

AMUSEMENTS.

HAVELT'S THEATRE, 40th ST. and 4th AV. Every evening, and Matinee Wednesday and Saturday. Dion Boucicault's famous play of the...

STANDARD THEATRE, B'WAY and 23d ST. Proprietor and Manager H. H. HARRISON. TO-NIGHT AT 8. TO-MORROW AT 12. TO-NIGHT AT 8. TO-MORROW AT 12.

THEATRE COMIQUE, 514 BROADWAY. Proprietors JOHN E. GANNON. EVERY EVENING AND WEDNESDAY AND SATURDAY. EDWARD HARRISON'S NEW PLAY.

DALY'S NEW THEATRE, BROADWAY AND 30th ST. Proprietor and Manager J. M. DALY. MATINEES every WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY. BRONSON HOWARD'S play and novel Comedy.

MATINEE OF "WIVES" TO-DAY (SATURDAY), at 2. MATINEE OF "WIVES" TO-DAY (SATURDAY), at 2. MATINEE OF "WIVES" TO-DAY (SATURDAY), at 2.

NEW YORK CIRCUS. (formerly Globe Theatre). Proprietor and Manager L. B. LENT. In connection with the circus, the following are the names of the...

NEW YORK AQUARIUM. BROADWAY AND 38th ST. TWO NOVEL PERFORMANCES DAILY. Every afternoon at 2 o'clock, and at 8 o'clock, the Academy of Music, in 14th st., which is open daily from 9 A.M. to 9 P.M.

BOOTH'S THEATRE. FRENCH OPERA. MONDAY, NOV. 24. FOR THREE WEEKS ONLY. MR. MAURICE GRAU'S "THE GREAT FRENCH REVOLUTION" COMPRISING MILA, PAOLA MARIE, and others.

PAOLA MARIE (first time) as... Serpente Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, also at the Matinee, on Sunday, November 29, at 1:30. Mlle. PAOLA MARIE (first time) as... La Belle Helene

WALLACK'S OPERA HOUSE. Broadway between 20th and 31st st. LAST NIGHTS OF THE PINAFORE. H. M. S. PINAFORE.

THE ONLY PINAFORE IN THE UNITED STATES. MATINEES WEDNESDAY AND SATURDAY. SAN FRANCISCO MINSTRELS' OPERA HOUSE. 49th Street and Broadway.

MOTHER-IN-LAW PHOENIX. Thatchers, Ryman, Dixon, Frisbie, Russell, Stevens, French, Johnson, Richards, Mullaly, Birch, Backus, in connection with the circus, the following are the names of the...

GILMORE'S SUNDAY EVENING CONCERTS. GRAND OPERA HOUSE. The programme for to-morrow, SUNDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 23, 1879.

THALIA THEATRE, 46 AND 48 BOWERY. Proprietor and Manager DER SECADET. As at 8 o'clock, every evening, and at 12 o'clock, every Sunday.

AMERICAN INSTITUTE EXHIBITION. 24 and 34 av., between 63d and 64th st. RECENT INVENTIONS, OPERATING MACHINERY. Open from 9 A.M. to 10 P.M.

THE MISSES COLLON ROSSINI MUSICAL. "FROK HALL" (formerly Colburn's), 11 East 14th st. SATURDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 22, AT 8 O'CLOCK. MRS. CONNOR'S SINGING SOCIETY.

GRAND BILBOARD TOURNAMENT. AT TAMMANY HALL. CHAMPIONS OF THE WORLD IN PRIZES. SATURDAY AFTERNOON, NOV. 22, AT 3 O'CLOCK. SUNDAY, NOV. 23, AT 12 O'CLOCK.

THALIA THEATRE, 46 AND 48 BOWERY. Proprietor and Manager DER SECADET. As at 8 o'clock, every evening, and at 12 o'clock, every Sunday.

