

ARREST OF HECKER GIVES COX AN ISSUE

Baltimore Incident Basis of Renewed Attacks on Harding.

TRAILS - SENATOR REED

Appeals for German Support in Speeches in Kansas and Missouri.

By a Staff Correspondent of The Sun and New York Herald.

TORONTO, Sept. 29.—When Gov. Cox, trying to make a national issue of the arrest of the heckler at Senator Harding's Baltimore meeting, got into Topeka tonight he found that the arch enemy of the Administration, although a Democrat, Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, had come to town just ahead of him, and in a speech at a soldiers' reunion, passed out a black eye to the League of Nations.

Gov. Cox got into Topeka at the close of a busy day of campaigning over a route that carried him from South Dakota through Nebraska, a corner of Iowa, a slice of Missouri and into Kansas. There were countless rear platform talks, and three set speeches in Topeka, Atchison and St. Joseph, Mo. Making the League of Nations the feature of his talks he brought into secondary prominence the incident in Baltimore, when Edward A. Ryan was arrested for interrupting the speech of Senator Harding.

William J. Bryan did in Nebraska on Monday during the visit of Gov. Cox. Senator Reed remained completely away from the Democratic candidate, even though he traveled for several hours across the State and spent in its third largest city, St. Joseph. Although he had been in Topeka less than twenty-four hours before he liked out of town, leaving only his dust and long newspaper reports of his attack on the League of Nations behind him.

Senator Reed's attack on the League of Nations occurred when he addressed a crowd of 10,000 attending a soldiers' reunion, and the soldiers went wild with their approval. It was against this that Gov. Cox had to buck when he spoke tonight, and the heavy trend of sentiment in Kansas against the Wilson Administration.

G. O. P. Will Get Kansas. Kansas, of course, is normally Republican, but it went for Wilson four years ago because of a wheat and the issue of "the King of the West." This year, there's no doubt of its going back to the Republican column with a bump and the plurality, they say, will be anywhere from 100,000 to 150,000. Kansas is so Republican that Gov. Cox just tipped his hat to it.

Missouri is in a confused condition politically, due to the attitude of Senator Reed, whose break with President Wilson occurred when he brought the League of Nations covenant back from France, and whose clash with Gov. Cox came when the Democratic nominee insisted on making the covenant the leading issue of the campaign. Senator Reed is keeping hands off, his attack on the League in Topeka last night being the only thing he so far has done in the political fight now in progress. At this time, say those who are in closest touch with politics hereabout, it is unsafe to venture an opinion as to how Missouri normally Democratic, is going to go in November.

Gov. Cox pounced upon the Baltimore incident when he learned of it in the morning newspapers in Omaha, and decided to make it one of the features of his endless attacks upon his Republican opponent.

"I see by the papers that Edward A. Ryan, a lawyer who was arrested for an American citizen in Baltimore to ask the reactionary Presidential candidate how he stood on the League of Nations, spent the night in jail," Gov. Cox said. "A hasty disqualification of the candidate was made, but the fact remains that Senator Harding told the audience in plain words that he considered the interruption a discourtesy, whereupon the man was taken in charge by the police."

He Humored Heckler. This gave Gov. Cox the opportunity to review an incident that occurred at St. Paul three weeks ago when a man in the audience inquired about the Irish question. A police officer was sent to take him in charge when he was stopped by the Democratic nominee, who said the question would be answered.

"I see the person who asked me questions on the Western trip was incarcerated," he said, "you would not have room for them in your State penitentiary."

"He is American, not in Russia. If the Senatorial oligarchy which controls the Senate and seeks to annex the Presidency declines to be questioned before the election what can we expect if it should give this kind of control of public affairs? This must not be regarded as a trifling circumstance. It is a symptom of conditions that are approaching."

Working in the Baltimore incident with the League of Nations arguments, Gov. Cox in the St. Joseph audience, before a crowd of 6,000, not once mentioning Senator Reed, inquired if anybody wanted to know anything about the covenant. "Ask me any question," he said, "and I'll answer you. You'll not be locked up. There was a snicker, then silence.

"You're not all going to vote for me, are you?" he asked.

"Yes," chorused a few, and there was another laugh.

JERSEY PRIMARIES POINT U.S.P. VICTORY

100,000 Plurality for Harding and Coolidge Seen by Party Leaders.

Special to The Sun and New York Herald.

Trenton, Sept. 29.—Analysis of the vote cast at the primary election throughout New Jersey yesterday indicates a pronounced Republican trend. This is shown by the comparatively heavy vote polled in the Republican primaries and the tendency of women who cast their vote for the first time to affiliate with the Republican party. Assuming that the ranks of women voters will be further augmented at the general election, it now seems probable that New Jersey will give Harding and Coolidge a plurality ranging from 75,000 to 100,000.

