

FRANKLIN'S COMMERCIAL.

A QUIET DAY IN WALL STREET.

The "Bears" Called to Washington to Testify About the "Lock-Up."

The "Bulls" Make Hay While the Sun Shines.

MONEY EASY AND STOCKS STRONG

Hannibal and St. Joseph Redivivus.

Pacific Mail Still Hoping for a Subsidy from Congress.

GOLD UP TO 111-8 AND "OFF" TO 110 7-8.

The New Loan—Monieur Tonson Come Again.

WALL STREET, TUESDAY, APRIL 16—P. M.

On Change to-day wheat was dull and steady. The cotton market was quiet.

THE EXPORTS OF THE WEEK.

The aggregate exports of domestic merchandise from the port of New York, for the week ending April 16, 1872, were $3,820,952.

MONEY STEADY.

The money market was active but comparatively steady.

Foreign exchange was nominally unchanged, but heavy, and actual business was on the basis of 110 1/4 for prime bankers' sixty day sterling and 103 1/2 for sight bills.

GOLD UNSETTLED—110 1/4 & 111 1/4 & 110 7/8.

The gold market opened strong on the cable news from Geneva that in the exchange of the "cases" the latter Power had submitted a sealed protest against, as inferred, the admission of claims for indirect damages, and the price advanced from 110 1/4 to 111 1/4.

But the later weakness in exchange and a repetition of the old story about a new syndicate in London formed to take $600,000,000 of the new loan started a reaction and the advance was wholly lost toward the close.

The course of the market is shown in the table—

Table of market prices for various commodities including gold, silver, and various types of bonds.

GOVERNMENTS FIRM.

The government list was firm with the advance in gold, and closed steady with the easier tone of the money market.

The following were the final prices—United States currency notes, 115 1/4 & 115 1/2; do, sixes, 181, registered, 115 1/4 & 115 1/2; do, coupon, 111 1/4 & 111 1/2; do, ten-forties, registered, 105 1/4 & 105 1/2; do, coupon, 105 1/4 & 105 1/2.

SOUTHERN SECURITIES QUIET.

The Southern States bonds were quiet for the general list and steady.

The Southern States bonds were quiet for the general list and steady.

The Southern States bonds were quiet for the general list and steady.

The Southern States bonds were quiet for the general list and steady.

The Southern States bonds were quiet for the general list and steady.

The Southern States bonds were quiet for the general list and steady.

The Southern States bonds were quiet for the general list and steady.

The Southern States bonds were quiet for the general list and steady.

The Southern States bonds were quiet for the general list and steady.

The Southern States bonds were quiet for the general list and steady.

The Southern States bonds were quiet for the general list and steady.

The Southern States bonds were quiet for the general list and steady.

The Southern States bonds were quiet for the general list and steady.

The Southern States bonds were quiet for the general list and steady.

The Southern States bonds were quiet for the general list and steady.

The Southern States bonds were quiet for the general list and steady.

The Southern States bonds were quiet for the general list and steady.

controlled the issue of $4,000,000 of the new capital provision had to be made against treachery, and this stock was allotted to members of the pool in the shape of "calls." All "locks" were thus called up, and the good (?) bark Hannibal and St. Joseph has been launched on the stormy sea of Wall street for a voyage to the upper latitudes, if the navigators can succeed in getting her there.

The following table shows the highest and lowest prices of the principal stocks during the day—

Table of highest and lowest prices for various stocks including New York Central, Erie, and others.

DEATH OF GEORGE W. WILSON.

The sad duty devolved upon the Chairman of the Board this afternoon of announcing the death, on Monday night, of George W. Wilson, for many years a member of the Stock Exchange and recently of the firm of Fowler & Wilson.

SALES AT THE NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

Table of sales at the New York Stock Exchange for Tuesday, April 16-1872.

Table of sales at the New York Stock Exchange for Tuesday, April 16-1872.

Table of sales at the New York Stock Exchange for Tuesday, April 16-1872.

Table of sales at the New York Stock Exchange for Tuesday, April 16-1872.

