Volume XXXIII. No. 128. AMUSEMENTS THIS EVENING. OLYMPIC THEATRE, Broadway.—HUMPTY DUMPTY. FRENCH THEATRE.—SOS TERESA. NIBLO'S GARDEN, Broadway.—THE WHITE FAWN.

TRIPLE SHEET. New York, Thursday, May 7, 1863.

THE NEWS.

IMPEACHMENT. In the High Court yesterday Mr. Bingham concluded his address, and at the peroration a round of applause greeted him from the galleries.

CONGRESS. In the Senate yesterday nothing was done outside of the impeachment business. In the House, after returning from the Senate Chamber, Mr. Eldridge suggested that no business could be transacted until the Senate, which was then in secret session, should adjourn.

THE LEGISLATURE. In the Senate yesterday several bills of an important character were presented to the conference on the tax levy were concurred in, and at half-past two the Senate was declared adjourn sine die.

EUROPE. The news report by the Atlantic cable is dated Wednesday, May 6. Napoleon denies that France seeks a mediation with Russia between Crete and Turkey.

MISCELLANEOUS. South American advices are dated at Aspinwall on the 25th of April. The yellow fever continued to spread in Lima and Callao.

ADVISES FROM CENTRAL AMERICA bring us details of an important treaty concluded between the government of that republic and the United States.

THE CONNECTICUT LEGISLATURE assembled yesterday and received the message of Governor English. The Legislature of Georgia, it is understood, will require the test oath of members elect.

pleading guilty, he was remanded to the custody of the United States Marshal. No day fixed for trial. The case of ex-Deputy Collector John S. Allen and Richard C. Knight was called up yesterday afternoon in the United States District Court, Brooklyn.

Special telegraphic advices from Cuba state that the press representatives had been refused permission to telegraph the account of the late outrage upon the American Consul.

We have telegraphic advices from Mexico city to the 29th ult. and Vera Cruz to the 2d last. The law of January, 1863, had not been repealed.

Chief Justice Chase and the Presidency. Chief Justice Chase stands prominently before the country to-day as the people's candidate for the Presidency.

Impeachment has done all this, and has "billed better than it knew" toward the true welfare of the country. It matters little what may be the fate of its object; for the important feature in this great legal and political struggle is that it has tried men that were not ostensibly on trial.

THE RESULTS OF THE late elections, for all practical purposes, in North and South Carolina, Georgia and Louisiana, appear, after all, to be pretty thoroughly radical.

THE BROOKS-BUTLER SQUABBLE. Following up the Donnelly-Washburne affair, the House on Tuesday last devoted itself to the Brooks-Butler squabble.

SUICIDE AND PARIS GREEN. Every one must have observed the remarkable prevalence of suicide of late, not only in our own vicinity, but all over the country.

THE RADICALS FRIGHTENED.—The radicals are badly frightened at the unexpected turn of the tide in the Senate on the impeachment.

REMEMBRANCE ACTS.—A WARNING TO DIAMATTO CRITICS.—Musical and dramatic critics, in the faithful discharge of their duties, more frequently incur the ill-will and enmity of actors and managers than their friendship.

paper referred to, assaulted the critic when he was leaving the theatre and beat him in an unmerciful manner. This "Ku Klux Klan" style of doing things in the theatrical world should be put a stop to at once.

The National Debt Statement and Financial Prospect Before Us. Mr. McCulloch makes slow progress in the reduction of the national debt, notwithstanding the extraordinary amount of taxes imposed and the vast income of the government for the last few years.

It is said the Committee of Ways and Means has appointed and instructed a sub-committee to take into consideration a revision of the tariff, with a view to provide for anticipated deficiencies in the revenue.

disse or pandemonium under this policy of radical reconstruction? From present appearances it will not be an inviting region for settlement to any white man who is not prepared for negro supremacy in the State and negro equality in the family; but "it is a long lane that has no turn."

Massachusetts on Unconstitutional Law.—Position of Senators Sumner and Wilson. The position assumed by the two impeachment Managers, Messrs. Butler and Bingham—that the President has no power or right to question the constitutionality of the Tenure of Office law—and the very great probability that Senators Sumner and Wilson hold the same opinion, revive some historical recollections which will be found quite appropriate at the present time.

It is of interest in this connection to know what the position and views of Senators Sumner and Wilson were at the time the Personal Liberty bill was passed. A member of the State Legislature having expressed the same views referred to in the foregoing paragraph, Mr. Sumner addressed him a letter in which he lauded the speaker for his sentiments and stated that he agreed with them.

to look decidedly blue for "Old Ben Wade" and his ultra radical type, and Wade's obnoxious radical fanaticism and his high-reaching ambition for the Presidency first, in the place of Andrew Johnson, and the Vice Presidency next, on the ticket with Grant, are operating powerfully against Johnson's removal.

Government Reconstruction in Japan.—How the Social System is to be Reformed. The Japanese revolution, which has effected a radical change in the system of government of the empire by the deposition of the Tycoon, appears to have been a well considered movement, necessitated by the exigencies, political and social, of the people, and executed in their behalf with the view of the attainment of a large amount of future good.

and, unfortunately, it can be readily purchased, upon one pretext or another, where prussic acid or laudanum or arsenic are difficult to obtain. It is evident, then, that some measures must be taken to prohibit the sale of this deadly substance; and the only way to accomplish this is to make an example of the parties who dispense it without a full knowledge, as far as can be ascertained, of the parties who buy it and the purposes for which it is to be employed.

The Spring Season for Trotting. The predictions which we ventured to make of a brilliant spring season for trotting have been amply verified. The spirited descriptions in the HERALD of the three remarkable trots on the Fashion Course, and particularly of the trot of Tuesday last, have excited very general interest.

Our Indian Troubles.—The Commission Farce. The present month opened with a fresh budget of Indian atrocities, and the consoling intelligence to the Peace Commissioners that their late protégés are continuing their depredations and murdering every white person they can catch.
