

ture, the provision being that the Sisters should raise an equal sum from other sources. Unless this can be accomplished the asylum cannot be maintained; because the fame of its good works, while it will support it, brings hundreds more destitute waifs of humanity to the door. We hope, therefore, that the good Sisters will be able to raise the required amount, and a great deal more, by this fair. The boundless liberality of our citizens, combined with the sweet ministrations of the ladies and the blessing of God, ought to accomplish all that is desired for this most excellent charity.

Immigration at New York and San Francisco.

Official returns made to the Bureau of Statistics show that the total number of immigrants arriving at the port of New York during the quarter ending September 30, 1870, was 51,197, of whom 29,175 were males and 22,022 females; 12,725 were under twelve years of age, 32,204 were from fifteen to forty years old, and 6,268 were over forty. Great Britain sent 21,529. The immigrants from the German States and from Sweden, Norway and Denmark continue, as for several years past, largely to outnumber those from Ireland. France sent 989, among whom it is probable that comparatively few sought to escape military service, while many, doubtless, belong to that class of expert-skilled workmen—who, when destroyed by war, can be replaced only by long years of peace. Some of this class were induced to come here by American houses, which foresaw how liable their regular supply of importations from France were to be cut off by the war. The majority of the European immigrants were, as usual, laborers, being 10,208 in number; 1,202 were mechanics, 1,000 mechanics, 1,991 farmers, 872 miners (indicating the increased demand created by the development of American mines), 72 clergymen, 39 physicians, 77 engineers, 42 jewelers, 47 artists, &c. The occupations of 10,523 men and of 29,480 women were not specified—an omission of serious statistical importance. While only three immigrants arrived at New York from China and Japan—surely not enough to alarm John Swinton and the other opponents of Chinese immigration—2,593 of the 8,172 immigrants who arrived at the port of San Francisco during the three months preceding the 30th of September were Chinese. They were mostly laborers, and they will find enough work to do.

The Beauties of the New Wyoming.

Campbell, with a poet's license, invested "delightful Wyoming" with a thousand charms more accurately attributed by geographers to tropical regions. His imagination made the flamingo disport like a motor on its lakes, created "hills with high magnolia overgrown," and stocked the intermediate valleys, their good savannas, green and odoriferous woods, with a rare collection, including happy shepherd swains and their flocks, lovely dancing maidens, the wild deer, the beaver, the buffalo, the sportive dog, the cougar, "the crocodile, the condor of the rock," and we know not what else. But Campbell's most glowing description of "fair Wyoming" on Esquehanna's side pale their ineffectual fires before the surpassing splendor of the picture which Professor Hayden, the United States Geologist, who has lately completed his exploration of the Territory of Wyoming, gives of its Eden-like beauty and fertility. This new Wyoming, in the Rocky Mountains, encloses the beautiful sources of the Missouri, and underlying its rich soil is inexhaustible wealth of coal and precious minerals. Above all, the woman of Wyoming having decided the first election of a Congressional delegate from this Territory, and woman suffrage having thus been fairly established there, Wyoming is also full of enchanting prospects as the new paradise of woman's rights.

Personal Intelligence.

