

Second Extra Day of the Fall Meeting. FINE RACING AND FAVORITES BEATEN. Buckshot, Ella Rowett, Ben Hill and Victim the Winners.

BY TELEGRAPH TO THE HERALD. LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 29, 1879. The Jockey Club continued the racing meeting today with four events. The weather was warm and pleasant, though threatening and cloudy, the track very fast and the attendance very light. A dash of one mile for an agreed sweepstake of $75, the first event, was won by Scott Farrin's bay colt Buckshot very handsomely.

ONE MILE—THREE-YEAR-OLDS. An agreed sweepstake of $25 each, play or pay, for three-year-olds, each of one mile, opened the sport. Three started, these being Scott Farrin's Buckshot, by Buckshot; Sam Bryan's Mayfield, by Monarch; and Charles Hess's Mollie Hart, by Bonnie Scotland. Buckshot sold for $140 in the pool, while the others as a field brought $60. The start was excellent, Mayfield jumping away in front, Mollie Hart second, Buckshot third. Mollie Hart took the lead on the turn and opened a gap of two lengths at the quarter pole, with Buckshot second, four lengths in front of Mayfield. Buckshot gained on Mollie Hart to the half-mile pole, lapped her on the lower turn, and entered the stretch in front of her.

THE IRISH CRICKETERS. THREE MOVEMENTS IN PHILADELPHIA—THE MATCH WITH THE MERCEN CLUB. PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 29, 1879. The Irish cricketers are having a very good time in this city and do not have many spare hours on their hands. They have been driving all round the city to-day and were photographed at an establishment in Arch street. In the afternoon some went to Ardmore, where they are to play to-morrow, and Sir George Colthurst and half a dozen others passed the afternoon at Stenton, the grounds of the Young America club, where they will attend a reception at the residence of Mrs. Casatt.

BASEBALL. A FINE VICTORY FOR THE JERSEY CITY. There were nearly a thousand spectators assembled at the Jersey City ground yesterday afternoon to witness the National Association game between the Jersey City club and the Worcester club. The game was opened in the style, neither club being able to score until the fourth inning, when the Jersey City, by tremendous batting, made two runs, and the Worcester club also made two runs, and with the assistance of a daring base running and an error, the first in the game, they succeeded in adding three more runs to their score, and Jersey City was victorious, and had hitting gave the Jersey another earned run in the seventh inning, up to which time the Worcester club had scored only one run.

CREEDMOOR. The monthly programme of the National Rifle Association contains a list of twelve matches that are to be shot at Creedmoor during October. These are: Wednesday, 1st, short range Remington rifle match; Saturday, 4th, Remington long range $300 gold prize match; on the afternoon of the same day the same match with the same rifle; Wednesday, 15th, the Remington shotgun match; Saturday, 18th, Champion Marksman's badge match of 1879; Wednesday, 22d, the Secretary's match; Saturday, 26th, Copperwait and Remington matches, and Wednesday, 29th, the Alford match.

SHOOTING AT BRINTON. The second annual fall prize meeting of the New Jersey State Rifle Association begins to-day at Brinton, and will continue till October 4. The programme contains eleven events that are of considerable interest to both military and small bore riflemen. The programme is as follows: Monday, 1st, $100 prize match for marksmanship to the value of $1,100. THE SCHAEFER-SLOSSON MATCH. The billiard match between Messrs. Jacob Schaefer, of Chicago, and George F. Slosson, of this city, has now been definitely arranged. The principals and their respective friends met, according to appointment, at the Union Squares Rooms yesterday, when articles of agreement were drawn and signed. It was decided that Mr. A. L. Ashman, of the Sinclair House, should be the final stakeholder, and that the forfeit money, $1,000 each, deposited by Messrs. Slosson and Schaefer at the Casino office, be deposited in Mr. Ashman's hands immediately. The stake of $1,000 each is to be put up ten days before the match is to be played, and the start of the match shall come off during the last week in October and at some suitable hour not yet fixed upon. The game will occupy three nights, the number of points to be played in each match to be decided each night—the winner to take the stakes and the gate money, over expenses. The parties are to meet again on next Thursday to vote for choice of table and arrange all the minor details.

YACHTING NOTE. Schooner Intrepid, N.Y.C.M. Reg. Lloyd Phelps, from the eastward, passed the Herald's Telegraph Station at Whitestone, L.I., yesterday forenoon, en route to New York.

SPORTING NOTES. At Orilla, Ont. yesterday, Fred A. Plasted, of New York, defeated Jack Gaudaur in a three-mile sailing match for $250. Time, 21m. 20s. A. C. Granger and William J. Davis shot a pigeon race at Orilla, Ont. yesterday. The course was 200 yards, and Granger, Long Island rules, 25 yards rise. Granger killed 21 and Davis 19. James Pilkington, of the Sewanhaka Boat Club, and George Gales, of the same club, will row a single scull race on the Harlem this afternoon at four o'clock. The distance will be one mile and a half, the prize $100. The start will be at 3 o'clock, and the race will be on a straight course, the course being up stream.

