

THE LONDON RAILWAY MURDER.

Flight of the Accused from Justice.

His Arrest in New York Bay.

Scenes on the Deck of the Victoria.

Ingenuity of the Detective System.

Muller Astonished and Dumb-founded.

Highly Interesting Particulars.

What is to be Done with the Culprit.

"MURDER WILL OUT."

The greatest excitement prevailed in this city yesterday in relation to the arrest of Franz Muller, the prisoner who is charged with the murder of Mrs. Brigg.

On the morning of the 23d inst., Muller was taken to the Victoria, a steamer bound for London, and was there held in custody by the British authorities.

It is now ascertained that Muller had on the morning of that day Muller had not a fraction of money, consequently when he in the afternoon went to the London docks and paid 25 pence money, he had only five shillings in money in his possession.

It may be remembered that the Victoria was freighted with a cargo of iron, and her sailing quality was a matter of some importance.

From the information given by one of the agents of the Victoria, it is ascertained that Muller had on the morning of the 23d inst. reached Gravesend, Muller attracted the attention of several of the passengers by his being without a change of clothing, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

It was also ascertained that the wristband of one of the slaves of his shirt was torn off, and that he drew a remark from one of the passengers that Muller had on his shirt all, to the effect that he had been in a fight.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

The police are now in possession of facts which place beyond doubt that he had been in a fight with Muller when he was in London, and that he was seen to be in a state of distress.

THE PRESIDENCY.

Gathering of the Democratic Delegates at Chicago.

Preliminary Caucussing and Consultations.

McClellan the Favorite on All Sides.

Speculations Regarding the Platform.

Statistics for Politicians.

How the People Have Voted.

Chicago, August 25, 1864.

The parlors, reading rooms and hall of the rooms are already quite crowded and present a lively scene.

The active and earnestness of those moving about indicate that important work is at hand.

The whole tide appears to be for McClellan, the same as last evening.

The names of Governor Seymour and Fendler, of Ohio, have been mentioned by some of the peace men for the nomination.

The latter is a candidate for Vice President.

A prominent politician in the Northwest, who had been reported as opposing the nomination of McClellan.

The morning session with Eastern delegates in favor of Little Mac's commission, when the Eastern men replied, "We thought the Northwest was strongly opposed to McClellan."

"McClellan belongs to the Northwest. Did he not formerly reside here, and was he not taken from Ohio into the army?"

He belongs to us, and the enthusiasm of our people for him is as great as it is in the East."

These facts have surprised Eastern men, nearly all of whom came here expecting to find the very reverse state of affairs on every side.

The best informed are heard to say that there is no doubt of McClellan's nomination.

The Illinois delegation have held a consultation, and a vote taken for President, resulting in a majority for McClellan.

The delegation is instructed to vote as a unit, and this morning the vote of that entire delegation for McClellan.

The Indiana delegation have canvassed the question. Two-thirds are for McClellan.

Yorkshire is a candidate for Vice President, and may manage to change this vote to a measure in trading of his own.

Ohio claimed by both parties. The abridgement of the delegation are for McClellan, especially in this case from those representing the northern part of the State.

No person present that the New England, New York, Pennsylvania, or New Jersey delegations will vote for any other person than McClellan.

The public can judge from these facts as to his chance for the nomination.

The platform is not so plain. The war and peace elements do not seem to mingle so well on this point.

There is some discussion as to a change and confusion in regard to candidates. If there is any trouble, it will arise over the platform, and not on the candidates.

The consultations on this point have been definite enough as yet to forebode the precise position of the two elements.

The Western men tell the Eastern to keep Wood quiet, and there will be no trouble. The East reply: Wood was squelched by the peace party at Syracuse, and is now powerless for good or evil.

Take care of Vallandigham and his aids and all is safe.

Among the distinguished arrivals are: Dean Richmond, Samuel J. Tilden, D. E. Delavan, General John Cochran and Ira Sherar, from New York; Geo. W. Cass, John Lawton, A. A. Tucker, and Wm. H. Miller, of Pennsylvania; Judge Bayard, D. P. Johnson, & Co. of Washington; of Ohio, James Guthrie, ex-Governor Robinson, and Marston, of Kentucky; Richardson and Singleton, of Illinois, and numerous others from other States.