Table of sales at the New York Stock Exchange for Tuesday, April 16-1872.

Table of sales at the New York Stock Exchange for Tuesday, April 16-1872.

Table of sales at the New York Stock Exchange for Tuesday, April 16-1872.

Table of sales at the New York Stock Exchange for Tuesday, April 16-1872.

Table of sales at the New York Stock Exchange for Tuesday, April 16-1872.

any demand. We quote—Pork, $7 5/8 to $9 25, and near... The market for bricks is generally better than it was some weeks ago...

EXPORTS.—The market remained dull and entirely nominal... The market for flour is generally better than it was some weeks ago...

Wheat and Grain.—Flour, 7,000 bushels; wheat, 2,500 bushels; corn, 3,500 bushels; and other grains...

Wheat and Grain.—Flour, 7,000 bushels; wheat, 2,500 bushels; corn, 3,500 bushels; and other grains...

Wheat and Grain.—Flour, 7,000 bushels; wheat, 2,500 bushels; corn, 3,500 bushels; and other grains...

Wheat and Grain.—Flour, 7,000 bushels; wheat, 2,500 bushels; corn, 3,500 bushels; and other grains...

Wheat and Grain.—Flour, 7,000 bushels; wheat, 2,500 bushels; corn, 3,500 bushels; and other grains...

Wheat and Grain.—Flour, 7,000 bushels; wheat, 2,500 bushels; corn, 3,500 bushels; and other grains...

Wheat and Grain.—Flour, 7,000 bushels; wheat, 2,500 bushels; corn, 3,500 bushels; and other grains...

Wheat and Grain.—Flour, 7,000 bushels; wheat, 2,500 bushels; corn, 3,500 bushels; and other grains...

WATSON'S TRIAL.

Third Day's Proceedings in the Trial of the Alleged Murderess of George W. Watson.

TEMPORARY INSANITY THE DEFENCE.

Judge Tappan Refuses to Take the Case from the Jury.

Watson Seeking His Own Death—Fanny at Sunday School—A Host of Witnesses Giving Her an Excellent Character—An Incident of an Exhibition—Watson Throwing a Bouquet at the Girl in Church—His Conduct to Her in the Factory—Skylarking with the Girls in Merrill's Building—The Murdered Man Seen Kissing His Destroyer by a Truckman.

The attendance at the trial of Mrs. Fanny Hyde, the alleged murderess of George W. Watson, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, Brooklyn, yesterday, was as great as upon Monday, and an increased interest was manifested in the proceedings.

The gallery and doors were crowded by people of all classes, and hundreds were unable to gain entrance to the court room.

The prisoner was conveyed to the Court House in a carriage before the opening of the Court. She was dressed the same as on Monday, and appeared as easy in her manner.

Her husband, father and several ladies were seated by her during the proceedings.

Judge Tappan took his seat on the bench at ten o'clock, and was followed by Associate Justices Voorhees and Johnson.

The post-mortem examination. Dr. Joseph Cremer, one of the police surgeons, who made a post-mortem examination of Watson's body, testified that he found abrasions on the face and a portion of the skin removed from the left eye.

There was an incised wound on the top of the head about an inch and a quarter in length and a bullet wound on the right side of the neck to which the coroner had attached a certificate of death.

The cross-examination. Mr. Dagley identified the picture shown as that of the deceased.

Q. It did not occur to you at that time that the throwing of this bouquet was an act of insanity? A. No, sir.

Q. What did she do with the bouquet? A. She indicated it up.

Q. Did you see her do anything there that indicated insanity? A. No, sir.

Q. Did your examination develop whether the ball came in contact with anything which turned it from its course? A. No, sir.

Q. Did you see anything that would lead you to believe that the person having such a wound would live a few minutes? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Were you calm and collected? A. Remarkably so.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

WATSON'S TRIAL.

Third Day's Proceedings in the Trial of the Alleged Murderess of George W. Watson.

TEMPORARY INSANITY THE DEFENCE.

Judge Tappan Refuses to Take the Case from the Jury.