BOATING AT YALE. THE WALKERS' WINDINGS. Disposal and Division of the Money. ROWELLS' SNUG FORTUNE. Weston's Financial Troubles and How They Contributed to His Defeat.

THE BOARD OF MANAGERS of the great walking match were in session at the Madison square Garden all day yesterday, as they had been on the day before, trying to divide in just proportions the $73,923 which came in at the box office during the walk. If reportorial patience was overstrained before the contest commenced in trying to decipher the intended arrangements it has been almost equally taxed in waiting for information as to what the final disposition of things should be. Mr. Atkinson, Mr. Hess and a representative of each walker were in caucus yesterday, beginning at eleven o'clock. The Garden was then being put in shape for the Workingmen's annual games, that opened later in the afternoon. An agent of Mr. Vanderbilt put in a claim, it was said, for damages incurred by the building during the walk. One of the Kuntz brothers informed the Herald reporter that his firm was responsible for all such damages, but afterward $250 were appropriated for the purpose of covering them. The Board of Managers figured and talked, and talked and figured, meanwhile ordering up continual relays of sandwiches and wine. Mr. Atkinson, who, as treasurer, sustained the greater burden of audit and apportionment, was called down in the early part of the meeting to make answer, it was said, to an attachment against the share of Edward Payson Weston. The same attachment seemed to give the managers a good deal of further trouble, and was said to have prevented the payment of bills in cash yesterday. Instead of that, the employes who gathered about the managers' office in the afternoon to the number of half a hundred or more, were given slips of paper containing the precise amount owing to each, which will be cashed to-day. The delay of payment caused not a little grumbling among doorknockers, ushers and others, who, however, did not complain of the amount that was not paid. The reporter inquired that the men on the average got $3 a day.

THE DIVISION OF THE MONEY. When the managers had figured away the whole afternoon they sat down to a supper and then ruminated their customary attitudes in the star chamber. Several of the walkers were about the premises and some went into the meeting, but they did not appear to know very much of what was going on, and, perhaps, were not so much interested as their representatives. The figures finally furnished to the press were as follows: Receipts for the walk... $73,923.25. All other expenses... 16,443.39. Leaving for division... $57,479.86. The walkers are to share the amount ($57,479.86) in the following proportion: Per Cent. Amount. Rowell... 50... $28,739.93. Hess... 25... $14,369.96. Atkinson... 10... $5,747.98. Kuntz... 10... $5,747.98. Payson Weston... 5... $2,873.99. The six young women, in fantastic costumes, started on a one-mile go-as-you-please, amid deafening cheers. In their anxiety to deserve so much applause they ran themselves out the first two laps, and were overtaken by the walk. The distance was accomplished amid an unearthly din, and Mr. Clark declared the walk a success.

FALL OF A BUILDING. SEVERAL PERSONS NARROWLY ESCAPE INSTEAD DEATH—AN EXCITING SCENE IN EAST SIXTIETH STREET. The too frequent recklessness displayed in the moving and raising of frame dwellings resulted yesterday afternoon in what came very near causing the death of a whole family and seriously injured the proprietor of the premises. The latter, Timothy Duggan, by name, resides at No. 410 East Sixtieth street. He owns a three-story frame building, which is located in the rear of his dwelling, which was occupied by three families. A Mrs. Mahony lived on the second floor, with her husband, John Mahony, and her children, John and Mary, with his wife and five children, resided on the third floor. For the last few weeks workmen have been employed raising the frame dwelling for the purpose of building a brick basement. The contractor, Mr. F. Chubburn, and his assistants had the house raised about eight feet. In this position it was supported on a number of beams and jacks while the workmen were pursuing their labors beneath. It appears that there had been some doubts about the security of the crippled structure, but no one supposed that such a sudden collapse would follow.

THE WALKERS. Early in the morning Mr. Brown was exercising on the track at the Garden, preparatory to his next week's effort for the O'Leary belt. Merritt stayed about the Garden part of the afternoon and saw the walking match. He said that he had seen the best five mile runner in England and had held the belt for nearly all the shorter distances. The walking match was reported to be a success. He said he shouldn't try any more walks. He was not fast enough. When the reporter asked him how long he should stay in New York he said he would stay for a week or two, and then he would go to the States for the fun of it. No. 5. Parshot, Krohn, Taylor and Ennis dropped into the Garden, the latter attending the meeting of managers.

THE O'LEARY WALK. The arrangements for the walking match for the O'Leary belt and the championship of America, which commences on the 6th of October, are in progress. Advertisements appear in to-day's Herald soliciting sealed bids for the inside privileges of the garden, such as the selling of lager beer, the restaurants and the cigar stand. It was decided that the walk should be held on the 6th of October, and all persons who wish to be supplied with as many tickets as possible may be deemed requisite, and one of these tickets will be dropped into a glass box, at each entrance to the Madison square Garden, at 11 o'clock after the manner of the "go-as-you-please" walk. This plan has been rendered necessary in consequence of the great absence of the privilege of badges during the international walk.

