Parliamentary Anticipation of North American Fisheries Trouble.

The Minor Murder Case—An Aristocratic Marriage—The Marquis of Bute and Lady Howard To Be United in Matrimony—Preparations for the Royal Procession.

TELEGRAMS TO THE NEW YORK HERALD.

LONDON, Feb. 21, 1872. During the session of the House of Commons this evening Mr. Charles Dalrymple, member for Bute-shire, gave notice of his intention to ask the government on Friday next whether measures have been taken to prevent collisions between American and Canadian fishermen during the coming fishing season.

Sir Charles Dalrymple is a lawyer by profession and a conservative in English politics. He is the second son of the late Sir Charles Dalrymple-Ferguson, but assumed, in the year 1846, the surname of Dalrymple in lieu of his patrimonial, in accordance with the will of his great-grandfather, Sir David Dalrymple, Lord Hailes. He was elected to Parliament for Bute-shire, November, 1868.

THE AMERICAN MURDER CASE. The coroner's jury in the case of Minor, the American who killed a workman on Saturday night, returned a verdict that deceased came to his death by the hands of the prisoner. Minor is held for trial.

THE NEWSPAPER PRESS. An English press directory gives the number of journals published in Great Britain at 1,466.

THE DEATH OF THE WOODLANDS? A rumor prevails throughout London that Baron Haussmann will soon retire from the Lord Chancellorship of Great Britain, and that he will be succeeded by the Right Hon. Lord Romilly.

An Aristocratic Marriage on the Taple. LONDON, Feb. 21, 1872. The marriage of the Most Noble the Marquis of Bute to the daughter of Lord Edward George Howard is announced to take place soon.

THE MARRIAGE OF THE HAPPY PAIR. The marriage which is referred to in our cable telegram from London, given above, will unite three of the most exalted families of the British aristocracy—those of the Howards of Norfolk, of Orington-Stuart of the Barony and Marquess of Bute, and of the Talbots, of Shrewsbury.

The bride elect is daughter of Lord Edward George Pitt Rivers, younger son of Sir Charles Pitt Rivers, thirteenth Duke of Norfolk, by Lady Charlotte Sophia, daughter of the Duke of Sutherland. She is thus niece to Henry, Duke of Norfolk.

The intended bridegroom is the Right Honorable John Patrick Christian-Stuart, Marquis of Bute, the only son of John, the second Marquis, by his wife, Lady Sophia Cristina, daughter of the Marquis of Hastings. The Marquis of Bute is enormously rich, his income exceeding £200,000 sterling per annum.

INDEPENDENCE OF THIS BURGE REVENUE. During a number of years, which he received in a lump, his conversion to the Roman Catholic Church some few years since, with his open profession of that faith in Rome and his present to the Pope of the magnificent cross of gold and diamonds which was borne in front of the episcopal procession in St. Peter at the opening ceremony of the Vatican Council produced a deep sensation in the Christian world.

The Howards, of Norfolk, have ever been Roman Catholics, a titled representative of the family having sworn from that particular form of faith, even at the moment of the English reformation, or subsequently during the operation of the penal laws. Despite all this the Duke of Norfolk, of the moment, has been always recognized as the Premier Duke and Earl of Britain, and at each succeeding coronation of the monarchs of the kingdom names, in his capacity of Earl Marshal, the knight who offers battle in behalf and that of the nation to any disputant of the royal title to the throne.

The marriage of the Marquis of Bute and Lady Howard will be a most brilliant religious ceremonial. CIVIL FAVORITES FOR THE COURT CORTICE. The decoration of the streets through which the royal procession of thanksgiving will pass to and from St. Paul on the 27th inst., has already commenced, and will be carried out on a grand scale. (Arches are being at various points along the route and in squares, and at all available places garlands of crew for spectators are being erected. Huge crowds of people collect daily to watch these preparations.

THE TICKET TRIAL—TESTIMONY FOR THE DEFENSE. LONDON, Feb. 21, 1872. In the Ticket case the Attorney General, Sir John Duke O'Connell, has brought his address to a close, and the examination of the witnesses for the defense has commenced.

UNION PACIFIC TROUBLES. The Road Reported Clear—Another Chapter of Accidents—A "Washout" and a Collision at Medicine Bow. OMAHA, Feb. 20, 1872. General Passenger Agent Kimball, of the Union Pacific Railroad, telegraphs to his principals that the snow blockade was raised last night, and that at eleven o'clock P. M. trains were running on the whole line.

