

WASHINGTON.

A Democrat's Know Nothing Record Ventilated.

Senate Discussion of the Diplomatic Appropriation Bill.

Senator Sherman on National Expenditure.

The Administration and the Red River Complications.

The Chaplain of the House Receives a Call from the Mormons.

An Unprofitable Debate Killed Off—Clergyman Brooks' Know Nothing Record Ventilated.

When the Diplomatic and Consular Appropriation Bill came up in the House to-day, an attempt was made to revive the discussion of the question of sending a Minister to Rome. Mr. Kelly, however, managed to get the debate limited to ten minutes, otherwise there would doubtless have been a repetition of the scene of last Thursday.

Mr. Dawes was lucky enough to get the floor, and improved his time to convince James Brooks of having been connected with the Know Nothing party in 1855.

He went to the clerk's desk and read a copy of a letter delivered by Brooks in Cincinnati about a year since, in which the foreign population in general, and the Roman Catholic Church in particular, was spoken of in anything but respectful or complimentary terms.

The reading created a good deal of amusement on both sides of the House. Mr. Brooks being the only person who did not manifest a disposition to participate in the fun. Brooks attempted to explain. He did not deny having made the speech, and his efforts to evade it were received with derisive laughter on the republican side.

The Union Pacific Railroad Difficulty Settled.

Information reached here to-day that the difficulty between the Union Pacific Railroad and the authorities of Wyoming Territory has been so far settled that the Judge of the United States Court there decided on Saturday to allow the company to give bonds in the sum of half a million dollars for its appearance in court to answer any civil action for damages that may be brought against them.

At first the Judge intended that the company should deposit half a million United States bonds with the First National Bank of Omaha, subject to the order of the Court as security, otherwise he would put the road in the hands of a receiver. It is understood that he received a hint from the Attorney General that his conduct was not approved by the President, who was anxious to protect the government interest in the road. The suit against the company, which is for damages in the non-payment of an alleged debt, will now take its course in the courts.

The Funding Bill.

General Schenck is expected to return from Ohio to-morrow, when the Ways and Means Committee will proceed with the consideration of the Funding Bill. The impression seems to be general with the members that four per cent will be the uniform rate of interest agreed upon by the committee in the bill which they will report. Whether this will be sustained by the House remains to be seen. It does not meet the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, for the reason that he does not think the debt can be funded at so low a rate.

Judge Pierpont's Successor.

The President will send to the Senate during the present week the name of the successor to District Attorney Pierpont. It is the intention that no interregnum shall occur, but that the office shall be filled as soon as vacated by Judge Pierpont. The success or has been determined upon, though changes of mind occur between the present and the time of sending in the name that it is not deemed expedient as yet to make public. Those prominently considered in connection with the appointment were Messrs. Lyman Trumbull, Judge Robertson, Noah Davis and General Barlow.

The Big Horn Expedition Detained by Order of the President.

The President has replied to a resolution of the Senate calling for information relative to the Big Horn Mountain Mining and Exploring Association. The number, according to the newspaper report, is about 2,000 members. Governor Campbell, of Wyoming Territory, reports that the association has agents all over the country, and will be able to muster a large force. The original design, it has been represented, was to prospect for settlement the unceded Indian lands in the Big Horn country, and according to the newspaper statements, drive out the Indians. Since, however, the government has looked with disfavor upon the project it is declared that the purpose is to prospect the country or slopes of the Big Horn, or, as stated by the Executive Committee of the Association, the opening of whatever country in Northern Wyoming the people by law have the right to explore and settle upon.

The President declines allowing the expedition to start as present in view of the contemplated conference with Red Cloud, who is on his way to Washington with other prominent Indians.

Correspondence with the State Department Concerning the Passage of the Steamer Chicago—The Arms seized at Pembina to be Given Up.

The President to-day transmitted to the Senate the following correspondence in reply to a resolution passed on the 18th inst., calling for information relative to the passage of any English or Canadian steamer through the Canal Sault Ste. Marie.

GENERAL U. S. GRANT, President of the United States: Information, apparently reliable, is furnished me that the Canadian steamer Chicago, carrying a large quantity of arms, is on her way to the mouth of the Red River, with the object of maintaining good order in that district and of assisting in the transit of troops to the military frontier of the United States to the military frontier of a foreign power.

SECRETARY OF WAR TO THE PRESIDENT. WASHINGTON, May 18, 1870.

THE INDIANS.

Correspondence Between General Sherman and Pope Concerning the Recent Raid Upon the Kansas Pacific Railroad.

GENERAL T. SHERMAN, Washington, D. C., May 18, 1870.

GENERAL U. S. GRANT, President of the United States: Information, apparently reliable, is furnished me that the Canadian steamer Chicago, carrying a large quantity of arms, is on her way to the mouth of the Red River, with the object of maintaining good order in that district and of assisting in the transit of troops to the military frontier of the United States to the military frontier of a foreign power.

THE FIFTIETH AMENDMENT ENFORCEMENT BILL.

THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

THE BAYONNE MYSTERY.

Continuation of the Inquest—Strong Circumstantial Evidence of Murder—Fishes Statements and Discrepancies—A Reward of $3,000 Offered.

The inquest on the body of Charles Dufek was continued last evening by Coroner Burns at the Fourth precinct station of Jersey City. The case was densely crowded, and the atmosphere was mysterious.

The inquest on the body of Charles Dufek was continued last evening by Coroner Burns at the Fourth precinct station of Jersey City. The case was densely crowded, and the atmosphere was mysterious.

The inquest on the body of Charles Dufek was continued last evening by Coroner Burns at the Fourth precinct station of Jersey City. The case was densely crowded, and the atmosphere was mysterious.