MR. O'HARA'S WILL. The attention of Surrogate Dalley, Kings county, was occupied yesterday forenoon in the examination of the contested will of Mrs. Mary O'Hara, Dr. Gishel Durant and John Brown, a colored servant, the last being the executor named in the will. The will was a large one, and the examination was adjourned until next Friday.

PEDESTRIANISM IN BALTIMORE. BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 29, 1879. A walking match of seventy-five hours, "Go as you please," was begun at the Academy of Music at ten minutes of eleven o'clock A. M. to-day, and will continue twelve and one-half hours daily for six days. The starters and the distance made at two o'clock were as follows, there being twenty-two laps to the mile: Napoleon Campana, Waterbury, Conn., 17 miles and 16 laps; John Hughes, New York, 21 miles and 3 laps; John P. Colston, New York, 17 miles and 11 laps; Samuel Collyer, New York, 16 miles and 8 laps; J. J. Jackson, New York, 17 miles and 12 laps; H. Leslie, New York, 15 miles and 8 laps; J. L. Downey, Brooklyn, N. Y., 20 miles and 1 lap; Henry Redding, Providence, R. I., 20 miles and 8 laps; J. W. Pierce, Cincinnati, 18 miles; Joseph Metzger, Philadelphia, 17 miles and 4 laps; J. G. Gilman, Lovantsown, Md., 18 miles and 19 laps; J. P. Mackay, Baltimore, 19 miles and 3 laps; J. J. French, Baltimore, 18 miles and 10 laps; J. J. Collier, Baltimore, 21 miles and 1 lap; E. Tracey, Baltimore, 20 miles and 10 laps; G. H. Maguire, Baltimore, 18 miles and 10 laps; J. W. McAndrews, Baltimore, 18 miles and 10 laps.

WORKINGMEN ATHLETES. MANLY GAMES AT MADISON SQUARE GARDEN—THE WINNERS AND THE EVENTS. The track on which was last week lost and won the Astley belt was yesterday given to youthful imitators of Rowell and Merritt. The games, which continued afternoon and evening, were intended for workingmen, rather than working boys, and were a grand success. The games were arranged for colored men and Chinese men, while female pedestrians had five distinct opportunities for reeling off the laps. All the inspiration that could be drawn from the famous six day contest was brought into requisition, even in the matter of music, the band playing over and over again the famous airs of last week. The effect was contagious upon the boys on the street, who resorted to all sorts of devices for getting admission. About 500 people were in the garden during the afternoon. Sports began at one o'clock and were not concluded until six. The figure of Captain Williams, father of "go-as-you-please" pedestrianism, joined up now and then upon the course. One hour's walk for those who had never beaten six and a half miles started the fun. There were eighteen entries, and after a hot trial J. P. Clarke, who looked well in a blue shirt and checked desperately on a tooth-pick as he travelled, came in a winner in 7m. 34s. When the crowd for "Clarke" had subsided it was discovered that Chris. Basherford had lapped second man.

THE WINNERS AND THE EVENTS. The Astley belt was yesterday given to youthful imitators of Rowell and Merritt. The games, which continued afternoon and evening, were intended for workingmen, rather than working boys, and were a grand success. The games were arranged for colored men and Chinese men, while female pedestrians had five distinct opportunities for reeling off the laps. All the inspiration that could be drawn from the famous six day contest was brought into requisition, even in the matter of music, the band playing over and over again the famous airs of last week. The effect was contagious upon the boys on the street, who resorted to all sorts of devices for getting admission. About 500 people were in the garden during the afternoon. Sports began at one o'clock and were not concluded until six. The figure of Captain Williams, father of "go-as-you-please" pedestrianism, joined up now and then upon the course. One hour's walk for those who had never beaten six and a half miles started the fun. There were eighteen entries, and after a hot trial J. P. Clarke, who looked well in a blue shirt and checked desperately on a tooth-pick as he travelled, came in a winner in 7m. 34s. When the crowd for "Clarke" had subsided it was discovered that Chris. Basherford had lapped second man.

THE WINNERS AND THE EVENTS. The Astley belt was yesterday given to youthful imitators of Rowell and Merritt. The games, which continued afternoon and evening, were intended for workingmen, rather than working boys, and were a grand success. The games were arranged for colored men and Chinese men, while female pedestrians had five distinct opportunities for reeling off the laps. All the inspiration that could be drawn from the famous six day contest was brought into requisition, even in the matter of music, the band playing over and over again the famous airs of last week. The effect was contagious upon the boys on the street, who resorted to all sorts of devices for getting admission. About 500 people were in the garden during the afternoon. Sports began at one o'clock and were not concluded until six. The figure of Captain Williams, father of "go-as-you-please" pedestrianism, joined up now and then upon the course. One hour's walk for those who had never beaten six and a half miles started the fun. There were eighteen entries, and after a hot trial J. P. Clarke, who looked well in a blue shirt and checked desperately on a tooth-pick as he travelled, came in a winner in 7m. 34s. When the crowd for "Clarke" had subsided it was discovered that Chris. Basherford had lapped second man.

