

Crippled Yankees, Battling Against Great Odds on Foreign Soil, Are Finally Dethroned From High Perch

YANKEES' BRIDLE TO MORE GAMES; ALSO LOSE LEAGUE LEAD

Donovan's Cripples Display Weakness at Bat—Scores Are 2 to 1 and 2 to 0.

SISLER BIG FACTOR: 10 STRAIGHT FOR BROWNS

St. Louis, July 30.—Twice in the same place, and two left arms doing the trick which Dave Davenport performed with his right arm, a catcher has decided the fate of the crippled Yankees this afternoon when they looked up for a second double header with Fielder Jones' Browns. The double defeat of the Yankees ran the Browns' winning streak up to ten straight games and dropped the Yankees into third place, below both Cleveland and Philadelphia. The scores were 2 to 1 and 2 to 0.

Helplessness with the stick, the same ailment which was so pronounced in yesterday's double, was the cause for the double reverse to day. Donovan got some fine pitching, first from George Mogridge and then from Ray Fisher. Both available for the Yankees are now displaying. Never was the punch of Baker or the batting and base running of Gilbey so much needed as during the past two days. Upon their speedy return to the game depends the Yankees' chances of again showing the lead as they have done for the past month.

Excited over the winning ways of the Browns, who have not lost a game since they were at the Polo grounds in New York yesterday, to-day's twin bill brought out 18,000 fans, a crowd which filled the stands and almost filled the sun baked bleachers. It was a record for the Yankees, and one which rode the umpires hard.

Yanks Clash With Empire.

The Yankees also had some verbal clashes with the Empire State club. Very bad day on the bases in the first game and got into all kinds of arguments behind the plate in the second affair. Linch and McGraw, who were in the coaching lines in the first game and this kept Bill in the background during the second battle. He was riding was chased to the clubhouse by the umpires, and the coaching of the second game was argued on a called third strike.

The first game ended in a big score for the home team, the only one since stood between the Yankees and victory. Even a long fly meant a score, but Nunamaker, who got both a single and a long fly on his first at-bat, was the only one to get a hit in the second game, but he had neither connected on him in the ninth inning of the opener.

With one out in the ninth and the Yankees one run behind, both Oldring and Mullen worked Koob for passes. Nunamaker, who had made a balk in the first game, was again in the line to first base and both runners advanced. Nunamaker was batting in place of Boone and any kind of a drive past the plate meant a score, but he was unable to get a hit in the second game, but he had neither connected on him in the ninth inning of the opener.

Ernie Koob and Mogridge, both southpaws, opposed each other in the opening tilt, and Koob had a shade on the New Yorker. He did not allow the big twin to get a hit in either game, and the Browns, with only one run in the second game, bunched two in the second inning for a run and two in the fifth. Koob was the only pitcher who was not grounded to the Yankees, and he was chased up and down the base line for an out, Mullen reaching third and Nunamaker scoring. The Yankees ended the game with a long fly to Marsans.

Koob vs. Mogridge. Ernie Koob and Mogridge, both southpaws, opposed each other in the opening tilt, and Koob had a shade on the New Yorker. He did not allow the big twin to get a hit in either game, and the Browns, with only one run in the second game, bunched two in the second inning for a run and two in the fifth. Koob was the only pitcher who was not grounded to the Yankees, and he was chased up and down the base line for an out, Mullen reaching third and Nunamaker scoring. The Yankees ended the game with a long fly to Marsans.

Ernie Koob and Mogridge, both southpaws, opposed each other in the opening tilt, and Koob had a shade on the New Yorker. He did not allow the big twin to get a hit in either game, and the Browns, with only one run in the second game, bunched two in the second inning for a run and two in the fifth. Koob was the only pitcher who was not grounded to the Yankees, and he was chased up and down the base line for an out, Mullen reaching third and Nunamaker scoring. The Yankees ended the game with a long fly to Marsans.

Ernie Koob and Mogridge, both southpaws, opposed each other in the opening tilt, and Koob had a shade on the New Yorker. He did not allow the big twin to get a hit in either game, and the Browns, with only one run in the second game, bunched two in the second inning for a run and two in the fifth. Koob was the only pitcher who was not grounded to the Yankees, and he was chased up and down the base line for an out, Mullen reaching third and Nunamaker scoring. The Yankees ended the game with a long fly to Marsans.

