

THE FOURTH OF JULY.

Seventy-Seventh Anniversary of American Independence.

THE CELEBRATION IN THE METROPOLIS.

We give below the few notices and programmes of the public celebrations of the Fourth of July in this city which are to take place to-day. We also give a list of the orators at some of the celebrations in various parts of the country. Had we time and room for the selection we might greatly extend this list of orators. We are inclined to think, however, that this great anniversary will be less generally observed by public celebrations than usual. But there is no danger that the day and its historical remembrances will ever be regarded with apathy by the American people. It was the opinion of John Adams, as expressed in the well-known letter which we now republic, that the day "ought to be solemnized from one end of the continent to the other forever."

PHILADELPHIA, July 5, 1776. Yesterday the greatest question was decided which was ever debated in America—and greater perhaps never was or will be decided among men. A resolution was passed, without one dissenting voice, "That these United States are, and of right ought to be, free and independent States."

It will be observed that Mr. Adams, in the above letter speaks of the Declaration of Independence as affecting the whole continent of America, and it was on his motion, in the Continental Congress, that the troops raised for the defence of the colonies against Great Britain were styled "the Continental Army."

The Declaration of Independence was signed by the delegates present, including several who were not members at the time of its adoption. The Provincial Congress of New York, on the 9th of July, at their meeting at White Plains, gave their sanction to the declaration, which thus became the unanimous act of the thirteen United States. The New York delegates in Congress, except Robert R. Livingston, were among the signers, after receiving authority from their constituents.

The War of the Revolution, which, in the opinion of Washington, might have been concluded in 1779 instead of 1783, had the best counsels been followed by Congress and the States; it will be remembered, lasted about eight years, from its commencement, in 1775, to the peace of 1783; but a considerable part of the time was characterized by inactivity on both sides. The seat of war, commencing in the Eastern States, was transferred to the Middle States, and concluded in those of the South. Mr. Loessing, in his "Field Book of the Revolution," has preserved the most valuable relics and records of "the times that tried men's souls."

PROGRAMS OF THE CELEBRATION OF THE FOURTH OF JULY, 1863. The special committee of the Common Council, appointed to make the necessary arrangements to celebrate the National Anniversary, announce to their fellow citizens as follows: The military will be under the command of Major General Sanford, who has issued the following orders: FIRST DIVISION NEW YORK STATE MILITIA.

The Division will parade on Monday, the 4th of July next, to celebrate the anniversary of American Independence. The parade will be formed in line at 8 o'clock, at the Battery, and will march to the City Hall, at 10 o'clock. The Division will assemble at the quarters of the Major General, (No. 153 Tenth street), at half past seven o'clock on the 3d of July.

Second Division NEW YORK STATE MILITIA. The Division will parade on Monday, the 4th of July next, to celebrate the anniversary of American Independence. The parade will be formed in line at 8 o'clock, at the Battery, and will march to the City Hall, at 10 o'clock. The Division will assemble at the quarters of the Major General, (No. 153 Tenth street), at half past seven o'clock on the 3d of July.

Several members of the Continental Congress, besides those named, distinguished then and afterwards for good services to their country, opposed the resolution in favor of Independence. It passed by a bare majority, seven States to six. To give time for greater unanimity the subject was postponed till the first of July; but meanwhile a committee was appointed, consisting of Thomas Jefferson, John Adams, Benjamin Franklin, Roger Sherman, and Robert R. Livingston, to prepare a formal declaration of Independence. Two other committees were appointed, one to draw up a plan of confederation, the other to prepare a scheme of the terms proper for foreign alliances, Congress being firmly convinced that the success of their cause greatly depended on diplomatic arrangements.

On the 28th of June the committee appointed to draft it reported to Congress a declaration of independence, which was drawn up by Jefferson. The subject being taken up in Committee of the Whole on the 1st of July, the delegates from nine colonies voted for the declaration. New York declined to vote, as no instructions were yet received; Delaware was divided; Pennsylvania, three for and four against it; that of South Carolina one for and three against it. When the question came up for final action two of the Pennsylvania delegates who had voted in the negative absented themselves. Mr. Rodney, of Delaware, decided the vote of that State in the affirmative. The vote of South Carolina was given the same way. New York still declined to vote. The declaration was ordered to be engrossed on parchment, and was subsequently signed by all the delegates present, including several who were not members at the time of its adoption. The Provincial Congress of New York, on the 9th of July, at their meeting at White Plains, gave their sanction to the declaration, which thus became the unanimous act of the thirteen United States. The New York delegates in Congress, except Robert R. Livingston, were among the signers, after receiving authority from their constituents.

