

THE NEW YORK HERALD. AGGREGATE CIRCULATION THIRTY-FIVE THOUSAND. THE GREATEST IN THE WORLD.

To the Public. THE NEW YORK HERALD—Daily Newspaper—published every day except New Year's Day and Fourth of July. Price 3 cents per copy—$7 per annum—postage paid—cash in advance.

THE WEEKLY HERALD—published every Saturday morning—price 6 cents per copy, or $12 per annum—postage paid—cash in advance.

WINTER ARRANGEMENT. On and after the 1st of October the cars will leave—

WINTER ARRANGEMENTS. On and after the 1st of October the cars will leave—

CHANGE OF LOCATION. UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE BETWEEN NEW YORK AND ALBANY.

FOR BATH, GARDNER AND HAVENHOLM. The new steamer FENOBET, Captain N. Kimball, leaves the wharf at 10 o'clock.

STATE ISLAND FERRY. On and after Sunday, Dec. 1st, the boats will leave as follows—

FALL AND WINTER ARRANGEMENT. NEWARK AND NEW YORK. The new steamer FENOBET, Captain N. Kimball, leaves the wharf at 10 o'clock.

FOR LIVERPOOL—The New Line—Regular Packet Ship QUEEN OF THE WEST, Captain Philip Woodhull, leaves the wharf at 10 o'clock.

NOTE LOST. A NOTE IN THE HAND OF RICHARD CLARK, in favor of THOMAS BURROUGHS, for one hundred and twenty-five dollars, dated Nov. 20, 1844.

FOR SALE—A Saw and Grind Mill, with a large work-shop attached to it, is for sale at a low price.

MR. SAMUEL B. ROTHKOPF, (NATIVE OF LYONS, IN FRANCE.) OPERATOR OF CORNS.

MR. SAMUEL B. ROTHKOPF, (NATIVE OF LYONS, IN FRANCE.) OPERATOR OF CORNS.

THE PROPRIETORS OF TIMP PATENT CAR BOXES, would respectfully call the attention of Rail Road Companies and other interested parties to the fact that they have appointed CORNELIUS K. ANTHONY, of New York, as their agent for the manufacture and sale of said boxes.

The Doctrine of Forgiveness and Praying for the Dead. A Lecture delivered by Rev. Dr. PIER, in St. Peter's Church, Sunday, Jan. 13, 1845.

It is well known that the doctrine of forgiveness and praying for the dead is a doctrine of the early Fathers, and the Præterite of the Universal Church, defended; and the Cavils of Modern Reformers are answered.

St. Cyril, in his catechism, written expressly for the instruction of the faithful who were converted from Paganism to give them a correct knowledge of what the souls of the departed need in connection with their souls, but to procure them a benefit (Dr. PIER here reads several passages from St. Augustine's "book of confessions" containing Monica's dying request of her son, that he should offer up prayers for her soul departed to the world of spirits, and the prayer of St. Augustine accordingly.)

St. Augustine, in his "book of confessions," contains Monica's dying request of her son, that he should offer up prayers for her soul departed to the world of spirits, and the prayer of St. Augustine accordingly. It is well known that the doctrine of forgiveness and praying for the dead is a doctrine of the early Fathers, and the Præterite of the Universal Church, defended; and the Cavils of Modern Reformers are answered.

St. Augustine, in his "book of confessions," contains Monica's dying request of her son, that he should offer up prayers for her soul departed to the world of spirits, and the prayer of St. Augustine accordingly. It is well known that the doctrine of forgiveness and praying for the dead is a doctrine of the early Fathers, and the Præterite of the Universal Church, defended; and the Cavils of Modern Reformers are answered.

St. Augustine, in his "book of confessions," contains Monica's dying request of her son, that he should offer up prayers for her soul departed to the world of spirits, and the prayer of St. Augustine accordingly. It is well known that the doctrine of forgiveness and praying for the dead is a doctrine of the early Fathers, and the Præterite of the Universal Church, defended; and the Cavils of Modern Reformers are answered.

