

"PETTICOAT TRAIN" HAS A SUFF BOGEY

Hughes's Women Campaigners Have Hard Time Scaring It Away.

IT BOBS UP AT BUFFALO

Cleveland Greets the Special as a "Billion Dollar" Expedition.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Oct. 3.—Heralded as the "billion dollar train," the women's campaign train for Hughes swept into Cleveland at 7 o'clock this evening.

A score of automobiles met the train, and carried the visitors to the Hollenden, where a meeting was held in the auditorium.

Chairman of the train committee, and Mrs. Sarah Hays, treasurer of the local board of education.

Speeching the Bogey. The anti-suffragists, who abound in Buffalo, saw a suffrage bogey perched in the front of the women's campaign train for Hughes as it approached the city.

Mrs. Bryant is herself an anti, a member of the executive board of the local anti-suffrage organization.

Number of the anti's who had consented to serve on the committee of welcome got a different idea, and yesterday letters began to pour in on Mrs. Bryant and telephone calls assailed her.

There was a ripple of disapproval among the anti's, but they subsided, and Miss Helen Varick Boswell, Miss Mary Antin and Mrs. Nelson O'Shaughnessy, the spellbinders from the train, spread oil on the troubled waters by avoiding the question at issue when they spoke.

Two Street Meetings.

The crusaders held two street meetings in Buffalo, and got a taste of real political work when an ardent follower of Wilson tried to convince Miss Antin and Miss Annie S. Peck, the speakers, that their arguments were all wrong.

A policeman at Sheldon Square, where the first meeting was held, had to be appealed to before the Wisconsin was quelled. He followed the women to their second meeting, but a stalwart Republican in civilian clothes succeeded in quieting him there.

WE handled during the year ending June 30, 1916, milk of known quality and quantity, of assured safety and cleanliness, at a PROFIT OF ABOUT 1/4 OF A CENT PER QUART

That means that we handle four quarts of milk to earn one cent. It means that your milk came to you backed by the most intensive service devoted to any food product, and at a profit that in any other line would be considered commercially unsafe.

We render a service to the consumer that the consumer wants and demands. We render that service at a cost that is economically low for the reason that our organization and resources have made it possible to operate efficiently.

No plan of milk distribution yet offered has been able to supersede our present efficient methods. No plan of milk distribution can succeed without the personal service which now goes with each quart of Borden's milk.

Our duty to the consumer is as clear to us as is our duty to the producer. We have tried to protect the one and at the same time made a stable market for the product of the other.

The recent advances in the cost of every factor entering into the distribution and handling of milk, which are beyond our control, obviously make the maintenance of the present schedule of retail prices impossible if the same standards of quality and service are to be preserved.