The War of the Revolution, which, in the opinion of Washington, might have been concluded in 1779 instead of 1783, had the best counsels been followed by Congress and the States; it will be remembered, lasted about eight years, from its commencement, in 1775, to the peace of 1783; but a considerable part of the time was characterized by inactivity on both sides. The seat of war, commencing in the Eastern States, was transferred to the Middle States, and concluded in those of the South. Mr. Loessing, in his "Field Book of the Revolution," has preserved the most valuable relics and records of "the times that tried men's souls."

CELEBRATION IN THE METROPOLIS.

PROGRAMS OF THE CELEBRATION OF THE FOURTH OF JULY, 1863. The special committee of the Common Council, appointed to make the necessary arrangements to celebrate the National Anniversary, announce to their fellow citizens as follows: The military will be under the command of Major General Sanford, who has issued the following orders: FIRST DIVISION NEW YORK STATE MILITIA.

The Division will parade on Monday, the 4th of July next, to celebrate the anniversary of American Independence. The parade will be formed in line at 8 o'clock, at the Battery, and will march to the City Hall, at 10 o'clock. The Division will assemble at the quarters of the Major General, (No. 153 Tenth street), at half past seven o'clock on the 3d of July.

Second Division NEW YORK STATE MILITIA. The Division will parade on Monday, the 4th of July next, to celebrate the anniversary of American Independence. The parade will be formed in line at 8 o'clock, at the Battery, and will march to the City Hall, at 10 o'clock. The Division will assemble at the quarters of the Major General, (No. 153 Tenth street), at half past seven o'clock on the 3d of July.

Several members of the Continental Congress, besides those named, distinguished then and afterwards for good services to their country, opposed the resolution in favor of Independence. It passed by a bare majority, seven States to six. To give time for greater unanimity the subject was postponed till the first of July; but meanwhile a committee was appointed, consisting of Thomas Jefferson, John Adams, Benjamin Franklin, Roger Sherman, and Robert R. Livingston, to prepare a formal declaration of Independence. Two other committees were appointed, one to draw up a plan of confederation, the other to prepare a scheme of the terms proper for foreign alliances, Congress being firmly convinced that the success of their cause greatly depended on diplomatic arrangements. On the 28th of June the committee appointed to draft it reported to Congress a declaration of independence, which was drawn up by Jefferson. The subject being taken up in Committee of the Whole on the 1st of July, the delegates from nine colonies voted for the declaration. New York declined to vote, as no instructions were yet received; Delaware was divided; Pennsylvania, three for and four against it; that of South Carolina one for and three against it. When the question came up for final action two of the Pennsylvania delegates who had voted in the negative absented themselves. Mr. Rodney, of Delaware, decided the vote of that State in the affirmative. The vote of South Carolina was given the same way. New York still declined to vote. The declaration was ordered to be engrossed on parchment, and was subsequently signed by all the delegates present, including several who were not members at the time of its adoption. The Provincial Congress of New York, on the 9th of July, at their meeting at White Plains, gave their sanction to the declaration, which thus became the unanimous act of the thirteen United States. The New York delegates in Congress, except Robert R. Livingston, were among the signers, after receiving authority from their constituents.

The War of the Revolution, which, in the opinion of Washington, might have been concluded in 1779 instead of 1783, had the best counsels been followed by Congress and the States; it will be remembered, lasted about eight years, from its commencement, in 1775, to the peace of 1783; but a considerable part of the time was characterized by inactivity on both sides. The seat of war, commencing in the Eastern States, was transferred to the Middle States, and concluded in those of the South. Mr. Loessing, in his "Field Book of the Revolution," has preserved the most valuable relics and records of "the times that tried men's souls."

PROGRAMS OF THE CELEBRATION OF THE FOURTH OF JULY, 1863. The special committee of the Common Council, appointed to make the necessary arrangements to celebrate the National Anniversary, announce to their fellow citizens as follows: The military will be under the command of Major General Sanford, who has issued the following orders: FIRST DIVISION NEW YORK STATE MILITIA.

complexion and whitened locks, bordering on the red, told plainly his descent. He gave his name as James McDonald, aged one hundred and four years, and proceeded to relate his story with a candor and intelligence that at once attracted attention.