St. Augustine, in his "book of confessions," contains Monica's dying request of her son, that he should offer up prayers for her soul departed to the world of spirits, and the prayer of St. Augustine accordingly. It is well known that the doctrine of forgiveness and praying for the dead is a doctrine of the early Fathers, and the Præterite of the Universal Church, defended; and the Cavils of Modern Reformers are answered.

St. Augustine, in his "book of confessions," contains Monica's dying request of her son, that he should offer up prayers for her soul departed to the world of spirits, and the prayer of St. Augustine accordingly. It is well known that the doctrine of forgiveness and praying for the dead is a doctrine of the early Fathers, and the Præterite of the Universal Church, defended; and the Cavils of Modern Reformers are answered.

St. Augustine, in his "book of confessions," contains Monica's dying request of her son, that he should offer up prayers for her soul departed to the world of spirits, and the prayer of St. Augustine accordingly. It is well known that the doctrine of forgiveness and praying for the dead is a doctrine of the early Fathers, and the Præterite of the Universal Church, defended; and the Cavils of Modern Reformers are answered.

St. Augustine, in his "book of confessions," contains Monica's dying request of her son, that he should offer up prayers for her soul departed to the world of spirits, and the prayer of St. Augustine accordingly. It is well known that the doctrine of forgiveness and praying for the dead is a doctrine of the early Fathers, and the Præterite of the Universal Church, defended; and the Cavils of Modern Reformers are answered.

Tennessee. (Correspondence of the Herald.) NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE, Jan 5, 1845. Parsons and Politics—General Jackson and Colonel Polk—speculators and Business.

The letter which appeared in your paper some weeks since, dated at this place, and written, as report says, by Mr. Jones, of New York, created quite a stir amongst the Presbyterian friends of the Reverend pastor, Mr. Lapsley, who have forced him, contrary to his wishes, to publish a card in the Whig, to vindicate, (and endeavor to do so) his character and love for Gen. Jackson, and to repel the charge of slander and deceit which has been brought forward against him.

It is hardly necessary to inquire whether or not in the course of your many far and wide journeys over the face of our "great country," you have ever found yourself in the classic grounds of Lindenwald. Permit an attentive observer to remark that these are great grounds of themselves, and doubly great, from the fact that they belong in fee simple to a man who has filled an unusually large space in the world's vision, and they are now the residence of the same distinguished man who, whether the world believes it or not, exercises and will continue to exercise an amount of influence at home and abroad, in the State and National Councils, altogether gratifying to his friends and adherents, and those who hope to profit by such influence; while it may truly be asserted and believed that the knowledge or suspicion of such influence, to those that hate him, a constant annoyance and uneasiness. You have seen the remarks of Lindenwald! This is the home of Martin Van Buren, emphatically his home; for few men are so constant in their stay "Whence, as may be supposed, he is able not exactly to ride the whirlwind and direct the storm, but to have something to say with voice potential as double as the Duke's, in whatsoever matter seemeth good unto him.

It becomes more perplexing from day to day. Let me not deny this, from any partiality to Mr. Van Buren, and nobody but Mr. Van Buren, in it not to be supposed that all the virtue hath not yet departed from the cedars and fir-trees, and the Lindenwald which are in Lindenwald! Depend upon it, Mr. Van Buren's "political" strength—the jibes, jeers, and infidelity of factions and cliques to the contrary notwithstanding.

It becomes more perplexing from day to day. Let me not deny this, from any partiality to Mr. Van Buren, and nobody but Mr. Van Buren, in it not to be supposed that all the virtue hath not yet departed from the cedars and fir-trees, and the Lindenwald which are in Lindenwald! Depend upon it, Mr. Van Buren's "political" strength—the jibes, jeers, and infidelity of factions and cliques to the contrary notwithstanding.