AMERICAN INSTITUTE EXHIBITION. 24 and 34 av., between 63d and 64th st. RECENT INVENTIONS, OPERATING MACHINERY. Open from 9 A.M. to 10 P.M.

THE MISSES COLLON ROSSINI MUSICAL. "FROK HALL" (formerly Colburn's), 11 East 14th st. SATURDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 22, AT 8 O'CLOCK. MRS. CONNOR'S SINGING SOCIETY.

GRAND BILBOARD TOURNAMENT. AT TAMMANY HALL. CHAMPIONS OF THE WORLD IN PRIZES. SATURDAY AFTERNOON, NOV. 22, AT 3 O'CLOCK. SUNDAY, NOV. 23, AT 12 O'CLOCK.

THALIA THEATRE, 46 AND 48 BOWERY. Proprietor and Manager DER SECADET. As at 8 o'clock, every evening, and at 12 o'clock, every Sunday.

AMERICAN INSTITUTE EXHIBITION. 24 and 34 av., between 63d and 64th st. RECENT INVENTIONS, OPERATING MACHINERY. Open from 9 A.M. to 10 P.M.

THE MISSES COLLON ROSSINI MUSICAL. "FROK HALL" (formerly Colburn's), 11 East 14th st. SATURDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 22, AT 8 O'CLOCK. MRS. CONNOR'S SINGING SOCIETY.

GRAND BILBOARD TOURNAMENT. AT TAMMANY HALL. CHAMPIONS OF THE WORLD IN PRIZES. SATURDAY AFTERNOON, NOV. 22, AT 3 O'CLOCK. SUNDAY, NOV. 23, AT 12 O'CLOCK.

THALIA THEATRE, 46 AND 48 BOWERY. Proprietor and Manager DER SECADET. As at 8 o'clock, every evening, and at 12 o'clock, every Sunday.

AMERICAN INSTITUTE EXHIBITION. 24 and 34 av., between 63d and 64th st. RECENT INVENTIONS, OPERATING MACHINERY. Open from 9 A.M. to 10 P.M.

THE MISSES COLLON ROSSINI MUSICAL. "FROK HALL" (formerly Colburn's), 11 East 14th st. SATURDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 22, AT 8 O'CLOCK. MRS. CONNOR'S SINGING SOCIETY.

GRAND BILBOARD TOURNAMENT. AT TAMMANY HALL. CHAMPIONS OF THE WORLD IN PRIZES. SATURDAY AFTERNOON, NOV. 22, AT 3 O'CLOCK. SUNDAY, NOV. 23, AT 12 O'CLOCK.

THALIA THEATRE, 46 AND 48 BOWERY. Proprietor and Manager DER SECADET. As at 8 o'clock, every evening, and at 12 o'clock, every Sunday.

AMERICAN INSTITUTE EXHIBITION. 24 and 34 av., between 63d and 64th st. RECENT INVENTIONS, OPERATING MACHINERY. Open from 9 A.M. to 10 P.M.

AMUSEMENTS.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC. MONDAY, NOVEMBER 22, at 2 o'clock. GRAND OPERA HOUSE. 46th and 23d St. Proprietor and Manager L. B. LENT.

STANDARD THEATRE, B'WAY and 23d ST. Proprietor and Manager H. H. HARRISON. TO-NIGHT AT 8. TO-MORROW AT 12. TO-NIGHT AT 8. TO-MORROW AT 12.

THEATRE COMIQUE, 514 BROADWAY. Proprietors JOHN E. GANNON. EVERY EVENING AND WEDNESDAY AND SATURDAY. EDWARD HARRISON'S NEW PLAY.

DALY'S NEW THEATRE, BROADWAY AND 30th ST. Proprietor and Manager J. M. DALY. MATINEES every WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY. BRONSON HOWARD'S play and novel Comedy.

