Miss M. Clarke, New York; Mrs. John Dill and family, Brooklyn.

Minstrel Show at New London

Foresters Entertain for Charity—Connecticut Bar Association Has Luncheon.

New London, July 31.—The annual luncheon of the Connecticut Bar Association was held at the Griswold Hotel, Eastern Point, on Wednesday. Seventy-five attorneys, including W. L. Robertson, president of the association, of Hartford, attended the event.

At a round view minstrel entertainment was given on Thursday night by the Foresters of Hartford for the benefit of the Catholic Parish Chapel. The Rev. Francis E. May, a former resident of New London, now of St. Mary's Seminary, Hartford, is pastor of the Sound View parish.

Block Dances at Water Gap

DELAWARE WATER GAP, Pa., July 31.—Fishing and bathing, as well as golf and tennis, are enjoyed by the crowds at this resort.

Block dances are held at Stroudsburg weekly. The Stroudsburg Band gives special dance numbers. Arrivals at the Kittatinny include Messrs. William Engleberg and Walter E. Deltz, Mrs. J. W. Greenburg, Miss Ruth Smith, Messrs. F. A. Newfield, M. A. Pargatton and Warren Feber, Miss H. M. Curry, Messrs. Francis Barnaby, S. G. Foster, Louis Salter, Mrs. Andrew Blass, Miss Agnes Sweeney and Mr. M. E. Farrell of New York. Glenwood—Miss Ruth S. Gould, Messrs. A. S. Brunner and W. R. Gillett, Miss Harriet Guaner, Messrs. M. K. Kidu, William L. Hogan and Edward Daniels, Jr., of New York; Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Bower of Brooklyn. Riverview House—Miss Claire Hicks, Mr. W. P. Martinez, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Hicks of New York, Mr. Frank W. Ahrens, Misses Victoria Wildfooster, Helen J. Bowen and Jane P. Morehouse, Forest House—Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Seeley, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Beck, Mrs. J. J. Pettit, Miss G. S. Pettit and Mr. Peter J. Hines of New York. Central—Messrs. Frank Jones, George F. Archer and J. C. Warden, Misses Frances Kasper and Anna M. Nieme and Mr. and Mrs. C. Z. Hauch of New York. Hillcrest—Misses Mabel Winters and Sadie Brent, Mr. Thomas L. Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Kingston, Mrs. F. H. Stillman and Messrs. H. Kelly and H. G. Hills of New York. Maplehurst—Mr. Alexander Emmanuel, Miss May Little, Mrs. M. Little and Mr. William A. O'Leary of New York and Messrs. Charles Lang and Richard W. Lapp of Brooklyn.

Minstrel Show at New London

Foresters Entertain for Charity—Connecticut Bar Association Has Luncheon.

New London, July 31.

THE annual luncheon of the Connecticut Bar Association was held at the Griswold Hotel, Eastern Point, on Wednesday. Seventy-five attorneys, including W. L. Robertson, president of the association, of Hartford, attended the event.

At a round view minstrel entertainment was given on Thursday night by the Foresters of Hartford for the benefit of the Catholic Parish Chapel. The Rev. Francis E. May, a former resident of New London, now of St. Mary's Seminary, Hartford, is pastor of the Sound View parish.

John De Roberts of Yonkers, N. Y., has returned to his home after a few days' visit with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas T. Dorsey at their cottage at Ocean Beach.

Miss Loretta Sheehan of Brooklyn, N. Y., is the guest of Mrs. William Ogden McDonald at Eastern Point.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Beal of Belle Harbor, L. I., are guests of Mrs. May Anwood of Parker street.