Majority organization candidates were generally successful throughout the State, although there were a few notable exceptions in the contest for party control. The Republican organization was overthrown in the Sixth Congress District, where late returns show that former Assemblyman Randolph Perkins defeated Representative John E. Ramsey for the Congressional nomination.

Mr. Perkins was a "dry" candidate endorsed by the Anti-Saloon League. Of the twelve Republican Congressional candidates nominated at least five were as dry as dust and six wet. The attitude of the Twelfth depends upon the result of the fight in the Third district, where Mayor Frank Appleby of Asbury Park and John W. Herbert of Helmsville, former chairman of the State Highway Commission, ran a close race. Latest returns seem to indicate the nomination of Mr. Appleby by a small margin.

Kuehne Defeated. In Atlantic county "Commander" Louis Kuehne, former organization leader, who revolted against the machine, met with a crushing defeat. In Hudson county the Verdon faction of the Republican party was beaten badly by the organization forces.

Calls were being made today by Edward C. Stokes and Charles P. McDonough, respective chairmen of the Republican and Democratic State Committees for State convention to be held in this city next Tuesday. The Republicans will meet at the Republican headquarters and the Democrats at the headquarters of the Mercer county committee. In addition to the adoption of State platform both conventions will select candidates for Presidential election.

Latest returns to-night indicated that the Congressional nominees in New Jersey are as follows: First District—Francis F. Patterson, Republican; William P. Kramer, Democrat; Dr. James S. Sharp, Prohibitionist; Second District—Isaac Bacharach, Republican; Dr. William H. Jones, Democrat; Third District—George B. Sweeney, Republican; George B. Strother, Socialist; Third District—Frank Appleby, Republican; William A. Ramsey, Democrat; Fourth District—Elijah C. Hutchinson, Republican; Charles C. Brown, Democrat; Fifth District—Ernest R. Anderson, Republican; Richard E. Clement, Democrat; James H. Furber, Socialist; Eugene A. Smith, Prohibitionist; Sixth District—Randolph Perkins, Republican; Thomas A. Shields, Democrat; Frederick Kropf, Socialist; Henry J. Cox, Prohibitionist; Charles T. Logan, Socialist; Seventh District—Amos Radloff, Republican; Nicholas Hughes, Democrat; Eighth District—Herbert Taylor, Republican; Cornelius A. McCleomb, Democrat; Harry J. Howard, Socialist; Ninth District—B. T. Parker, Republican; Daniel F. Minahan, Democrat; Tenth District—Fredrick M. Leitch, Republican; Eleventh District—Archibald E. O'Connell, Republican; John J. Pagan, Democrat; William J. F. John, Independent; George Kover, Socialist; Twelfth District—Walter Williams, Republican; Charles K. O'Brien, Democrat.

COX PLANS RAID FOR VOTES HERE ON OCT. 23. Roosevelt Is to Follow in Eleventh Hour Appeal.

That the Democrats intend to raise an eleventh hour hurrah in New York in the hope of winning the State from Harding is indicated by an announcement made yesterday that Gov. Cox will speak in Madison Square Garden on Saturday night, October 23, and that Franklin D. Roosevelt will spend the night of the campaign on a speaking tour of the State. On October 23 Gov. Cox will talk in Indianapolis. These two engagements and one at Buffalo, October 25, are the only ones of the latter part of the campaign thus far revealed.

Apparently the Democratic strategists are trying to conceal from the enemy the location of their weakest spots, which the candidate will try to visit as election day draws near.

COTTON MARKET. The cotton market developed a generally firm undertone following a decline of 30 to 80 points in the first two hours of its session yesterday, with some recovery in the afternoon. The decline of frost for the Western belt and the approaching Government report on condition. There were two distinct swings in the market. The early one was downward. The afternoon one was upward. Both moved with uncertainty and irregularity.

There was evident ease in the first two hours that several shorts who had not taken their profits wished to cover, and the list was not long in rallying to within 30 points of Tuesday's final. October lagged behind the final, 10 points through the day, selling 10 points down at one time. Later, when the general market rose to about 25 to 70 points more than Tuesday's final, October rallied, but did not cross Tuesday's final.

A decline of 10 to 50 points was recorded at the opening. Early business was animated, and most selling was done by the close of the day. Little support from spot houses. No October notices were in circulation, but October was under influence of stale long liquidation. When the trade began to move in the afternoon, promising unsettled and cooler weather to-day, there was a revival of demand from speculative shorts. The Clement-Curtis condition report, indicating a percentage of 69.1, aroused little comment in the trade and was not a factor.