He was born in 1745, joined the British army when eighteen years of age, in which he served for seven years, and was present at the commencement of the outbreak in Great Britain and this country. He came over to Boston under Lord Howe's command, where he remained until the evacuation of the city. He was present at the battle of Red Bank, the taking of Burgoyne, and the capture of Trenton, lost an eye at the murder of Cowpens, and saw Cornwallis surrender his sword. He served in the war of 1812. He was acquainted with nearly all the heroes of the Revolution, and with our distinguished public men down to the present day. The occasion of his visit to Sandusky was as follows:—

He and his wife had been previously living in Kentucky, where their only surviving daughter lived at Black in the State of New York. His wife having died a short time before, his daughter wrote him, urgently requesting him to spend the remainder of his days with her. In compliance with her request, he left Kentucky, taking a boat to Cincinnati, and thence proceeded to Sandusky, where he was met by a friend who had been entrusted with his money, his papers, and a part of his clothing, while on board the boat. At Cincinnati a kind-hearted stranger supplied him with an overcoat and paid his fare to Sandusky, where he expected to find his friend. But at Sandusky he learned that his companion had been carried to the "b. He then applied to the conductor who gave him a "ree pass to Cleveland and directed him to call on the "b. He made his application, and they required.

He told them that he had been in the army, when they offered him a "bet to the almshouse. Indignant, the old soldier turned upon his heel with the remark that he had "fought too many battles in the Revolution to die in a pauper's house," and going back to his room, he was followed by a man who had been entrusted with his money, his papers, and a part of his clothing, while on board the boat. At Cincinnati a kind-hearted stranger supplied him with an overcoat and paid his fare to Sandusky, where he expected to find his friend. But at Sandusky he learned that his companion had been carried to the "b. He then applied to the conductor who gave him a "ree pass to Cleveland and directed him to call on the "b. He made his application, and they required.

He told them that he had been in the army, when they offered him a "bet to the almshouse. Indignant, the old soldier turned upon his heel with the remark that he had "fought too many battles in the Revolution to die in a pauper's house," and going back to his room, he was followed by a man who had been entrusted with his money, his papers, and a part of his clothing, while on board the boat. At Cincinnati a kind-hearted stranger supplied him with an overcoat and paid his fare to Sandusky, where he expected to find his friend. But at Sandusky he learned that his companion had been carried to the "b. He then applied to the conductor who gave him a "ree pass to Cleveland and directed him to call on the "b. He made his application, and they required.

He told them that he had been in the army, when they offered him a "bet to the almshouse. Indignant, the old soldier turned upon his heel with the remark that he had "fought too many battles in the Revolution to die in a pauper's house," and going back to his room, he was followed by a man who had been entrusted with his money, his papers, and a part of his clothing, while on board the boat. At Cincinnati a kind-hearted stranger supplied him with an overcoat and paid his fare to Sandusky, where he expected to find his friend. But at Sandusky he learned that his companion had been carried to the "b. He then applied to the conductor who gave him a "ree pass to Cleveland and directed him to call on the "b. He made his application, and they required.

He told them that he had been in the army, when they offered him a "bet to the almshouse. Indignant, the old soldier turned upon his heel with the remark that he had "fought too many battles in the Revolution to die in a pauper's house," and going back to his room, he was followed by a man who had been entrusted with his money, his papers, and a part of his clothing, while on board the boat. At Cincinnati a kind-hearted stranger supplied him with an overcoat and paid his fare to Sandusky, where he expected to find his friend. But at Sandusky he learned that his companion had been carried to the "b. He then applied to the conductor who gave him a "ree pass to Cleveland and directed him to call on the "b. He made his application, and they required.

He told them that he had been in the army, when they offered him a "bet to the almshouse. Indignant, the old soldier turned upon his heel with the remark that he had "fought too many battles in the Revolution to die in a pauper's house," and going back to his room, he was followed by a man who had been entrusted with his money, his papers, and a part of his clothing, while on board the boat. At Cincinnati a kind-hearted stranger supplied him with an overcoat and paid his fare to Sandusky, where he expected to find his friend. But at Sandusky he learned that his companion had been carried to the "b. He then applied to the conductor who gave him a "ree pass to Cleveland and directed him to call on the "b. He made his application, and they required.