MATINEE OF "WIVES" TO-DAY (SATURDAY), at 2. MATINEE OF "WIVES" TO-DAY (SATURDAY), at 2. MATINEE OF "WIVES" TO-DAY (SATURDAY), at 2.

NEW YORK CIRCUS. (formerly Globe Theatre). Proprietor and Manager L. B. LENT. In connection with the circus, the following are the names of the...

NEW YORK AQUARIUM. BROADWAY AND 38th ST. TWO NOVEL PERFORMANCES DAILY. Every afternoon at 2 o'clock, and at 8 o'clock, the Academy of Music, in 14th st., which is open daily from 9 A.M. to 9 P.M.

BOOTH'S THEATRE. FRENCH OPERA. MONDAY, NOV. 24. FOR THREE WEEKS ONLY. MR. MAURICE GRAU'S "THE GREAT FRENCH REVOLUTION" COMPRISING MILA, PAOLA MARIE, and others.

PAOLA MARIE (first time) as... Serpente Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, also at the Matinee, on Sunday, November 29, at 1:30. Mlle. PAOLA MARIE (first time) as... La Belle Helene

WALLACK'S OPERA HOUSE. Broadway between 20th and 31st st. LAST NIGHTS OF THE PINAFORE. H. M. S. PINAFORE.

THE ONLY PINAFORE IN THE UNITED STATES. MATINEES WEDNESDAY AND SATURDAY. SAN FRANCISCO MINSTRELS' OPERA HOUSE. 49th Street and Broadway.

MOTHER-IN-LAW PHOENIX. Thatchers, Ryman, Dixon, Frisbie, Russell, Stevens, French, Johnson, Richards, Mullaly, Birch, Backus, in connection with the circus, the following are the names of the...

GILMORE'S SUNDAY EVENING CONCERTS. GRAND OPERA HOUSE. The programme for to-morrow, SUNDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 23, 1879.

THALIA THEATRE, 46 AND 48 BOWERY. Proprietor and Manager DER SECADET. As at 8 o'clock, every evening, and at 12 o'clock, every Sunday.

AMERICAN INSTITUTE EXHIBITION. 24 and 34 av., between 63d and 64th st. RECENT INVENTIONS, OPERATING MACHINERY. Open from 9 A.M. to 10 P.M.

THE MISSES COLLON ROSSINI MUSICAL. "FROK HALL" (formerly Colburn's), 11 East 14th st. SATURDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 22, AT 8 O'CLOCK. MRS. CONNOR'S SINGING SOCIETY.

GRAND BILBOARD TOURNAMENT. AT TAMMANY HALL. CHAMPIONS OF THE WORLD IN PRIZES. SATURDAY AFTERNOON, NOV. 22, AT 3 O'CLOCK. SUNDAY, NOV. 23, AT 12 O'CLOCK.

THALIA THEATRE, 46 AND 48 BOWERY. Proprietor and Manager DER SECADET. As at 8 o'clock, every evening, and at 12 o'clock, every Sunday.

AMERICAN INSTITUTE EXHIBITION. 24 and 34 av., between 63d and 64th st. RECENT INVENTIONS, OPERATING MACHINERY. Open from 9 A.M. to 10 P.M.

THE MISSES COLLON ROSSINI MUSICAL. "FROK HALL" (formerly Colburn's), 11 East 14th st. SATURDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 22, AT 8 O'CLOCK. MRS. CONNOR'S SINGING SOCIETY.

GRAND BILBOARD TOURNAMENT. AT TAMMANY HALL. CHAMPIONS OF THE WORLD IN PRIZES. SATURDAY AFTERNOON, NOV. 22, AT 3 O'CLOCK. SUNDAY, NOV. 23, AT 12 O'CLOCK.

THALIA THEATRE, 46 AND 48 BOWERY. Proprietor and Manager DER SECADET. As at 8 o'clock, every evening, and at 12 o'clock, every Sunday.

