

HEAVY DECLINE IN STOCKS.

GOLD UP TO 114.

GOVERNMENT BONDS ADVANCED.

EASY MONEY MARKET.

WALL STREET, Monday, May 6-6 P. M.

The rise in flour and grain which occurred the first part of last week in the West has finally reached this market, and prices for flour are five to ten cents better, and wheat has advanced about two cents per bushel. Cotton remains inactive, former prices being with difficulty sustained.

The gold market was strong to-day, owing to the unsettled condition of the Alabama claims question. There was no excitement, however, and no extraordinary movement took place. The premium opened at 113 3/4 and touched 114 at various times during the day, but could not be made to hold at that figure.

MONEY MARKET.

The market was easy and borrowers could get all the accommodations they required at six and seven per cent, and many availed themselves of the generosity of lenders in order to carry over stocks which were heavily down.

THE STOCK LIST.

Stocks have no experienced such a decided depression in many days. All the active shares sympathized with the bear feeling from the start; and their downward course, although gradual, was steady from the opening to the close. New York Central and Hudson River commenced at 98 1/2 and declined to 96 1/2; Erie opened at 67 and fell to 65 1/2; Pacific Mail started at 75 and went down to 72 1/2; Western Union was bid off at 76 1/2 in the morning and sold down as low as 74 1/2, and so on through the entire list, as will be seen more in detail in the table of the opening and closing prices, which we give below:

Table of stock prices including columns for Opening, Closing, High, and Low prices for various stocks like New York Central, Erie, Pacific Mail, etc.

UNITED STATES BONDS.

Table of government bond prices for various terms like 1881, 1882, 1883, etc.

The upward tendency of the gold premium caused governments to strike a fraction in advance of Saturday's quotations. The fives of 1881 and the fifties of 1882 and 1884, in the first column of the above table, are quoted ex coupon.

There is no change in foreign exchange, sixty-day prime sterling bills being sold at 109 1/2, and short sights at 110 1/2.

OUR FOREIGN INDEBTEDNESS.

The question as to the amount of our foreign indebtedness and the annual burden of the interest charge is one which often excites attention, and is made the basis of many arguments in regard to our fiscal policy. In the last report of D. A. Wells, Special Commissioner of the Revenue (1869), our foreign debt was thus estimated:—

REAL ESTATE MATTERS.

The week opens favorably in suburban property, and a number of large and very attractive sales are advertised to come off during the month. To-day a very valuable piece of property on the Hudson River, between 135th and 137th streets, comprising about eighty city lots and a mansion and outbuildings, is to be sold by the late E. C. Messrs. A. J. Bleeker, Son & Co. For magnificence of prospect and in all its surroundings this portion of the Hudson River is unequalled. It is situated on a high point, and is surrounded by a beautiful view of the city and the river.

of our exports, as above shown, will fully offset an additional advance of ten per cent. It is often claimed that a large sum should be added to the adverse balance of trade, as exhibited upon the merchandise statement, for the freight paid to foreign owners, who do most of the ocean transportation. In the absence of correct data in regard to the total value of freight on imports, the Chief of the Bureau of Statistics has estimated the amount to be eight per cent on the declared value of the merchandise, and about eight per cent of the whole was carried to foreign ships. The amount amounts to $109,000,000.

Another item often added to our supposed foreign debt is the amount of our foreign debt, as shown on the balance sheet of the Treasury. This debt is estimated at $1,000,000,000. Conolly, actor and member of the Bowery Theatre company, in the 54th year of his age. Farwell, dead, mother, then last left us. Here they lay we deeply lie. But 'tis God that has bereft us. We can all but bury them together. Beneath the green sward, with our father, sweetly slumber, side by side. Here they lie, and here they rest, Through this world of strife their Orphan children to guide. Relatives, friends and members of the charitable profession are respectfully invited to attend the funeral, from her late residence, No. 8 Elizabeth street, on Wednesday, May 8, at two o'clock P. M.