He told them that he had been in the army, when they offered him a "bet to the almshouse. Indignant, the old soldier turned upon his heel with the remark that he had "fought too many battles in the Revolution to die in a pauper's house," and going back to his room, he was followed by a man who had been entrusted with his money, his papers, and a part of his clothing, while on board the boat. At Cincinnati a kind-hearted stranger supplied him with an overcoat and paid his fare to Sandusky, where he expected to find his friend. But at Sandusky he learned that his companion had been carried to the "b. He then applied to the conductor who gave him a "ree pass to Cleveland and directed him to call on the "b. He made his application, and they required.

He told them that he had been in the army, when they offered him a "bet to the almshouse. Indignant, the old soldier turned upon his heel with the remark that he had "fought too many battles in the Revolution to die in a pauper's house," and going back to his room, he was followed by a man who had been entrusted with his money, his papers, and a part of his clothing, while on board the boat. At Cincinnati a kind-hearted stranger supplied him with an overcoat and paid his fare to Sandusky, where he expected to find his friend. But at Sandusky he learned that his companion had been carried to the "b. He then applied to the conductor who gave him a "ree pass to Cleveland and directed him to call on the "b. He made his application, and they required.

He told them that he had been in the army, when they offered him a "bet to the almshouse. Indignant, the old soldier turned upon his heel with the remark that he had "fought too many battles in the Revolution to die in a pauper's house," and going back to his room, he was followed by a man who had been entrusted with his money, his papers, and a part of his clothing, while on board the boat. At Cincinnati a kind-hearted stranger supplied him with an overcoat and paid his fare to Sandusky, where he expected to find his friend. But at Sandusky he learned that his companion had been carried to the "b. He then applied to the conductor who gave him a "ree pass to Cleveland and directed him to call on the "b. He made his application, and they required.

He told them that he had been in the army, when they offered him a "bet to the almshouse. Indignant, the old soldier turned upon his heel with the remark that he had "fought too many battles in the Revolution to die in a pauper's house," and going back to his room, he was followed by a man who had been entrusted with his money, his papers, and a part of his clothing, while on board the boat. At Cincinnati a kind-hearted stranger supplied him with an overcoat and paid his fare to Sandusky, where he expected to find his friend. But at Sandusky he learned that his companion had been carried to the "b. He then applied to the conductor who gave him a "ree pass to Cleveland and directed him to call on the "b. He made his application, and they required.

He told them that he had been in the army, when they offered him a "bet to the almshouse. Indignant, the old soldier turned upon his heel with the remark that he had "fought too many battles in the Revolution to die in a pauper's house," and going back to his room, he was followed by a man who had been entrusted with his money, his papers, and a part of his clothing, while on board the boat. At Cincinnati a kind-hearted stranger supplied him with an overcoat and paid his fare to Sandusky, where he expected to find his friend. But at Sandusky he learned that his companion had been carried to the "b. He then applied to the conductor who gave him a "ree pass to Cleveland and directed him to call on the "b. He made his application, and they required.

He told them that he had been in the army, when they offered him a "bet to the almshouse. Indignant, the old soldier turned upon his heel with the remark that he had "fought too many battles in the Revolution to die in a pauper's house," and going back to his room, he was followed by a man who had been entrusted with his money, his papers, and a part of his clothing, while on board the boat. At Cincinnati a kind-hearted stranger supplied him with an overcoat and paid his fare to Sandusky, where he expected to find his friend. But at Sandusky he learned that his companion had been carried to the "b. He then applied to the conductor who gave him a "ree pass to Cleveland and directed him to call on the "b. He made his application, and they required.

He told them that he had been in the army, when they offered him a "bet to the almshouse. Indignant, the old soldier turned upon his heel with the remark that he had "fought too many battles in the Revolution to die in a pauper's house," and going back to his room, he was followed by a man who had been entrusted with his money, his papers, and a part of his clothing, while on board the boat. At Cincinnati a kind-hearted stranger supplied him with an overcoat and paid his fare to Sandusky, where he expected to find his friend. But at Sandusky he learned that his companion had been carried to the "b. He then applied to the conductor who gave him a "ree pass to Cleveland and directed him to call on the "b. He made his application, and they required.

He told them that he had been in the army, when they offered him a "bet to the almshouse. Indignant, the old soldier turned upon his heel with the remark that he had "fought too many battles in the Revolution to die in a pauper's house," and going back to his room, he was followed by a man who had been entrusted with his money, his papers, and a part of his clothing, while on board the boat. At Cincinnati a kind-hearted stranger supplied him with an overcoat and paid his fare to Sandusky, where he expected to find his friend. But at Sandusky he learned that his companion had been carried to the "b. He then applied to the conductor who gave him a "ree pass to Cleveland and directed him to call on the "b. He made his application, and they required.