It becomes more perplexing from day to day. Let me not deny this, from any partiality to Mr. Van Buren, and nobody but Mr. Van Buren, in it not to be supposed that all the virtue hath not yet departed from the cedars and fir-trees, and the Lindenwald which are in Lindenwald! Depend upon it, Mr. Van Buren's "political" strength—the jibes, jeers, and infidelity of factions and cliques to the contrary notwithstanding.

It becomes more perplexing from day to day. Let me not deny this, from any partiality to Mr. Van Buren, and nobody but Mr. Van Buren, in it not to be supposed that all the virtue hath not yet departed from the cedars and fir-trees, and the Lindenwald which are in Lindenwald! Depend upon it, Mr. Van Buren's "political" strength—the jibes, jeers, and infidelity of factions and cliques to the contrary notwithstanding.

It becomes more perplexing from day to day. Let me not deny this, from any partiality to Mr. Van Buren, and nobody but Mr. Van Buren, in it not to be supposed that all the virtue hath not yet departed from the cedars and fir-trees, and the Lindenwald which are in Lindenwald! Depend upon it, Mr. Van Buren's "political" strength—the jibes, jeers, and infidelity of factions and cliques to the contrary notwithstanding.

It becomes more perplexing from day to day. Let me not deny this, from any partiality to Mr. Van Buren, and nobody but Mr. Van Buren, in it not to be supposed that all the virtue hath not yet departed from the cedars and fir-trees, and the Lindenwald which are in Lindenwald! Depend upon it, Mr. Van Buren's "political" strength—the jibes, jeers, and infidelity of factions and cliques to the contrary notwithstanding.

Albany. (Correspondence of the Herald.) ALBANY, JAN. 12, 1845. Politics and Pudding.

It is hardly necessary to inquire whether or not in the course of your many far and wide journeys over the face of our "great country," you have ever found yourself in the classic grounds of Lindenwald. Permit an attentive observer to remark that these are great grounds of themselves, and doubly great, from the fact that they belong in fee simple to a man who has filled an unusually large space in the world's vision, and they are now the residence of the same distinguished man who, whether the world believes it or not, exercises and will continue to exercise an amount of influence at home and abroad, in the State and National Councils, altogether gratifying to his friends and adherents, and those who hope to profit by such influence; while it may truly be asserted and believed that the knowledge or suspicion of such influence, to those that hate him, a constant annoyance and uneasiness.

It is hardly necessary to inquire whether or not in the course of your many far and wide journeys over the face of our "great country," you have ever found yourself in the classic grounds of Lindenwald. Permit an attentive observer to remark that these are great grounds of themselves, and doubly great, from the fact that they belong in fee simple to a man who has filled an unusually large space in the world's vision, and they are now the residence of the same distinguished man who, whether the world believes it or not, exercises and will continue to exercise an amount of influence at home and abroad, in the State and National Councils, altogether gratifying to his friends and adherents, and those who hope to profit by such influence; while it may truly be asserted and believed that the knowledge or suspicion of such influence, to those that hate him, a constant annoyance and uneasiness.

It is hardly necessary to inquire whether or not in the course of your many far and wide journeys over the face of our "great country," you have ever found yourself in the classic grounds of Lindenwald. Permit an attentive observer to remark that these are great grounds of themselves, and doubly great, from the fact that they belong in fee simple to a man who has filled an unusually large space in the world's vision, and they are now the residence of the same distinguished man who, whether the world believes it or not, exercises and will continue to exercise an amount of influence at home and abroad, in the State and National Councils, altogether gratifying to his friends and adherents, and those who hope to profit by such influence; while it may truly be asserted and believed that the knowledge or suspicion of such influence, to those that hate him, a constant annoyance and uneasiness.

It is hardly necessary to inquire whether or not in the course of your many far and wide journeys over the face of our "great country," you have ever found yourself in the classic grounds of Lindenwald. Permit an attentive observer to remark that these are great grounds of themselves, and doubly great, from the fact that they belong in fee simple to a man who has filled an unusually large space in the world's vision, and they are now the residence of the same distinguished man who, whether the world believes it or not, exercises and will continue to exercise an amount of influence at home and abroad, in the State and National Councils, altogether gratifying to his friends and adherents, and those who hope to profit by such influence; while it may truly be asserted and believed that the knowledge or suspicion of such influence, to those that hate him, a constant annoyance and uneasiness.