Ernie Koob and Mogridge, both southpaws, opposed each other in the opening tilt, and Koob had a shade on the New Yorker. He did not allow the big twin to get a hit in either game, and the Browns, with only one run in the second game, bunched two in the second inning for a run and two in the fifth. Koob was the only pitcher who was not grounded to the Yankees, and he was chased up and down the base line for an out, Mullen reaching third and Nunamaker scoring. The Yankees ended the game with a long fly to Marsans.

Ernie Koob and Mogridge, both southpaws, opposed each other in the opening tilt, and Koob had a shade on the New Yorker. He did not allow the big twin to get a hit in either game, and the Browns, with only one run in the second game, bunched two in the second inning for a run and two in the fifth. Koob was the only pitcher who was not grounded to the Yankees, and he was chased up and down the base line for an out, Mullen reaching third and Nunamaker scoring. The Yankees ended the game with a long fly to Marsans.

Ernie Koob and Mogridge, both southpaws, opposed each other in the opening tilt, and Koob had a shade on the New Yorker. He did not allow the big twin to get a hit in either game, and the Browns, with only one run in the second game, bunched two in the second inning for a run and two in the fifth. Koob was the only pitcher who was not grounded to the Yankees, and he was chased up and down the base line for an out, Mullen reaching third and Nunamaker scoring. The Yankees ended the game with a long fly to Marsans.

Ernie Koob and Mogridge, both southpaws, opposed each other in the opening tilt, and Koob had a shade on the New Yorker. He did not allow the big twin to get a hit in either game, and the Browns, with only one run in the second game, bunched two in the second inning for a run and two in the fifth. Koob was the only pitcher who was not grounded to the Yankees, and he was chased up and down the base line for an out, Mullen reaching third and Nunamaker scoring. The Yankees ended the game with a long fly to Marsans.

Ernie Koob and Mogridge, both southpaws, opposed each other in the opening tilt, and Koob had a shade on the New Yorker. He did not allow the big twin to get a hit in either game, and the Browns, with only one run in the second game, bunched two in the second inning for a run and two in the fifth. Koob was the only pitcher who was not grounded to the Yankees, and he was chased up and down the base line for an out, Mullen reaching third and Nunamaker scoring. The Yankees ended the game with a long fly to Marsans.

Ernie Koob and Mogridge, both southpaws, opposed each other in the opening tilt, and Koob had a shade on the New Yorker. He did not allow the big twin to get a hit in either game, and the Browns, with only one run in the second game, bunched two in the second inning for a run and two in the fifth. Koob was the only pitcher who was not grounded to the Yankees, and he was chased up and down the base line for an out, Mullen reaching third and Nunamaker scoring. The Yankees ended the game with a long fly to Marsans.

Ernie Koob and Mogridge, both southpaws, opposed each other in the opening tilt, and Koob had a shade on the New Yorker. He did not allow the big twin to get a hit in either game, and the Browns, with only one run in the second game, bunched two in the second inning for a run and two in the fifth. Koob was the only pitcher who was not grounded to the Yankees, and he was chased up and down the base line for an out, Mullen reaching third and Nunamaker scoring. The Yankees ended the game with a long fly to Marsans.

Ernie Koob and Mogridge, both southpaws, opposed each other in the opening tilt, and Koob had a shade on the New Yorker. He did not allow the big twin to get a hit in either game, and the Browns, with only one run in the second game, bunched two in the second inning for a run and two in the fifth. Koob was the only pitcher who was not grounded to the Yankees, and he was chased up and down the base line for an out, Mullen reaching third and Nunamaker scoring. The Yankees ended the game with a long fly to Marsans.

Ernie Koob and Mogridge, both southpaws, opposed each other in the opening tilt, and Koob had a shade on the New Yorker. He did not allow the big twin to get a hit in either game, and the Browns, with only one run in the second game, bunched two in the second inning for a run and two in the fifth. Koob was the only pitcher who was not grounded to the Yankees, and he was chased up and down the base line for an out, Mullen reaching third and Nunamaker scoring. The Yankees ended the game with a long fly to Marsans.

