TRIPLE SHEET.

NEW YORK, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1879.

Advertisers are respectfully requested to hand in their advertisements previous to eight o'clock in the evening to insure proper classification.

The probabilities are that the weather in New York and its vicinity to-day will be cool and partly cloudy, possibly with rains in the early portion.

WALL STREET YESTERDAY.—Stocks were very strong at the opening, fell off about noon and recovered a portion of the decline before the close.

WHEN a man's life hangs upon the ability of experts to determine from what particular package of arsenic a woman was poisoned the majesty of the law has a very rickety fence for its throne.

MAYOR COOPER proposes to investigate auctioneers whose ways are said to be dark, but nothing that he can do will prevent a certain class of people buying second hand articles at a price higher than that of new ones.

MR. THOMAS DORSE.—You are a sachein in Tammany Hall. You are also Clerk of the Superior Court, as your fellow sachein, Mr. Jarvis, is Clerk of the Common Pleas.

THE MISSISSIPPI RIVER IMPROVEMENT CONVENTION, which adjourned yesterday, proposes to petition Congress to make such improvements, particularly in the nature of reservoirs, as shall at all times insure navigable water in the three great rivers of the West.

MR. HENRY L. CLINTON.—You are a sachein in Tammany Hall. You are also a capable lawyer. In that capacity you know very well that the law recognizes no accessory in treason.

A LARGE QUANTITY of watered milk was poured on a single steamboat yesterday and scattered into the river. This was severe upon the poor little fishes, but a healthy frog found in one of the cans benefited by the operation.

MR. HENRY A. GUMBLTON.—You are a sachein in Tammany Hall. You are also a young man with a possibly brilliant future. During a brief service as County Clerk you earned the general esteem of the Bar and the judges by courtesy and efficiency.

THE WEATHER.—The barometer continues high on the Middle Atlantic and New England coasts. It has fallen in all the other districts east of the Mississippi, except in the Southwest, where it is rising steadily.

MR. KELLY is making a rather successful tour in the interior of the State. The people who swell his meetings are nothing for Mr. Kelly, but many democrats are glad of this opportunity to testify their hostility to Mr. Tilden.

The Tammany Schemes and the Democratic State Ticket.

In every kind of contest which is recognized by popular sentiment as legitimate, whether it be pugilistic, or merely athletic, or political, it is the province of the intelligent part of the bystanders or invited spectators to see that there is fair play between the contestants and that the accepted rules of the game be honorably observed.

Now, the attitude of Tammany toward the regular democratic State ticket is so unusual and extraordinary as to challenge general attention and to compel observing men of both parties and of no party to judge whether the political code, as accepted by all parties, has been complied with or violated by Mr. Kelly and his supporters.

In the whole history of American politics no party ever recognized this kind of kicking accepted rule of political morals is that all who go into a caucus or a convention and share in its deliberations take the chances of being outvoted and are bound by the will of the majority.

MR. THOMAS DUNLAP.—You are a sachein in Tammany Hall. You are also an ancient politician, who has succeeded in holding more profitable offices for a longer time than any other citizen of New York, and your chief ambition for the future is always to be in a lucrative public place.

MR. HENRY P. NICHOLS.—You are a sachein in Tammany Hall. You are also an omnibus proprietor, and you have been a Police Commissioner—if you are not one still.

MR. KELLY is making a rather successful tour in the interior of the State. The people who swell his meetings are nothing for Mr. Kelly, but many democrats are glad of this opportunity to testify their hostility to Mr. Tilden.

impossible. Mr. Kelly's principle, carried to its logical results, is political chaos. If it is right for anybody to bolt as soon as he sees that he is to be outvoted it is an obvious farce to hold political conventions and submit questions to a vote by which nobody is bound.

What is the object of John Kelly's campaign? It is to ruin the democratic party because he cannot rule it. We know this is not the account Mr. Kelly gives of it. We know that he states a different object and gives different reasons.

MR. THOMAS DUNLAP.—You are a sachein in Tammany Hall. You are also an ancient politician, who has succeeded in holding more profitable offices for a longer time than any other citizen of New York, and your chief ambition for the future is always to be in a lucrative public place.

Strange October Weather.

Since the beginning of the present month the meteorological conditions throughout the country have, to say the least, been exceedingly peculiar. After the passage of a depression off the New England coast on the 4th the barometer rose in all the eastern sections and has continued high ever since, particularly in the Middle Atlantic States.

MR. HENRY P. NICHOLS.—You are a sachein in Tammany Hall. You are also an omnibus proprietor, and you have been a Police Commissioner—if you are not one still.

How Much Do We Really Owe?

In an interview which we copy from an evening paper on another page Mr. William H. Morrell, a taxpayer, who has bestowed a great deal of attention for many years to the management of the city finances, makes some criticisms upon apparent discrepancies in the Comptroller's statements of the public debt which are calculated to attract general attention and provoke anxious inquiry.

cially, and that several days must elapse before his return to the city from Western New York will enable him to do so. Meanwhile nervous taxpayers must wait patiently to know from their chief financial officer whether they really owe several millions more or less.

MR. BERNARD REILLY.—You are a sachein in Tammany Hall. You are also sheriff of this county. If one of your deputies, dissatisfied with your commands, should conspire to oust you from office, how would you treat him?

