SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE NEW YORK HERALD.

Washington, June 25, 1852.

The telegraphic dispatch in yesterday's paper should read that the ratification meeting here was got up by Webster, Fillmore, and Scott, and not by three gentlemen themselves, as printed.

Also, that a treaty with the Sultan of Bornoe had been ratified, and not Southern Borneo.

THE HEALTH OF MR. CLAY. Washington, June 25--P. M.

Mr. Clay still continues in an extremely feeble and low state, and there have been no signs of amendment during the past few days.

OFFICIAL DOCUMENTS RELATIVE TO THE IMPRISONMENT OF MR. BRACC BY THE AUSTRIAN GOVERNMENT.

THE CHAIR Laid before the Senate a message from the President of the United States, transmitting, in compliance with a resolution of the Senate, copies of the correspondence between the Austrian Government and the American Charge at Vienna, relative to the imprisonment of C. L. Bracc, by the Austrian authorities. The correspondence is voluminous. I select the following--

PRINCE SCHWARTZENBERG TO SEN. WEBSTER. VIENNA, June 13, 1851.

The undersigned, resident Minister of Foreign Affairs, and of the Imperial Household, has had the honor to receive by the Hon. J. A. McCurdy, Charge d'Affaires of the United States of North America, in which he interposes for the release of the Rev. C. L. Bracc, a memorial, containing a statement of the facts of the case, and a request that the undersigned should communicate to the Hon. Mr. McCurdy that, in consequence of the receipt of the first application of the U. S. consul, undersigned had been directed to report on the subject mentioned by Mons. McCurdy, and to terminate the proceedings with all possible speed.

The undersigned, in the meantime, conformed to the communications received from the military commandant in Hungary, showing that Mr. Bracc, a citizen of the United States, had been the bearer of papers from Hungary, fugitives, belonging to the most dangerous and most infamous revolutionaries, and that he had been guilty of a very much suspected, as well as of several of the most inflammatory and treasonable publications, for which he had been placed in confinement. It is a proceeding which, in the opinion of the undersigned, is entirely justified by law; that, in consequence of such conduct, the arrest of Mr. Bracc has been deemed the most necessary measure, and that he has been confined in Hungary, he had thought proper to report on the subject, and by the most unrequited laws, in quest of these individuals, who were known for their hostility to the government, and their devotion to the cause of the revolution.

In the opinion of the undersigned, the proceedings in the political intrigues. The undersigned will avail himself of the opportunity to communicate to the Hon. Mr. McCurdy the progress of the judicial investigation, which will in every respect, be conducted in conformity with the requirements of existing laws, and he avails himself of the occasion to return, &c.

Murderer Convicted.

APPROXIMATE SCENE IN COURT. Boston, June 25, 1852.

Thomas Davis, who has been on trial all the week for killing his sister, in October last, was today convicted of murder in the first degree. He will be sentenced on Monday. Davis had been absent in California, and on his return home found his sister married to Mr. Van Wagner, whom he disliked, and in his rage, he killed her with a razor. The evidence was circumstantial, but convincing.

During the concluding remarks of Attorney General Clifford this morning, the prisoner, who had been weeping, sprang suddenly to his feet, and with blanching cheeks and eyes that flashed madness and fury, he clenched his fist at Clifford, and exclaimed, "It is no such thing, by God, I never said any such thing; by God, I never did. Joanna Holden has lied about me; I can't sit still and hear such lies." The officers here endeavored to quiet the prisoner, when his children cried out, "Father, father, don't do that!" The court and spectators were melted into tears at the affecting incident. The prisoner retired to his cell, and was confined in a state of great anxiety.

A New Steamboat Route. PHILADELPHIA, June 25, 1852.

The steamship Albatross recently on the route between this port and Charleston, was sold yesterday to a company of gentlemen at the eastward, for $55,000, cash. It is the intention of the purchasers to put her on the route between New York and Quebec, touching at Pictou and Halifax, connecting at the latter port with the Cunard steamers. One of the parties to the purchase, it is said, has obtained a contract from Messrs. Dayton and Hunt, to carry the mails from Halifax to Quebec, at a compensation of about $15,000 per annum.

The Methodist Church Case. CINCINNATI, June 25, 1852.

The case of the Methodist Church, South versus North, commenced at Columbus yesterday.