General R. F. Butler arrived yesterday morning at the Astor House and left last evening by the twenty minutes past one o'clock train for Boston. In the course of a conversation he availed that the statement published by a certain republican newspaper about his views on the Alabama claims was wholly unauthorized and does not represent his ideas on that question. The General was very reticent on this subject, but upon being questioned whether a census bill might arise between this country and Great Britain out of the Alabama claims controversy he intimated that he will take a decided stand on this question and urge the settlement of his claims upon the government of Great Britain. Mr. A. B. Audick, Superintendent of the Government Works, has arrived from Washington and is stopping at the Astor House. Mr. Edwin L. Stanton, son of the late Secretary of War, arrived yesterday morning at the Astor House and left last evening for Washington. Paymaster A. H. Gibson, Lieutenant Commander C. F. Schmitt, Surgeon R. T. Maceon and A. M. Stewart, Secretary of the Admiral's Staff, of the flagship Delaware, are enjoining at the Astor House. Mr. John F. Ior, President of the Michigan Central Railroad, arrived yesterday afternoon from Detroit for the purpose of attending the trial of the $50,000 bonds robbery case. He is staying at the St. Nicholas Hotel. Colonel John Pulford, United States Army, is stopping at the Metropolitan Hotel. The Colonel is on a pleasure tour, and will return in a few days to his home in the West. Senator Creamer is becoming aristocratic and has engaged rooms at the Everett House. Mr. R. M. Whipple, of Chicago, is at the Everett House. He is the inventor of an oil application for propelling steamboats and locomotives, and has already netted the modest sum of $1,000,000 by his patent. Lieutenant Commander C. M. Schoonmaker, of the United States flagship Delaware, has landed on Terra Awa, after four years' cruise, and is now enjoying the hospitalities of the Everett House. Judge Bell, of Texas, who has been sojourning at the Everett House, left yesterday evening for Boston, and will return in a few days. Judge Foot arrived yesterday from Geneva, N. Y., and took up quarters at the Clarendon Hotel, where he will remain for some time. Mr. James M. Cavanaugh, M. C., and lady, of Montana, arrived yesterday morning at the Fifth Avenue Hotel. Major General Jefferson C. Davis is among the guests of the Fifth Avenue Hotel. Mr. Stanton Whitney, a wealthy merchant of Calcutta, India, who recently returned to this country on a visit to his friends in Boston, is now staying at the Hoffman House, where he will remain a few days preparatory to his return to India. Mr. Horace Bushman, M. C., the well known Tennessee Unionist, is at the Hoffman House, and will probably make a long stay of it. General H. W. Carpenter, of California, and Dr. Walker, of the British army, at Bengal, India, are among the arrivals at the St. James Hotel. Mr. S. Sanford, M. C., of Amsterdam, N. Y., is at the St. James Hotel. Senator Cassidy, from California, and Senator

Stockton, are still among the guests at the St James Hotel. Mr. Arthur B. Cook, of England, who accompanied Mr. Ashbury, in the Cambria, in the late ocean race, and went with him to San Francisco, returned yesterday to this city and engaged rooms at the Brevoort House.

Mons. Garnier, the celebrated billiardist, made a contract with Professor Risley to give exhibitions of the higher art of billiard play throughout the United States, and in order to keep his engagement he and his wife had to set out of Paris by balloon, at the imminent risk of their lives.

Dr. Bryant looks handsomer than ever after his California trip. He brought back with him a handsome Malacca cane, ivory head, gold mounted and ornamented with a beautiful specimen of gold quartz at the tip of the handle. He presented the cane to Captain Eugene Duran, who sports it with all the dignity of a lord.

MUSICAL REVIEW.

Dillon & Co. publish the following:—"Life and Letters of Gottschalk," by Madame Octavia Hessel. This is, indeed, a labor of love, by one of the composer's favorite pupils. It reveals much of the inner life of one of the brightest and sunniest children of music, and although a feeling akin to hero worship leads the writer into flights of enthusiasm whether free reaters unacquainted with the gifted musician can follow her, yet there is an earnestness and attractive style about the memoir which cannot fail to make it interesting to all. Gottschalk possessed that magnetism which is the chief attribute of genius, and those who knew him will find it impossible ever to forget him. He lived in a bright world of his own, inaccessible to the piddling, self-moneymaking ideas of the present day, and every sentiment of his nature was surrounded by an atmosphere of poetry. This interesting little brochure is pardonable when we consider the subject. The letters, testimonials and extracts which are gathered through the work also lend it many attractions. "The Little Waltz," by G. G. G. A pretty, graceful waltz, which is remarkable more for the pleasing treatment of the themes than for any particular musical beauties. "The Little Waltz," by G. G. G. A pretty, graceful waltz, which is remarkable more for the pleasing treatment of the themes than for any particular musical beauties. "The Little Waltz," by G. G. G. A pretty, graceful waltz, which is remarkable more for the pleasing treatment of the themes than for any particular musical beauties.

GERMANY.

Baden and Hesse Within the Family-Federal-Prussian Parliamentary Parties.

Berlin, Nov. 20, 1870. The treaty admitting the States of Baden and Hesse into the North German Confederation has been signed. The details will be adjusted by conference with a fortnight.

The result of the Prussian elections is as follows:—Conservatives, 129; free conservatives, 56; old liberals, 29; national liberals, 14; left centre, 15; Fortschritts, 41; Poles, 19; particular, 6; Catholics, 43, and unbound, 22.

Bi-marc will be represented in the North German Parliament by Herr Deibruck.