Five Days Later from Havana: ARREST OF CAPTAIN GARDNER ON A CHARGE OF INCITING AND ASSISTING THE JAMAICA NEGROES TO REVOLT, ETC.

By the arrival of United States mail steamship Empire City, from New Orleans and Havana, we have been placed in possession of files of papers from the latter place to the 20th ult.—being five days later. Owing to the lateness of the hour at which the E. C. arrived we were unable to procure our letters in time for publication this morning. The Havana papers, as usual, contain very little news of a political nature. We learn from the Diario de la Marina of the 20th ult., that Count Carlisle has been thrown into prison on a charge of having been engaged in illegal correspondence with certain inhabitants of the island of Jamaica. The allegation is that the Count, in connection with others, had loaded with arms and ammunition which were destined for the use of the Jamaica negroes, who contemplated a revolt. Owing to a slight mistake on the part of the captain of the vessel the secret was exposed, and the Count was arrested by the Spanish authorities. Through the intervention of Lord Clarendon, further proceedings in the Count's case were suspended until information could be received from England.

The Baltimore Fire Company. In the programme given by us yesterday of the engagements of the above company, who are now in our city upon a visit, there are some inaccuracies that require correction. The following is a correct list of their engagements for the present week during their stay, as communicated to us by a member of the committee of Manhattan Engine Company No. 8, who have been entrusted with the duty of entertaining their visitors:— This day, (Monday), the Baltimore Columbian Engine Company No. 9, escorted by Manhattan Engine Company No. 8, will visit the Mayor, at 10 o'clock, A. M., and be present at the review of the military in the Park. Both companies will be without any apparatus, and be dressed in private citizens' clothes, with the exception that the Baltimore visitors will wear their fatigue caps. On the afternoon of the same day the two companies will visit the Baltimore engine in West Broadway, near Riley's Hotel, where there is a liberty pole. For this purpose it will be requisite to get made in the course of the day, if a workman can be obtained, a metal connector to join the hose of Manhattan engine to that of the Baltimore engine. On Tuesday they will go over to Flatbush, preceded by the steamboat Island City, which will leave the foot of Fulton street, on the East river, at 9 A. M. In the evening they will visit Niblo's or other theatre.

On Wednesday they will pay a visit to High Bridge, Randall's Island, Bloomingdale, and other places of note on their way. Refreshments will be provided at High Bridge, and likewise at Starr's Five Mile House. In the evening they will go to the Hippodrome. On Thursday they will go over to Brooklyn and view the Navy Yard, the National Cemetery, &c., and in the evening they will be entertained at Rabinow's. On Friday morning the visitors will leave our city and proceed to Philadelphia, via New York and Philadelphia Railroad, by the 9 o'clock A. M. train. They will be escorted by Manhattan Engine Company No. 8.

THE THEATRES. The Bowery theatre will have an afternoon and evening performance. Mr. Edmond M. T. D. Rice being the principal attraction. At the Broadway, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Williams appear in three pieces. The Grand Opera House will give a grand performance of the "Tales of the East." At the National, one at ten, the next at two, and the last at seven o'clock. At Barnum's Museum there will be performances at 10 o'clock, and at 7 o'clock. At the Grand Opera House, there will be a grand performance of the "Tales of the East." At the National, one at ten, the next at two, and the last at seven o'clock. At Barnum's Museum there will be performances at 10 o'clock, and at 7 o'clock.

THE THEATRES. The Bowery theatre will have an afternoon and evening performance. Mr. Edmond M. T. D. Rice being the principal attraction. At the Broadway, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Williams appear in three pieces. The Grand Opera House will give a grand performance of the "Tales of the East." At the National, one at ten, the next at two, and the last at seven o'clock. At Barnum's Museum there will be performances at 10 o'clock, and at 7 o'clock. At the Grand Opera House, there will be a grand performance of the "Tales of the East." At the National, one at ten, the next at two, and the last at seven o'clock. At Barnum's Museum there will be performances at 10 o'clock, and at 7 o'clock.

