

INTERESTING FROM THE SOUTH.

A Proposition to Burn Memphis—The Newspapers Opposed to It—Proclamation of Gen. Van Dorn—Destruction of Tobacco and Cotton—Proceedings of the Rebel Congress—The Members of Jeff. Davis' Cabinet Handed Up—The Rebel Army Charged with Cowardly Southern War Bravery, &c., &c.

ALARM OF THE PEOPLE OF MISSISSIPPI.

It appears from the Memphis despatch of the 17th ult. that the surrender of Fort Donelson created great excitement in that city. The people of Memphis were getting alarmed for the safety of their own city. A meeting of citizens was held on the 15th to concert measures of defence. Mayor Park presided, and speeches were made by Gen. Jeff. Thompson and Col. Titus. The latter, according to the Advocate, "was caustic in disparagement of the spirit of speculation which urged many to neglect the patriotic duty of defending their country."

BURNING AND DESTROYING.

Proposals have been made to burn Memphis in preference to letting it be occupied by federal troops. The following article from the Advocate sobriety treats the question of burning, and enters a mild protest thereunto:—

Some talk is had upon the streets of Memphis as to the propriety of burning the city. It is a question which the city and country, and seem likely to capture the city. The federal forces are yet a great distance from us, and we hope and believe they will never be able to reach us. It is evident that the whole people are aroused to their might and present a solid front against the invader. The movement in progress here aims to stir up the people to the utmost, and it seems probable that it will be successful.

THE TENNESSEE RIVER BRIDGE NOT DESTROYED.

From the Clarksville Jeffersonian, Feb. 18. The bridge over the Tennessee river, which was destroyed by the federalists, was reported, per it is injured. A gentleman arrived here, Thursday who crossed it on a hand car, and saw it in good order. He had been on the bridge from Memphis to Paris on the railroad, and took hand from Paris to the bridge. At the bridge he found that a portion of the timbers on the south side of the Tennessee had been cut, but that the bridge was in good order, and that the bridge was not destroyed. He then got on a hand car on this side of the bridge, and came over. He saw the bridge in good order, and that the bridge was not destroyed. He then got on a hand car on this side of the bridge, and came over. He saw the bridge in good order, and that the bridge was not destroyed.

SPIES IN THE SOUTH.

The Memphis Advocate says:—Let every true son of the South look out for spies and traitors. That they are in our midst we have no doubt. The Nashville Jeffersonian says:—At the meeting of the Southern Convention, the fact that they have received important information from spies in our midst. They were not needed by volunteers. The fact that they have received important information from spies in our midst. They were not needed by volunteers. The fact that they have received important information from spies in our midst. They were not needed by volunteers.

A PROCLAMATION BY GEN. VAN DORN.

Major General Earl Van Dorn addresses a proclamation to "the young men of Arkansas, Texas and Northern Louisiana." We have to be free. We must not fight to free, or present to the world the humiliating spectacle of a manly, brave, manly, contemptible manly the tyrants who seek to enslave us.

DESTRUCTION OF TOBACCO AND COTTON.

President Davis' declaration of the two articles cannot be specifically said. It is a general order, and an order from the War Office to all the military authorities of the confederate States, to destroy all tobacco and cotton. The order is to be executed by the military authorities of the confederate States, to destroy all tobacco and cotton. The order is to be executed by the military authorities of the confederate States, to destroy all tobacco and cotton.

THE SOUTHERN REVOLVERS.

A writer in the Richmond Examiner, after referring to the defeat of the Confederates at Fort Henry and Roanoke Island, says:—It is high time that these armaments should cease, for considering the character of the war in its consequences to us, they have been truly amazing, commencing with that of the cavalry at Roanoke Island, down through the list of General Beauregard at Fort Mifflin, that of Commodore Hatteras, &c., to the present lamentable situation at Fort Fisher.

ADVANTAGES OF THE PIKE AS A WEAPON.

The "Advocate" suggests that the rebel troops be armed with pikes, and speaks of the advantages to be derived from the following remarks:—

REPORTED BATTLE AT PORT ROYAL.

From the Clarksville Jeffersonian, Feb. 18. It is reported that a battle was fought at Port Royal, South Carolina, on the 15th inst. The result of the battle is not known. It is reported that a battle was fought at Port Royal, South Carolina, on the 15th inst. The result of the battle is not known.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE REBEL CONGRESS.

In the Senate at Richmond, on Tuesday, February 20, 1862, the following resolutions were passed:—

OUR BOWLING GREEN CORRESPONDENCE.

Bowling Green, Ky., Feb. 20, 1862. General Mitchell's March Upon Bowling Green and Its Consequences. The Rebels—Trouble in the Rebel Camp—General Polk and Buckner Have a Game of Patience—Incidents Attending the Occupation of Bowling Green—The Rebels' Position at Bowling Green—The Rebels' Position at Bowling Green—The Rebels' Position at Bowling Green.