Return of Gov. Hunt to Albany. ALBANY, June 25, 1852.

Governor Hunt returned to the city this morning after an absence to the western part of this State for several weeks. He did not proceed on the Michigan railroad excursion as stated in the papers.

Bishop Whitehouse Uninjured. CHICAGO, June 25, 1852.

Bishop Whitehouse was not injured, as previously reported, by the upsetting of the stage between Aurora and Ottawa, on Saturday last. A lady who was in the stage with the Bishop at the time of the accident, had her arm broken; but the Bishop escaped without any serious injury.

Death of an Eminent Divine. CHARLESTON, S. C., June 24, 1852.

Rev. Christopher Gadsden, Bishop of the Episcopal diocese of South Carolina, expired this morning, after a lingering illness. He leaves a wide circle of friends to mourn his loss.

Melancholy Suicide. PROVIDENCE, June 25, 1852.

Stephen Greene, seventy years of age, committed suicide yesterday, at the grave of his wife, in Grace Church Cemetery, by cutting his throat with a razor.

The Connecticut Legislature. HARTFORD, June 25, 1852.

The bill from the Senate, relative to capital punishment after an animated discussion in the House was defeated by a vote of 21 to 19.

The Legislature will adjourn sine die to day or tomorrow.

From the South. BALTIMORE, June 25, 1852.

We have no mail south of Washington to-night.

The treasurer of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal has given notice that, in consequence of heavy expenditures caused by damage to the canal, the payment of the interest on the bonds of 1841, due on the first of July, will be suspended.

The celebration of the opening of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, on the 24th inst., was a most successful one. All present seemed perfectly satisfied that the road will eventually prove one of the most productive in the country.

POLITICAL INTELLIGENCE.

THE WHIG RATIFICATION MEETING IN BROOKLYN.

This affair came off last night at the City Hotel, and the discharge of fireworks, building of tar barrels, music, and other expedients to attract the crowd. The meeting was a large one for Brooklyn, numbering probably from three to five thousand, and was separated into two divisions--one held in front of the hotel, and the other in the Athenaeum building in the rear. The meeting on the inside was addressed by Hon. M. C. Colman, of Tennessee; Col. W. P. Preston, of Kentucky; Col. Edney, of North Carolina; and Gov. Jones, of Tennessee. The outside assemblage was addressed by Messrs. Richardson, of Oneida county; Robinson, of New York; Washburn, of Illinois; Col. Jack of Brooklyn, and Prof. Rainey, of Ohio. Nothing new or startling was said at the meeting, except the burning of each speaker's remarks on the outside especially the military glory of Gen. Scott, and Gen. Pierce's fainting spells in Mexico. The resolutions on the Baltimore platform, and were unanimously adopted. Robin Sandford, Esq., presided over the meeting in the building, and Thomas H. Redding over that on the outside. The resolutions were adopted, and the meeting adjourned. The platform which contained the speakers and officers gave way, but did no other damage, and was replaced by a new one. The meeting was a very successful one, and was well attended. The crowd was very large, and the meeting was a very interesting one. The resolutions were adopted, and the meeting adjourned.

THE WHIG RATIFICATION MEETING IN TRENTON.

The whigs of Allgheny county, assembled at Pittsburg on the 22d inst., and gave an enthusiastic endorsement to the nomination of the Whig National Convention. The resolutions were adopted, and the meeting adjourned.

THE WHIGS AND DEMOCRATS IN WASHINGTON.

Washington, June 25, 1852.

The democrats are largely circulating the speech of Mr. Gentry, of Tennessee, against Scott's nomination before the assembling of the whig convention. With the adoption of the platform it is said, however, that Gentry will support Scott and Graham.

WHIGS FELLING IN THE SOUTH.

CHARLESTON, June 25, 1852.

The Mercury says that the Southern whigs will ratify the nomination of Scott. It considers him the strongest man that could have been nominated, and thinks he will be hard to beat.

WILMINGTON, June 24, 1852.

The Herald holds the Scott flag to day, and comes out strongly in favor of his election.

MOBILE, June 24, 1852.

The announcement of the nomination of Gen. Scott is regarded with considerable interest here. The whigs of the Alabama platform, it is thought, will unite upon his election.

MASSACHUSETTS, June 25, 1852.

The nominations of Scott and Graham were received with general satisfaction. A salute was fired in honor of the event.
