

SHARPLESS CHARGES AGAINST THE COUNSEL AND FRIENDS OF A CONVICTED MURDERER.

IMPUGNING GUILTLSS MEN. Secret History of the Costly Retrials of Orlando Greenfield.

[BY TELEGRAPH FROM THE HERALD.]

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 30, 1879.

Three times tried and twice sentenced in this city Friday, December 12. An endeavor is being made to secure another and the fourth trial for the condemned man. Over $40,000 have been expended in the three trials, and the county of Oswego, which has been compelled to pay this enormous expense, is hovering on the verge of bankruptcy in consequence of it.

NEW REVELATIONS FURNISHED.

During the past few days interest in the case of Orlando Greenfield has been revived by the publication of alleged revelations made in Lafayette, Ind., which charged the murder of Alice Greenfield upon Royal and Alden Kellogg, and George Hines, and declared Orlando Greenfield, the prisoner, to be innocent of the crime. These alleged revelations produced a marked effect upon public opinion, which was divided over the question of Greenfield's innocence or guilt.

SECRET HISTORY.

Mr. John J. Lamore, who has conducted the case for the people in all three of Greenfield's trials, made an important statement to the HERALD correspondent to-day. He gives the secret and unwritten history of the case, explains the manner in which the scheme for preparing the anonymous letter was concocted and tells a story which has never before been made public.

NOT INTERFERED.

Neither of the two Kelloggs were connected in any manner with the tragedy. No one pretended to accuse them of being parties to the crime until after Greenfield had been convicted of the murder of his wife on the second trial and had been sentenced to death. At that time Royal Kellogg was visiting his mother, Mrs. Oline, at Lafayette, Ind., and Alden Kellogg still resided near the scene of the homicide.

LETTER RECEIVED FROM MICHIGAN, WHICH IS A FOLLOW-UP ON THE GREENFIELD CASE.

Spokane, Greenfield's life. I killed her, after satisfying my insatiable thirst for senseless fun. Since that time I have been in the wilds of Michigan, yet you shall know how I came away. My clamor after his life! He is in the hands of the law.

Hopkins said that he was present at an early interview, shortly after Greenfield was sentenced the first time, and was consulted with reference to the preparation of a letter which he was especially delegated to obtain a specimen of Royal Kellogg's handwriting, with a view of simulating the same. This was done, and the letter which Greenfield might be rendered the more plausible. With this object in view he visited the home of Royal Kellogg's father in Detroit one day in April, 1877, and engaged in conversation with the old gentleman, making inquiries after his son Royal, and drew from him the name of the house where he was living.

CONSIDERING TO FIND THE GUN.

There is another significant fact connected with the story that an old lady who was the mother of Milly Drake, who was said to be the mother of the Kelloggs, confessed to her that they and George Hines killed Mrs. Greenfield, first having committed an assault upon her person and then murdering her to cover up their crime.

MISS CLARK'S MURDERERS SENTENCED.

Dr. Daniel F. Kimball and Miss Caroline C. Goodrich, recently connected as principals in the Jennie P. Clark malpractice case, were this afternoon sentenced, the former receiving six years in State Prison and the latter ten years in the House of Correction. It is stated that Kimball, in order to avoid sentence, attempted to flee to Canada.

CUT HIS OWN THROAT.

Mortimer C. Tunison, the keeper of a well known hostelry on the old Coney Island road, committed suicide at his residence yesterday morning. "Mort," as he was familiarly called, was born in Orange county, this State, in 1818, but came to this city when quite young and opened an eating house in Washington Market. Subsequently he became proprietor of the saloon and restaurant attached to the hotel on Sheriff George Remsen's lot.

SHARP SHOT.

Charles W. Paddock, who was charged with the murder of George Hines, was this afternoon sentenced to death. He was convicted on the second trial and had been sentenced to death. He was convicted on the second trial and had been sentenced to death.