THE THEATRES. The Bowery theatre will have an afternoon and evening performance. Mr. Edmond M. T. D. Rice being the principal attraction. At the Broadway, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Williams appear in three pieces. The Grand Opera House will give a grand performance of the "Tales of the East." At the National, one at ten, the next at two, and the last at seven o'clock. At Barnum's Museum there will be performances at 10 o'clock, and at 7 o'clock. At the Grand Opera House, there will be a grand performance of the "Tales of the East." At the National, one at ten, the next at two, and the last at seven o'clock. At Barnum's Museum there will be performances at 10 o'clock, and at 7 o'clock.

THE THEATRES. The Bowery theatre will have an afternoon and evening performance. Mr. Edmond M. T. D. Rice being the principal attraction. At the Broadway, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Williams appear in three pieces. The Grand Opera House will give a grand performance of the "Tales of the East." At the National, one at ten, the next at two, and the last at seven o'clock. At Barnum's Museum there will be performances at 10 o'clock, and at 7 o'clock. At the Grand Opera House, there will be a grand performance of the "Tales of the East." At the National, one at ten, the next at two, and the last at seven o'clock. At Barnum's Museum there will be performances at 10 o'clock, and at 7 o'clock.

THE THEATRES. The Bowery theatre will have an afternoon and evening performance. Mr. Edmond M. T. D. Rice being the principal attraction. At the Broadway, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Williams appear in three pieces. The Grand Opera House will give a grand performance of the "Tales of the East." At the National, one at ten, the next at two, and the last at seven o'clock. At Barnum's Museum there will be performances at 10 o'clock, and at 7 o'clock. At the Grand Opera House, there will be a grand performance of the "Tales of the East." At the National, one at ten, the next at two, and the last at seven o'clock. At Barnum's Museum there will be performances at 10 o'clock, and at 7 o'clock.

THE THEATRES. The Bowery theatre will have an afternoon and evening performance. Mr. Edmond M. T. D. Rice being the principal attraction. At the Broadway, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Williams appear in three pieces. The Grand Opera House will give a grand performance of the "Tales of the East." At the National, one at ten, the next at two, and the last at seven o'clock. At Barnum's Museum there will be performances at 10 o'clock, and at 7 o'clock. At the Grand Opera House, there will be a grand performance of the "Tales of the East." At the National, one at ten, the next at two, and the last at seven o'clock. At Barnum's Museum there will be performances at 10 o'clock, and at 7 o'clock.

THE THEATRES. The Bowery theatre will have an afternoon and evening performance. Mr. Edmond M. T. D. Rice being the principal attraction. At the Broadway, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Williams appear in three pieces. The Grand Opera House will give a grand performance of the "Tales of the East." At the National, one at ten, the next at two, and the last at seven o'clock. At Barnum's Museum there will be performances at 10 o'clock, and at 7 o'clock. At the Grand Opera House, there will be a grand performance of the "Tales of the East." At the National, one at ten, the next at two, and the last at seven o'clock. At Barnum's Museum there will be performances at 10 o'clock, and at 7 o'clock.

THE THEATRES. The Bowery theatre will have an afternoon and evening performance. Mr. Edmond M. T. D. Rice being the principal attraction. At the Broadway, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Williams appear in three pieces. The Grand Opera House will give a grand performance of the "Tales of the East." At the National, one at ten, the next at two, and the last at seven o'clock. At Barnum's Museum there will be performances at 10 o'clock, and at 7 o'clock. At the Grand Opera House, there will be a grand performance of the "Tales of the East." At the National, one at ten, the next at two, and the last at seven o'clock. At Barnum's Museum there will be performances at 10 o'clock, and at 7 o'clock.

THE THEATRES. The Bowery theatre will have an afternoon and evening performance. Mr. Edmond M. T. D. Rice being the principal attraction. At the Broadway, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Williams appear in three pieces. The Grand Opera House will give a grand performance of the "Tales of the East." At the National, one at ten, the next at two, and the last at seven o'clock. At Barnum's Museum there will be performances at 10 o'clock, and at 7 o'clock. At the Grand Opera House, there will be a grand performance of the "Tales of the East." At the National, one at ten, the next at two, and the last at seven o'clock. At Barnum's Museum there will be performances at 10 o'clock, and at 7 o'clock.

THE THEATRES. The Bowery theatre will have an afternoon and evening performance. Mr. Edmond M. T. D. Rice being the principal attraction. At the Broadway, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Williams appear in three pieces. The Grand Opera House will give a grand performance of the "Tales of the East." At the National, one at ten, the next at two, and the last at seven o'clock. At Barnum's Museum there will be performances at 10 o'clock, and at 7 o'clock. At the Grand Opera House, there will be a grand performance of the "Tales of the East." At the National, one at ten, the next at two, and the last at seven o'clock. At Barnum's Museum there will be performances at 10 o'clock, and at 7 o'clock.