Arrivals at the Mohican Hotel are Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Cherry, Mr. and Mrs. James Keith, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Fowell, Mr. Oliver K. Leutz, Mr. B. W. Morse and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. M. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mott, Mrs. N. W. Grant, Mr. R. V. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Harter, Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Marks, Mr. David Hunter Miller of New York; Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Ross, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Cawtherin, Mr. Tempier Cawtherin, Mrs. E. P. Buchanan of Brooklyn; Mr. and Mrs. Edgar G. Cross, Miss Cross, Miss Margaret Waters, Mr. and Mrs. G. K. Bartle, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Lambert, Miss Lambert, Mrs. W. R. Carr, Col. George McKeeley, Mrs. Frank P. Wilbur, Major and Mrs. E. B. Moeller, Col. M. M. Parker, Mrs. Robert D. Turner, Mr. Turner Bristol of Washington, D. C.

The spectacular four ball match played on the Shennecossett links was the first, Messrs. Vardon, Ray, Hager and Barty, on Monday, overshadowed all other sporting events in this vicinity. The hard fought for victory won by the Britishers was due to Mr. Vardon's stroke at the home hole. A gallery of 2,000 persons followed the game.

The ladies' putting tournament this week on the Shennecossett links was won by Mrs. J. B. Limer of New York, defeating Mr. E. J. Baker, Jr., by a score of 3 to 1.

The Casino at the Pequot colony in well patronized and the tea and dance at the Pequot Manor Inn, formerly Col. Tyler's home, are popular. At Pequot, occupying their cottages, are Mrs. Knight Colford and Mrs. Dawson Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Drillin Court Martin at the Woodbury cottage, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bowers at the Elm cottage, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Dimock in Pequot across, Dr. Mrs. Tracy Farman at Sea Acre, Mr. and Mrs. William Schall at Rock-

Minstrel Show at New London

Foresters Entertain for Charity—Connecticut Bar Association Has Luncheon.

New London, July 31.

THE annual luncheon of the Connecticut Bar Association was held at the Griswold Hotel, Eastern Point, on Wednesday. Seventy-five attorneys, including W. L. Robertson, president of the association, of Hartford, attended the event.

At a round view minstrel entertainment was given on Thursday night by the Foresters of Hartford for the benefit of the Catholic Parish Chapel. The Rev. Francis E. May, a former resident of New London, now of St. Mary's Seminary, Hartford, is pastor of the Sound View parish.

John De Roberts of Yonkers, N. Y., has returned to his home after a few days' visit with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas T. Dorsey at their cottage at Ocean Beach.

Miss Loretta Sheehan of Brooklyn, N. Y., is the guest of Mrs. William Ogden McDonald at Eastern Point.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Beal of Belle Harbor, L. I., are guests of Mrs. May Anwood of Parker street.

Arrivals at the Mohican Hotel are Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Cherry, Mr. and Mrs. James Keith, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Fowell, Mr. Oliver K. Leutz, Mr. B. W. Morse and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. M. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mott, Mrs. N. W. Grant, Mr. R. V. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Harter, Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Marks, Mr. David Hunter Miller of New York; Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Ross, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Cawtherin, Mr. Tempier Cawtherin, Mrs. E. P. Buchanan of Brooklyn; Mr. and Mrs. Edgar G. Cross, Miss Cross, Miss Margaret Waters, Mr. and Mrs. G. K. Bartle, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Lambert, Miss Lambert, Mrs. W. R. Carr, Col. George McKeeley, Mrs. Frank P. Wilbur, Major and Mrs. E. B. Moeller, Col. M. M. Parker, Mrs. Robert D. Turner, Mr. Turner Bristol of Washington, D. C.

The spectacular four ball match played on the Shennecossett links was the first, Messrs. Vardon, Ray, Hager and Barty, on Monday, overshadowed all other sporting events in this vicinity. The hard fought for victory won by the Britishers was due to Mr. Vardon's stroke at the home hole. A gallery of 2,000 persons followed the game.

The ladies' putting tournament this week on the Shennecossett links was won by Mrs. J. B. Limer of New York, defeating Mr. E. J. Baker, Jr., by a score of 3 to 1.

