GALBRAITH HEADS AMERICAN LEGION

Cincinnati Colonel Wins Election on Second Ballot—Has Three Decorations.

LEGISLATION DEMANDED

Exclusion of Japanese Immigrants and New Cabinet Office Supported.

By a Staff Correspondent of THE SUN and NEW YORK HERALD.
CLEVELAND, Sept. 29.—Frederick W. Galbraith of Cincinnati, who has worked his way up from an apprentice seaman to the treasurer of a million dollar corporation, who has won three decorations for gallantry in action during the world war, and who comes from the mother State of great leaders, was tonight elected national commander of the American Legion.

Mr. Galbraith's election came on the second ballot in a tumultuous convention. Before the figures could be announced Hanford MacNider of Mason City, Iowa, who was one competitor, moved to make the election unanimous. The motion was seconded by the only other contender for 1921 honors, John F. Herbert of Worcester, Mass., and the eleven hundred delegates put it over. The figures on the first ballot were: Galbraith, 533; MacNider, 327; Herbert, 233. A total of 1195 delegates made a majority of 553 necessary.

While the second ballot was not announced officially, THE SUN and NEW YORK HERALD learned that the second ballot stood: Galbraith, 654; MacNider, 375; Herbert, 145.

One delegate from Arkansas voted on both ballots for Arthur Wood's former Police Commissioner of New York City, who had been discussed for a nomination by the New York delegates but who refused by telegram to consider it. Mr. Wood has served as chairman of the American Legion National Americanism Commission. New York delegates cast seven-two votes for Galbraith and six for MacNider on the first ballot and swung in a body with their total of seventy-eight, the largest in the convention, to the Ohio man on the second ballot.

Native of Massachusetts.
Mr. Galbraith was born in Watertown Arsenal, Mass., on May 6, 1874, and may therefore boast of even a military birth. He attended grammar school in Springfield, Mass., before embarking upon the sea through a nautical training school. He rose from coxswain to third mate, then second mate, upon an American sailing vessel.

In 1895 he gave up the sea and became treasurer of the Western Paper Goods Company of Cincinnati after ten years of service with that company, in 1907.

In 1914 he was commissioned a major

J. HAM LEWIS HAS PLAN TO SOLVE IRISH TANGLE

Illinois Nominee Will Explain Remedy to President.

Special to THE SUN and NEW YORK HERALD.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—James Hamilton Lewis appeared at the White House today with a pin-stripe suit and a plan to help Great Britain straighten out the Irish tangle. He sought an audience with President Wilson and will get it tomorrow.

The former Illinois Senator said he wished to talk over the Irish problem with the President and explain to him the solution he expects to propose to Illinois voters in his campaign for Governor. This solution, Mr. Lewis explained, involves the United States entering the League of Nations. After that the United States, acting under Article XI, will propose to Great Britain that she grant Ireland concessions in return for all the aid America rendered during the war.

It was recalled that American voters with Irish sympathies so far had shown themselves not particularly eager for solutions which involved this country getting into the league.

Mr. Lewis skipped over that difficulty, however, and calmly claimed that if the Illinois election were held today he would win by a majority of 50,000. This claim, Mr. Lewis modestly explained, was not due to his extraordinary vote-getting powers, but to the fact that the Republicans in the State are split.

Political Activity Forbidden.
The other feature of the closing day's programme of the convention was the insistence, after a long wrangle, that an absolutely literal interpretation of the political restriction clause of the constitution of the legion be continued. Connecticut, Georgia, Michigan, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Tennessee and Texas were the only States to vote to allow posts to issue questionnaires to political candidates and determine from the replies whether or not the legion should as a body support such candidates.

Upon the defeat of the resolution to allow such political work the rejection was made unanimous.

New York voted its seventy-eight votes solidly against the proposed change, although it was felt by the New York delegates that some measures different from those advocated should be used to advance desired Legion legislation.