Ernie Koob and Mogridge, both southpaws, opposed each other in the opening tilt, and Koob had a shade on the New Yorker. He did not allow the big twin to get a hit in either game, and the Browns, with only one run in the second game, bunched two in the second inning for a run and two in the fifth. Koob was the only pitcher who was not grounded to the Yankees, and he was chased up and down the base line for an out, Mullen reaching third and Nunamaker scoring. The Yankees ended the game with a long fly to Marsans.

Giants' Recovery From Slump Pleases McGraw

Herzog's Addition Has Instilled New Life Into New Yorkers—Dodgers Holding Their Own Despite Strong Opposition—Yankees Face Difficult Problem.

By FRIDERICK G. LIEB.

John McGraw will believe the Giants can win the pennant. Those four straight victories on the Polo grounds, especially the three won in extra innings, have pleased John more than anything the Giants have done in a long time. He now feels that it will have a great effect on the Giants, who had fallen into a rut largely because they believed they could not win on the Polo grounds. Until the present series the Giants had only won seven games at home, and the present run is only the second time they have won more than one game at a time at home. Once they bunched two straight on the P. G.

The Giants are actually hitting at home. That is one thing greatly in their favor. They have the punch all right, but with the exception of the Harlem games they did not exhibit it in Harlem. Herzog has been a great help despite the fact that he played good in two games. Yet Charley should be forgiven for his many errors because of his fine work on Thursday and Saturday. He seems to be better now than when last pitched. While Herzog was a grand player at third for the Giants the writer does not believe he ever rose to the heights at third base that he has reached at the short. With all respect to Fletcher's ability to play short, the writer will be sorry that Herzog moved back to third. Yet there is no doubt that the Giants will not use the Salts for long. They are the best pitcher in the present form of the year.

McGraw Has Great Outlook. That outfield of Burns, Kauff and Robertson has been doing great work of late and the pitching also has shown marked improvement. In the last two games at home Tebeau pitched the only poor game, but after the Reds pumped a bushel of hits out of Jeff they could not use the Salts for long. He has started in so far, but he has been fair at that and he must be considered as a big factor from now on.

The Giants this morning are nine full games behind the pace set by the Yankees and while that is a pretty fine lead for the Robins it can still be cut down. In 1912 the Salts lost sixteen games in a row, but they were able to win three games before the fuse blew out. However, for the present Brooklyn is not so far behind the Giants as much as with the Braves. The Salts played steady ball last week. They gained five points by winning four out of six. Robbie's boys have slumped a bit.

Wants Clash With Empire. The Yankees also had some verbal clashes with the Empire State club. Very bad day on the bases in the first game and got into all kinds of arguments behind the plate in the second affair. Linch and McGraw, who were in the coaching lines in the first game and this kept Bill in the background during the second battle. He was riding was chased to the clubhouse by the umpires, and the coaching of the second game was argued on a called third strike.

The first game ended in a big score for the home team, the only one since stood between the Yankees and victory. Even a long fly meant a score, but Nunamaker, who got both a single and a long fly on his first at-bat, was the only one to get a hit in the second game, but he had neither connected on him in the ninth inning of the opener.

With one out in the ninth and the Yankees one run behind, both Oldring and Mullen worked Koob for passes. Nunamaker, who had made a balk in the first game, was again in the line to first base and both runners advanced. Nunamaker was batting in place of Boone and any kind of a drive past the plate meant a score, but he was unable to get a hit in the second game, but he had neither connected on him in the ninth inning of the opener.

Ernie Koob and Mogridge, both southpaws, opposed each other in the opening tilt, and Koob had a shade on the New Yorker. He did not allow the big twin to get a hit in either game, and the Browns, with only one run in the second game, bunched two in the second inning for a run and two in the fifth. Koob was the only pitcher who was not grounded to the Yankees, and he was chased up and down the base line for an out, Mullen reaching third and Nunamaker scoring. The Yankees ended the game with a long fly to Marsans.