The Casino at the Pequot colony in well patronized and the tea and dance at the Pequot Manor Inn, formerly Col. Tyler's home, are popular. At Pequot, occupying their cottages, are Mrs. Knight Colford and Mrs. Dawson Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Drillin Court Martin at the Woodbury cottage, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bowers at the Elm cottage, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Dimock in Pequot across, Dr. Mrs. Tracy Farman at Sea Acre, Mr. and Mrs. William Schall at Rock-

OLD FORGE.

Olo Fogos, July 31.—At the Moose Head are Mr. Herbert H. Backofen, Mr. and Mrs. D. Comstock of New York, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Goff of Cleveland, Ohio, and Mr. D. Ingalls of Pittsburg, Pa.

Forest House—Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Burnham, Mr. Frank Caddole of New York, Mr. G. C. Bishop, Mr. Frank Bishop, Jr., Mrs. Frank Bishop and Miss Elizabeth Bishop of Olmsted, Mich.; Miss Teresa Starkweather of Port Huron, Mich.; and Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Tilton of Chicago, Ill.

Books and the 'Book World'

'Organized Labor in American History'

'Organized Labor in American History,' an Appleton book by Frank Tracy Carlton, brings to notice the remarkable increase in the wages of men which has taken place since the years just before the civil war. We learn that according to the census for 1850 the average wage paid to male factory employees was only 65 cents a day. Women received much less. The highest average wage paid in 1850 in any State to male employees in the iron and steel industry was only 10 cents a day. The average wage in 1910 was less than $1.10 a day.

From newspaper records Mr. Carlton gathers that there were in 1847 about 107,000 steamfitters in New York city, and that those working in common work shirts received 6 cents for each finished shirt and earned from 75 cents to $1.12 a week. Cap makers worked at a meagre wage fifteen and eighteen hours a day.

Rudyard Kipling's 'Letters of Travel,' published recently by Doubleday, Page & Co., reminds us of how close are the ties between him and ourselves. It was in Vermont that Kipling met his wife and that he was in the State of Vermont at Brattleboro, where Massachusetts, Vermont and New Hampshire meet, where he built his first home and did some of his best work lying on a rug in front of a blazing fire.

Revelations of the spirit world are to receive particular attention from Henry Holt & Co. A 'psychic series' planned to start August 10, with the publication of E. M. S. S. 'The Unseen Doctor,' L. M. Bassett's 'After Death Communication' and 'The Unseen Doctor,' 'The Unseen Doctor' will be followed by other books dealing with the higher planes of our life.

The Adirondack made the setting for a novel soon to be published by the Century Company, in which Robert Lowell Stevenson appears as one of the characters. The author of 'The Adirondack' is T. M. Longstreet, who wrote 'The Adirondack' and 'The Adirondack' volumes descriptive of the journeys he had made through the two regions.

W. L. George, one of the best known of the younger English novelists, is coming over this month. It is announced by Harper & Brothers, who are to publish a new novel of his in the fall. Like the swarm of British poets who have visited America in the last year, Mr. George will make a lecture tour.

'Organized Labor in American History'

'Organized Labor in American History,' an Appleton book by Frank Tracy Carlton, brings to notice the remarkable increase in the wages of men which has taken place since the years just before the civil war. We learn that according to the census for 1850 the average wage paid to male factory employees was only 65 cents a day. Women received much less. The highest average wage paid in 1850 in any State to male employees in the iron and steel industry was only 10 cents a day. The average wage in 1910 was less than $1.10 a day.

From newspaper records Mr. Carlton gathers that there were in 1847 about 107,000 steamfitters in New York city, and that those working in common work shirts received 6 cents for each finished shirt and earned from 75 cents to $1.12 a week. Cap makers worked at a meagre wage fifteen and eighteen hours a day.

Rudyard Kipling's 'Letters of Travel,' published recently by Doubleday, Page & Co., reminds us of how close are the ties between him and ourselves. It was in Vermont that Kipling met his wife and that he was in the State of Vermont at Brattleboro, where Massachusetts, Vermont and New Hampshire meet, where he built his first home and did some of his best work lying on a rug in front of a blazing fire.