THE WINNERS AND THE EVENTS. The Astley belt was yesterday given to youthful imitators of Rowell and Merritt. The games, which continued afternoon and evening, were intended for workingmen, rather than working boys, and were a grand success. The games were arranged for colored men and Chinese men, while female pedestrians had five distinct opportunities for reeling off the laps. All the inspiration that could be drawn from the famous six day contest was brought into requisition, even in the matter of music, the band playing over and over again the famous airs of last week. The effect was contagious upon the boys on the street, who resorted to all sorts of devices for getting admission. About 500 people were in the garden during the afternoon. Sports began at one o'clock and were not concluded until six. The figure of Captain Williams, father of "go-as-you-please" pedestrianism, joined up now and then upon the course. One hour's walk for those who had never beaten six and a half miles started the fun. There were eighteen entries, and after a hot trial J. P. Clarke, who looked well in a blue shirt and checked desperately on a tooth-pick as he travelled, came in a winner in 7m. 34s. When the crowd for "Clarke" had subsided it was discovered that Chris. Basherford had lapped second man.

THE WINNERS AND THE EVENTS. The Astley belt was yesterday given to youthful imitators of Rowell and Merritt. The games, which continued afternoon and evening, were intended for workingmen, rather than working boys, and were a grand success. The games were arranged for colored men and Chinese men, while female pedestrians had five distinct opportunities for reeling off the laps. All the inspiration that could be drawn from the famous six day contest was brought into requisition, even in the matter of music, the band playing over and over again the famous airs of last week. The effect was contagious upon the boys on the street, who resorted to all sorts of devices for getting admission. About 500 people were in the garden during the afternoon. Sports began at one o'clock and were not concluded until six. The figure of Captain Williams, father of "go-as-you-please" pedestrianism, joined up now and then upon the course. One hour's walk for those who had never beaten six and a half miles started the fun. There were eighteen entries, and after a hot trial J. P. Clarke, who looked well in a blue shirt and checked desperately on a tooth-pick as he travelled, came in a winner in 7m. 34s. When the crowd for "Clarke" had subsided it was discovered that Chris. Basherford had lapped second man.

THE WINNERS AND THE EVENTS. The Astley belt was yesterday given to youthful imitators of Rowell and Merritt. The games, which continued afternoon and evening, were intended for workingmen, rather than working boys, and were a grand success. The games were arranged for colored men and Chinese men, while female pedestrians had five distinct opportunities for reeling off the laps. All the inspiration that could be drawn from the famous six day contest was brought into requisition, even in the matter of music, the band playing over and over again the famous airs of last week. The effect was contagious upon the boys on the street, who resorted to all sorts of devices for getting admission. About 500 people were in the garden during the afternoon. Sports began at one o'clock and were not concluded until six. The figure of Captain Williams, father of "go-as-you-please" pedestrianism, joined up now and then upon the course. One hour's walk for those who had never beaten six and a half miles started the fun. There were eighteen entries, and after a hot trial J. P. Clarke, who looked well in a blue shirt and checked desperately on a tooth-pick as he travelled, came in a winner in 7m. 34s. When the crowd for "Clarke" had subsided it was discovered that Chris. Basherford had lapped second man.

THE WINNERS AND THE EVENTS. The Astley belt was yesterday given to youthful imitators of Rowell and Merritt. The games, which continued afternoon and evening, were intended for workingmen, rather than working boys, and were a grand success. The games were arranged for colored men and Chinese men, while female pedestrians had five distinct opportunities for reeling off the laps. All the inspiration that could be drawn from the famous six day contest was brought into requisition, even in the matter of music, the band playing over and over again the famous airs of last week. The effect was contagious upon the boys on the street, who resorted to all sorts of devices for getting admission. About 500 people were in the garden during the afternoon. Sports began at one o'clock and were not concluded until six. The figure of Captain Williams, father of "go-as-you-please" pedestrianism, joined up now and then upon the course. One hour's walk for those who had never beaten six and a half miles started the fun. There were eighteen entries, and after a hot trial J. P. Clarke, who looked well in a blue shirt and checked desperately on a tooth-pick as he travelled, came in a winner in 7m. 34s. When the crowd for "Clarke" had subsided it was discovered that Chris. Basherford had lapped second man.

THE WINNERS AND THE EVENTS. The Astley belt was yesterday given to youthful imitators of Rowell and Merritt. The games, which continued afternoon and evening, were intended for workingmen, rather than working boys, and were a grand success. The games were arranged for colored men and Chinese men, while female pedestrians had five distinct opportunities for reeling off the laps. All the inspiration that could be drawn from the famous six day contest was brought into requisition, even in the matter of music, the band playing over and over again the famous airs of last week. The effect was contagious upon the boys on the street, who resorted to all sorts of devices for getting admission. About 500 people were in the garden during the afternoon. Sports began at one o'clock and were not concluded until six. The figure of Captain Williams, father of "go-as-you-please" pedestrianism, joined up now and then upon the course. One hour's walk for those who had never beaten six and a half miles started the fun. There were eighteen entries, and after a hot trial J. P. Clarke, who looked well in a blue shirt and checked desperately on a tooth-pick as he travelled, came in a winner in 7m. 34s. When the crowd for "Clarke" had subsided it was discovered that Chris. Basherford had lapped second man.