Ernie Koob and Mogridge, both southpaws, opposed each other in the opening tilt, and Koob had a shade on the New Yorker. He did not allow the big twin to get a hit in either game, and the Browns, with only one run in the second game, bunched two in the second inning for a run and two in the fifth. Koob was the only pitcher who was not grounded to the Yankees, and he was chased up and down the base line for an out, Mullen reaching third and Nunamaker scoring. The Yankees ended the game with a long fly to Marsans.

Ernie Koob and Mogridge, both southpaws, opposed each other in the opening tilt, and Koob had a shade on the New Yorker. He did not allow the big twin to get a hit in either game, and the Browns, with only one run in the second game, bunched two in the second inning for a run and two in the fifth. Koob was the only pitcher who was not grounded to the Yankees, and he was chased up and down the base line for an out, Mullen reaching third and Nunamaker scoring. The Yankees ended the game with a long fly to Marsans.

Ernie Koob and Mogridge, both southpaws, opposed each other in the opening tilt, and Koob had a shade on the New Yorker. He did not allow the big twin to get a hit in either game, and the Browns, with only one run in the second game, bunched two in the second inning for a run and two in the fifth. Koob was the only pitcher who was not grounded to the Yankees, and he was chased up and down the base line for an out, Mullen reaching third and Nunamaker scoring. The Yankees ended the game with a long fly to Marsans.

Ernie Koob and Mogridge, both southpaws, opposed each other in the opening tilt, and Koob had a shade on the New Yorker. He did not allow the big twin to get a hit in either game, and the Browns, with only one run in the second game, bunched two in the second inning for a run and two in the fifth. Koob was the only pitcher who was not grounded to the Yankees, and he was chased up and down the base line for an out, Mullen reaching third and Nunamaker scoring. The Yankees ended the game with a long fly to Marsans.

Ernie Koob and Mogridge, both southpaws, opposed each other in the opening tilt, and Koob had a shade on the New Yorker. He did not allow the big twin to get a hit in either game, and the Browns, with only one run in the second game, bunched two in the second inning for a run and two in the fifth. Koob was the only pitcher who was not grounded to the Yankees, and he was chased up and down the base line for an out, Mullen reaching third and Nunamaker scoring. The Yankees ended the game with a long fly to Marsans.

Ernie Koob and Mogridge, both southpaws, opposed each other in the opening tilt, and Koob had a shade on the New Yorker. He did not allow the big twin to get a hit in either game, and the Browns, with only one run in the second game, bunched two in the second inning for a run and two in the fifth. Koob was the only pitcher who was not grounded to the Yankees, and he was chased up and down the base line for an out, Mullen reaching third and Nunamaker scoring. The Yankees ended the game with a long fly to Marsans.

Ernie Koob and Mogridge, both southpaws, opposed each other in the opening tilt, and Koob had a shade on the New Yorker. He did not allow the big twin to get a hit in either game, and the Browns, with only one run in the second game, bunched two in the second inning for a run and two in the fifth. Koob was the only pitcher who was not grounded to the Yankees, and he was chased up and down the base line for an out, Mullen reaching third and Nunamaker scoring. The Yankees ended the game with a long fly to Marsans.

Ernie Koob and Mogridge, both southpaws, opposed each other in the opening tilt, and Koob had a shade on the New Yorker. He did not allow the big twin to get a hit in either game, and the Browns, with only one run in the second game, bunched two in the second inning for a run and two in the fifth. Koob was the only pitcher who was not grounded to the Yankees, and he was chased up and down the base line for an out, Mullen reaching third and Nunamaker scoring. The Yankees ended the game with a long fly to Marsans.

Ernie Koob and Mogridge, both southpaws, opposed each other in the opening tilt, and Koob had a shade on the New Yorker. He did not allow the big twin to get a hit in either game, and the Browns, with only one run in the second game, bunched two in the second inning for a run and two in the fifth. Koob was the only pitcher who was not grounded to the Yankees, and he was chased up and down the base line for an out, Mullen reaching third and Nunamaker scoring. The Yankees ended the game with a long fly to Marsans.