Revelations of the spirit world are to receive particular attention from Henry Holt & Co. A 'psychic series' planned to start August 10, with the publication of E. M. S. S. 'The Unseen Doctor,' L. M. Bassett's 'After Death Communication' and 'The Unseen Doctor,' 'The Unseen Doctor' will be followed by other books dealing with the higher planes of our life.

The Adirondack made the setting for a novel soon to be published by the Century Company, in which Robert Lowell Stevenson appears as one of the characters. The author of 'The Adirondack' is T. M. Longstreet, who wrote 'The Adirondack' and 'The Adirondack' volumes descriptive of the journeys he had made through the two regions.

W. L. George, one of the best known of the younger English novelists, is coming over this month. It is announced by Harper & Brothers, who are to publish a new novel of his in the fall. Like the swarm of British poets who have visited America in the last year, Mr. George will make a lecture tour.

President Renews Social Activities as Health Continues to Improve

WASHINGTON, July 31.

THE President is renewing his social activities as his health continues to improve. He gave a luncheon for the French Ambassador and Mme. Jusserand on the eve of their starting for France, and after holding an important political conference he had another luncheon for the Democratic standard bearers in the campaign of 1920. He held a Cabinet meeting, the third since he returned to the White House last autumn, and it is not improbable that he may pack up his grip and go for an end of the week trip down the river on board the Mayflower.

Meanwhile rumors continue to play about his possible 'establishing a summer White House here, there or somewhere else. Let any of the White House connection appear at any summer resort and make a few inquiries and immediately the air is thick with rumors that the President has at last picked the place for the summer White House. The latest excitement was at Blue Ridge Summit, where they were quite sure he was coming, all because Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson appeared on the scene. There was corresponding disappointment when the natives and the summer colonists were finally reluctantly convinced that it was only Mrs. Grayson and their two sons, Gordon and Cary T., Jr., for whom he was seeking quarters and that Dr. Grayson hoped to motor there for the Sundays.

Apparently the persons least concerned by these rumors are the persons they concern most. There are absolutely no signs of any intention on the part of either the President or Mrs. Wilson of leaving Washington at all this summer unless possibly for a cruise down the river. The President seems quite content at present to follow the campaign fashion as set by Senator Harding and do his campaigning from the south porch of the White House.

Mrs. Wilson Rides Without a Hat. Mrs. Wilson has taken to driving late in the afternoon bare headed, settling a pleasant and eminently sensible fashion for the women of the official set to follow. There is nearly always a smile on her face as she goes to the gates to watch the President's motor pass through. And Mr. Wilson has got far enough away from his usual job to usually touch his cap and smile his acknowledgment of the greetings thus wayfarers as the big gates clang shut behind his automobile.

It was not a very full Cabinet meeting that the President had last Tuesday, as there are comparatively few of the President's official family in Washington. The Vice-President and Mrs. Marshall are still in the West. Secretary Colby is here—at least he is here to-day, and in New York or Philadelphia, Cleveland or Chicago to-morrow. Anyhow he's on the job as Secretary of State. Mrs. Colby and their daughters have left Washington for the summer.

Secretary House's is in town—very much as Secretary Colby is—but a little bit more so. His work doesn't seem to be taking him away much just at present. Mrs. House and the children are up at Wood's Hole, where they have been going every summer since they were up to Washington. Attorney General Palmer is in a general way in Washington, though last Tuesday he was in New York for a coal conference. Mrs. Palmer is at their home at Wood's Hole with their little daughter, probably for the summer.

Secretary Baker is here sticking close to his duties. In a party the Baker family at Cleveland Park, are in the same position with regard to going away for the summer as the President and Mrs. Wilson. It is at their homes at Cleveland Park, where they are so much more comfortable and they are than they are at all likely to be at any resort they are not worrying about getting out of Washington. The Towandand Russell place, out back of the Cathedral Close, which Mr. and Mrs. Baker have for the summer, is attractive—a big, airy house, set in ten acres of ground.