AUSTRIA.

Parliamentary Alliances to the Crown-Debate on the Address.

Vienna, Nov. 20, 1870. The debate on the address to the Crown has commenced in the Lower House of the Reichsrath.

The Polish delegates, apprehending misconstruction of their motives, desisted from opposition. The Tyrolese deputies adopted the same policy for similar reasons.

ITALY.

Special Imperial Compromise on Austria.

Florence, Nov. 20, 1870. The Austrian Ambassador asks for a special audience with the King for the purpose of tendering the congratulations of his government on the election of the Duke of Austria to the throne of Spain.

BEYOND THE MISSISSIPPI.

Census of Kansas—Immense Resources of the State—The Prairie Swarming with Buffalo—A Colored Preacher Murdered.

Topeka, Nov. 20, 1870. The republican majority in the State will exceed 20,000. The Legislature stands 100 republicans, 10 democrats and 5 settlers.

The official census returns give Kansas a population of 353,475, with Fort Riley and Larned to her from which will add about 1,400 more. The value of farms and farm property in the State is over $33,000,000, and the value of the live stock is over $23,000,000.

The amount of grain raised last year was nearly 24,000,000 bushels. Parties from the West yesterday state that for sixty miles out beyond Ellis the country is literally covered with buffalo. They are estimated at 200 or 300 each, and range within gunshot of the railroad.

They came up from the South, and their appearance in such numbers at this season of the year is unprecedented. Burrett Seales (colored), a Baptist minister, was murdered near here on Thursday. Mrs. Seales, wife of the murdered man, and a young colored man named Lewis Ward, were arrested on suspicion and committed for trial.

The Helena, Big Horn and Cheyenne Railroad.

Helena, Montana, Nov. 20, 1870. At a meeting of the Helena, Big Horn and Cheyenne Railroad and Telegraph Company, held here yesterday afternoon, the following named were chosen trustees for the ensuing year:—Messrs. E. F. Potts, H. W. Washburn, L. F. Haaser, J. B. Clifton, E. Herdahl, C. C. Hundley, James Moor, J. A. Vell and W. E. Cullen. Governor R. F. Pettibone was elected president; George H. D. Washburn, vice president; and the other officers were elected.

Arrangements are being made for an early commencement and vigorous prosecution of the work.

An Adventure in St. Louis—Petition in Bankruptcy.

St. Louis, Nov. 20, 1870. Mrs. Fred Kunz, of Erie, Pa., who ran away with Christian Keller, a few days ago, taking $500 of her husband's money, was overtaken here to-day and returned to her home.

Horace B. Clifton & Co., of New York, have petitioned the United States District Court here to have their firm declared bankrupt. Clifton & Co. claim $27,000.

CRIME IN KENTUCKY.

Sad State of Morals in Louisville—Sixteen Indictments for Murder Before the Courts.

Louisville, Nov. 20, 1870. The November term of the Jefferson county Circuit Court commences to-morrow. The criminal list is almost without a precedent in the judicial history of the county. Sixteen persons are indicted for murder whose cases come up this term, and in addition to these there are a number of other cases of murder which have not been acted upon.

FIRES.

Disastrous Fire in Baltimore—One Fireman Killed and Two Severely Injured.

Baltimore, Nov. 20, 1870. A fire occurred in Felner's tobacco factory, 90 and 92 South Charles street, this morning, totally destroying it, involving a loss of $35,000 on stock and $15,000 on the building and machinery. It is insured for $25,500, of which $5,000 is in the Puton, of New York, and the remainder in home companies.

The building adjoining Felner's, No. 88, occupied by J. B. N. & A. Berry, general commission merchants, fell, involving a loss of $18,000; partially insured. No. 86, occupied by James O'Donnell as a confectionery store, was damaged $600; fully insured. John Hayes, a fireman, was crushed beneath the falling debris and killed. Fire Inspector Holloway was killed beneath the ruins four hours, but escaped without serious injury, and O'Donnell, who occupied No. 86, had a leg broken.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS FROM ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD

German National Consolidation in Rapid Progress.

Austria Specially Friendly to Italy.

GERMANY.

Baden and Hesse Within the Family-Federal-Prussian Parliamentary Parties.

Berlin, Nov. 20, 1870. The treaty admitting the States of Baden and Hesse into the North German Confederation has been signed. The details will be adjusted by conference with a fortnight.