The inquest on the body of Charles Dufek was continued last evening by Coroner Burns at the Fourth precinct station of Jersey City. The case was densely crowded, and the atmosphere was mysterious.

The inquest on the body of Charles Dufek was continued last evening by Coroner Burns at the Fourth precinct station of Jersey City. The case was densely crowded, and the atmosphere was mysterious.

The inquest on the body of Charles Dufek was continued last evening by Coroner Burns at the Fourth precinct station of Jersey City. The case was densely crowded, and the atmosphere was mysterious.

The inquest on the body of Charles Dufek was continued last evening by Coroner Burns at the Fourth precinct station of Jersey City. The case was densely crowded, and the atmosphere was mysterious.

The inquest on the body of Charles Dufek was continued last evening by Coroner Burns at the Fourth precinct station of Jersey City. The case was densely crowded, and the atmosphere was mysterious.

The inquest on the body of Charles Dufek was continued last evening by Coroner Burns at the Fourth precinct station of Jersey City. The case was densely crowded, and the atmosphere was mysterious.

The inquest on the body of Charles Dufek was continued last evening by Coroner Burns at the Fourth precinct station of Jersey City. The case was densely crowded, and the atmosphere was mysterious.

The inquest on the body of Charles Dufek was continued last evening by Coroner Burns at the Fourth precinct station of Jersey City. The case was densely crowded, and the atmosphere was mysterious.

The inquest on the body of Charles Dufek was continued last evening by Coroner Burns at the Fourth precinct station of Jersey City. The case was densely crowded, and the atmosphere was mysterious.

The inquest on the body of Charles Dufek was continued last evening by Coroner Burns at the Fourth precinct station of Jersey City. The case was densely crowded, and the atmosphere was mysterious.

The inquest on the body of Charles Dufek was continued last evening by Coroner Burns at the Fourth precinct station of Jersey City. The case was densely crowded, and the atmosphere was mysterious.

The inquest on the body of Charles Dufek was continued last evening by Coroner Burns at the Fourth precinct station of Jersey City. The case was densely crowded, and the atmosphere was mysterious.

The inquest on the body of Charles Dufek was continued last evening by Coroner Burns at the Fourth precinct station of Jersey City. The case was densely crowded, and the atmosphere was mysterious.

The inquest on the body of Charles Dufek was continued last evening by Coroner Burns at the Fourth precinct station of Jersey City. The case was densely crowded, and the atmosphere was mysterious.

The inquest on the body of Charles Dufek was continued last evening by Coroner Burns at the Fourth precinct station of Jersey City. The case was densely crowded, and the atmosphere was mysterious.

The inquest on the body of Charles Dufek was continued last evening by Coroner Burns at the Fourth precinct station of Jersey City. The case was densely crowded, and the atmosphere was mysterious.

The inquest on the body of Charles Dufek was continued last evening by Coroner Burns at the Fourth precinct station of Jersey City. The case was densely crowded, and the atmosphere was mysterious.

The inquest on the body of Charles Dufek was continued last evening by Coroner Burns at the Fourth precinct station of Jersey City. The case was densely crowded, and the atmosphere was mysterious.

The inquest on the body of Charles Dufek was continued last evening by Coroner Burns at the Fourth precinct station of Jersey City. The case was densely crowded, and the atmosphere was mysterious.

The inquest on the body of Charles Dufek was continued last evening by Coroner Burns at the Fourth precinct station of Jersey City. The case was densely crowded, and the atmosphere was mysterious.

The inquest on the body of Charles Dufek was continued last evening by Coroner Burns at the Fourth precinct station of Jersey City. The case was densely crowded, and the atmosphere was mysterious.

The inquest on the body of Charles Dufek was continued last evening by Coroner Burns at the Fourth precinct station of Jersey City. The case was densely crowded, and the atmosphere was mysterious.

The inquest on the body of Charles Dufek was continued last evening by Coroner Burns at the Fourth precinct station of Jersey City. The case was densely crowded, and the atmosphere was mysterious.

The inquest on the body of Charles Dufek was continued last evening by Coroner Burns at the Fourth precinct station of Jersey City. The case was densely crowded, and the atmosphere was mysterious.

The inquest on the body of Charles Dufek was continued last evening by Coroner Burns at the Fourth precinct station of Jersey City. The case was densely crowded, and the atmosphere was mysterious.

The inquest on the body of Charles Dufek was continued last evening by Coroner Burns at the Fourth precinct station of Jersey City. The case was densely crowded, and the atmosphere was mysterious.

The inquest on the body of Charles Dufek was continued last evening by Coroner Burns at the Fourth precinct station of Jersey City. The case was densely crowded, and the atmosphere was mysterious.

The inquest on the body of Charles Dufek was continued last evening by Coroner Burns at the Fourth precinct station of Jersey City. The case was densely crowded, and the atmosphere was mysterious.

The inquest on the body of Charles Dufek was continued last evening by Coroner Burns at the Fourth precinct station of Jersey City. The case was densely crowded, and the atmosphere was mysterious.

The inquest on the body of Charles Dufek was continued last evening by Coroner Burns at the Fourth precinct station of Jersey City. The case was densely crowded, and the atmosphere was mysterious.

The inquest on the body of Charles Dufek was continued last evening by Coroner Burns at the Fourth precinct station of Jersey City. The case was densely crowded, and the atmosphere was mysterious.

The inquest on the body of Charles Dufek was continued last evening by Coroner Burns at the Fourth precinct station of Jersey City. The case was densely crowded, and the atmosphere was mysterious.