Secretary and Mrs. Baker and the children are all well, the family invalids being Mrs. Baker's young cousin, Miss Elizabeth F. Frazee, and her brother, Mr. Ralph Leopold, both just back from Walter Reed Hospital.

Mrs. Meredith Has Guests. Secretary and Mrs. Meredith also are here. They arrived on Sunday, and Mrs. Meredith has as guests Mr. and Mrs. Evelyn Burleson of New York, Mrs. Margaret Ray of Des Moines, Ia. The Postmaster General and Mrs. Turleson are in their rather empty house. For their daughters, except Mrs. Burleson, who is married, and even she is out of the city much of the time. Just now she is at Cape May with her eldest sister, Mrs. Van Wyck Negley, who is established there with her husband. Mr. and Mrs. Meredith also are here.

That accounts for just half of the Cabinet members who would be available for a Cabinet meeting, and half is certainly a quorum. Of the others, Secretary Wilson and Alexander are at their respective homes—the one in Missouri, the other in Pennsylvania—and Secretaries Daniels and Payne are on their way home from their trip to Alaska, on which they started at the close of the convention. Mr. Daniels has gone to meet the Secretary at the Yellowstone, and they are headed east by rather a circuitous route.

Of the former Cabinet members Mr. Robert Lansing and Mrs. Lansing are having their first summer in the country for a long time. Mrs. Lansing has not been near Washington since the middle of June. But Mr. Lansing was here the other day. He has an office here. John W. Davis, Ambassador to Great Britain, is expected home shortly on his first vacation since he took the post. Presumably Mrs. Davis will be with him. The members of our own diplomatic corps home on leave were fairly swarming here a while ago—their presence being the excuse for a certain number of official parties. They always entertain and are entertained by the diplomatic representatives here of the country to which they are accredited, and some of the State Department chiefs seem to feel obliged to give breakfasts and luncheons for them. But most of them having finished their business with the Department made their homes, etc., and now are having their real vacation at the resorts or at their homes. They will be back for a few days, getting any instructions they may require, before they return to their posts. There will be some more parties for them.

As for the foreign diplomatic corps here—well, one doesn't know whether it's here or not. The French Embassy staff seems to be here, but it is keeping very quiet. Saying nothing and saying wood, as it were. Count de Galard de Wood, the new counselor of the embassy in Washington, is at the State Department at 1920 Twenty-third street. N. W. He is settling down there with his two children. Colonel and Mrs. Patton are established at Camp Meade, to which Col. Patton has been assigned.

The Spanish Ambassador will probably be in town pretty much all summer. He has not been away for any length of time since before the war. But Senora de Riano has gone to York Harbor, where she will pass August with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Chandler Anderson.

Mr. Boris Bakmeteff, the Russian Ambassador, is in Washington most of the time. He is in New York for a few days. Mr. Bakmeteff is in Canada with friends for the summer, and when he can take this time he will join her here for a few days.

Commander Benkevitch, the Assistant Russian Naval Attaché, has been ordered to the Pacific coast on special duty, and will return by way of the Panama canal, in charge of a Russian merchant ship on route for New York. Mrs. Benkevitch is at her apartment at the Highlands, after sampling some of the Virginia coast resorts. Sometimes one wonders just what would happen if members of the present Russian Embassy staff here were 'ordered' back to Russia. The Ambassador was sent over and presented his credentials as the representative of the new Russian Government. And Russia might not be healthy for the Ambassador and staff under the Soviet Government.

South American Ambassadors. The South American Ambassadors who have been out West, having attended the two conventions, are all of them back, although they are not very readily in Washington. The Peruvian Minister has been several months on the having gone over to the Shah of Persia during his recent visit in France and England.

The Peruvian Ambassador about as soon as he got back from his western trip went up with Senora de Pezet to New York for the celebration of the national Peruvian holiday on July 28 by the Peruvian Club in New York. The festivities marked the ninety-ninth anniversary of the independence of the Peruvian Republic and took the form of a dinner and dance at the Hotel Shelburne at Brighton Beach. Senora de Pezet's brother-in-law