The result of the Prussian elections is as follows:—Conservatives, 129; free conservatives, 56; old liberals, 29; national liberals, 14; left centre, 15; Fortschritts, 41; Poles, 19; particular, 6; Catholics, 43, and unbound, 22.

Bi-marc will be represented in the North German Parliament by Herr Deibruck.

AUSTRIA.

Parliamentary Alliances to the Crown-Debate on the Address.

Vienna, Nov. 20, 1870. The debate on the address to the Crown has commenced in the Lower House of the Reichsrath.

The Polish delegates, apprehending misconstruction of their motives, desisted from opposition. The Tyrolese deputies adopted the same policy for similar reasons.

ITALY.

Special Imperial Compromise on Austria.

Florence, Nov. 20, 1870. The Austrian Ambassador asks for a special audience with the King for the purpose of tendering the congratulations of his government on the election of the Duke of Austria to the throne of Spain.

BEYOND THE MISSISSIPPI.

Census of Kansas—Immense Resources of the State—The Prairie Swarming with Buffalo—A Colored Preacher Murdered.

Topeka, Nov. 20, 1870. The republican majority in the State will exceed 20,000. The Legislature stands 100 republicans, 10 democrats and 5 settlers.

The official census returns give Kansas a population of 353,475, with Fort Riley and Larned to her from which will add about 1,400 more. The value of farms and farm property in the State is over $33,000,000, and the value of the live stock is over $23,000,000.

The amount of grain raised last year was nearly 24,000,000 bushels. Parties from the West yesterday state that for sixty miles out beyond Ellis the country is literally covered with buffalo. They are estimated at 200 or 300 each, and range within gunshot of the railroad.

They came up from the South, and their appearance in such numbers at this season of the year is unprecedented. Burrett Seales (colored), a Baptist minister, was murdered near here on Thursday. Mrs. Seales, wife of the murdered man, and a young colored man named Lewis Ward, were arrested on suspicion and committed for trial.

The Helena, Big Horn and Cheyenne Railroad.

Helena, Montana, Nov. 20, 1870. At a meeting of the Helena, Big Horn and Cheyenne Railroad and Telegraph Company, held here yesterday afternoon, the following named were chosen trustees for the ensuing year:—Messrs. E. F. Potts, H. W. Washburn, L. F. Haaser, J. B. Clifton, E. Herdahl, C. C. Hundley, James Moor, J. A. Vell and W. E. Cullen. Governor R. F. Pettibone was elected president; George H. D. Washburn, vice president; and the other officers were elected.

Arrangements are being made for an early commencement and vigorous prosecution of the work.

An Adventure in St. Louis—Petition in Bankruptcy.

St. Louis, Nov. 20, 1870. Mrs. Fred Kunz, of Erie, Pa., who ran away with Christian Keller, a few days ago, taking $500 of her husband's money, was overtaken here to-day and returned to her home.

Horace B. Clifton & Co., of New York, have petitioned the United States District Court here to have their firm declared bankrupt. Clifton & Co. claim $27,000.

CRIME IN KENTUCKY.

Sad State of Morals in Louisville—Sixteen Indictments for Murder Before the Courts.

Louisville, Nov. 20, 1870. The November term of the Jefferson county Circuit Court commences to-morrow. The criminal list is almost without a precedent in the judicial history of the county. Sixteen persons are indicted for murder whose cases come up this term, and in addition to these there are a number of other cases of murder which have not been acted upon.

FIRES.

Disastrous Fire in Baltimore—One Fireman Killed and Two Severely Injured.

Baltimore, Nov. 20, 1870. A fire occurred in Felner's tobacco factory, 90 and 92 South Charles street, this morning, totally destroying it, involving a loss of $35,000 on stock and $15,000 on the building and machinery. It is insured for $25,500, of which $5,000 is in the Puton, of New York, and the remainder in home companies.

The building adjoining Felner's, No. 88, occupied by J. B. N. & A. Berry, general commission merchants, fell, involving a loss of $18,000; partially insured. No. 86, occupied by James O'Donnell as a confectionery store, was damaged $600; fully insured. John Hayes, a fireman, was crushed beneath the falling debris and killed. Fire Inspector Holloway was killed beneath the ruins four hours, but escaped without serious injury, and O'Donnell, who occupied No. 86, had a leg broken.