Ernie Koob and Mogridge, both southpaws, opposed each other in the opening tilt, and Koob had a shade on the New Yorker. He did not allow the big twin to get a hit in either game, and the Browns, with only one run in the second game, bunched two in the second inning for a run and two in the fifth. Koob was the only pitcher who was not grounded to the Yankees, and he was chased up and down the base line for an out, Mullen reaching third and Nunamaker scoring. The Yankees ended the game with a long fly to Marsans.

Ernie Koob and Mogridge, both southpaws, opposed each other in the opening tilt, and Koob had a shade on the New Yorker. He did not allow the big twin to get a hit in either game, and the Browns, with only one run in the second game, bunched two in the second inning for a run and two in the fifth. Koob was the only pitcher who was not grounded to the Yankees, and he was chased up and down the base line for an out, Mullen reaching third and Nunamaker scoring. The Yankees ended the game with a long fly to Marsans.

Ernie Koob and Mogridge, both southpaws, opposed each other in the opening tilt, and Koob had a shade on the New Yorker. He did not allow the big twin to get a hit in either game, and the Browns, with only one run in the second game, bunched two in the second inning for a run and two in the fifth. Koob was the only pitcher who was not grounded to the Yankees, and he was chased up and down the base line for an out, Mullen reaching third and Nunamaker scoring. The Yankees ended the game with a long fly to Marsans.

Ernie Koob and Mogridge, both southpaws, opposed each other in the opening tilt, and Koob had a shade on the New Yorker. He did not allow the big twin to get a hit in either game, and the Browns, with only one run in the second game, bunched two in the second inning for a run and two in the fifth. Koob was the only pitcher who was not grounded to the Yankees, and he was chased up and down the base line for an out, Mullen reaching third and Nunamaker scoring. The Yankees ended the game with a long fly to Marsans.

Ernie Koob and Mogridge, both southpaws, opposed each other in the opening tilt, and Koob had a shade on the New Yorker. He did not allow the big twin to get a hit in either game, and the Browns, with only one run in the second game, bunched two in the second inning for a run and two in the fifth. Koob was the only pitcher who was not grounded to the Yankees, and he was chased up and down the base line for an out, Mullen reaching third and Nunamaker scoring. The Yankees ended the game with a long fly to Marsans.

Ernie Koob and Mogridge, both southpaws, opposed each other in the opening tilt, and Koob had a shade on the New Yorker. He did not allow the big twin to get a hit in either game, and the Browns, with only one run in the second game, bunched two in the second inning for a run and two in the fifth. Koob was the only pitcher who was not grounded to the Yankees, and he was chased up and down the base line for an out, Mullen reaching third and Nunamaker scoring. The Yankees ended the game with a long fly to Marsans.

Ernie Koob and Mogridge, both southpaws, opposed each other in the opening tilt, and Koob had a shade on the New Yorker. He did not allow the big twin to get a hit in either game, and the Browns, with only one run in the second game, bunched two in the second inning for a run and two in the fifth. Koob was the only pitcher who was not grounded to the Yankees, and he was chased up and down the base line for an out, Mullen reaching third and Nunamaker scoring. The Yankees ended the game with a long fly to Marsans.

RED SOX DEPOSE DOONOVAN'S CREW

Victory Over Tigers by 9 to 3 Places Boston on Top Rung of Ladder.

Mitchell Is Hit Hard

Detroit, July 30.—(American)—Boston hit Mitchell for ten hits in four innings to-day and easily defeated Detroit, 9 to 3. The victory placed the Sox as champions in first place, as the Yankees lost two games.

Cunningham, who succeeded Mitchell, did much better, the visitors making only one run off his delivery. Maxie's work in the box for Boston was good at all times. Vitt handled several difficult plays at third base. The score:

Table with columns for Boston (A) and Detroit (A) showing runs, hits, errors, and total scores.

Braves Enjoyed Good Week. Boston fared as well as the Giants during the week, winning four out of five games. That is the team the wisest fans will wish to see in the box.

Both Evers and Sherry Magee, brilliant luminaries of former days, are on the team. Both are hitting a trifle over par. Maxie and Vitt, both regulars, also are batting very lightly.

In fact the team is a poor last in team averages and stolen bases, but it is the right team to be in the race. The team is high up in the race.