THE WINNERS AND THE EVENTS. The Astley belt was yesterday given to youthful imitators of Rowell and Merritt. The games, which continued afternoon and evening, were intended for workingmen, rather than working boys, and were a grand success. The games were arranged for colored men and Chinese men, while female pedestrians had five distinct opportunities for reeling off the laps. All the inspiration that could be drawn from the famous six day contest was brought into requisition, even in the matter of music, the band playing over and over again the famous airs of last week. The effect was contagious upon the boys on the street, who resorted to all sorts of devices for getting admission. About 500 people were in the garden during the afternoon. Sports began at one o'clock and were not concluded until six. The figure of Captain Williams, father of "go-as-you-please" pedestrianism, joined up now and then upon the course. One hour's walk for those who had never beaten six and a half miles started the fun. There were eighteen entries, and after a hot trial J. P. Clarke, who looked well in a blue shirt and checked desperately on a tooth-pick as he travelled, came in a winner in 7m. 34s. When the crowd for "Clarke" had subsided it was discovered that Chris. Basherford had lapped second man.

THE WINNERS AND THE EVENTS. The Astley belt was yesterday given to youthful imitators of Rowell and Merritt. The games, which continued afternoon and evening, were intended for workingmen, rather than working boys, and were a grand success. The games were arranged for colored men and Chinese men, while female pedestrians had five distinct opportunities for reeling off the laps. All the inspiration that could be drawn from the famous six day contest was brought into requisition, even in the matter of music, the band playing over and over again the famous airs of last week. The effect was contagious upon the boys on the street, who resorted to all sorts of devices for getting admission. About 500 people were in the garden during the afternoon. Sports began at one o'clock and were not concluded until six. The figure of Captain Williams, father of "go-as-you-please" pedestrianism, joined up now and then upon the course. One hour's walk for those who had never beaten six and a half miles started the fun. There were eighteen entries, and after a hot trial J. P. Clarke, who looked well in a blue shirt and checked desperately on a tooth-pick as he travelled, came in a winner in 7m. 34s. When the crowd for "Clarke" had subsided it was discovered that Chris. Basherford had lapped second man.

THE WINNERS AND THE EVENTS. The Astley belt was yesterday given to youthful imitators of Rowell and Merritt. The games, which continued afternoon and evening, were intended for workingmen, rather than working boys, and were a grand success. The games were arranged for colored men and Chinese men, while female pedestrians had five distinct opportunities for reeling off the laps. All the inspiration that could be drawn from the famous six day contest was brought into requisition, even in the matter of music, the band playing over and over again the famous airs of last week. The effect was contagious upon the boys on the street, who resorted to all sorts of devices for getting admission. About 500 people were in the garden during the afternoon. Sports began at one o'clock and were not concluded until six. The figure of Captain Williams, father of "go-as-you-please" pedestrianism, joined up now and then upon the course. One hour's walk for those who had never beaten six and a half miles started the fun. There were eighteen entries, and after a hot trial J. P. Clarke, who looked well in a blue shirt and checked desperately on a tooth-pick as he travelled, came in a winner in 7m. 34s. When the crowd for "Clarke" had subsided it was discovered that Chris. Basherford had lapped second man.

THE WINNERS AND THE EVENTS. The Astley belt was yesterday given to youthful imitators of Rowell and Merritt. The games, which continued afternoon and evening, were intended for workingmen, rather than working boys, and were a grand success. The games were arranged for colored men and Chinese men, while female pedestrians had five distinct opportunities for reeling off the laps. All the inspiration that could be drawn from the famous six day contest was brought into requisition, even in the matter of music, the band playing over and over again the famous airs of last week. The effect was contagious upon the boys on the street, who resorted to all sorts of devices for getting admission. About 500 people were in the garden during the afternoon. Sports began at one o'clock and were not concluded until six. The figure of Captain Williams, father of "go-as-you-please" pedestrianism, joined up now and then upon the course. One hour's walk for those who had never beaten six and a half miles started the fun. There were eighteen entries, and after a hot trial J. P. Clarke, who looked well in a blue shirt and checked desperately on a tooth-pick as he travelled, came in a winner in 7m. 34s. When the crowd for "Clarke" had subsided it was discovered that Chris. Basherford had lapped second man.