The New York delegates figured prominently in another exciting fight when they led the movement for "hands off" on the Japanese question. The Pacific coast delegates had introduced and had pushed vigorously a resolution calling upon Congress to abrogate the so-called gentlemen's agreement that the United States would not go on official record against Japanese immigration if Japan would not attempt to oppose that unwritten law. The Pacific coast delegates insisted the agreement was not being kept by Japan and the resolution calling for instant action by Congress was passed after New York had withdrawn opposition.

The other resolutions call further for the stoppage of all "picture brides" coming into the United States and rigorous exclusion of all Japanese immigration. New York opposed the resolutions upon the ground that this was interference with the Government's foreign policy and that a commission should be appointed to study the facts before action be taken by the legion.

Disabled ex-service men's legislation recommended calls for the combination of the War Risk Insurance Bureau, the Vocational Training Board and the United States Public Health Service under one branch, with a new Cabinet officer in charge.

Pianos and Phonographs in the Auditorium

WE have taken up some of the seats in the Auditorium, to make room for the Opening-of-the-Home-Season display of Pianos and Phonographs. It will be a wonderful assemblage of music-producing instruments. Armoniola, Brunswick, Cheney, Edison, Pathe, Sonora, Victor—they will all be here: And the Chickering, the Knabe and the wonderful Ampico Reproducing Pianos, leading a list of more than 90 makes, styles, sizes and grades in pianos alone (uprights, grands, player-pianos and Reproducing Pianos).

Informal music will continue as usual, in the afternoon. AMPICO Hour in the Piano Salons, 1:30 to 2:30 every day. First Gallery, New Building.

There is more blue sky above us than clouds

If we take the year all through. This is the deliberate judgment of a weather-wise observer who makes a study of the subject.

It is a human failing to magnify our wet days and our disappointments, and we dishearten ourselves and are only half as hopeful and energetic as we should be.

The stiffer the wind and the steeper the climb, buckle on your courage the tighter, and go at it until you see the sunrise from the top of the mountain.

We are confident we can make this store better than ever.

A Collection of Dining Tables

Au Quatrieme

Ever since people have sat at tables to dine there has been the question of which is the most charming and interesting and dining seated at a round table where the table extends in a continuous curve from diner to diner, or whether an oblong dining table is more pleasant. Nowadays a great many people are amused by sitting at long narrow refectory tables—on one side of the table only, like the figures in the old Italian frescoes. No matter what school of dining you prefer. Au Quatrieme has, the table for your room.

A very large antique English double gate-leg table of oak has an oval top and is particularly suitable for the rather large informal dining room. It is of fine old wood, beautifully seasoned, excellent in color. Price $900.

A Sheraton mahogany round breakfast table, reproduction of an old one, is made on a pedestal base and has tripod feet finely grooved. This is a rather delicate table, beautiful in color and of good surface. Very attractive for a dejeuner a deux. Price $175.

A reproduction oak Tudor table with bulbous legs and cross stretcher is of the refectory type. 5 feet long and 2 feet 4 inches wide. This table seats six people. Price $250.

A long narrow Italian Tuscan table of the 17th century has a stretcher that is cut out in an unusual shape and is wide enough so that people can be seated at both sides of the table and long enough to seat twelve. Price $850.

Chairs suited for use with this table are 17th century Italian walnut chairs with twisted legs and stretchers. Covered with old red satin. $1,850 for the set of 12.

An Elizabethan draw table with bulbous legs in 7 feet long, with leaves extended. With leaves dropped, 3 feet 9 inches long. Price $650.

An old Italian refectory table, 9 feet 8 inches, has two long narrow benches to match. The table is equipped with 6 small drawers. Price for set of table and benches $950.

An oak refectory table made with an old top and new base is 2 feet wide and 8 feet 4 inches long and has a carved apron and a stretcher. Price $875.

An Quatrieme has had special table cloths made for these fine old tables, of heavy linen combined with old lace or made with embroidery in cross-stitch designs in soft color or in soft dull colors, such as dull rose or dull blue. There are also napkins to match.

The customary EXHIBIT of DAHLIAS

will be held on the Burlington Arcade (street) Floor of the New Building beginning THIS MORNING

145 varieties

The collection will be one of the most notable ever presented, in point of quality especially.