The Philly plodders won four games last week and lost three. They continue to stick around. All the Western teams fared badly in the East, Chicago, Pittsburg, Cincinnati and St. Louis, all losing a majority of their games.

The acquisition of the veteran Schulte, the last of the Cubs, should help Pittsburg. He is a hitting power, and he is new surroundings. Wildfire went great early in the year, but recently took an awful slump.

Hard on Yankees. The Yankees held their own in Chicago, but met a Waterloo in St. Louis, a city where many Yankee winning streaks come to grief. Last year the Yankees were the best in the league, but they were not in the lead in the East.

The Yankees held their own in Chicago, but met a Waterloo in St. Louis, a city where many Yankee winning streaks come to grief. Last year the Yankees were the best in the league, but they were not in the lead in the East.

The Yankees held their own in Chicago, but met a Waterloo in St. Louis, a city where many Yankee winning streaks come to grief. Last year the Yankees were the best in the league, but they were not in the lead in the East.

The Yankees held their own in Chicago, but met a Waterloo in St. Louis, a city where many Yankee winning streaks come to grief. Last year the Yankees were the best in the league, but they were not in the lead in the East.

The Yankees held their own in Chicago, but met a Waterloo in St. Louis, a city where many Yankee winning streaks come to grief. Last year the Yankees were the best in the league, but they were not in the lead in the East.

The Yankees held their own in Chicago, but met a Waterloo in St. Louis, a city where many Yankee winning streaks come to grief. Last year the Yankees were the best in the league, but they were not in the lead in the East.

The Yankees held their own in Chicago, but met a Waterloo in St. Louis, a city where many Yankee winning streaks come to grief. Last year the Yankees were the best in the league, but they were not in the lead in the East.

The Yankees held their own in Chicago, but met a Waterloo in St. Louis, a city where many Yankee winning streaks come to grief. Last year the Yankees were the best in the league, but they were not in the lead in the East.

The Yankees held their own in Chicago, but met a Waterloo in St. Louis, a city where many Yankee winning streaks come to grief. Last year the Yankees were the best in the league, but they were not in the lead in the East.

The Yankees held their own in Chicago, but met a Waterloo in St. Louis, a city where many Yankee winning streaks come to grief. Last year the Yankees were the best in the league, but they were not in the lead in the East.

The Yankees held their own in Chicago, but met a Waterloo in St. Louis, a city where many Yankee winning streaks come to grief. Last year the Yankees were the best in the league, but they were not in the lead in the East.

The Yankees held their own in Chicago, but met a Waterloo in St. Louis, a city where many Yankee winning streaks come to grief. Last year the Yankees were the best in the league, but they were not in the lead in the East.

The Yankees held their own in Chicago, but met a Waterloo in St. Louis, a city where many Yankee winning streaks come to grief. Last year the Yankees were the best in the league, but they were not in the lead in the East.

The Yankees held their own in Chicago, but met a Waterloo in St. Louis, a city where many Yankee winning streaks come to grief. Last year the Yankees were the best in the league, but they were not in the lead in the East.

The Yankees held their own in Chicago, but met a Waterloo in St. Louis, a city where many Yankee winning streaks come to grief. Last year the Yankees were the best in the league, but they were not in the lead in the East.

The Yankees held their own in Chicago, but met a Waterloo in St. Louis, a city where many Yankee winning streaks come to grief. Last year the Yankees were the best in the league, but they were not in the lead in the East.

The Yankees held their own in Chicago, but met a Waterloo in St. Louis, a city where many Yankee winning streaks come to grief. Last year the Yankees were the best in the league, but they were not in the lead in the East.

COLUMBIA PITCHER WINS FOR GIANTS

Smith Goes Route Against Donlin's Team at Long Branch—Score, 8 to 4.

Fletcher in Lineup

Long Branch, N. J., July 30.—Hans Lobert was in charge of a division of the Giants who visited this resort to-day and for the third time this season defeated the Long Branch team. The score was 8 to 4. The Giants scored all their runs in the first three innings. Smith, the Columbia College pitcher, recently signed by McGraw, pitched the full game for the Giants and showed fairly well. He was inclined to be a bit wild, but had good speed and a wonderful assortment of curves.