To-day a washout of the track on the Western division detained trains about eight hours. A collision occurred between two freight trains, near Medicine Bow, to-day. Both engines were badly damaged and several cars derailed.

THE PACIFIC COAST. The Elections in Honolulu—Laying the Foundation of the New City Hall in San Francisco—The Arizona Apaches on a Warlike Move. SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 21, 1872. An Associated Press despatch, dated Honolulu, February 8, noon, says:—"The election of Representatives for two years is progressing. The independent ticket, in opposition to the straight government ticket, is largely ahead. The government ticket is ahead in the outside districts."

Extensive preparations are making for laying the corner stone of the new City Hall to-morrow. Letters from Honolulu, Arizona, say the Apache Indians have nearly all left the territory, having accumulated all the supplies of flour and meat possible from that source out to them from the government stores, and are evidently preparing for a vigorous campaign against the troops and settlers.

A HEAVY WILL GAZE. MILWAUKEE, Feb. 21, 1872. An important will case is now being tried here before the United States Court, involving half a million dollars. The plaintiff, Angelina Amory, claims to be the widow of James Amory, who died in 1858, leaving his estate to the defendants, Samuel B. and John Amory, and claims also that the will is a forgery, and that the plaintiff was not the wife but the daughter of James Amory, though they lived together thirty years and had eight children.

STABBING AFFRAY. At eight o'clock last night Peter Carlson and Carl Anderson, two Swedes, got into an altercation at their boarding house, in 130th street, between Madison and Fourth avenues, during which Anderson stabbed Carlson in the head, near the temple, inflicting a quantity of blood, and a severe wound, and will be held to answer the result of the wounded man's injuries.

ALUMNI DINNER OF AMHERST COLLEGE. The alumni of Amherst College held their annual dinner at the Parker House this evening. Eighty persons were present.

Interesting speeches were made by President Stearns and Professor Zolpe, of Amherst; Rev. Dr. Hamlin, of Robert College, Constantinople, and others. The demand of Amherst for a $100,000 grant from the State was strongly advocated.

FOUND DEAD. At half-past seven o'clock last night an unknown man, about thirty-five years of age, dressed in dark, heavy overcoat, silk hat, small-striped pants, black cloth vest, gold sleeve buttons, gold watch and shell chain, was found dead in the barroom No. 19 Park row. The body was sent to the Morgue and the coroner notified.

THE WAR IN MEXICO.

A Decisive Battle To Be Fought at San Luis Potosi.

LERDO DE TEJADA NEUTRAL.

Executions of Revolutionary Chiefs.

TELEGRAM TO THE NEW YORK HERALD. HAVANA, Feb. 21, 1872. The mail steamer from Vera Cruz arrived to-day, bringing advices from the city of Mexico to the 15th inst. Up to that date the more recent military movements on both sides had been unimportant.

The supporters of Juarez were confident, but the revolutionists seemed to be greatly encouraged by their early successes in the north. Military law had been declared in the States of Tlaxcala and Jalisco, where the government troops had suffered some reverses.

General Ochoa evacuated Lagos, whither he had retreated from Aguas Calientes. A battle was impending near San Luis Potosi. It was generally believed that it would be decisive, and should General Rocha triumph there, the government would be secure.

Lerdo de Tejada and party, on whose defection the revolutionists placed great hopes, refused to give them any aid or comfort. Señor Mejia, the Minister of War, has won the admiration of all parties for his ability and untiring energy in fighting the powerful revolution. Merchants and property owners throughout the republic sympathize with the Mexican government.

Mr. Neiza, the Minister of the United States, had carefully abstained from interference in these internal troubles, confining himself to the duty of protecting the interests of his countrymen in Mexico. His conduct was universally praised.

Executions of revolutionary chiefs continued. At the latest advices all the States, except Chihuahua and Mexico, were affected by the revolution. As soon as it became known in the city of Mexico that William Calles Bryant intended to visit Mexico, the literary societies commenced to make preparations for his reception. News had not reached the Mexicans, when the steamer left Vera Cruz, that Mr. Bryant had postponed his visit on account of the revolution. General Rosencrans was also expected at the Mexican capital.

Work on the Vera Cruz and Mexico Railroad was progressing in spite of the disturbed condition of the country.

