The Great Anglo-German Polo Match at Berlin.

Successful Debut of an American Prima Donna at Covent Garden Last Night.

[SPECIAL DESPATCH TO THE HERALD BY CABLE.]

LONDON, April 15, 1876. The Oriental spectre which has been abroad during the week has been making general havoc on the European Bourse.

AUSTRIA'S WARNING AN INSULT TO RUSSIA.

The attitude of the Herzegovinian insurgents causes much alarm in political circles. General Rodich, Governor of Dalmatia and Austrian Commissioner, having failed in mediating between the Turks and the insurgents, has warned the latter against expecting any support from Russia, whereupon the Russian press turns upon him and angrily construes the warning as an insult to Russia.

THE CZAR'S THREATENED ABDICATION.

This growing antagonism between these two great Powers sufficiently explains the agitation on the various Bourses. And when we consider by the light of recent events the fact that the Czar has declared whenever Russian interests demand war with the great Powers he will abdicate the throne, there is a still further cause for anxiety.

TURKEY'S THREAT TO ARM THE MOHAMMEDANS.

The Herald correspondent at Vienna telegraphs to-night that he has received reliable advices from Constantinople to the effect that the Sublime Porte intends, if driven to extremes, to arm the Mohammedan population, and declare it their determination to postpone all payments of interest on debts until after the restoration of peace.

JOHN BULL IN EGYPT.

It is almost impossible to unravel the skein of Egyptian finance, but it is certain that the Khedive means to remain master in his own house. So England, viewing the failure of the Franco-Italian negotiations, is now drawing a breath of relief and chucking over the fiasco.

GREAT FALL IN EUROPEAN SECURITIES.

This has been a week of terrible uneasiness on the London Exchange. The settlements necessary before the Easter holidays have restricted business, but have not prevented a heavy fall in nearly all kinds of foreign securities.

AMERICAN SHARES AND BONDS.

Investors evince great timidity. American stocks are the chief feature of the market. There was a slight fall in Erie Railway shares; otherwise our general securities remained firm.

EASTER HOLIDAYS.

It being Easter, the whole country seems to be holiday making. Thousands of "country cousins" have invaded London, while the everyday Londoner, in accordance with his usual custom, has left the city smoke and dust for the pure air of the country and seashore.

THE NATIONAL VOLUNTEER REVIEW.

One of the principal features of outdoor amusement on Monday will be the annual volunteer review, which this year is to take place at Brownlow Park, Berkhamstead.

THE BERLIN MATCH.

Speaking of polo, I am reminded that the Berlin match, which was reported to have been abandoned, is now reaffirmed and will certainly come off. It seems that some few newspapers attempted to throw cold water on the proposed match, owing, they stated, to the inability of the people on the Continent to understand English field sports.

THIRTY-THREE ENGLISH OFFICERS TO PARTICIPATE.

The Court Journal of to-day says, however, that all the necessary arrangements have been completed, and that thirty-eight poloists will leave for Germany travelling by special trains, &c., the whole distance.

GERMAN OFFICERS LEARNING THE GAME.

The Germans are evidently deeply interested, for we learn that the army officers at Berlin are very busy learning the game.

A MATCH FOR ALL NATIONS.

Moreover, next year a German team is to visit England and compete in a match which is to be open to the army officers of all nations.

THEATRICAL NOVELTIES FOR EASTER.

Easter always marks the production of numerous theatrical novelties. To-night Offenbach's "Yoyage to the Moon" is to be given at the Alhambra.

GREAT SUCCESS OF AN AMERICAN DEBUTANTE AT COVENT GARDEN.

was the debut of Miss Rosabella (Miss Blanche Tucker), an American, at Covent Garden to-night as Violetta in "La Traviata." It was a great and pronounced success. It was considered rather daring of our fair young country woman to make her debut in a rôle in which Patti has so long sung supreme, and that, too, in this very theatre. Rosabella's self-possession, that peculiar characteristic of the American girl, on her first appearance was most remarkable, and appeared to gain for her immediately the kindly sympathies of the fashionable and well filled house.

HER FIRST APPLAUSE.

Immediately she invested herself with much of the sang froid of an accomplished actress. At first her voice betrayed all the nervousness usual with a debutante, but she soon recovered, and toward the end of the first act the scelta quality of her voice was apparent, and she was called before the curtain to receive genuine, sympathetic applause from the entire audience, accompanied with numerous floral tributes.

THE DRINKING SONG, "LIBAIAMO," was well timed over, but the aria, "Ah, fors e lui," and the rest of the trying scene of the first act were wonderfully executed, considering her youth and inexperience. During the celebrated duet, "Parigi O Cara," though her voice was fair, the fair debutante showed some signs of weakness, but the last scene she acted after the manner of an accomplished prima donna. Then she was again called before the curtain to receive additional and well deserved applause.

HER MANY FRIENDS AT HOME.

will be glad to learn that her success was a very genuine one. She will repeat the rôle again on Tuesday next. She is also studying the rôle of Venus in "Tannhauser." Rosabella is the first native born American that has ever made a debut at Covent Garden.

I hear that another American, Mary Kemble, will play here on the 26th inst., in the character of Volante in the "Honey-moon," at the Gaiety, to Genevieve Ward's Julius.

REPUBLICAN SUCCESS.

Eleven Bonapartist Prefects have received their walking papers and hence it may be concluded that the republican prospects are growing brighter for a realization of the success they have won at the polls.

THE BRITISH CENTENNIAL CATALOGUE.

The catalogue of the British section at the Exhibition at Philadelphia is completed and is now being printed for distribution.

THE AMERICAN HORSES.

