Direct Taxation.

For the first time in the history of this country, it has become necessary for the government to levy direct taxes, on a scale of gigantic magnitude. Besides the revenue from taxes upon imports, the government requires at least one hundred millions of dollars a year to be raised by direct taxation.

Receipt stamps, window lights, gold watches, books, newspapers and newspaper advertisements, horses and carriages—lottery dealers, grogshops, banks, insurance companies, incorporations, brokers' stalls—everything and everybody taxable should be taxed.

or later. If not abolished immediately it will soon die a natural death, and none but the least reputable of its members will regret that its career has been brought to an inglorious termination.

SATANIC ABOLITIONISTS AND THE PRESIDENT'S FAMILY.

The Satanic abolitionists, in Washington and out of it, neglect no opportunity to vent their spite upon President Lincoln. They are not satisfied with opposing the President politically, but with a malignity which knows no bounds, attack him socially and through his family affections and interests.

Winkle and Elliott—Ninety-five Rounds Fought in Two Hours and Ten Minutes—Match Decided a Drawn Fight.

The long looked for encounter between the two pugilists, Winkle and Elliott, who were to have met on Friday morning last, was prevented by the interference of the police, caused of it was supposed, or rather, New York City.

As soon as the dawn of day appeared preparation was made to get everything in proper condition for the fight as soon as possible. The stakes and rope were immediately carried out upon the ground, and in a short time the earth cleared of the snow and the ring properly erected according to the rules of the prize ring.

At six minutes past nine o'clock Elliott threw his cap into the ring, and was soon followed by Winkle. The former was seconded by Woods and Clark, and the latter by Kit Burns and Roach.

Elliott having won the choice of the ring the seconds immediately took their men to their respective corners, and proceeded to their lighting costumes.

Round 1—Both men came up smiling, and for a time hesitated in striking out, when Elliott fell with a body blow from Winkle's left hand, which was a considerable sparring, when Elliott got up on Winkle's nose, ending in a clinch and Elliott down.

Round 2—Winkle got up in a heavy blow on Elliott's left ribs, which was promptly responded to by the latter, when both fell in a clinch. Elliott was on top, and both men were on their feet, when Elliott struck Winkle on the nose with a heavy blow, which was promptly responded to by the latter, when both fell in a clinch.