It is hardly necessary to inquire whether or not in the course of your many far and wide journeys over the face of our "great country," you have ever found yourself in the classic grounds of Lindenwald. Permit an attentive observer to remark that these are great grounds of themselves, and doubly great, from the fact that they belong in fee simple to a man who has filled an unusually large space in the world's vision, and they are now the residence of the same distinguished man who, whether the world believes it or not, exercises and will continue to exercise an amount of influence at home and abroad, in the State and National Councils, altogether gratifying to his friends and adherents, and those who hope to profit by such influence; while it may truly be asserted and believed that the knowledge or suspicion of such influence, to those that hate him, a constant annoyance and uneasiness.

It is hardly necessary to inquire whether or not in the course of your many far and wide journeys over the face of our "great country," you have ever found yourself in the classic grounds of Lindenwald. Permit an attentive observer to remark that these are great grounds of themselves, and doubly great, from the fact that they belong in fee simple to a man who has filled an unusually large space in the world's vision, and they are now the residence of the same distinguished man who, whether the world believes it or not, exercises and will continue to exercise an amount of influence at home and abroad, in the State and National Councils, altogether gratifying to his friends and adherents, and those who hope to profit by such influence; while it may truly be asserted and believed that the knowledge or suspicion of such influence, to those that hate him, a constant annoyance and uneasiness.

It is hardly necessary to inquire whether or not in the course of your many far and wide journeys over the face of our "great country," you have ever found yourself in the classic grounds of Lindenwald. Permit an attentive observer to remark that these are great grounds of themselves, and doubly great, from the fact that they belong in fee simple to a man who has filled an unusually large space in the world's vision, and they are now the residence of the same distinguished man who, whether the world believes it or not, exercises and will continue to exercise an amount of influence at home and abroad, in the State and National Councils, altogether gratifying to his friends and adherents, and those who hope to profit by such influence; while it may truly be asserted and believed that the knowledge or suspicion of such influence, to those that hate him, a constant annoyance and uneasiness.

It is hardly necessary to inquire whether or not in the course of your many far and wide journeys over the face of our "great country," you have ever found yourself in the classic grounds of Lindenwald. Permit an attentive observer to remark that these are great grounds of themselves, and doubly great, from the fact that they belong in fee simple to a man who has filled an unusually large space in the world's vision, and they are now the residence of the same distinguished man who, whether the world believes it or not, exercises and will continue to exercise an amount of influence at home and abroad, in the State and National Councils, altogether gratifying to his friends and adherents, and those who hope to profit by such influence; while it may truly be asserted and believed that the knowledge or suspicion of such influence, to those that hate him, a constant annoyance and uneasiness.

It is hardly necessary to inquire whether or not in the course of your many far and wide journeys over the face of our "great country," you have ever found yourself in the classic grounds of Lindenwald. Permit an attentive observer to remark that these are great grounds of themselves, and doubly great, from the fact that they belong in fee simple to a man who has filled an unusually large space in the world's vision, and they are now the residence of the same distinguished man who, whether the world believes it or not, exercises and will continue to exercise an amount of influence at home and abroad, in the State and National Councils, altogether gratifying to his friends and adherents, and those who hope to profit by such influence; while it may truly be asserted and believed that the knowledge or suspicion of such influence, to those that hate him, a constant annoyance and uneasiness.

It is hardly necessary to inquire whether or not in the course of your many far and wide journeys over the face of our "great country," you have ever found yourself in the classic grounds of Lindenwald. Permit an attentive observer to remark that these are great grounds of themselves, and doubly great, from the fact that they belong in fee simple to a man who has filled an unusually large space in the world's vision, and they are now the residence of the same distinguished man who, whether the world believes it or not, exercises and will continue to exercise an amount of influence at home and abroad, in the State and National Councils, altogether gratifying to his friends and adherents, and those who hope to profit by such influence; while it may truly be asserted and believed that the knowledge or suspicion of such influence, to those that hate him, a constant annoyance and uneasiness.

