He had made patriotic speeches indicative of approaching movements. Garibaldi left Milan on the 26th ultimo amid the cheers of the people. His tour through Lombardy is for the purpose of stirring up the young men to join the volunteer corps.

It is asserted that demonstrations were becoming quite frequent in Vienna. Numerous arrests were reported at Mantua and Venice. The rumors of ministerial arrests at Turin are pronounced unfounded. The budget had finally passed by a large majority.

The question of Austrian finances had been debated in the lower house of Reichsrath. The policy of the Finance Minister was attacked, but the House justified the increase of the military force by the actual situation of 1860. During the debate the Polish and Czech members left the House.

Judgment had been given in the prosecutions for offences against the Austrian Press laws. The editor of the Wanderer (of Vienna) was sentenced to eight months imprisonment, and the editor of the Press to fourteen days.

An imperial decree orders several modifications in the censorship of printed matter in Russia. A commission is appointed to revise the law of the press. The censorship of works published by scientific societies has been abolished.

Six hundred Turkish troops had been surrounded by insurgents at Orizak, the insurgents having previously repulsed the troops which came to the rescue.

Consols for money closed at 93 1/2. The funds on the 26th fell 1/2 per cent, the only apparent cause being a great demand for the new Turkish, the bids for which already amounted to 424,000,000, or three times the amount required.

Money is in fair demand at a 7 per cent on call. Many brokers are paying seven per cent for their borrow; but, on the other hand, we hear complaints from men who have money that they cannot get over six. Certificates of indebtedness range from 96 to 98 1/2.

Foreign exchange advanced to 112 1/2 to-day, and was firmly held at the price. There are no bills in market, and bankers who sell must do so at a price which will enable them to ship specie.

The real increase of specie is greater than is shown above. The banks are known to hold to-day something like $24,000,000, and their reserve is rising steadily.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

MONDAY, April 7-6 P. M.

To-day's bank statement compares as follows with that of last week: Week ending April 6, 1862. Deposits: March 31, $125,921,580; 30 days, $125,313,344; 42 days, $124,477,494.

The decrease of loans and deposits is less than was expected, and less than for some weeks past. It may be inferred that the banks are not as free sellers of their government stocks as they were.