THE WINNERS AND THE EVENTS. The Astley belt was yesterday given to youthful imitators of Rowell and Merritt. The games, which continued afternoon and evening, were intended for workingmen, rather than working boys, and were a grand success. The games were arranged for colored men and Chinese men, while female pedestrians had five distinct opportunities for reeling off the laps. All the inspiration that could be drawn from the famous six day contest was brought into requisition, even in the matter of music, the band playing over and over again the famous airs of last week. The effect was contagious upon the boys on the street, who resorted to all sorts of devices for getting admission. About 500 people were in the garden during the afternoon. Sports began at one o'clock and were not concluded until six. The figure of Captain Williams, father of "go-as-you-please" pedestrianism, joined up now and then upon the course. One hour's walk for those who had never beaten six and a half miles started the fun. There were eighteen entries, and after a hot trial J. P. Clarke, who looked well in a blue shirt and checked desperately on a tooth-pick as he travelled, came in a winner in 7m. 34s. When the crowd for "Clarke" had subsided it was discovered that Chris. Basherford had lapped second man.

THE WINNERS AND THE EVENTS. The Astley belt was yesterday given to youthful imitators of Rowell and Merritt. The games, which continued afternoon and evening, were intended for workingmen, rather than working boys, and were a grand success. The games were arranged for colored men and Chinese men, while female pedestrians had five distinct opportunities for reeling off the laps. All the inspiration that could be drawn from the famous six day contest was brought into requisition, even in the matter of music, the band playing over and over again the famous airs of last week. The effect was contagious upon the boys on the street, who resorted to all sorts of devices for getting admission. About 500 people were in the garden during the afternoon. Sports began at one o'clock and were not concluded until six. The figure of Captain Williams, father of "go-as-you-please" pedestrianism, joined up now and then upon the course. One hour's walk for those who had never beaten six and a half miles started the fun. There were eighteen entries, and after a hot trial J. P. Clarke, who looked well in a blue shirt and checked desperately on a tooth-pick as he travelled, came in a winner in 7m. 34s. When the crowd for "Clarke" had subsided it was discovered that Chris. Basherford had lapped second man.

THE WINNERS AND THE EVENTS. The Astley belt was yesterday given to youthful imitators of Rowell and Merritt. The games, which continued afternoon and evening, were intended for workingmen, rather than working boys, and were a grand success. The games were arranged for colored men and Chinese men, while female pedestrians had five distinct opportunities for reeling off the laps. All the inspiration that could be drawn from the famous six day contest was brought into requisition, even in the matter of music, the band playing over and over again the famous airs of last week. The effect was contagious upon the boys on the street, who resorted to all sorts of devices for getting admission. About 500 people were in the garden during the afternoon. Sports began at one o'clock and were not concluded until six. The figure of Captain Williams, father of "go-as-you-please" pedestrianism, joined up now and then upon the course. One hour's walk for those who had never beaten six and a half miles started the fun. There were eighteen entries, and after a hot trial J. P. Clarke, who looked well in a blue shirt and checked desperately on a tooth-pick as he travelled, came in a winner in 7m. 34s. When the crowd for "Clarke" had subsided it was discovered that Chris. Basherford had lapped second man.

THE WINNERS AND THE EVENTS. The Astley belt was yesterday given to youthful imitators of Rowell and Merritt. The games, which continued afternoon and evening, were intended for workingmen, rather than working boys, and were a grand success. The games were arranged for colored men and Chinese men, while female pedestrians had five distinct opportunities for reeling off the laps. All the inspiration that could be drawn from the famous six day contest was brought into requisition, even in the matter of music, the band playing over and over again the famous airs of last week. The effect was contagious upon the boys on the street, who resorted to all sorts of devices for getting admission. About 500 people were in the garden during the afternoon. Sports began at one o'clock and were not concluded until six. The figure of Captain Williams, father of "go-as-you-please" pedestrianism, joined up now and then upon the course. One hour's walk for those who had never beaten six and a half miles started the fun. There were eighteen entries, and after a hot trial J. P. Clarke, who looked well in a blue shirt and checked desperately on a tooth-pick as he travelled, came in a winner in 7m. 34s. When the crowd for "Clarke" had subsided it was discovered that Chris. Basherford had lapped second man.

THE WINNERS AND THE EVENTS. The Astley belt was yesterday given to youthful imitators of Rowell and Merritt. The games, which continued afternoon and evening, were intended for workingmen, rather than working boys, and were a grand success. The games were arranged for colored men and Chinese men, while female pedestrians had five distinct opportunities for reeling off the laps. All the inspiration that could be drawn from the famous six day contest was brought into requisition, even in the matter of music, the band playing over and over again the famous airs of last week. The effect was contagious upon the boys on the street, who resorted to all sorts of devices for getting admission. About 500 people were in the garden during the afternoon. Sports began at one o'clock and were not concluded until six. The figure of Captain Williams, father of "go-as-you-please" pedestrianism, joined up now and then upon the course. One hour's walk for those who had never beaten six and a half miles started the fun. There were eighteen entries, and after a hot trial J. P. Clarke, who looked well in a blue shirt and checked desperately on a tooth-pick as he travelled, came in a winner in 7m. 34s. When the crowd for "Clarke" had subsided it was discovered that Chris. Basherford had lapped second man.