THE DEVELOPMENT OF UNION SENTIMENT.

It is a fact that the Union sentiment is developing in the South. The people are becoming more and more attached to the Union. The people are becoming more and more attached to the Union. The people are becoming more and more attached to the Union.

THE SOUTHERN WAR SONGS.

The following war songs of the rebels have been forwarded to us by our correspondent at Clarksville, Tenn.:—

SONG FOR THE SOUTH.

Oh, the mighty nations, in the East and in the West, We have room for all true Southerners, with our stars and bars. And a general invitation to the people of the world.

SONG FOR THE SOUTH.

Oh, the mighty nations, in the East and in the West, We have room for all true Southerners, with our stars and bars. And a general invitation to the people of the world.

SONG FOR THE SOUTH.

Oh, the mighty nations, in the East and in the West, We have room for all true Southerners, with our stars and bars. And a general invitation to the people of the world.

SONG FOR THE SOUTH.

Oh, the mighty nations, in the East and in the West, We have room for all true Southerners, with our stars and bars. And a general invitation to the people of the world.

THE DEVELOPMENT OF UNION SENTIMENT.

It is a fact that the Union sentiment is developing in the South. The people are becoming more and more attached to the Union. The people are becoming more and more attached to the Union. The people are becoming more and more attached to the Union.

OUR BOWLING GREEN CORRESPONDENCE.

Bowling Green, Ky., Feb. 20, 1862. General Mitchell's March Upon Bowling Green and Its Consequences. The Rebels—Trouble in the Rebel Camp—General Polk and Buckner Have a Game of Patience—Incidents Attending the Occupation of Bowling Green—The Rebels' Position at Bowling Green—The Rebels' Position at Bowling Green—The Rebels' Position at Bowling Green.

THE DEVELOPMENT OF UNION SENTIMENT.

It is a fact that the Union sentiment is developing in the South. The people are becoming more and more attached to the Union. The people are becoming more and more attached to the Union. The people are becoming more and more attached to the Union.

THE SOUTHERN WAR SONGS.

The following war songs of the rebels have been forwarded to us by our correspondent at Clarksville, Tenn.:—

SONG FOR THE SOUTH.

Oh, the mighty nations, in the East and in the West, We have room for all true Southerners, with our stars and bars. And a general invitation to the people of the world.

SONG FOR THE SOUTH.

Oh, the mighty nations, in the East and in the West, We have room for all true Southerners, with our stars and bars. And a general invitation to the people of the world.

SONG FOR THE SOUTH.

Oh, the mighty nations, in the East and in the West, We have room for all true Southerners, with our stars and bars. And a general invitation to the people of the world.

SONG FOR THE SOUTH.

Oh, the mighty nations, in the East and in the West, We have room for all true Southerners, with our stars and bars. And a general invitation to the people of the world.

OUR BOWLING GREEN CORRESPONDENCE.

Bowling Green, Ky., Feb. 20, 1862. General Mitchell's March Upon Bowling Green and Its Consequences. The Rebels—Trouble in the Rebel Camp—General Polk and Buckner Have a Game of Patience—Incidents Attending the Occupation of Bowling Green—The Rebels' Position at Bowling Green—The Rebels' Position at Bowling Green—The Rebels' Position at Bowling Green.

THE DEVELOPMENT OF UNION SENTIMENT.

It is a fact that the Union sentiment is developing in the South. The people are becoming more and more attached to the Union. The people are becoming more and more attached to the Union. The people are becoming more and more attached to the Union.

OUR BOWLING GREEN CORRESPONDENCE.

Bowling Green, Ky., Feb. 20, 1862. General Mitchell's March Upon Bowling Green and Its Consequences. The Rebels—Trouble in the Rebel Camp—General Polk and Buckner Have a Game of Patience—Incidents Attending the Occupation of Bowling Green—The Rebels' Position at Bowling Green—The Rebels' Position at Bowling Green—The Rebels' Position at Bowling Green.

THE DEVELOPMENT OF UNION SENTIMENT.

It is a fact that the Union sentiment is developing in the South. The people are becoming more and more attached to the Union. The people are becoming more and more attached to the Union. The people are becoming more and more attached to the Union.

THE SOUTHERN WAR SONGS.

The following war songs of the rebels have been forwarded to us by our correspondent at Clarksville, Tenn.:—

SONG FOR THE SOUTH.

Oh, the mighty nations, in the East and in the West, We have room for all true Southerners, with our stars and bars. And a general invitation to the people of the world.

SONG FOR THE SOUTH.

Oh, the mighty nations, in the East and in the West, We have room for all true Southerners, with our stars and bars. And a general invitation to the people of the world.

SONG FOR THE SOUTH.

Oh, the mighty nations, in the East and in the West, We have room for all true Southerners, with our stars and bars. And a general invitation to the people of the world.