THE THEATRES. The Bowery theatre will have an afternoon and evening performance. Mr. Edmond M. T. D. Rice being the principal attraction. At the Broadway, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Williams appear in three pieces. The Grand Opera House will give a grand performance of the "Tales of the East." At the National, one at ten, the next at two, and the last at seven o'clock. At Barnum's Museum there will be performances at 10 o'clock, and at 7 o'clock. At the Grand Opera House, there will be a grand performance of the "Tales of the East." At the National, one at ten, the next at two, and the last at seven o'clock. At Barnum's Museum there will be performances at 10 o'clock, and at 7 o'clock.

THE THEATRES. The Bowery theatre will have an afternoon and evening performance. Mr. Edmond M. T. D. Rice being the principal attraction. At the Broadway, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Williams appear in three pieces. The Grand Opera House will give a grand performance of the "Tales of the East." At the National, one at ten, the next at two, and the last at seven o'clock. At Barnum's Museum there will be performances at 10 o'clock, and at 7 o'clock. At the Grand Opera House, there will be a grand performance of the "Tales of the East." At the National, one at ten, the next at two, and the last at seven o'clock. At Barnum's Museum there will be performances at 10 o'clock, and at 7 o'clock.

THE THEATRES. The Bowery theatre will have an afternoon and evening performance. Mr. Edmond M. T. D. Rice being the principal attraction. At the Broadway, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Williams appear in three pieces. The Grand Opera House will give a grand performance of the "Tales of the East." At the National, one at ten, the next at two, and the last at seven o'clock. At Barnum's Museum there will be performances at 10 o'clock, and at 7 o'clock. At the Grand Opera House, there will be a grand performance of the "Tales of the East." At the National, one at ten, the next at two, and the last at seven o'clock. At Barnum's Museum there will be performances at 10 o'clock, and at 7 o'clock.

THE THEATRES. The Bowery theatre will have an afternoon and evening performance. Mr. Edmond M. T. D. Rice being the principal attraction. At the Broadway, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Williams appear in three pieces. The Grand Opera House will give a grand performance of the "Tales of the East." At the National, one at ten, the next at two, and the last at seven o'clock. At Barnum's Museum there will be performances at 10 o'clock, and at 7 o'clock. At the Grand Opera House, there will be a grand performance of the "Tales of the East." At the National, one at ten, the next at two, and the last at seven o'clock. At Barnum's Museum there will be performances at 10 o'clock, and at 7 o'clock.

City Intelligence.

THE WEATHER.—Yesterday was a quiet day, and of a pleasant temperature. A light breeze from the westward, with a few clouds, but no rain. The wind shifted to the eastward this morning, and a heavy shower of rain fell at 11 o'clock. The rain continued until 1 o'clock, and was accompanied by a strong wind from the east. The rain was accompanied by a strong wind from the east. The rain was accompanied by a strong wind from the east.

THE WEATHER.—Yesterday was a quiet day, and of a pleasant temperature. A light breeze from the westward, with a few clouds, but no rain. The wind shifted to the eastward this morning, and a heavy shower of rain fell at 11 o'clock. The rain continued until 1 o'clock, and was accompanied by a strong wind from the east. The rain was accompanied by a strong wind from the east.

THE WEATHER.—Yesterday was a quiet day, and of a pleasant temperature. A light breeze from the westward, with a few clouds, but no rain. The wind shifted to the eastward this morning, and a heavy shower of rain fell at 11 o'clock. The rain continued until 1 o'clock, and was accompanied by a strong wind from the east. The rain was accompanied by a strong wind from the east.

THE WEATHER.—Yesterday was a quiet day, and of a pleasant temperature. A light breeze from the westward, with a few clouds, but no rain. The wind shifted to the eastward this morning, and a heavy shower of rain fell at 11 o'clock. The rain continued until 1 o'clock, and was accompanied by a strong wind from the east. The rain was accompanied by a strong wind from the east.

THE WEATHER.—Yesterday was a quiet day, and of a pleasant temperature. A light breeze from the westward, with a few clouds, but no rain. The wind shifted to the eastward this morning, and a heavy shower of rain fell at 11 o'clock. The rain continued until 1 o'clock, and was accompanied by a strong wind from the east. The rain was accompanied by a strong wind from the east.

