

Continuation of the Investigation of the Ring Frauds. MR. SCHULTZ IN SELF-DEFENCE He Holds the Money for the Owner, Whether Keyser or the City.

The investigation by the Aldermanic Committee of the Ring frauds was resumed yesterday morning at eleven o'clock, in the chamber of the Board of Aldermen. Mr. Peter B. Sweeney had been subpoenaed to appear, but he was not present.

After the investigating Committee and their counsel, Mr. Cole, had taken their places Mr. John McKeon, representing Mr. Peter B. Sweeney, rose and said that he wished to make a protest in the name of his client.

Mr. Sweeney, under our advice, trusted to the assurance it gave, and has been since then, and still is, engaged in endeavoring to get the money out of the hands of the city.

With becoming respect for your honorable body, we think that it would be proper to have some of the people to whom the money was loaned to appear before you.

Mr. Sweeney, under our advice, trusted to the assurance it gave, and has been since then, and still is, engaged in endeavoring to get the money out of the hands of the city.

Mr. Sweeney, under our advice, trusted to the assurance it gave, and has been since then, and still is, engaged in endeavoring to get the money out of the hands of the city.

Mr. Sweeney, under our advice, trusted to the assurance it gave, and has been since then, and still is, engaged in endeavoring to get the money out of the hands of the city.

Mr. Sweeney, under our advice, trusted to the assurance it gave, and has been since then, and still is, engaged in endeavoring to get the money out of the hands of the city.

Mr. Sweeney, under our advice, trusted to the assurance it gave, and has been since then, and still is, engaged in endeavoring to get the money out of the hands of the city.

Mr. Sweeney, under our advice, trusted to the assurance it gave, and has been since then, and still is, engaged in endeavoring to get the money out of the hands of the city.

Mr. Sweeney, under our advice, trusted to the assurance it gave, and has been since then, and still is, engaged in endeavoring to get the money out of the hands of the city.

Mr. Sweeney, under our advice, trusted to the assurance it gave, and has been since then, and still is, engaged in endeavoring to get the money out of the hands of the city.

Mr. Sweeney, under our advice, trusted to the assurance it gave, and has been since then, and still is, engaged in endeavoring to get the money out of the hands of the city.

Mr. Sweeney, under our advice, trusted to the assurance it gave, and has been since then, and still is, engaged in endeavoring to get the money out of the hands of the city.

Mr. Sweeney, under our advice, trusted to the assurance it gave, and has been since then, and still is, engaged in endeavoring to get the money out of the hands of the city.

Mr. Sweeney, under our advice, trusted to the assurance it gave, and has been since then, and still is, engaged in endeavoring to get the money out of the hands of the city.

about it; I spoke to General Barlow about this, and he said the only way I could relieve myself of the matter was by going before the Supreme Court or a Justice of the Peace.

Q. Was the trust fund intact at that time? A. Well, I commenced losing Mr. Keyser's money April 22, 1877, the last money received on September 28, 1877.

Q. What business did you have with the money? A. (Hesitating) Yes, sir; yes, sir; that is true.

Q. Proceed with your statement. A. General Barlow was very kind, and he gave me a copy of the bill—no, I mean to say that I required that letter to inform me—

Q. What is your status now with relation to this money? A. My status is that I am a trustee, and it is my duty to find out who owns the money, Keyser or the city.

Q. In effect, then, you still hold that fund in trust? A. Yes, sir, I do.

Q. And if on a fair accounting with the city that money should be paid to the city? A. Certainly, sir, Mr. Schultz then repeated the list of amounts as read by General Barlow on a previous day.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

EBON MITES. THE COLORED BARRERS OF GOTHAM TO HOLD A LEVEE AT GILMORE'S GARDEN.

Sullivan, Thompson and Weaver streets were in a state of excitement yesterday. On inquiring of one of the aged "antiques" in Thompson street the cause of this commotion the reporter was answered "Why, they are having a levee."

Q. What business did you have with the money? A. (Hesitating) Yes, sir; yes, sir; that is true.

Q. Proceed with your statement. A. General Barlow was very kind, and he gave me a copy of the bill—no, I mean to say that I required that letter to inform me—

Q. What is your status now with relation to this money? A. My status is that I am a trustee, and it is my duty to find out who owns the money, Keyser or the city.

Q. In effect, then, you still hold that fund in trust? A. Yes, sir, I do.

Q. And if on a fair accounting with the city that money should be paid to the city? A. Certainly, sir, Mr. Schultz then repeated the list of amounts as read by General Barlow on a previous day.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Sad Family Complications Given Publicity in the Courts. A PRIMA DONNA IN THE CASE A Mother's Accusations and a Son's Refutations.

Family complications which otherwise never would have become known to the public unhappily did find a quiet and peaceful publicity through involving the courts as the arbiter of real or imaginary wrongs.

Q. What business did you have with the money? A. (Hesitating) Yes, sir; yes, sir; that is true.

Q. Proceed with your statement. A. General Barlow was very kind, and he gave me a copy of the bill—no, I mean to say that I required that letter to inform me—

Q. What is your status now with relation to this money? A. My status is that I am a trustee, and it is my duty to find out who owns the money, Keyser or the city.

Q. In effect, then, you still hold that fund in trust? A. Yes, sir, I do.

Q. And if on a fair accounting with the city that money should be paid to the city? A. Certainly, sir, Mr. Schultz then repeated the list of amounts as read by General Barlow on a previous day.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

in front of the house. The men then ceased their assault upon the women and commenced their assault upon the property.

Q. What business did you have with the money? A. (Hesitating) Yes, sir; yes, sir; that is true.

Q. Proceed with your statement. A. General Barlow was very kind, and he gave me a copy of the bill—no, I mean to say that I required that letter to inform me—

Q. What is your status now with relation to this money? A. My status is that I am a trustee, and it is my duty to find out who owns the money, Keyser or the city.

Q. In effect, then, you still hold that fund in trust? A. Yes, sir, I do.

Q. And if on a fair accounting with the city that money should be paid to the city? A. Certainly, sir, Mr. Schultz then repeated the list of amounts as read by General Barlow on a previous day.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

THE EXCISE WAR. Commissioners' Views of License Fees. HOW THEY ARE DISPOSED OF. More Police Instructions About the Sunday Traffic.

In the last phase of the excise war the Commissioners seemed to have been placed at a serious disadvantage. Recorder Hackett stated in the Court of General Sessions on Tuesday that—

Q. What business did you have with the money? A. (Hesitating) Yes, sir; yes, sir; that is true.

Q. Proceed with your statement. A. General Barlow was very kind, and he gave me a copy of the bill—no, I mean to say that I required that letter to inform me—

Q. What is your status now with relation to this money? A. My status is that I am a trustee, and it is my duty to find out who owns the money, Keyser or the city.

Q. In effect, then, you still hold that fund in trust? A. Yes, sir, I do.

Q. And if on a fair accounting with the city that money should be paid to the city? A. Certainly, sir, Mr. Schultz then repeated the list of amounts as read by General Barlow on a previous day.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you consider these claims to be his only available property? A. Yes, sir.