Common Council. Board of Aldermen, Monday, Jan. 13.—The Board of Aldermen met at 10 o'clock, and the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Another Memorial in the field.—An invitation was received from B. Strong to the Mayor and Common Council, asking them to attend an introductory lecture on Wednesday evening, upon the subject of Animal Magnetism.—Accepted.

Refusal to lift the Safety Valve.—The Committee on Finance and Finance, on the petition of the Citizens of the City of New York, for a resolution to be passed by the Board of Aldermen, relative to the safety valve, have reported that they have refused to lift the safety valve, and that it would be detrimental to the petitioners party as a "body politic."—Referred.

Refusal to lift the Safety Valve.—The Committee on Finance and Finance, on the petition of the Citizens of the City of New York, for a resolution to be passed by the Board of Aldermen, relative to the safety valve, have reported that they have refused to lift the safety valve, and that it would be detrimental to the petitioners party as a "body politic."—Referred.

Refusal to lift the Safety Valve.—The Committee on Finance and Finance, on the petition of the Citizens of the City of New York, for a resolution to be passed by the Board of Aldermen, relative to the safety valve, have reported that they have refused to lift the safety valve, and that it would be detrimental to the petitioners party as a "body politic."—Referred.

Refusal to lift the Safety Valve.—The Committee on Finance and Finance, on the petition of the Citizens of the City of New York, for a resolution to be passed by the Board of Aldermen, relative to the safety valve, have reported that they have refused to lift the safety valve, and that it would be detrimental to the petitioners party as a "body politic."—Referred.

Refusal to lift the Safety Valve.—The Committee on Finance and Finance, on the petition of the Citizens of the City of New York, for a resolution to be passed by the Board of Aldermen, relative to the safety valve, have reported that they have refused to lift the safety valve, and that it would be detrimental to the petitioners party as a "body politic."—Referred.

Refusal to lift the Safety Valve.—The Committee on Finance and Finance, on the petition of the Citizens of the City of New York, for a resolution to be passed by the Board of Aldermen, relative to the safety valve, have reported that they have refused to lift the safety valve, and that it would be detrimental to the petitioners party as a "body politic."—Referred.

Refusal to lift the Safety Valve.—The Committee on Finance and Finance, on the petition of the Citizens of the City of New York, for a resolution to be passed by the Board of Aldermen, relative to the safety valve, have reported that they have refused to lift the safety valve, and that it would be detrimental to the petitioners party as a "body politic."—Referred.

Refusal to lift the Safety Valve.—The Committee on Finance and Finance, on the petition of the Citizens of the City of New York, for a resolution to be passed by the Board of Aldermen, relative to the safety valve, have reported that they have refused to lift the safety valve, and that it would be detrimental to the petitioners party as a "body politic."—Referred.

Refusal to lift the Safety Valve.—The Committee on Finance and Finance, on the petition of the Citizens of the City of New York, for a resolution to be passed by the Board of Aldermen, relative to the safety valve, have reported that they have refused to lift the safety valve, and that it would be detrimental to the petitioners party as a "body politic."—Referred.

Refusal to lift the Safety Valve.—The Committee on Finance and Finance, on the petition of the Citizens of the City of New York, for a resolution to be passed by the Board of Aldermen, relative to the safety valve, have reported that they have refused to lift the safety valve, and that it would be detrimental to the petitioners party as a "body politic."—Referred.

Refusal to lift the Safety Valve.—The Committee on Finance and Finance, on the petition of the Citizens of the City of New York, for a resolution to be passed by the Board of Aldermen, relative to the safety valve, have reported that they have refused to lift the safety valve, and that it would be detrimental to the petitioners party as a "body politic."—Referred.