THE WEATHER.—Yesterday was a quiet day, and of a pleasant temperature. A light breeze from the westward, with a few clouds, but no rain. The wind shifted to the eastward this morning, and a heavy shower of rain fell at 11 o'clock. The rain continued until 1 o'clock, and was accompanied by a strong wind from the east. The rain was accompanied by a strong wind from the east.

THE WEATHER.—Yesterday was a quiet day, and of a pleasant temperature. A light breeze from the westward, with a few clouds, but no rain. The wind shifted to the eastward this morning, and a heavy shower of rain fell at 11 o'clock. The rain continued until 1 o'clock, and was accompanied by a strong wind from the east. The rain was accompanied by a strong wind from the east.

THE WEATHER.—Yesterday was a quiet day, and of a pleasant temperature. A light breeze from the westward, with a few clouds, but no rain. The wind shifted to the eastward this morning, and a heavy shower of rain fell at 11 o'clock. The rain continued until 1 o'clock, and was accompanied by a strong wind from the east. The rain was accompanied by a strong wind from the east.

THE WEATHER.—Yesterday was a quiet day, and of a pleasant temperature. A light breeze from the westward, with a few clouds, but no rain. The wind shifted to the eastward this morning, and a heavy shower of rain fell at 11 o'clock. The rain continued until 1 o'clock, and was accompanied by a strong wind from the east. The rain was accompanied by a strong wind from the east.

THE WEATHER.—Yesterday was a quiet day, and of a pleasant temperature. A light breeze from the westward, with a few clouds, but no rain. The wind shifted to the eastward this morning, and a heavy shower of rain fell at 11 o'clock. The rain continued until 1 o'clock, and was accompanied by a strong wind from the east. The rain was accompanied by a strong wind from the east.

THE WEATHER.—Yesterday was a quiet day, and of a pleasant temperature. A light breeze from the westward, with a few clouds, but no rain. The wind shifted to the eastward this morning, and a heavy shower of rain fell at 11 o'clock. The rain continued until 1 o'clock, and was accompanied by a strong wind from the east. The rain was accompanied by a strong wind from the east.

THE WEATHER.—Yesterday was a quiet day, and of a pleasant temperature. A light breeze from the westward, with a few clouds, but no rain. The wind shifted to the eastward this morning, and a heavy shower of rain fell at 11 o'clock. The rain continued until 1 o'clock, and was accompanied by a strong wind from the east. The rain was accompanied by a strong wind from the east.

THE WEATHER.—Yesterday was a quiet day, and of a pleasant temperature. A light breeze from the westward, with a few clouds, but no rain. The wind shifted to the eastward this morning, and a heavy shower of rain fell at 11 o'clock. The rain continued until 1 o'clock, and was accompanied by a strong wind from the east. The rain was accompanied by a strong wind from the east.

THE WEATHER.—Yesterday was a quiet day, and of a pleasant temperature. A light breeze from the westward, with a few clouds, but no rain. The wind shifted to the eastward this morning, and a heavy shower of rain fell at 11 o'clock. The rain continued until 1 o'clock, and was accompanied by a strong wind from the east. The rain was accompanied by a strong wind from the east.

THE WEATHER.—Yesterday was a quiet day, and of a pleasant temperature. A light breeze from the westward, with a few clouds, but no rain. The wind shifted to the eastward this morning, and a heavy shower of rain fell at 11 o'clock. The rain continued until 1 o'clock, and was accompanied by a strong wind from the east. The rain was accompanied by a strong wind from the east.

THE WEATHER.—Yesterday was a quiet day, and of a pleasant temperature. A light breeze from the westward, with a few clouds, but no rain. The wind shifted to the eastward this morning, and a heavy shower of rain fell at 11 o'clock. The rain continued until 1 o'clock, and was accompanied by a strong wind from the east. The rain was accompanied by a strong wind from the east.

THE WEATHER.—Yesterday was a quiet day, and of a pleasant temperature. A light breeze from the westward, with a few clouds, but no rain. The wind shifted to the eastward this morning, and a heavy shower of rain fell at 11 o'clock. The rain continued until 1 o'clock, and was accompanied by a strong wind from the east. The rain was accompanied by a strong wind from the east.

NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

INFLUX OF STRANGERS—FRESH SALMON. The steamer Admiral, from St. John, brought 15,000 pounds