Preakness is expected to run for the free handicap on Thursday. His weight is 128 pounds. He will give twenty-four pounds to the horse which was second in the last Two Thousand event. The latter has done fairly just lately.

SCRATCHED.

Bay Eagle is much out of condition. He has been scratched for the Derby, the Breyty Plate at Newmarket and the Prince of Wales Stakes at Epsom.

THE GALLOPS.

Mate, Bay Final and Preakness are progressing satisfactorily. Each galloped two miles to-day.

A SEVERE FALL.

Lord Marcus Beresford sustained a severe fall when steeplechasing on Saturday, but is recovering.

TO TRAIN AS A PEDESTRIAN.

His Lordship will probably be soon going to train for the walking match against Lord Charles Kerr for $5,000.

THE JOCKEY CLUB RACING LAWS.

There will be a meeting of the Jockey Club at Newmarket on Wednesday, when alterations in the racing laws will be moved by Mr. Chaplin, whose term of office expires at the same time.

STEELCHASERS FOR SALE.

Mr. Baltazzi's valuable stud of steelchasing will be sold at auction on May 3.

RAILROAD FREIGHTS.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 15, 1876. At a meeting of the managers of the pool last evening the committee appointed to make a table of distances for Eastern rates made a report, which was adopted. The committee reported that they were unable to devise any plan by which uniform rates could be maintained, and, therefore, did not recommend any. This decision was reached in consequence of the fact that the Grand Trunk Railroad would act independently of the pool. A new classification of freights was also arranged. Most of the articles recently placed in the special class were put back in the fourth class. Beyond this no important changes were made.

FLOODS IN NORTHERN MICHIGAN.

DETROIT, April 15, 1876. For the past three days rain has fallen almost incessantly in the northern part of Michigan, and the country contiguous to the Tittabawassee, Chippewa and Saginaw rivers is inundated. Railroad travel is interrupted, and much property of various kinds, including dwellings and barns, has floated off.

MIDNIGHT WEATHER REPORT.

[SPECIAL DESPATCH TO THE HERALD BY CABLE.]

HERALD BUREAU, No. 61 AVENUE DE L'OPERA, PARIS, APRIL 15, 1876.

It now seems probable that the Champ de Mars will be definitely chosen as the site of the Universal Exhibition of 1878. It was there the one of 1867 stood. It is to be hoped that we shall not have such a gasometer as the building of the 1867 exhibition to gaze on for a whole year.

General Changarnier is very ill. The old dandy receives his intimates in a flowered bedgown.

REPUBLICAN SUCCESS.

Eleven Bonapartist Prefects have received their walking papers and hence it may be concluded that the republican prospects are growing brighter for a realization of the success they have won at the polls.

IMPERIAL FAMILY AFFAIRS.

The Czar Alexander and the Czarovitch Alexander Alexandrovich, are reported not to be on good terms just now. The difference between the pro-Germanism of the Czar and the Nationalism of his son, is said to be at the bottom of the family quarrel.

GREEK MODELS.

Greece is now edifying Europe with State and Church scandal. It makes irreverent Parisians chuckle to think of an archbishop being fined for corruption.

THE EAST.

Nothing, it is thought here, can now prevent the Danubian provinces from joining in the revolt against Turkey. The state of Egypt is probably worse than that of Turkey.

THE MOHAMMEDAN RULERS.

The picture given to the world by the rulers of the Musulmans is not very pleasant to look upon. Abdul Aziz, the Sultan, has become sulky and apathetic in face of the insolvency which impends over him. The Khedive is suspected of stock jobbing. In these days, when everybody is suspected of something, perhaps this will not be looked on as a grievous fault, but its effect on Egyptian finance is likely to be bad.

PARLIAMENTARY HOLIDAYS.

All over Europe, and wherever they possess the article, Parliaments have taken holidays for the Easter-tide, and this makes a not undesirable lull in the rush and whirl of legislation.

A NEW OPERA.

M. Serpette's new opera, "Le Moulin Vert," was produced at the Bouffes Parisiennes on Thursday last. It treats of the gallant epoch of Louis Quinze. The plot is woven out of a court intrigue involving Mme. de Pompadour. The opera is full of charming melodies and has proved an unequivocal success.

ARRAH NA POGUE IN FRENCH.

On the same night the French version of "Arrah na Pogue," entitled "Jean la Poste," was produced at the Porte St. Martin. This version was first brought out in Paris in 1868 at the Gaité, where it had quite a run. The translation is clever, many of even the verbal jokes being preserved with considerable ingenuity. In the trial scene, for instance, where, in the original, Shaun is asked if his name is not the Irish for John, he replies, "No, John is the English for Shaun." In the translation he is asked if "Jean is not the Irish (J) for John," which produces a laugh. Though produced under the superintendence of Boucaults the piece is sadly deficient in local color, but it has been fairly successful nevertheless.

"PICCOLINO."

Gounod's new opera, "Piccolino," is having a great success at the Opéra Comique, particularly since the libretto has been retrenched. The music is original and sparkling and the scenery splendid.

MARLESON'S PRIZE.

Colonel Marleson has secured Mlle. Fechter for his American troupe, which is to go out in the fall.

A REMINISCENCE OF MR. STEWART.

Bouffereaux's large picture, which was ordered by Mr. A. T. Stewart, is half finished. The news of the death of the great merchant, who was so liberal a patron of the arts, has caused general mourning among the Paris studios.

GREMOE.

Gérôme, the painter, has gone to Constantinople, on the invitation of the Sultan. He is a good-looking fellow, and had better keep away from the dangers of the seraglio.

RINKING.

The rink fever is spreading rapidly in Paris. Three or four new skating establishments are projected.