THE WINNERS AND THE EVENTS. The Astley belt was yesterday given to youthful imitators of Rowell and Merritt. The games, which continued afternoon and evening, were intended for workingmen, rather than working boys, and were a grand success. The games were arranged for colored men and Chinese men, while female pedestrians had five distinct opportunities for reeling off the laps. All the inspiration that could be drawn from the famous six day contest was brought into requisition, even in the matter of music, the band playing over and over again the famous airs of last week. The effect was contagious upon the boys on the street, who resorted to all sorts of devices for getting admission. About 500 people were in the garden during the afternoon. Sports began at one o'clock and were not concluded until six. The figure of Captain Williams, father of "go-as-you-please" pedestrianism, joined up now and then upon the course. One hour's walk for those who had never beaten six and a half miles started the fun. There were eighteen entries, and after a hot trial J. P. Clarke, who looked well in a blue shirt and checked desperately on a tooth-pick as he travelled, came in a winner in 7m. 34s. When the crowd for "Clarke" had subsided it was discovered that Chris. Basherford had lapped second man.

THE WINNERS AND THE EVENTS. The Astley belt was yesterday given to youthful imitators of Rowell and Merritt. The games, which continued afternoon and evening, were intended for workingmen, rather than working boys, and were a grand success. The games were arranged for colored men and Chinese men, while female pedestrians had five distinct opportunities for reeling off the laps. All the inspiration that could be drawn from the famous six day contest was brought into requisition, even in the matter of music, the band playing over and over again the famous airs of last week. The effect was contagious upon the boys on the street, who resorted to all sorts of devices for getting admission. About 500 people were in the garden during the afternoon. Sports began at one o'clock and were not concluded until six. The figure of Captain Williams, father of "go-as-you-please" pedestrianism, joined up now and then upon the course. One hour's walk for those who had never beaten six and a half miles started the fun. There were eighteen entries, and after a hot trial J. P. Clarke, who looked well in a blue shirt and checked desperately on a tooth-pick as he travelled, came in a winner in 7m. 34s. When the crowd for "Clarke" had subsided it was discovered that Chris. Basherford had lapped second man.

THE WINNERS AND THE EVENTS. The Astley belt was yesterday given to youthful imitators of Rowell and Merritt. The games, which continued afternoon and evening, were intended for workingmen, rather than working boys, and were a grand success. The games were arranged for colored men and Chinese men, while female pedestrians had five distinct opportunities for reeling off the laps. All the inspiration that could be drawn from the famous six day contest was brought into requisition, even in the matter of music, the band playing over and over again the famous airs of last week. The effect was contagious upon the boys on the street, who resorted to all sorts of devices for getting admission. About 500 people were in the garden during the afternoon. Sports began at one o'clock and were not concluded until six. The figure of Captain Williams, father of "go-as-you-please" pedestrianism, joined up now and then upon the course. One hour's walk for those who had never beaten six and a half miles started the fun. There were eighteen entries, and after a hot trial J. P. Clarke, who looked well in a blue shirt and checked desperately on a tooth-pick as he travelled, came in a winner in 7m. 34s. When the crowd for "Clarke" had subsided it was discovered that Chris. Basherford had lapped second man.

THE WINNERS AND THE EVENTS. The Astley belt was yesterday given to youthful imitators of Rowell and Merritt. The games, which continued afternoon and evening, were intended for workingmen, rather than working boys, and were a grand success. The games were arranged for colored men and Chinese men, while female pedestrians had five distinct opportunities for reeling off the laps. All the inspiration that could be drawn from the famous six day contest was brought into requisition, even in the matter of music, the band playing over and over again the famous airs of last week. The effect was contagious upon the boys on the street, who resorted to all sorts of devices for getting admission. About 500 people were in the garden during the afternoon. Sports began at one o'clock and were not concluded until six. The figure of Captain Williams, father of "go-as-you-please" pedestrianism, joined up now and then upon the course. One hour's walk for those who had never beaten six and a half miles started the fun. There were eighteen entries, and after a hot trial J. P. Clarke, who looked well in a blue shirt and checked desperately on a tooth-pick as he travelled, came in a winner in 7m. 34s. When the crowd for "Clarke" had subsided it was discovered that Chris. Basherford had lapped second man.

THE WINNERS AND THE EVENTS. The Astley belt was yesterday given to youthful imitators of Rowell and Merritt. The games, which continued afternoon and evening, were intended for workingmen, rather than working boys, and were a grand success. The games were arranged for colored men and Chinese men, while female pedestrians had five distinct opportunities for reeling off the laps. All the inspiration that could be drawn from the famous six day contest was brought into requisition, even in the matter of music, the band playing over and over again the famous airs of last week. The effect was contagious upon the boys on the street, who resorted to all sorts of devices for getting admission. About 500 people were in the garden during the afternoon. Sports began at one o'clock and were not concluded until six. The figure of Captain Williams, father of "go-as-you-please" pedestrianism, joined up now and then upon the course. One hour's walk for those who had never beaten six and a half miles started the fun. There were eighteen entries, and after a hot trial J. P. Clarke, who looked well in a blue shirt and checked desperately on a tooth-pick as he travelled, came in a winner in 7m. 34s. When the crowd for "Clarke" had subsided it was discovered that Chris. Basherford had lapped second man.