Burning of a Woolen Mill in Boston.

Boston, Nov. 20, 1870. A fire in Malden last night destroyed the woolen mill of David Byers, with contents, including valuable machinery. Loss estimated at $40,000.

Great Fire in Baldwinville, N. Y.—Loss $100,000.

Syracuse, N. Y., Nov. 20, 1870. About one o'clock this morning a fire broke out in the village of Baldwinville, twelve miles north of this city. Almost the entire southern portion of the village is reported destroyed. Among the structures burned are several large flour mills. Loss about $100,000.

Burning of McFarland's Warehouse in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Nov. 20, 1870. McFarland Brothers & Co.'s large paper and rag warehouse, in Decatur street, together with other warehouses, were destroyed by fire last night. McFarland & Co.'s loss is estimated at $40,000. The insurance is $25,000. Fisher & Co.'s loss cannot be estimated, but it is covered by insurance. The Keystone Paper Box Factory loss is $20,000; insured in the Equia Insurance Company of Hartford.

CHURCH DEDICATION IN CINCINNATI.

Cincinnati, Nov. 20, 1870. The St. Paul Methodist Episcopal church was dedicated this morning in presence of an immense audience. The Rev. J. A. Chapman, of Boston, preached in the forenoon, and Dr. Hatfield, of Cincinnati, in the evening. The edifice is one of the best Methodist churches in the country, and cost, exclusive of the lot, $160,000.

The corner stone of the first Presbyterian church at Covington, Ky., was laid yesterday with imposing ceremonies, the Masonic order participating.

MUSIC AND THE DRAMA.

On Tuesday next Mr. Jefferson will give the hundredth performance of "The Valley of the Boath." It is a remarkable feat for a play which has been given at so many theatres in this city. Without Jefferson, however, there would be little to attract people to hear it. It gives him a fortune for the rest of his life, and a secure too, as the impersonation of the immortal Rip is second nature to him now.

After a long and successful run "Man and Wife" has been withdrawn from the boards of the Fifth Avenue theatre to make way for other favorites in Mr. Daly's extensive repertoire. To-night "The Hun-back" will be presented, to afford Miss Agnes Ethel an opportunity to appear for the first time this season, in her great character of Julia, and to-morrow evening Mr. Lewis will give a recitation of the "Pangloss in 'The Hed at Law.'" On Wednesday the bit of last season, "Fannie," will be renewed in grander style than before. Miss Fanny Morant, Miss Agnes Ethel and Miss Fanny Davenport will appear in their original roles, and Mr. Polk will replace Mr. Clarke as the Marquis André. It will likely have a run like that of "Rip Van Winkle" at Booth's.

The old comedies are, after all, the sterling favorites at Wallack's. The new plays, attractive as they may be, are looked upon as intruders by many of the patrons of the theatre, and this week will be devoted to the old favorites. "The School for Scandal," "The Rivals," "The Merchant of Venice," "The Road to Ruin," the revival of matters at this establishment supplies a want long felt by its patrons. There is much interest excited to witness Mr. George Clarke to-night as Charles Surface, his first essay in this part.

The Swedish nightingale, laden with triumphs from Boston and New England, where critics went into ecstasies over her and wrote the most enthusiastic and intelligible nonsense about her, returns to us on Friday, appearing for the first time in oratorio. "The Messiah" will be given, with Miss Nilsson, Miss Pauline Canissa, Miss Cary and Messrs. Simpson and Whitney as soloists, the chorus of the Mendelssohn Union and a grand orchestra, under the direction of the price conductor, George Hirstow.

Well matinee will be given on Saturday at Steiny Hall. It has been suggested by a correspondent that one of two Nilsson concerts should be given here during the season at popular prices, to give the two who cannot afford to pay four dollars for a seat to her such renowned cantatrice an opportunity to do so.

This is the last week of Mrs. Landier's engagement at the Fourteenth street theatre. She plays Ponsard's Charlotte Corday to-night and to-morrow, and on Wednesday will undertake the role of Fro-Frou. The latter will be, at least, a curiosity.

"The Empress," at Niblo's, although of the ordinary melodramatic and sensational order, has the first time been witnessed on the metropolitan boards. It even surpasses the well known effects in "Lost at Sea." Otherwise the piece does not possess the elements of success.