AMERICAN INSTITUTE EXHIBITION. 24 and 34 av., between 63d and 64th st. RECENT INVENTIONS, OPERATING MACHINERY. Open from 9 A.M. to 10 P.M.

THE MISSES COLLON ROSSINI MUSICAL. "FROK HALL" (formerly Colburn's), 11 East 14th st. SATURDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 22, AT 8 O'CLOCK. MRS. CONNOR'S SINGING SOCIETY.

GRAND BILBOARD TOURNAMENT. AT TAMMANY HALL. CHAMPIONS OF THE WORLD IN PRIZES. SATURDAY AFTERNOON, NOV. 22, AT 3 O'CLOCK. SUNDAY, NOV. 23, AT 12 O'CLOCK.

THALIA THEATRE, 46 AND 48 BOWERY. Proprietor and Manager DER SECADET. As at 8 o'clock, every evening, and at 12 o'clock, every Sunday.

AMERICAN INSTITUTE EXHIBITION. 24 and 34 av., between 63d and 64th st. RECENT INVENTIONS, OPERATING MACHINERY. Open from 9 A.M. to 10 P.M.

THE MISSES COLLON ROSSINI MUSICAL. "FROK HALL" (formerly Colburn's), 11 East 14th st. SATURDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 22, AT 8 O'CLOCK. MRS. CONNOR'S SINGING SOCIETY.

GRAND BILBOARD TOURNAMENT. AT TAMMANY HALL. CHAMPIONS OF THE WORLD IN PRIZES. SATURDAY AFTERNOON, NOV. 22, AT 3 O'CLOCK. SUNDAY, NOV. 23, AT 12 O'CLOCK.

THALIA THEATRE, 46 AND 48 BOWERY. Proprietor and Manager DER SECADET. As at 8 o'clock, every evening, and at 12 o'clock, every Sunday.

AMERICAN INSTITUTE EXHIBITION. 24 and 34 av., between 63d and 64th st. RECENT INVENTIONS, OPERATING MACHINERY. Open from 9 A.M. to 10 P.M.

NOT FOUND WANTING.

THE MOTION TO REMOVE THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCOWS PASSED BY THE POLICE BOARD—HE ACCUSES COMMISSIONER MACLEAN OF WILFULY THWARTING HIM.

The trial of Mr. Isaac O. Hunt, Superintendent of Scows, took place yesterday before the full Board of Police Commissioners, Mr. French presiding. Mr. Hunt was charged with incompetency, and at a previous meeting Mr. MacLean had characterized his official qualifications as "useless, and worse than useless."

He supplemented this sweeping charge by moving for Mr. Hunt's summary dismissal. Through the intervention of Messrs. French and Wheeler Mr. Hunt was accorded a hearing. Mr. Hunt suffers from deafness, and when Mr. French asked him what he had to say in reply to the charges against him, he said that he had experienced in making him understand the interrogatory. The same question was repeated by Mr. MacLean with increased vehemence.

Before he had time to reply Mr. MacLean called in the services of a stenographer, and after the brief interruption occasioned by the investigation proceeding on the allegations, he asked Mr. MacLean, "I deny the charge," was the reply. "What are your duties as Superintendent of Scows?" was next inquired. "I superintend the scows," was the reply. "In the morning I go to the office and see that the scows are sent wherever required, and when loaded, that they put to sea. Since my appointment I have never received any instructions regarding my duties from Mr. MacLean, and I have had to inform myself of what was expected of me as best I could. I could not find any record in the office of what had been done by my predecessor."

"What record?" demanded Mr. MacLean, who conducted the prosecution. "A record of where the scows were kept and how they were employed."

"Such a record has always been kept," "That I do not know. The inspectors reported every morning the condition of the scows. I have often given orders that they be generally covered, and the chairman, Mr. MacLean, has said, 'What inquiry did you make as to the existence of such a record?'"

"I had nobody in the office who could give me any information as to the subject," "Who is the chief clerk of the Street Cleaning Bureau?" "Green."