The Keystone Club Going to Chicago.

Philadelphia, August 25, 1864.

The Keystone Club parted this evening, with flags and a band, preparatory to departing for Chicago. They missed the newspaper office in passing.

Music for the Convention.

Boston, August 25, 1864.

Chicago's full band leaves here to-morrow for Chicago, to furnish music for the Democratic Convention.

Meeting of the Executive Committee of the National Union Committee.

Washington, August 25, 1864.

The Executive Committee of the National Union Committee met to-day. No business of particular importance was transacted.

An adjournment until to-morrow took place. There were present: Henry J. Raymond, of New York; George B. Searles, of Ohio; Marcus L. Ward, of New Jersey; Samuel A. Purviance, of Pennsylvania; and John S. Clarke, of New Hampshire.

Massachusetts, and Sperry, of Connecticut, were absent.

Statistics for Politicians—How the People Have Voted.

The following tables show the results of the Presidential election in 1860 and of the State elections in 1862 and 1863.

POPULAR VOTE OF THE LOYAL STATES FOR PRESIDENT IN 1860.

Table with columns: State, Lincoln, Douglas, Bell, Fremont. Rows include California, Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, Wisconsin, West Virginia, Delaware.

POPULAR VOTE OF THE LOYAL STATES IN THE ELECTORAL COLLEGE IN 1860 AND THE NUMBER OF PRESIDENTIAL ELECTORS IN 1864.

Table with columns: State, Lincoln, Douglas, Bell, Fremont, Electors. Rows include California, Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, Wisconsin, West Virginia, Delaware.

POPULAR MAJORITY AGAINST LINCOLN.

Table with columns: State, Lincoln, Douglas, Bell, Fremont. Rows include California, Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, Wisconsin, West Virginia, Delaware.

VOICES OF THE LOYAL STATES IN THE ELECTORAL COLLEGE IN 1860 AND THE NUMBER OF PRESIDENTIAL ELECTORS IN 1864.

Table with columns: State, Lincoln, Douglas, Bell, Fremont, Electors. Rows include California, Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, Wisconsin, West Virginia, Delaware.

TOTAL NUMBER OF ELECTORS IN LOYAL STATES IN 1864.

Table with columns: State, Lincoln, Douglas, Bell, Fremont, Electors. Rows include California, Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, Wisconsin, West Virginia, Delaware.

NECESSARY TO A CHOICE.

Table with columns: State, Lincoln, Douglas, Bell, Fremont, Electors. Rows include California, Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, Wisconsin, West Virginia, Delaware.

POPULAR VOTE IN 1862.

Table with columns: State, Dem. Rep., Union, Total. Rows include California, Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, Wisconsin, West Virginia, Delaware.

POPULAR VOTE IN 1863.

Table with columns: State, Dem. Rep., Union, Total. Rows include California, Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, Wisconsin, West Virginia, Delaware.

EXPLANATIONS OF THE VOTE OF 1863.

Keenness of the contest was between the Union party proper and the secession sympathizers.

Ohio—War democrats and republicans fused.

Delaware—No organized opposition to the Union candidates.

New Jersey—No general ticket run. The vote is counted mostly by majorities for the candidates for the State Senate.

Illinois—No State officers chosen. The vote given is for county officers.

Maryland—The contest was between the Unionists and secessionists.

Majority—A variety of local issues were brought into the contest, and personal feelings and animosities contributed to make the contest very exciting.

Up parties to make an extent that the old Union party has been largely reformed.

The promulgation of the various articles was Unionist, secessionist, pro-secessionist, and pro-Unionist.

The secessionists included those who were for the immediate freeing of the slaves, and also those who preferred going away with the institution gradually.

Lyttelton Affairs on the Hamilton Road.

From the Washington Star, August 23.

The morning a train left the depot in this city with about six hundred soldiers, of different regiments, on their way to the front.

While at Baltimore, where a detachment of the Veteran Reserve Corps is doing duty, the train switched off, and the soldiers were taken to their quarters.