The visitors gave Hall a warm reception in the first two innings, but he settled down and twirled steady ball for the rest of the game. Mike Donlin started at the bat for the locals with two singles and a triple. Fletcher returned to the lineup to-day. His single, Kauff double and a single by Kelly, secured two runs for the Giants in the first inning. Errors by Pickering, Seymour, Hunter, Fletcher and Kauff counted for more in the second. Kelley walked in the third, stole second and third and scored on Johnson's sacrifice fly. The score:

Table with columns for Long Branch and Giants showing runs, hits, errors, and total scores.

Washington defeated Cleveland in ten innings to-day, 2 to 1. McBride led off in the tenth with a pop fly to center field. Both teams were tied 1-1. Sacrifice hit—Seymour. Sacrifice fly—Kauff. Double play—Donlin, Fletcher. Long Branch: First base on errors—New York. Errors—McBride, Seymour, Hunter, Fletcher and Kauff. Time of game—1 hour and 30 minutes.

Washington defeated Cleveland in ten innings to-day, 2 to 1. McBride led off in the tenth with a pop fly to center field. Both teams were tied 1-1. Sacrifice hit—Seymour. Sacrifice fly—Kauff. Double play—Donlin, Fletcher. Long Branch: First base on errors—New York. Errors—McBride, Seymour, Hunter, Fletcher and Kauff. Time of game—1 hour and 30 minutes.

Washington defeated Cleveland in ten innings to-day, 2 to 1. McBride led off in the tenth with a pop fly to center field. Both teams were tied 1-1. Sacrifice hit—Seymour. Sacrifice fly—Kauff. Double play—Donlin, Fletcher. Long Branch: First base on errors—New York. Errors—McBride, Seymour, Hunter, Fletcher and Kauff. Time of game—1 hour and 30 minutes.

Washington defeated Cleveland in ten innings to-day, 2 to 1. McBride led off in the tenth with a pop fly to center field. Both teams were tied 1-1. Sacrifice hit—Seymour. Sacrifice fly—Kauff. Double play—Donlin, Fletcher. Long Branch: First base on errors—New York. Errors—McBride, Seymour, Hunter, Fletcher and Kauff. Time of game—1 hour and 30 minutes.

Washington defeated Cleveland in ten innings to-day, 2 to 1. McBride led off in the tenth with a pop fly to center field. Both teams were tied 1-1. Sacrifice hit—Seymour. Sacrifice fly—Kauff. Double play—Donlin, Fletcher. Long Branch: First base on errors—New York. Errors—McBride, Seymour, Hunter, Fletcher and Kauff. Time of game—1 hour and 30 minutes.

Washington defeated Cleveland in ten innings to-day, 2 to 1. McBride led off in the tenth with a pop fly to center field. Both teams were tied 1-1. Sacrifice hit—Seymour. Sacrifice fly—Kauff. Double play—Donlin, Fletcher. Long Branch: First base on errors—New York. Errors—McBride, Seymour, Hunter, Fletcher and Kauff. Time of game—1 hour and 30 minutes.

Washington defeated Cleveland in ten innings to-day, 2 to 1. McBride led off in the tenth with a pop fly to center field. Both teams were tied 1-1. Sacrifice hit—Seymour. Sacrifice fly—Kauff. Double play—Donlin, Fletcher. Long Branch: First base on errors—New York. Errors—McBride, Seymour, Hunter, Fletcher and Kauff. Time of game—1 hour and 30 minutes.

Washington defeated Cleveland in ten innings to-day, 2 to 1. McBride led off in the tenth with a pop fly to center field. Both teams were tied 1-1. Sacrifice hit—Seymour. Sacrifice fly—Kauff. Double play—Donlin, Fletcher. Long Branch: First base on errors—New York. Errors—McBride, Seymour, Hunter, Fletcher and Kauff. Time of game—1 hour and 30 minutes.

Washington defeated Cleveland in ten innings to-day, 2 to 1. McBride led off in the tenth with a pop fly to center field. Both teams were tied 1-1. Sacrifice hit—Seymour. Sacrifice fly—Kauff. Double play—Donlin, Fletcher. Long Branch: First base on errors—New York. Errors—McBride, Seymour, Hunter, Fletcher and Kauff. Time of game—1 hour and 30 minutes.

