

GENERAL OFFICER'S DEPARTMENT.

Capture of Suffolk by Our Forces.

Effect of the Recent Hanging of Union Prisoners in North Carolina.

Reported Riot and Display of the Stars and Stripes in Raleigh.

Fortress Monroe, March 10, 1864.

A skirmish took place yesterday two miles this side of Suffolk.

Our forces entered Suffolk this morning after a brief struggle. We now hold the place.

Newsman, March 7, 1864.

Everything is in readiness for the reception of the enemy in North Carolina, whose mysterious movements are difficult to understand.

A historical correspondent of the Raleigh Confederate, in speaking of the hanging on the 6th inst., in Kingston, of the twenty-three captured soldiers belonging to Colonel Charles Henry Foster's command, as deserters from the Union army, says:—

The prisoners were accompanied to the place of execution by a large concourse of people and strong military escort.

They ascended the scaffold with a firm and elastic step, and met their fate with unflinching fortitude and determination.

They asked for no quarter, and apparently sprung all overtures of concession on condition of returning to duty in the Confederate service.

After making their peace with their God they fearlessly proclaimed their readiness to die for their country, against which they said they had been forcibly conscripted to fight.

A more sublime exhibition of loyalty to the old flag was never witnessed. The multitude were moved to tears and openly denounced this cruel massacre, which is causing detestations from the Confederate service by the wholesale, and creating an indignation which it is feared will be uncontrollable.

A deserter, who came into the Union line at Washington and joined the New York Carolina Volunteers, heard his officers say that Plymouth was to be the first point of attack.

A Union soldier who recently escaped from the Goldsboro prison, informs General Beck that a great riot occurred at Raleigh on the occasion of hanging the rebel soldiers at Kingston, and that General Grierson's troops from that place passed through Goldsboro, with the intention of attacking the Union soldiers in that city, where the Stars and Stripes were conspicuously displayed, and that much violence and excitement prevailed on the occasion.

The Raleigh Standard was suppressed some days after this affair.

Refugees from the interior bring the intelligence of the rebel general Lee's whole staff of North Carolina troops at all the prominent points, for the purpose of checking the Convention movement and keeping the people in subjection.

It is reported that the rebels intend hanging the entire number of Union soldiers captured by them from General Foster's command, in a place in which they have never been taken to the rebel line.

General Lee's army, which has been in the rebel service, and those who have been in the rebel service, are reported to be deserting from the rebel service.

The Third North Carolina Cavalry (white), which was organized at the beginning of the war, is reported to be deserting from the rebel service.