At the Veteran Reserve guard, and calling them epithets, and shouting them as being "house guards," afraid to fight.

One of the soldiers, a sergeant in charge, and a sergeant in charge, who were in the guard, and a sergeant in charge.

While at Baltimore, where a detachment of the Veteran Reserve Corps is doing duty, the train switched off, and the soldiers were taken to their quarters.

At the Veteran Reserve guard, and calling them epithets, and shouting them as being "house guards," afraid to fight.

One of the soldiers, a sergeant in charge, and a sergeant in charge, who were in the guard, and a sergeant in charge.

While at Baltimore, where a detachment of the Veteran Reserve Corps is doing duty, the train switched off, and the soldiers were taken to their quarters.

At the Veteran Reserve guard, and calling them epithets, and shouting them as being "house guards," afraid to fight.

One of the soldiers, a sergeant in charge, and a sergeant in charge, who were in the guard, and a sergeant in charge.

While at Baltimore, where a detachment of the Veteran Reserve Corps is doing duty, the train switched off, and the soldiers were taken to their quarters.

At the Veteran Reserve guard, and calling them epithets, and shouting them as being "house guards," afraid to fight.

One of the soldiers, a sergeant in charge, and a sergeant in charge, who were in the guard, and a sergeant in charge.

While at Baltimore, where a detachment of the Veteran Reserve Corps is doing duty, the train switched off, and the soldiers were taken to their quarters.

At the Veteran Reserve guard, and calling them epithets, and shouting them as being "house guards," afraid to fight.

One of the soldiers, a sergeant in charge, and a sergeant in charge, who were in the guard, and a sergeant in charge.

While at Baltimore, where a detachment of the Veteran Reserve Corps is doing duty, the train switched off, and the soldiers were taken to their quarters.

At the Veteran Reserve guard, and calling them epithets, and shouting them as being "house guards," afraid to fight.

One of the soldiers, a sergeant in charge, and a sergeant in charge, who were in the guard, and a sergeant in charge.

While at Baltimore, where a detachment of the Veteran Reserve Corps is doing duty, the train switched off, and the soldiers were taken to their quarters.

At the Veteran Reserve guard, and calling them epithets, and shouting them as being "house guards," afraid to fight.

One of the soldiers, a sergeant in charge, and a sergeant in charge, who were in the guard, and a sergeant in charge.

While at Baltimore, where a detachment of the Veteran Reserve Corps is doing duty, the train switched off, and the soldiers were taken to their quarters.

At the Veteran Reserve guard, and calling them epithets, and shouting them as being "house guards," afraid to fight.

One of the soldiers, a sergeant in charge, and a sergeant in charge, who were in the guard, and a sergeant in charge.

While at Baltimore, where a detachment of the Veteran Reserve Corps is doing duty, the train switched off, and the soldiers were taken to their quarters.

At the Veteran Reserve guard, and calling them epithets, and shouting them as being "house guards," afraid to fight.

One of the soldiers, a sergeant in charge, and a sergeant in charge, who were in the guard, and a sergeant in charge.

While at Baltimore, where a detachment of the Veteran Reserve Corps is doing duty, the train switched off, and the soldiers were taken to their quarters.

At the Veteran Reserve guard, and calling them epithets, and shouting them as being "house guards," afraid to fight.

One of the soldiers, a sergeant in charge, and a sergeant in charge, who were in the guard, and a sergeant in charge.

While at Baltimore, where a detachment of the Veteran Reserve Corps is doing duty, the train switched off, and the soldiers were taken to their quarters.

At the Veteran Reserve guard, and calling them epithets, and shouting them as being "house guards," afraid to fight.

One of the soldiers, a sergeant in charge, and a sergeant in charge, who were in the guard, and a sergeant in charge.

While at Baltimore, where a detachment of the Veteran Reserve Corps is doing duty, the train switched off, and the soldiers were taken to their quarters.

At the Veteran Reserve guard, and calling them epithets, and shouting them as being "house guards," afraid to fight.

One of the soldiers, a sergeant in charge,