Refusal to lift the Safety Valve.—The Committee on Finance and Finance, on the petition of the Citizens of the City of New York, for a resolution to be passed by the Board of Aldermen, relative to the safety valve, have reported that they have refused to lift the safety valve, and that it would be detrimental to the petitioners party as a "body politic."—Referred.

Refusal to lift the Safety Valve.—The Committee on Finance and Finance, on the petition of the Citizens of the City of New York, for a resolution to be passed by the Board of Aldermen, relative to the safety valve, have reported that they have refused to lift the safety valve, and that it would be detrimental to the petitioners party as a "body politic."—Referred.

Resolution to inquire by what right the Common Council have removed John Hunt and George H. White, who were appointed by the people as inspectors of the 1st district of the 16th ward, and appointed Stephen Jones and J. Charleston Carter in their places. Adopted.

Resolution to inquire by what right the Common Council have removed John Hunt and George H. White, who were appointed by the people as inspectors of the 1st district of the 16th ward, and appointed Stephen Jones and J. Charleston Carter in their places. Adopted.

Resolution to inquire by what right the Common Council have removed John Hunt and George H. White, who were appointed by the people as inspectors of the 1st district of the 16th ward, and appointed Stephen Jones and J. Charleston Carter in their places. Adopted.

Resolution to inquire by what right the Common Council have removed John Hunt and George H. White, who were appointed by the people as inspectors of the 1st district of the 16th ward, and appointed Stephen Jones and J. Charleston Carter in their places. Adopted.

Resolution to inquire by what right the Common Council have removed John Hunt and George H. White, who were appointed by the people as inspectors of the 1st district of the 16th ward, and appointed Stephen Jones and J. Charleston Carter in their places. Adopted.

Resolution to inquire by what right the Common Council have removed John Hunt and George H. White, who were appointed by the people as inspectors of the 1st district of the 16th ward, and appointed Stephen Jones and J. Charleston Carter in their places. Adopted.

Resolution to inquire by what right the Common Council have removed John Hunt and George H. White, who were appointed by the people as inspectors of the 1st district of the 16th ward, and appointed Stephen Jones and J. Charleston Carter in their places. Adopted.

Resolution to inquire by what right the Common Council have removed John Hunt and George H. White, who were appointed by the people as inspectors of the 1st district of the 16th ward, and appointed Stephen Jones and J. Charleston Carter in their places. Adopted.

Resolution to inquire by what right the Common Council have removed John Hunt and George H. White, who were appointed by the people as inspectors of the 1st district of the 16th ward, and appointed Stephen Jones and J. Charleston Carter in their places. Adopted.

Resolution to inquire by what right the Common Council have removed John Hunt and George H. White, who were appointed by the people as inspectors of the 1st district of the 16th ward, and appointed Stephen Jones and J. Charleston Carter in their places. Adopted.

Resolution to inquire by what right the Common Council have removed John Hunt and George H. White, who were appointed by the people as inspectors of the 1st district of the 16th ward, and appointed Stephen Jones and J. Charleston Carter in their places. Adopted.

Resolution to inquire by what right the Common Council have removed John Hunt and George H. White, who were appointed by the people as inspectors of the 1st district of the 16th ward, and appointed Stephen Jones and J. Charleston Carter in their places. Adopted.

Resolution to inquire by what right the Common Council have removed John Hunt and George H. White, who were appointed by the people as inspectors of the 1st district of the 16th ward, and appointed Stephen Jones and J. Charleston Carter in their places. Adopted.

Resolution to inquire by what right the Common Council have removed John Hunt and George H. White, who were appointed by the people as inspectors of the 1st district of the 16th ward, and appointed Stephen Jones and J. Charleston Carter in their places. Adopted.

Resolution to inquire by what right the Common Council have removed John Hunt and George H. White, who were appointed by the people as inspectors of the 1st district of the 16th ward, and appointed Stephen Jones and J. Charleston Carter in their places. Adopted.