Miss Lulu Edwin's pretty little theatre has become an established favorite with the play-going public. Her plan of engaging the best artists and giving constant variety has been found to succeed well. This week Miss Marion Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. Hal will make their first appearance, and next week the long promised burlesque "The Great Sheppard" will be presented. The bill for this week is exceedingly attractive.

Miss Alice Winkler continues to draw immense crowds to the Olympic. On that, Dan Symons, who has lately recovered from a complication of disorders, will shortly give a grand display of his feats of strength and endurance, and will also exhibit the Hilarious. He is in active training for the occasion.

The program at the New York Circus for this week is very interesting. Charles Fina, a celebrated bareback rider, makes his first appearance. The first burlesque concert takes place at the Academy of Music to-day evening. The program consists of Beecher's Eighth Symphony, Tannhauser Overture, and Schumann's Unfinished Symphony, with other pieces.

A public rehearsal will take place on Friday afternoon. Miss Marie Krebs, who established herself at the Niblo concert as a pianist of the first rank, will give her first concert at Steiny Hall on Wednesday evening. Her program will consist of Chopin's No. 10, and Schumann's No. 10, and other pieces.

Miss Marie Krebs, who established herself at the Niblo concert as a pianist of the first rank, will give her first concert at Steiny Hall on Wednesday evening. Her program will consist of Chopin's No. 10, and Schumann's No. 10, and other pieces.

Miss Marie Krebs, who established herself at the Niblo concert as a pianist of the first rank, will give her first concert at Steiny Hall on Wednesday evening. Her program will consist of Chopin's No. 10, and Schumann's No. 10, and other pieces.

Miss Marie Krebs, who established herself at the Niblo concert as a pianist of the first rank, will give her first concert at Steiny Hall on Wednesday evening. Her program will consist of Chopin's No. 10, and Schumann's No. 10, and other pieces.

Miss Marie Krebs, who established herself at the Niblo concert as a pianist of the first rank, will give her first concert at Steiny Hall on Wednesday evening. Her program will consist of Chopin's No. 10, and Schumann's No. 10, and other pieces.

Miss Marie Krebs, who established herself at the Niblo concert as a pianist of the first rank, will give her first concert at Steiny Hall on Wednesday evening. Her program will consist of Chopin's No. 10, and Schumann's No. 10, and other pieces.

Miss Marie Krebs, who established herself at the Niblo concert as a pianist of the first rank, will give her first concert at Steiny Hall on Wednesday evening. Her program will consist of Chopin's No. 10, and Schumann's No. 10, and other pieces.

Miss Marie Krebs, who established herself at the Niblo concert as a pianist of the first rank, will give her first concert at Steiny Hall on Wednesday evening. Her program will consist of Chopin's No. 10, and Schumann's No. 10, and other pieces.

Miss Marie Krebs, who established herself at the Niblo concert as a pianist of the first rank, will give her first concert at Steiny Hall on Wednesday evening. Her program will consist of Chopin's No. 10, and Schumann's No. 10, and other pieces.

Miss Marie Krebs, who established herself at the Niblo concert as a pianist of the first rank, will give her first concert at Steiny Hall on Wednesday evening. Her program will consist of Chopin's No. 10, and Schumann's No. 10, and other pieces.

Miss Marie Krebs, who established herself at the Niblo concert as a pianist of the first rank, will give her first concert at Steiny Hall on Wednesday evening. Her program will consist of Chopin's No. 10, and Schumann's No. 10, and other pieces.

Miss Marie Krebs, who established herself at the Niblo concert as a pianist of the first rank, will give her first concert at Steiny Hall on Wednesday evening. Her program will consist of Chopin's No. 10, and Schumann's No. 10, and other pieces.

Miss Marie Krebs, who established herself at the Niblo concert as a pianist of the first rank, will give her first concert at Steiny Hall on Wednesday evening. Her program will consist of Chopin's No. 10, and Schumann's No. 10, and other pieces.

Miss Marie Krebs, who established herself at the Niblo concert as a pianist of the first rank, will give her first concert at Steiny Hall on Wednesday evening. Her program will consist of Chopin's No. 10, and Schumann's No. 10, and other pieces.

Miss Marie Krebs, who established herself at the Niblo concert as a pianist of the first rank, will give her first concert at Steiny Hall on Wednesday evening. Her program will consist of Chopin's No. 10, and Schumann's No. 10, and other pieces.