Watson Seeking His Own Death—Fanny at Sunday School—A Host of Witnesses Giving Her an Excellent Character—An Incident of an Exhibition—Watson Throwing a Bouquet at the Girl in Church—His Conduct to Her in the Factory—Skylarking with the Girls in Merrill's Building—The Murdered Man Seen Kissing His Destroyer by a Truckman.

The attendance at the trial of Mrs. Fanny Hyde, the alleged murderess of George W. Watson, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, Brooklyn, yesterday, was as great as upon Monday, and an increased interest was manifested in the proceedings.

The gallery and doors were crowded by people of all classes, and hundreds were unable to gain entrance to the court room.

The prisoner was conveyed to the Court House in a carriage before the opening of the Court. She was dressed the same as on Monday, and appeared as easy in her manner.

Her husband, father and several ladies were seated by her during the proceedings.

Judge Tappan took his seat on the bench at ten o'clock, and was followed by Associate Justices Voorhees and Johnson.

The post-mortem examination. Dr. Joseph Cremer, one of the police surgeons, who made a post-mortem examination of Watson's body, testified that he found abrasions on the face and a portion of the skin removed from the left eye.

There was an incised wound on the top of the head about an inch and a quarter in length and a bullet wound on the right side of the neck to which the coroner had attached a certificate of death.

The cross-examination. Mr. Dagley identified the picture shown as that of the deceased.

Q. It did not occur to you at that time that the throwing of this bouquet was an act of insanity? A. No, sir.

Q. What did she do with the bouquet? A. She indicated it up.

Q. Did you see her do anything there that indicated insanity? A. No, sir.

Q. Did your examination develop whether the ball came in contact with anything which turned it from its course? A. No, sir.

Q. Did you see anything that would lead you to believe that the person having such a wound would live a few minutes? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Were you calm and collected? A. Remarkably so.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

WATSON'S TRIAL.

Third Day's Proceedings in the Trial of the Alleged Murderess of George W. Watson.

TEMPORARY INSANITY THE DEFENCE.

Judge Tappan Refuses to Take the Case from the Jury.

Watson Seeking His Own Death—Fanny at Sunday School—A Host of Witnesses Giving Her an Excellent Character—An Incident of an Exhibition—Watson Throwing a Bouquet at the Girl in Church—His Conduct to Her in the Factory—Skylarking with the Girls in Merrill's Building—The Murdered Man Seen Kissing His Destroyer by a Truckman.

The attendance at the trial of Mrs. Fanny Hyde, the alleged murderess of George W. Watson, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, Brooklyn, yesterday, was as great as upon Monday, and an increased interest was manifested in the proceedings.

The gallery and doors were crowded by people of all classes, and hundreds were unable to gain entrance to the court room.

The prisoner was conveyed to the Court House in a carriage before the opening of the Court. She was dressed the same as on Monday, and appeared as easy in her manner.

Her husband, father and several ladies were seated by her during the proceedings.

Judge Tappan took his seat on the bench at ten o'clock, and was followed by Associate Justices Voorhees and Johnson.

The post-mortem examination. Dr. Joseph Cremer, one of the police surgeons, who made a post-mortem examination of Watson's body, testified that he found abrasions on the face and a portion of the skin removed from the left eye.

There was an incised wound on the top of the head about an inch and a quarter in length and a bullet wound on the right side of the neck to which the coroner had attached a certificate of death.

The cross-examination. Mr. Dagley identified the picture shown as that of the deceased.

Q. It did not occur to you at that time that the throwing of this bouquet was an act of insanity? A. No, sir.

Q. What did she do with the bouquet? A. She indicated it up.

Q. Did you see her do anything there that indicated insanity? A. No, sir.

Q. Did your examination develop whether the ball came in contact with anything which turned it from its course? A. No, sir.

Q. Did you see anything that would lead you to believe that the person having such a wound would live a few minutes? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Were you calm and collected? A. Remarkably so.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Don't you think you were a little excited? A. Yes, sir.

Vertical text on the far left margin, likely a page number or date indicator.

Vertical text on the far right margin, likely a page number or date indicator.