"Did you make any inquiries of him?" "I did not." "Did Mr. Green show you a record of the scows as kept by the Street Cleaning Bureau?" "I never saw any such record."

"That record kept now?" "I could never see a record that showed the scows were filled or half filled or the disposition made of the cargo."

"In that regard," said Mr. MacLean, "I have called on Messrs. French and Wheeler to define my duties, and they referred me to you, but you would not answer me, and I have been obliged to ask you to do so." "That will come out in good time; I have minutes of our conversations."

Here Mr. Hunt, who had hitherto stood respectfully before the chairman, grew more aggressive and "talked back" at frequent intervals. Mr. French remarked laughingly to Mr. MacLean, "I'll see that you are protected. Mr. MacLean will not be allowed to proceed before me on this point." "Mr. Hunt should not be permitted to make such remarks," said Mr. Wheeler. "Oh, I am not at all annoyed," said Mr. MacLean, "I will not be intimidated by a cross-examine Mr. Hunt regarding his duties as Superintendent of Scows. A lively discussion occurred between Mr. Hunt and the chairman, and the latter, in reply to a number of interrogatories, Mr. Hunt said he visited the scows at the dump, the loading and movements of the scows and the system of weigh bills. In reply to a number of interrogatories, Mr. Hunt said he visited the scows at the dump, the loading and movements of the scows and the system of weigh bills. In reply to a number of interrogatories, Mr. Hunt said he visited the scows at the dump, the loading and movements of the scows and the system of weigh bills.

"Out of the above, Mr. Hunt said, 'It was impossible for him to say how much could be realized or how long it would take to obtain a return on the scows.' In regard to the trustees' bonds, one of the parties is dead, another in an insane asylum, and a third has fled to Europe. The trustees' bonds are in the hands of the receiver, but by the law he is entitled to six months' notice before the case is brought to trial. One of the trustees, who had treated the receiver through the law, had lost his wife, and had just lost his suit, as Judge Donohue decided in favor of the bank. The trustee had been so far from his legal property, and had been so long in the hands of the receiver, that he was unable to pay the trustees' bond, and although some will pay there are others that seem to intend to flout the law. 'Again, the inability of some of the trustees to pay their bonds in the execution of their duty,' said Mr. Hunt, 'will be in the execution of their duty.'"

"I think you are mistaken about that," responded Mr. MacLean. "At our conversation in September you were not present, and the number of scows were not in the places in the department." "That is not true; I gave you the information you desired, and I also told you that, if required, I would give you a list of the names of the scows belonging to the Department, those that were hired, and their condition generally."

"Don't remember; it is not my business to visit the dumping ground," "Why not? Couldn't you go down with the officer?" "What, stay all night? No, sir; I wouldn't do it." "How many scows went to sea this morning?" "Four were to have started."

"Have you seen that the scows were kept in good repair?" "No, sir; it wasn't my business to do so; you told me I had no right to repair scows or hire them." "I told you that you should repair scows and look after them." "No, sir; you have thwarted me in every way you could since I went there."

"What are Mr. Brooks' functions in your office?" "He looks after the stores, and also after the lines of the scows." "Have you been in the habit of leaving blank orders for others to fill in?" "Yes, I have. I have left blank orders when they had not returned, with instructions that if they did their work, and that Mr. Plunkett certified to it, the orders should be filled in."

"I always sign in that way, whenever any items remain on hand," "I have signed a number of documents to designate which had been signed and filled in by himself." "Do you reflect the 6th of November, the second day after election?" "Yes, I recollect that we elected Mr. Cornell Governor of the State," was the reply. "I also worked hard to elect Mr. Cooper Mayor; but it was small thanks I received for it."