THE WINNERS AND THE EVENTS. The Astley belt was yesterday given to youthful imitators of Rowell and Merritt. The games, which continued afternoon and evening, were intended for workingmen, rather than working boys, and were a grand success. The games were arranged for colored men and Chinese men, while female pedestrians had five distinct opportunities for reeling off the laps. All the inspiration that could be drawn from the famous six day contest was brought into requisition, even in the matter of music, the band playing over and over again the famous airs of last week. The effect was contagious upon the boys on the street, who resorted to all sorts of devices for getting admission. About 500 people were in the garden during the afternoon. Sports began at one o'clock and were not concluded until six. The figure of Captain Williams, father of "go-as-you-please" pedestrianism, joined up now and then upon the course. One hour's walk for those who had never beaten six and a half miles started the fun. There were eighteen entries, and after a hot trial J. P. Clarke, who looked well in a blue shirt and checked desperately on a tooth-pick as he travelled, came in a winner in 7m. 34s. When the crowd for "Clarke" had subsided it was discovered that Chris. Basherford had lapped second man.

THE WINNERS AND THE EVENTS. The Astley belt was yesterday given to youthful imitators of Rowell and Merritt. The games, which continued afternoon and evening, were intended for workingmen, rather than working boys, and were a grand success. The games were arranged for colored men and Chinese men, while female pedestrians had five distinct opportunities for reeling off the laps. All the inspiration that could be drawn from the famous six day contest was brought into requisition, even in the matter of music, the band playing over and over again the famous airs of last week. The effect was contagious upon the boys on the street, who resorted to all sorts of devices for getting admission. About 500 people were in the garden during the afternoon. Sports began at one o'clock and were not concluded until six. The figure of Captain Williams, father of "go-as-you-please" pedestrianism, joined up now and then upon the course. One hour's walk for those who had never beaten six and a half miles started the fun. There were eighteen entries, and after a hot trial J. P. Clarke, who looked well in a blue shirt and checked desperately on a tooth-pick as he travelled, came in a winner in 7m. 34s. When the crowd for "Clarke" had subsided it was discovered that Chris. Basherford had lapped second man.

THE WINNERS AND THE EVENTS. The Astley belt was yesterday given to youthful imitators of Rowell and Merritt. The games, which continued afternoon and evening, were intended for workingmen, rather than working boys, and were a grand success. The games were arranged for colored men and Chinese men, while female pedestrians had five distinct opportunities for reeling off the laps. All the inspiration that could be drawn from the famous six day contest was brought into requisition, even in the matter of music, the band playing over and over again the famous airs of last week. The effect was contagious upon the boys on the street, who resorted to all sorts of devices for getting admission. About 500 people were in the garden during the afternoon. Sports began at one o'clock and were not concluded until six. The figure of Captain Williams, father of "go-as-you-please" pedestrianism, joined up now and then upon the course. One hour's walk for those who had never beaten six and a half miles started the fun. There were eighteen entries, and after a hot trial J. P. Clarke, who looked well in a blue shirt and checked desperately on a tooth-pick as he travelled, came in a winner in 7m. 34s. When the crowd for "Clarke" had subsided it was discovered that Chris. Basherford had lapped second man.

THE WINNERS AND THE EVENTS. The Astley belt was yesterday given to youthful imitators of Rowell and Merritt. The games, which continued afternoon and evening, were intended for workingmen, rather than working boys, and were a grand success. The games were arranged for colored men and Chinese men, while female pedestrians had five distinct opportunities for reeling off the laps. All the inspiration that could be drawn from the famous six day contest was brought into requisition, even in the matter of music, the band playing over and over again the famous airs of last week. The effect was contagious upon the boys on the street, who resorted to all sorts of devices for getting admission. About 500 people were in the garden during the afternoon. Sports began at one o'clock and were not concluded until six. The figure of Captain Williams, father of "go-as-you-please" pedestrianism, joined up now and then upon the course. One hour's walk for those who had never beaten six and a half miles started the fun. There were eighteen entries, and after a hot trial J. P. Clarke, who looked well in a blue shirt and checked desperately on a tooth-pick as he travelled, came in a winner in 7m. 34s. When the crowd for "Clarke" had subsided it was discovered that Chris. Basherford had lapped second man.

THE WINNERS AND THE EVENTS. The Astley belt was yesterday given to youthful imitators of Rowell and Merritt. The games, which continued afternoon and evening, were intended for workingmen, rather than working boys, and were a grand success. The games were arranged for colored men and Chinese men, while female pedestrians had five distinct opportunities for reeling off the laps. All the inspiration that could be drawn from the famous six day contest was brought into requisition, even in the matter of music, the band playing over and over