

PARALYSIS DEATHS TOTAL 31 IN DAY

Dr. Emerson Sees Hope in Record of Only 119 New Cases Reported.

QUARANTINES IRKSOME

Despite City and U. S. Certificates New Yorkers Are Forced Home.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—The Public Health Service regards danger of a national epidemic of infantile paralysis as over.

State boards of health throughout the country have reported themselves able to combat any appearance of the disease.

Thirty-one deaths and 119 new cases were the Health Department's report on the infantile paralysis epidemic yesterday.

The decrease in the number of additional babies stricken was exceedingly gratifying to Health Commissioner Haven Emerson, but the increase in the number of deaths gave him grave concern.

"If there should continue for a week a decrease in the number of cases," he said, "we should then be justified in saying that we have the epidemic under control. There are circumstances, however, which indicate that the epidemic is being kept within bounds. These are, first, the fact that there has been no increase in the number of cases in Brooklyn, whereas for three days there has been a decline; second, that there has been no disproportional increase in the cases in the other boroughs; third, that no new areas are involved in the new cases.

The figures of yesterday bring the total number of cases up to 2,446, the deaths to 487. Of the 119 new victims 81 were in Brooklyn, 18 in Manhattan, 14 in Queens, 7 in Richmond and 4 in The Bronx. Of the 31 deaths 21 were in Brooklyn, 5 in The Bronx, 3 in Manhattan, 2 in Queens and none in Richmond.

Has 1,821 Beds Available.

Though there are 1,159 children in hospitals, Dr. Emerson still has 1,821 beds available. The doctor has been mobilizing beds in private hospitals and on call on the American Red Cross.

He said yesterday that he did not believe he would be called upon at any time to use the hospital at Ellis Island or call on the American Red Cross. More nurses and doctors will be needed from time to time, he said, but he has assurances that he can get them in call.

suits in using hypodermic injections of quinine and urea hydrochloride. He said that this treatment was used to sterilize the blood stream, but that nobody except a few instances ever had found the germs of infantile paralysis in the blood.

Quarantines Cause Trouble. The quarantine established in innumerable cities and towns against children from New York is really causing a great deal of inconvenience. It also is causing a tremendous amount of confusion among citizens desiring to take every reasonable measure to protect their children from the disease and also to go away with them for a vacation or to get them out of the range of the germs in New York.

At both the Health Department and at the headquarters of the United States Public Health Service appeared persons yesterday who told of their experience in leaving New York with children, arriving at different towns and then being forced to leave. Some had come back to the city for health certificates. Others said they had obtained the necessary assurances provided by the Health Department before leaving the city, but despite such papers they had been turned back.

The aim of both the local and the Federal health agencies in issuing the certificates is twofold: First, to prevent the spread of the disease from New York, and if cases were carried out to identify them immediately; secondly, to provide reasonable assurances to health officers of various places that the New Yorkers arriving at their destination had not, so far as could be ascertained by investigation and scrutiny, come in contact with the disease.

What the U. S. Doctors Do.

Dr. Charles E. Banks, senior surgeon in charge of the Federal quarantine hospital, issued a statement yesterday, at the instance of THE SUN, setting forth exactly what his service is designed to do. His statement follows:

All the requirements made by the United States Public Health Service as to travel which originate in New York city are that the traveler with children under 15 years of age shall first obtain a certificate from the district office of the City Health Department that the premises occupied by the traveler have not been infected by infantile paralysis within thirty days.

When this certificate is presented by the traveler with children to the United States officers at the depots or ferries the children are inspected, and if without evidence of the disease they are given the United States certificate. This certificate identifies the holder of it as coming from the premises named. In answer to numerous misunderstandings the following classes of travel do not come under Federal inspection: Commuters, persons in transit in New York State, persons coming into New York and adults traveling without children.

Dr. Banks had surgeons stationed at all railroad stations excepting the Hudson tubes and at the ferries yesterday. They issued more than 800 cards to persons leaving by trains. Many other persons intending to go away by automobile called at the headquarters in the Federal Building. Dr. Banks will have more surgeons here to-day and will install them near the railroad ticket offices in the Hudson tubes. The New York Health Department issued 2,000 certificates yesterday. Among the measures taken here yesterday to make the quarantine of infected places effective was the establishment of a squad of policemen by Commissioner Woods to visit the homes where cases of infantile paralysis have been found. The Health Department also sent out a reporter who was taken in seeing that children washed their teeth thoroughly after each meal. Commissioner Emerson announced he would not lift the ban on the movies. Much excitement was caused yesterday in Bayside and Flushing over the report that the mother of a child said to be afflicted with infantile paralysis, had travelled in a trolley car. The mother, Mrs. Annie Smith of Bayside, was taking her child to a doctor and when transferring in Flushing strangers observed how ill the child was. They called an ambulance from the Flushing Hospital. The mother decided the case was infantile paralysis, but according to bystanders, he refused to take the child to the hospital and directed the mother to take her child home in the car. Eighteen additional cases of infantile paralysis in the State outside of the city were reported to the State Department of Health in the twenty-four hours ended at 5 P. M. yesterday. There were no deaths. The new cases developed in Nyack, Armonk, Glen Cove, 2; Poughkeepsie, 2; Middletown, North Hempstead, 2; Fallsburg, Oyster Bay, 2; Cochen, Spring Valley, Waverly, Roslyn, Port Washington and Warwick.

New Jersey Particulars.

Both Jersey City and Hoboken took measures yesterday to make more effective their quarantine against children from New York. In Hoboken the authorities not only sought out families that recently have moved there from this city and ordered them back to New York, but they also sent additional policemen at the ferries and at the Hudson tube stations to investigate every child going to Hoboken. To do this, all policemen on vacation were recalled. No bakery, laundry or grocery wagons were permitted to enter Hoboken from this city.

In Jersey City arrangements were made by the authorities to give a health certificate to every child leaving that city and to demand one from every child entering. The health certificates also were asked to exclude children. Directors of the Neustadter Foundation, established by money bequeathed by Mrs. Henry Neustadter, announced yesterday that they are prepared to finance a temporary hospital for children recovering from infantile paralysis. They will take care of fifty children for eight or nine months. Isaac Oppenheim is president of the board.