"These remarks led to a general cross-examination of the Commissioners, which was only interrupted by Mr. Hunt exclaiming explosively, and addressing the Superintendent of Scows, 'You are a scoundrel in every respect; I have held positions of responsibility which you could not hold to save your own skin, and I have been treated as a scoundrel by you one before. You have never treated me like a gentleman. The idea of me not being competent to superintend the scows is a disgrace to you and to the organization of the party you have been a good republican.'"

"What time would they leave to get to Sandy Hook?" "I have been there for three years and three months." "It takes about five hours to reach there from the dock." "The bills you have certified as correct, did you certify that the work had been done?" "Yes, I did." "I told you that you should not certify to bills when you did not know of your own knowledge that the work had been done?" "What did he tell you?" inquired Mr. French. "Nothing at all of that nature; he made no such remark, no more than the King of Egypt. He never gave me any information. I don't think he is competent to do so."

"How do you consider chief in your department?" asked Mr. MacLean. "I don't think he is worth powder enough to blow them to—"

"Restrain your indignation, Mr. Hunt," interrupted Mr. French, "and answer the question, 'Where should the scows unload?'" "At buoy No. 4."

"What time would they leave to get to Sandy Hook?" "I have been there for three years and three months." "It takes about five hours to reach there from the dock." "The bills you have certified as correct, did you certify that the work had been done?" "Yes, I did." "I told you that you should not certify to bills when you did not know of your own knowledge that the work had been done?" "What did he tell you?" inquired Mr. French. "Nothing at all of that nature; he made no such remark, no more than the King of Egypt. He never gave me any information. I don't think he is competent to do so."

"How do you consider chief in your department?" asked Mr. MacLean. "I don't think he is worth powder enough to blow them to—"

"Restrain your indignation, Mr. Hunt," interrupted Mr. French, "and answer the question, 'Where should the scows unload?'" "At buoy No. 4."

"What time would they leave to get to Sandy Hook?" "I have been there for three years and three months." "It takes about five hours to reach there from the dock." "The bills you have certified as correct, did you certify that the work had been done?" "Yes, I did." "I told you that you should not certify to bills when you did not know of your own knowledge that the work had been done?" "What did he tell you?" inquired Mr. French. "Nothing at all of that nature; he made no such remark, no more than the King of Egypt. He never gave me any information. I don't think he is competent to do so."

"How do you consider chief in your department?" asked Mr. MacLean. "I don't think he is worth powder enough to blow them to—"

"Restrain your indignation, Mr. Hunt," interrupted Mr. French, "and answer the question, 'Where should the scows unload?'" "At buoy No. 4."

"What time would they leave to get to Sandy Hook?" "I have been there for three years and three months." "It takes about five hours to reach there from the dock." "The bills you have certified as correct, did you certify that the work had been done?" "Yes, I did." "I told you that you should not certify to bills when you did not know of your own knowledge that the work had been done?" "What did he tell you?" inquired Mr. French. "Nothing at all of that nature; he made no such remark, no more than the King of Egypt. He never gave me any information. I don't think he is competent to do so."

"How do you consider chief in your department?" asked Mr. MacLean. "I don't think he is worth powder enough to blow them to—"

"Restrain your indignation, Mr. Hunt," interrupted Mr. French, "and answer the question, 'Where should the scows unload?'" "At buoy No. 4."

"What time would they leave to get to Sandy Hook?" "I have been there for three years and three months." "It takes about five hours to reach there from the dock." "The bills you have certified as correct, did you certify that the work had been done?" "Yes, I did." "I told you that you should not certify to bills when you did not know of your own knowledge that the work had been done?" "What did he tell you?" inquired Mr. French. "Nothing at all of that nature; he made no such remark, no more than the King of Egypt. He never gave me any information. I don't think he is competent to do so."

NOT FOUND WANTING.

THE MOTION TO REMOVE THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCOWS PASSED BY THE POLICE BOARD—HE ACCUSES COMMISSIONER MACLEAN OF WILFULY THWARTING HIM.