Miss Marie Krebs, who established herself at the Niblo concert as a pianist of the first rank, will give her first concert at Steiny Hall on Wednesday evening. Her program will consist of Chopin's No. 10, and Schumann's No. 10, and other pieces.

Miss Marie Krebs, who established herself at the Niblo concert as a pianist of the first rank, will give her first concert at Steiny Hall on Wednesday evening. Her program will consist of Chopin's No. 10, and Schumann's No. 10, and other pieces.

Miss Marie Krebs, who established herself at the Niblo concert as a pianist of the first rank, will give her first concert at Steiny Hall on Wednesday evening. Her program will consist of Chopin's No. 10, and Schumann's No. 10, and other pieces.

Miss Marie Krebs, who established herself at the Niblo concert as a pianist of the first rank, will give her first concert at Steiny Hall on Wednesday evening. Her program will consist of Chopin's No. 10, and Schumann's No. 10, and other pieces.

Miss Marie Krebs, who established herself at the Niblo concert as a pianist of the first rank, will give her first concert at Steiny Hall on Wednesday evening. Her program will consist of Chopin's No. 10, and Schumann's No. 10, and other pieces.

Miss Marie Krebs, who established herself at the Niblo concert as a pianist of the first rank, will give her first concert at Steiny Hall on Wednesday evening. Her program will consist of Chopin's No. 10, and Schumann's No. 10, and other pieces.

Miss Marie Krebs, who established herself at the Niblo concert as a pianist of the first rank, will give her first concert at Steiny Hall on Wednesday evening. Her program will consist of Chopin's No. 10, and Schumann's No. 10, and other pieces.

LITERATURE.

Works of Fiction. THE MYSTERY OF EDWIN DROOD. By Charles Dickens. New York: Harper & Co. THE SAMB. New York: D. Appleton & Co.

Death struck a cruel blow to literature when it took away Dickens before the completion of this novel. In "The Mystery of Edwin Drood" the great novelist had entered into a new field. We cannot say that in the fragment before us the characters are superior to those which have made his other works famous; for they are not, perhaps, equal to such conceptions as can be found in "David Copperfield," "Barnaby Rudge," "Martin Chuzzlewit," "Nicholas Nickleby," &c. But this novel promises to be more finished and more artistic than any of the novels in the whole range of Dickens' works. What it lacks in ease—for it bears undoubted evidence of care and labor—is more than made up in the constructive skill displayed. The hand of a great artist is seen in every chapter. From the opening scene, where the opium smokers are described, to the last lines, written but a few minutes before the author died, the story is of absorbing interest. No person can read the fragment without feeling the deepest regret that the mystery must remain a mystery forever, and that we must never know what fate befell Edwin Drood.

LIFE AND ALONE. Boston: Lee & Shepard. "Life and Alone" is a much better work than can be found in the ordinary run of semi-religious novels. The anonymous authoress—we take the liberty of supposing the writer to be a woman—displays marked powers of depicting character, although it must be said that her heroine, Edith Merton, is one of those girls we never saw in real life. She is altogether an ideal being, but still one which we can understand the interest of the reader. The object of the story is to inculcate moral principles; to demonstrate that punishment is finally meted to the wrong doer, no matter how many years justice may permit him to live untroubled. There is nothing in the book, however, of the stereotyped moral sentiments and reflections which make most religious novels boring and tedious to all but melancholy, Puritanical mortals. The style of writing is pure and agreeable. We recommend the book as worthy of perusal.

HOLIDAY BOOKS FOR THE YOUNG. The holidays are fast approaching, and the little ones are anxiously expecting their annual presents, among which books are the most common, if not the most prized. An unusual large number of works for children have thus far been published, and the prospect is that before the season closes the number will be further increased. At the present writing we have before us not less than twenty-eight volumes, which we have found time to look over, and notice of which we give below. Doll & Mead, of this city, and Lee & Shepard, of Boston, make a specialty of this kind of literature, and, as a consequence, nearly all the books are from them. We may remark in this introductory that all of the volumes are neatly printed and attractively bound, the binding on some of them being really elegant.

THE JUNO SERIES. Two volumes. By Jacob Abbott. New York: Doll & Mead. Some weeks ago we noticed "Juno and George," and "Mary Osborne," the first two volumes in this admirable series. We have now "Juno on a Four-wheeled