FIRES. In Cedar Street. At about one o'clock yesterday morning a fire occurred on the fifth floor of the five story brick building No. 18 Cedar street, the property of Frank Miller, which caused a damage to the building of about two thousand dollars. The fire originated on the fifth floor of No. 18, which, with the second floor of No. 20 and the third and fourth floors of 18 and 20, were occupied by Miller & Sons, hosiery manufacturers. It started from a gas pipe in the floor, among some barrels of oil, and soon reached the roof, which shortly after fell in. The stock in the building was damaged to the extent of about three thousand dollars. It was insured for $12,500. The second floor of No. 18 was occupied by G. C. Higgs & Co., lubricating oil refiners. The damage done to this floor, which was occupied by L. F. Aija, tobacco dealer, was to the extent of $500. The first floor of No. 20, which was occupied by Downer & St. John, was damaged to the extent of $150.

The Fire at Shakspeare. ST. PAUL, Minn., Feb. 21, 1872. The loss by the burning of machine shops and engine house of the St. Paul and Sioux City Railway at Shakspeare, yesterday morning, was over one hundred thousand dollars, on which there was an insurance of but $20,000 in the following companies:—St. Paul Fire and Marine, $5,000; American Central, $5,000; Franklin, $5,000; Ohio, $5,000; Underwriters, $2,500. Five locomotives and large quantities of valuable machinery and material were destroyed and fifty men thrown out of employment.

Conflagration at Grand Rapids. GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Feb. 21, 1872. Sweet's Hotel, at Grand Rapids, the largest hotel in the western part of the State, took fire at ten o'clock last night. The fourth and fifth stories were destroyed and the third partially ruined. The remainder of the building was deluged with water. A new tar roof was being put on the building, and it is supposed this ignited from sparks from the chimney. One man, FRANK BROWN, in the building removing the furniture, has not since been found. It is supposed he was burned to death. Loss $25,000; fully covered by insurance.

Details of the Cincinnati Fire. CINCINNATI, Feb. 21, 1872. The insurance on Rizer's building and stock, destroyed by the fire last night is as follows:—In the Union Insurance Company of Bangor, Me., $2,000; in the Western, of New York, $2,500; in the Exchange, of New York, $2,500; in the Germania, of New York, $2,000. On the stock alone:—in the North American, of Philadelphia, $5,000; in the Pennsylvania, of Philadelphia, $5,000. The balance is in Western companies.

Destruction of a Hotel. BOSTON, Feb. 21, 1872. The Green Hill Hotel, in North Chatham, owned by John S. Moulton and leased by William Keith, was burned this morning. The loss is $7,000; insured.

Steam Sawmill Burned Down. CONCORD, N. H., Feb. 21, 1872. Crosby's steam sawmill, with a large amount of lumber, in Charlestown, was destroyed by the fire yesterday. Loss, $10,000; insurance, $4,000, in London and Liverpool companies.

ANTIQUITIES OF THE WEST. NEW HAVEN, Feb. 21, 1872. Professor Marsh this evening, at a meeting of the Connecticut Academy at the Sheffield school in this city, gave a brief description of his tour to the West last summer, and said, among other facts, that he found in Kansas fossils of gigantic saurians and winged reptiles twenty feet spread. In the basaltic region he found vast quantities of three-toed fossil horses. His party collected a quantity of Indian antiquities, including weapons and skulls.

BLASTING CASUALTY. A report yesterday afternoon was received at the Coroner's office, from Sergeant Lynch, of the Thirty-first precinct, to the effect that James Grant, a young man, twenty-four years of age, had been killed by being struck on the head by a rock thrown from a blast while at work on Eighth avenue, near 107th street. The body was taken to the station house and Coroner Herrman notified.

HORRIBLE ACCIDENT. SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Feb. 21, 1872. John Barnes, an employe of the Boston and Albany Railroad, was crushed to death this afternoon between two cars.

FOUND DEAD. At half-past seven o'clock last night an unknown man, about thirty-five years of age, dressed in dark, heavy overcoat, silk hat, small-striped pants, black cloth vest, gold sleeve buttons, gold watch and shell chain, was found dead in the barroom No. 19 Park row. The body was sent to the Morgue and the coroner notified.

STABBING AFFRAY. At eight o'clock last night Peter Carlson and Carl Anderson, two Swedes, got into an altercation at their boarding house, in 130th street, between Madison and Fourth avenues, during which Anderson stabbed Carlson in the head, near the temple, inflicting a quantity of blood, and a severe wound, and will be held to answer the result of the wounded man's injuries.

ALUMNI DINNER OF AMHERST COLLEGE. The alumni of Amherst College held their annual dinner at the Parker House this evening. Eighty persons were present.

Interesting speeches were made by President Stearns and Professor Zolpe, of Amherst; Rev. Dr. Hamlin, of Robert College, Constantinople, and others. The demand of Amherst for a $100,000 grant from the State was strongly advocated.