SONG FOR THE SOUTH.

Oh, the mighty nations, in the East and in the West, We have room for all true Southerners, with our stars and bars. And a general invitation to the people of the world.

OUR BOWLING GREEN CORRESPONDENCE.

Bowling Green, Ky., Feb. 20, 1862. General Mitchell's March Upon Bowling Green and Its Consequences. The Rebels—Trouble in the Rebel Camp—General Polk and Buckner Have a Game of Patience—Incidents Attending the Occupation of Bowling Green—The Rebels' Position at Bowling Green—The Rebels' Position at Bowling Green—The Rebels' Position at Bowling Green.

THE DEVELOPMENT OF UNION SENTIMENT.

It is a fact that the Union sentiment is developing in the South. The people are becoming more and more attached to the Union. The people are becoming more and more attached to the Union. The people are becoming more and more attached to the Union.

OUR BOWLING GREEN CORRESPONDENCE.

Bowling Green, Ky., Feb. 20, 1862. General Mitchell's March Upon Bowling Green and Its Consequences. The Rebels—Trouble in the Rebel Camp—General Polk and Buckner Have a Game of Patience—Incidents Attending the Occupation of Bowling Green—The Rebels' Position at Bowling Green—The Rebels' Position at Bowling Green—The Rebels' Position at Bowling Green.

THE DEVELOPMENT OF UNION SENTIMENT.

It is a fact that the Union sentiment is developing in the South. The people are becoming more and more attached to the Union. The people are becoming more and more attached to the Union. The people are becoming more and more attached to the Union.

THE SOUTHERN WAR SONGS.

The following war songs of the rebels have been forwarded to us by our correspondent at Clarksville, Tenn.:—

SONG FOR THE SOUTH.

Oh, the mighty nations, in the East and in the West, We have room for all true Southerners, with our stars and bars. And a general invitation to the people of the world.

SONG FOR THE SOUTH.

Oh, the mighty nations, in the East and in the West, We have room for all true Southerners, with our stars and bars. And a general invitation to the people of the world.

SONG FOR THE SOUTH.

Oh, the mighty nations, in the East and in the West, We have room for all true Southerners, with our stars and bars. And a general invitation to the people of the world.

SONG FOR THE SOUTH.

Oh, the mighty nations, in the East and in the West, We have room for all true Southerners, with our stars and bars. And a general invitation to the people of the world.

OUR BOWLING GREEN CORRESPONDENCE.

Bowling Green, Ky., Feb. 20, 1862. General Mitchell's March Upon Bowling Green and Its Consequences. The Rebels—Trouble in the Rebel Camp—General Polk and Buckner Have a Game of Patience—Incidents Attending the Occupation of Bowling Green—The Rebels' Position at Bowling Green—The Rebels' Position at Bowling Green—The Rebels' Position at Bowling Green.

THE DEVELOPMENT OF UNION SENTIMENT.

It is a fact that the Union sentiment is developing in the South. The people are becoming more and more attached to the Union. The people are becoming more and more attached to the Union. The people are becoming more and more attached to the Union.

OUR BOWLING GREEN CORRESPONDENCE.

Bowling Green, Ky., Feb. 20, 1862. General Mitchell's March Upon Bowling Green and Its Consequences. The Rebels—Trouble in the Rebel Camp—General Polk and Buckner Have a Game of Patience—Incidents Attending the Occupation of Bowling Green—The Rebels' Position at Bowling Green—The Rebels' Position at Bowling Green—The Rebels' Position at Bowling Green.

THE DEVELOPMENT OF UNION SENTIMENT.

It is a fact that the Union sentiment is developing in the South. The people are becoming more and more attached to the Union. The people are becoming more and more attached to the Union. The people are becoming more and more attached to the Union.

THE SOUTHERN WAR SONGS.

The following war songs of the rebels have been forwarded to us by our correspondent at Clarksville, Tenn.:—

SONG FOR THE SOUTH.

Oh, the mighty nations, in the East and in the West, We have room for all true Southerners, with our stars and bars. And a general invitation to the people of the world.

SONG FOR THE SOUTH.

Oh, the mighty nations, in the East and in the West, We have room for all true Southerners, with our stars and bars. And a general invitation to the people of the world.

SONG FOR THE SOUTH.

Oh, the mighty nations, in the East and in the West, We have room for all true Southerners, with our stars and bars. And a general invitation to the people of the world.

SONG FOR THE SOUTH.

Oh, the mighty nations, in the East and in the West, We have room for all true Southerners, with our stars and bars. And a general invitation to the people of the world.

SHIPPING NEWS.

Table with columns for ship names, destinations, and dates. Includes entries for 'Port of New York, March 2, 1862' and 'Shipping News'.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Various short notices and advertisements, including 'Advertisement for the American Lloyd's Register' and 'Advertisement for the American Lloyd's Register'.