Every bloom has been grown for John Wanamaker on the Peacock Dahlia Farm, Mr. Peacock's new Florida hybrids, which have not been exhibited before, will all be shown.

Orders for Bulbs

Orders will be taken for the bulbs of these blooms, to be delivered in the latter part of May, 1921 (season for planting is from May 15 to June 15).

GOWNS and Chemises hand-made, just from France.

They are of sheer French batiste, beautifully embroidered in simple or elaborate patterns, though always in the good taste characteristic of French gowns.

Two gowns have round necks, daintily scalloped, one fashioned in Empire style; a third is made with a V neck. All have set-in sleeves.

Necklines of chemises, straight or envelope style, are round and scalloped. Valenciennes lace (imitation) trims the edge of one chemise.

$12.50 each.

FURNITURE An Opportunity— (not a clearaway)

Nearly 3,000 pieces at savings of a third

We came unexpectedly in possession of most of these 3,000 pieces. Seems as if every manufacturer with whom we had placed orders decided at the same moment to ship us the goods. Can't house them properly in the warehouse. And you wouldn't have space to walk if we put them on the furniture floors. We must get them out NOW into the homes they would eventually reach. And so we'll give fifty per cent. more than the value your money normally brings to you who will take these off our hands at once.

As to future Furniture prices

They will ultimately recede. But we doubt if they'll recede to the point where NORMAL prices will be as low as the prices of this furniture at a third off.

A manufacturer of upholstered furniture came in yesterday. Thought we might want to stock up now that we were letting go a lot.

"Will you sell us suites like this," we asked, pointing to one of his own make, "at a price which will permit us to sell them at this reduced price, and make our regular profit?"

The Shops for Men

A Specialized Service of the Wanamaker Store

Clothing for Young Men

A multitude of Shirts for Men

Today you will see shirts for men shown in such a variety that it is most interesting to walk from table to table and see the multitude of designs and effects.

Prices range from $1.50 to $4.50.

At $3.75 are shirts that we consider such unusual values that we suggest that you get a supply while the assortment lasts.

Of woven madras and Jap. crepe. The madras are in those attractive narrow equal stripes, in shades from light blue to greys. Also hair line stripes, wide stripes and cluster stripes. The Jap. crepe is mostly in wide stripes, vari-colored cluster stripes, or two-tone effects.

There are soft cuffs as well as the stiff cuffs that are growing in popularity.

Oxfords, $7.75

Full range of sizes in winter weight, in bordered tan calf; suitable for street wear; make a very good golfing shoe because of their strength and comfort. Some men have bought two and three pairs of these.

In sizes 5 to 10.

Fourth Floor, Old Building.

In a complete shop by itself on the Burlington Arcade Floor you will find new Fall suits in styles that are so decidedly youthful, smart and good looking that it is a pleasure to see them.

The outstanding feature is the excellent quality of the material—a quality that assures not only wear, but lends a distinctiveness to the suit.

There are suits of worsteds, chevots and flannels at from $50 to $85.

One suit in particular is made of a very fine unfinished worsted in a rich unusual shade of brown; single or double breasted coat; cut to give the youthful, slender, athletic effect. Not in any way extreme, yet in the fitted waist, button sleeve cuff are touches to satisfy the best dressed young man.

The price is $65.

Just in! New Felt Hats for Men

A new shipment of hats reveals the new pearl grey felt with black band.

They're new for this season, and of a quality which will be of interest to those who are rather particular about hat styles.

Price, including tax, $9.40.

Burlington Arcade Floor, New Building.

Overland WILLYS-KNIGHT New Prices

"We could not possibly have taken this action unless we felt thoroughly justified in anticipating reduced costs of materials, against which conditions our companies have made provision," said Mr. John N. Willys.

"It has been commented that the automobile business had been profiteering. The profit in proportion to the increase in prices has been much less in this industry than prior to the war.

"After two months of personal investigation on conditions abroad, I am firmly of the opinion that this country cannot hope to develop a healthy business and be able to compete with foreign markets unless we re-establish merchandise selling prices more nearly on a par with conditions existing prior to the war.