The trial of Mr. Isaac O. Hunt, Superintendent of Scows, took place yesterday before the full Board of Police Commissioners, Mr. French presiding. Mr. Hunt was charged with incompetency, and at a previous meeting Mr. MacLean had characterized his official qualifications as "useless, and worse than useless."

He supplemented this sweeping charge by moving for Mr. Hunt's summary dismissal. Through the intervention of Messrs. French and Wheeler Mr. Hunt was accorded a hearing. Mr. Hunt suffers from deafness, and when Mr. French asked him what he had to say in reply to the charges against him, he said that he had experienced in making him understand the interrogatory. The same question was repeated by Mr. MacLean with increased vehemence.

Before he had time to reply Mr. MacLean called in the services of a stenographer, and after the brief interruption occasioned by the investigation proceeding on the allegations, he asked Mr. MacLean, "I deny the charge," was the reply. "What are your duties as Superintendent of Scows?" was next inquired. "I superintend the scows," was the reply. "In the morning I go to the office and see that the scows are sent wherever required, and when loaded, that they put to sea. Since my appointment I have never received any instructions regarding my duties from Mr. MacLean, and I have had to inform myself of what was expected of me as best I could. I could not find any record in the office of what had been done by my predecessor."

"What record?" demanded Mr. MacLean, who conducted the prosecution. "A record of where the scows were kept and how they were employed."

"Such a record has always been kept," "That I do not know. The inspectors reported every morning the condition of the scows. I have often given orders that they be generally covered, and the chairman, Mr. MacLean, has said, 'What inquiry did you make as to the existence of such a record?'"

"I had nobody in the office who could give me any information as to the subject," "Who is the chief clerk of the Street Cleaning Bureau?" "Green."

"Did you make any inquiries of him?" "I did not." "Did Mr. Green show you a record of the scows as kept by the Street Cleaning Bureau?" "I never saw any such record."

"That record kept now?" "I could never see a record that showed the scows were filled or half filled or the disposition made of the cargo."

"In that regard," said Mr. MacLean, "I have called on Messrs. French and Wheeler to define my duties, and they referred me to you, but you would not answer me, and I have been obliged to ask you to do so." "That will come out in good time; I have minutes of our conversations."

Here Mr. Hunt, who had hitherto stood respectfully before the chairman, grew more aggressive and "talked back" at frequent intervals. Mr. French remarked laughingly to Mr. MacLean, "I'll see that you are protected. Mr. MacLean will not be allowed to proceed before me on this point." "Mr. Hunt should not be permitted to make such remarks," said Mr. Wheeler. "Oh, I am not at all annoyed," said Mr. MacLean, "I will not be intimidated by a cross-examine Mr. Hunt regarding his duties as Superintendent of Scows. A lively discussion occurred between Mr. Hunt and the chairman, and the latter, in reply to a number of interrogatories, Mr. Hunt said he visited the scows at the dump, the loading and movements of the scows and the system of weigh bills. In reply to a number of interrogatories, Mr. Hunt said he visited the scows at the dump, the loading and movements of the scows and the system of weigh bills. In reply to a number of interrogatories, Mr. Hunt said he visited the scows at the dump, the loading and movements of the scows and the system of weigh bills.

"Out of the above, Mr. Hunt said, 'It was impossible for him to say how much could be realized or how long it would take to obtain a return on the scows.' In regard to the trustees' bonds, one of the parties is dead, another in an insane asylum, and a third has fled to Europe. The trustees' bonds are in the hands of the receiver, but by the law he is entitled to six months' notice before the case is brought to trial. One of the trustees, who had treated the receiver through the law, had lost his wife, and had just lost his suit, as Judge Donohue decided in favor of the bank. The trustee had been so far from his legal property, and had been so long in the hands of the receiver, that he was unable to pay the trustees' bond, and although some will pay there are others that seem to intend to flout the law. 'Again, the inability of some of the trustees to pay their bonds in the execution of their duty,' said Mr. Hunt, 'will be in the execution of their duty.'"