Washington defeated Cleveland in ten innings to-day, 2 to 1. McBride led off in the tenth with a pop fly to center field. Both teams were tied 1-1. Sacrifice hit—Seymour. Sacrifice fly—Kauff. Double play—Donlin, Fletcher. Long Branch: First base on errors—New York. Errors—McBride, Seymour, Hunter, Fletcher and Kauff. Time of game—1 hour and 30 minutes.

Washington defeated Cleveland in ten innings to-day, 2 to 1. McBride led off in the tenth with a pop fly to center field. Both teams were tied 1-1. Sacrifice hit—Seymour. Sacrifice fly—Kauff. Double play—Donlin, Fletcher. Long Branch: First base on errors—New York. Errors—McBride, Seymour, Hunter, Fletcher and Kauff. Time of game—1 hour and 30 minutes.

Washington defeated Cleveland in ten innings to-day, 2 to 1. McBride led off in the tenth with a pop fly to center field. Both teams were tied 1-1. Sacrifice hit—Seymour. Sacrifice fly—Kauff. Double play—Donlin, Fletcher. Long Branch: First base on errors—New York. Errors—McBride, Seymour, Hunter, Fletcher and Kauff. Time of game—1 hour and 30 minutes.

Washington defeated Cleveland in ten innings to-day, 2 to 1. McBride led off in the tenth with a pop fly to center field. Both teams were tied 1-1. Sacrifice hit—Seymour. Sacrifice fly—Kauff. Double play—Donlin, Fletcher. Long Branch: First base on errors—New York. Errors—McBride, Seymour, Hunter, Fletcher and Kauff. Time of game—1 hour and 30 minutes.

Washington defeated Cleveland in ten innings to-day, 2 to 1. McBride led off in the tenth with a pop fly to center field. Both teams were tied 1-1. Sacrifice hit—Seymour. Sacrifice fly—Kauff. Double play—Donlin, Fletcher. Long Branch: First base on errors—New York. Errors—McBride, Seymour, Hunter, Fletcher and Kauff. Time of game—1 hour and 30 minutes.

Washington defeated Cleveland in ten innings to-day, 2 to 1. McBride led off in the tenth with a pop fly to center field. Both teams were tied 1-1. Sacrifice hit—Seymour. Sacrifice fly—Kauff. Double play—Donlin, Fletcher. Long Branch: First base on errors—New York. Errors—McBride, Seymour, Hunter, Fletcher and Kauff. Time of game—1 hour and 30 minutes.

Washington defeated Cleveland in ten innings to-day, 2 to 1. McBride led off in the tenth with a pop fly to center field. Both teams were tied 1-1. Sacrifice hit—Seymour. Sacrifice fly—Kauff. Double play—Donlin, Fletcher. Long Branch: First base on errors—New York. Errors—McBride, Seymour, Hunter, Fletcher and Kauff. Time of game—1 hour and 30 minutes.

Washington defeated Cleveland in ten innings to-day, 2 to 1. McBride led off in the tenth with a pop fly to center field. Both teams were tied 1-1. Sacrifice hit—Seymour. Sacrifice fly—Kauff. Double play—Donlin, Fletcher. Long Branch: First base on errors—New York. Errors—McBride, Seymour, Hunter, Fletcher and Kauff. Time of game—1 hour and 30 minutes.

Washington defeated Cleveland in ten innings to-day, 2 to 1. McBride led off in the tenth with a pop fly to center field. Both teams were tied 1-1. Sacrifice hit—Seymour. Sacrifice fly—Kauff. Double play—Donlin, Fletcher. Long Branch: First base on errors—New York. Errors—McBride, Seymour, Hunter, Fletcher and Kauff. Time of game—1 hour and 30 minutes.

Washington defeated Cleveland in ten innings to-day, 2 to 1. McBride led off in the tenth with a pop fly to center field. Both teams were tied 1-1. Sacrifice hit—Seymour. Sacrifice fly—Kauff. Double play—Donlin, Fletcher. Long Branch: First base on errors—New York. Errors—