The Tammany Hall Campaign.

What is the object of John Kelly's campaign? It is to ruin the democratic party because he cannot rule it. We know this is not the account Mr. Kelly gives of it. We know that he states a different object and gives different reasons.

MR. NATHANIEL JARVIS, JR.—You are a sachein in Tammany Hall.

In that office you understand how to be a mechanical instrument of a judge without exercising a will of your own. It is often your duty. But that is no reason why you should suffer yourself to be manipulated in like manner by Mr. Kelly as a politician.

The Theatres and the Heat.

At this season of the year, when the autumn weather, with its invigorating influences, should be upon us, and when those who have been summering among the hills or by the sea have returned to the city, the theatrical season should be at its best.

is denoted "blood and thunder," is unpalatable to the theatre-goers of to-day? Or is it an indication that situation pieces, such as "Rescued," are not desired by the public? The answer, as it puzzles managerial brains, we will not attempt to give, but will leave it for the managers, the public and the early frosts to determine.

MR. AUGUST BELMONT.—You are a sachein in Tammany Hall. You are also a democrat enjoying the confidence of democrats throughout the country to a degree scarcely equalled by any other member of the party.

MR. CADWALLADER EVANS.—You are a sachein in Tammany Hall.

You are also a clever, enterprising man of the world, versed in business and society. Your experience certainly tells you that it is not a fair thing for a partner to wreck his firm on account of a difference of opinion concerning a single business venture.

Clubbed by the Police.

In our news columns to-day the reader will find an ample history, gathered from many witnesses, of the latest case of the reduction of a citizen to a peaceable condition by the use of that redoubtable instrument of correction, the policeman's club.

MR. JOHN J. GORMAN.—You are a sachein in Tammany Hall.

You are also a manufacturer of metallic kegs. You know how useless such a keg is with a hole stove in it. Now that is precisely what Mr. Kelly is doing to the democratic party.

Stranger Than Fiction.

We publish to-day a sketch of one of the most remarkable family litigations on record. Two very rich Maryland planters, brothers, died about a quarter of a century ago, one of them a bachelor, while the other left several children, supposed to be illegitimate.

which had been unknown, was sent to the cousin's lawyer, and the case is again to go before the Supreme Court. The story is stranger than any fiction, as all stories necessarily are when the small boy has anything to do with the facts.

MR. HENRY D. PURROY.—You are a sachein in Tammany Hall. You are also an athletic and ambitious young politician. But you have made the mistake of pining yourself to Mr. Kelly's coat-tail.

Russia and Europe.

Prince Gortschakoff can certainly have but little enjoyment during his villegiature at Baden-Baden. He is bothered with the gout and fretting about Prince Bismarck's visit to Count Andrássy at Vienna and flirtations there with the French Ambassador.

MR. AUGUSTUS SCHILL.—You are the chief sachein in Tammany Hall. You are also a democrat of national reputation and nearly half a century's political experience.

Why Is It?

It would be inconsistent with Mr. Hayes' promises of official impartiality toward popular elections to believe that the British Mission is left empty for any cause touching the coming election in November.

MR. EDWARD KRAHNEY.—You are a sachein in Tammany Hall. You are also interested in sporting matters. You know what fair play is among sporting men.

PERSONAL INTELLIGENCE.

FRIENDLY ADVICE.—We desire to call Mr. Boswell's attention to the fact that in his Programme the whole infamous scandal against Mrs. Langtry is reprinted at large.

MR. MARSHALL JEWELL, of Hartford, is at the Fifth Avenue Hotel.

Senator Benjamin H. Hill, of Georgia, is at the New York Hotel.

Sara Bernhardt will not admit that she has studied any great artist.

Captain Parrell, of the steamer Baltic, arrived in this city yesterday.

King Theobald of Burmah (King of Kings), has bought an electric light apparatus.

Senator Haine has one son who is practicing law and another who is a student at the Harvard Law School.

Lord Deart, the author of "Kilverdale," and the Hon. Ellis, are expected in New York by the City of Richmond.

An English soldier has given his child the Christian name of Ostryway, as a mark of his appreciation of bravery.

Miss Alice Isabel Hooper, stepdaughter of the late Charles Sumner, was this week married to Mr. Edward Hutton, formerly of Scotland.

The heroine of "Marianello" is said to be mute, because her representative ran away while the opera was in rehearsal and nobody could be found to replace her.

The Chicago Times thinks it possible that the President of the United States will make a short visit to Washington some time this year.

Why say that Senator Hays cannot become a Presidential candidate because he lives in the small State of Delaware? According to the democratic doctrine one State ought to be as good as another.

The Right Rev. Bishop Stephens, of Pennsylvania, who has been suffering from congestion of the lungs, is a little more comfortable than he has been, but there are no signs of permanent improvement.

Secretary Sherman, it is understood, has accepted an invitation to speak in New York State and will make three speeches, beginning in New York city on the 27th, at Syracuse on the 28th and at Albany on the 29th of this month.

Sir Garnet Wolseley is a little more than forty years old, and after the Ashantee campaign he might have had a baronetcy if he refused. He did not, however, decline the $100,000 which were offered to him. He was badly wounded in the Crimean war. He has newspaper men, whom he calls "drones," lie like to be very just and he believes in books.