"I think you are mistaken about that," responded Mr. MacLean. "At our conversation in September you were not present, and the number of scows were not in the places in the department." "That is not true; I gave you the information you desired, and I also told you that, if required, I would give you a list of the names of the scows belonging to the Department, those that were hired, and their condition generally."

"Don't remember; it is not my business to visit the dumping ground," "Why not? Couldn't you go down with the officer?" "What, stay all night? No, sir; I wouldn't do it." "How many scows went to sea this morning?" "Four were to have started."

"Have you seen that the scows were kept in good repair?" "No, sir; it wasn't my business to do so; you told me I had no right to repair scows or hire them." "I told you that you should repair scows and look after them." "No, sir; you have thwarted me in every way you could since I went there."

"What are Mr. Brooks' functions in your office?" "He looks after the stores, and also after the lines of the scows." "Have you been in the habit of leaving blank orders for others to fill in?" "Yes, I have. I have left blank orders when they had not returned, with instructions that if they did their work, and that Mr. Plunkett certified to it, the orders should be filled in."

"I always sign in that way, whenever any items remain on hand," "I have signed a number of documents to designate which had been signed and filled in by himself." "Do you reflect the 6th of November, the second day after election?" "Yes, I recollect that we elected Mr. Cornell Governor of the State," was the reply. "I also worked hard to elect Mr. Cooper Mayor; but it was small thanks I received for it."

"These remarks led to a general cross-examination of the Commissioners, which was only interrupted by Mr. Hunt exclaiming explosively, and addressing the Superintendent of Scows, 'You are a scoundrel in every respect; I have held positions of responsibility which you could not hold to save your own skin, and I have been treated as a scoundrel by you one before. You have never treated me like a gentleman. The idea of me not being competent to superintend the scows is a disgrace to you and to the organization of the party you have been a good republican.'"

"What time would they leave to get to Sandy Hook?" "I have been there for three years and three months." "It takes about five hours to reach there from the dock." "The bills you have certified as correct, did you certify that the work had been done?" "Yes, I did." "I told you that you should not certify to bills when you did not know of your own knowledge that the work had been done?" "What did he tell you?" inquired Mr. French. "Nothing at all of that nature; he made no such remark, no more than the King of Egypt. He never gave me any information. I don't think he is competent to do so."

"How do you consider chief in your department?" asked Mr. MacLean. "I don't think he is worth powder enough to blow them to—"

"Restrain your indignation, Mr. Hunt," interrupted Mr. French, "and answer the question, 'Where should the scows unload?'" "At buoy No. 4."

"What time would they leave to get to Sandy Hook?" "I have been there for three years and three months." "It takes about five hours to reach there from the dock." "The bills you have certified as correct, did you certify that the work had been done?" "Yes, I did." "I told you that you should not certify to bills when you did not know of your own knowledge that the work had been done?" "What did he tell you?" inquired Mr. French. "Nothing at all of that nature; he made no such remark, no more than the King of Egypt. He never gave me any information. I don't think he is competent to do so."

"How do you consider chief in your department?" asked Mr. MacLean. "I don't think he is worth powder enough to blow them to—"

"Restrain your indignation, Mr. Hunt," interrupted Mr. French, "and answer the question, 'Where should the scows unload?'" "At buoy No. 4."

"What time would they leave to get to Sandy Hook?" "I have been there for three years and three months." "It takes about five hours to reach there from the dock." "The bills you have certified as correct, did you certify that the work had been done?" "Yes, I did." "I told you that you should not certify to bills when you did not know of your own knowledge that the work had been done?" "What did he tell you?" inquired Mr. French. "Nothing at all of that nature; he made no such remark, no more than the King of Egypt. He never gave me any information. I don't think he is competent to do so."

"How do you consider chief in your department?" asked Mr. Mac