will be about $372,000,000. Deducting this increase would leave $753,000,000 as the amount required to meet the normal disbursements of the Government for the year.

Now the total estimated receipts for the year 1917 under existing laws are $762,000,000 or about $8,000,000 more than the estimated normal disburse-ments. It is therefore obvious that

Second Defence Line Won.

The British now hold the entire former second line of defence of the Germans from Mouquet farm, which is just east of Thiepval at a smooth the extreme north limit of the Somme operations, down to the point where the British right flank rests against the French left. Just where this point is at present has not been stated officially, but it evidently is near the Peronne-Combles railroad just outside the latter the Sound and taking complete war.
