HOME RULE IS SAFE, REDMOND ASSERTS

Says Forcing of Conscription on Ireland Would Be a Fatal Mistake.

NOT A MILITARY DEMAND

Parliamentary Leader Sees Political Scheme in British Proposal.

WATERFORD, Ireland, Oct. 6.—In a notable address to his constituents here this afternoon John Redmond, the Irish Nationalist leader in Parliament, said that despite the recent rebellion, with all its inevitable aftermath of brutalities, stupidities and inflamed passions, the home rule for Ireland is safe if Ireland remains sane.

Mr. Redmond also said conscription could never be forced on Ireland, adding: "I cannot bring myself to believe that, malign though the influences at work are, the Government will be insane enough to challenge a conflict with Ireland on this subject. Conscription for Ireland, far from helping the army and the war, would be the most fatal failure that could happen. It would be related in every village in Ireland. Its attempted enforcement would be a scandal which would ring round the world. It would produce no additional men."

Continuing, the Irish Parliamentary leader said: "The mere threat is paralyzing recruiting, which, mark you, is not dead as some people say. The latest figures, indeed, show that from the date of the signing (Sunday) until September 6,000 recruits were secured. "This demand for conscription is not a genuine military demand. It is a base political device put forward by men who want to injure and discredit Ireland's political future and revive by any and every means bad blood between the two countries, in the wicked hope that when the war is over the people may tolerate some attempt to repeal the home rule act. But whatever the motive back of the proposal may be, it will never be carried through the House of Commons so long as the Irish party remains as it is to-day, united and entitled to speak for Ireland.

"The way to continue to get recruits is far different. Approve the Home Rule in Ireland. Withdraw martial law. Make it plain that the defence of the realm act will be administered not as it is being administered now in Ireland, but in the same spirit as it is administered in England, Scotland and Wales. Treat prisoners arrested during the rising as political prisoners. Put an end to insults and attacks upon Ireland and recognize generally what she has done.

"On these lines the Government may succeed in recruiting, even after all that has happened. But as for conscription, in that way lies madness, ruin and disaster."

LEMBERG BATTLE GROWING IN FURY

Brusiloff's Men Hurling in Wave After Wave Against the Teuton Lines.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—In a battle that is gathering headway every day and is now described by German officers as just as violent as that on the Somme Russian attacks constantly repeated have forced the German and Turkish forces to abandon positions south of Brzezany. The Russian infantry is holding them against strong counter attacks.

To-day the weight of Brusiloff's blows at Lemberg fell upon a front of twenty-five miles almost directly east of the Galician capital. All along the base of the triangle made by the battle front and the railroad lines that converge to Lemberg from Brody and Zborow wave after wave of Russian infantry went forward, charged the Germans and they repulsed every attack. Each side took about 500 prisoners.

On both sides of the Zlota Lipa, southeast of Lemberg, the Russians again attacked the heights held by Germans, Austrians and Turks. "The Teuton troops on every occasion broke the frequent storming attacks," the German statement says, and captured 510 men and eight machine guns, besides inflicting severe losses. "An absolute mastery of the position," concludes the statement.

These Russian attacks aimed at Lemberg are the most violent that have been directed at the eastern front since the war began, according to an Exchange Telegraph Company despatch. At some points Russian infantry have attacked in great numbers, and in a few days the Germans fired 60,000 shells on a very small front.

BRITISH AND FRENCH GAIN MORE IN WEST

Heavy Artillery Fire Along 30 Mile Front Presages Great Attack.

"GAS" GERMAN TRENCHES

Allies in Flank Movement Toward Le Sars and Mont St. Quentin.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—To-day the artillery duel on the Somme battlefield increased to great volume on a front of thirty miles, and the infantry stayed in the trenches at most points. So strong was the cannonade, particularly north of the Somme and on the British front, that it is believed great infantry attacks are in preparation.

In the only infantry actions of the day the French and British crept forward a little more. The British advanced northeast of Eaucaourt l'Abbaye toward the left flank of the German garrison. The French pushed forward still more east of Bouchevignes in their flanking movement on Mont St. Quentin and Peronne. The Germans say they repulsed other French attacks in this sector.

The British spurred asphyxiating gas into the German trenches east of Loos and east of Arras, at both which points the British lines form salients, and raided German trenches at those points, and also twice, south of Arras, toward the German line. The British lines just north of the Somme battlefield. The British have done much trench raiding lately north of the Somme front.

SEABURY HITS ROOT FOR WILSON ATTACK

Calls Him Corporation Man and Defender of Special Privilege.

TOURS NASSAU COUNTY Democratic Candidate Says Ex-Senator Would War With Germany.

Judge Seabury speaking yesterday in Mineola called Ethel Root to account for his arraignment of President Wilson in Carnegie Hall on Thursday night.

"Before we decide what weight should be given to his statements let us see what manner of man is this who criticizes the President of the United States," Judge Seabury said. "All his life since he began the Seabury firm Ethel Root has been the attorney of corporations, the advocate and defender of special privilege. It is easy to understand such a man's hostility to the Wilson Administration."

"The President's foreign policy does not please the distinguished Republican former Secretary of State," Mr. Seabury denounced Gov. Whitman's administration as "weak, inefficient and extravagant." There was a reference to the Governor as "your firm Executive secretary saying Whitman had presented a State budget to the Legislature with a declaration that he would insist on its enactment and afterwards when the Republican party were in power against it, sacrificed it and excused his cowardice by saying it never had been other than a tentative budget."

A delegation of women suffragists included the conduct of the Suffrage Society in Lynbrook. They wished to know where he stood on the suffrage issue. Judge Seabury replied that he favored political equality, and based his opposition to the tax laws especially should have a voice in the government.

INDEPENDENTS WILL HEAR WILSON TO-DAY

President to Make Second Political Speech at Shadow Lawn.

CRENSHAW, Ohio, Oct. 6.—President Wilson plans to make the second strictly political speech of his campaign at Shadow Lawn to-morrow afternoon before some 2,000 members of the Woodrow Wilson Independent League. He will arrive at Long Branch at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning.

The President intends continuing the political argument begun at Shadow Lawn last Saturday. He is known to believe that the coming election will be decided by independents, and therefore to-morrow he will make an especial appeal to them and to a group of Progressive Republicans from New York. The President will seek to show that because of its legislative achievements of the last three years the Democratic party more than the Republican party deserves the support of Progressive and independent voters.

The President is returning to Shadow Lawn convinced that he has a good chance of carrying several middle Western States hitherto thought certain Republican. Gov. Danne of Illinois and Senator Wain, in charge of Democratic Western headquarters, assured him in Chicago to-day that most conservative reports are being received from all parts of the West.

An old time "Home Interest" debate between women over politics was heard by the President this morning when his train stopped for a few minutes at Malaga. "Most of the women were sublimities."

NEW LIGHT ON CLAYTON ACT. Federal Reserve Board Decries "Private Banker" Section.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—A section of the Clayton act prohibiting private bankers from serving after October 15 as officers or directors of banks having membership in the Federal Reserve system was interpreted by the Reserve Board to-night as barring only those engaged in the banking business "as generally understood," and not those classed as stock, note or commodity brokers or those using their own funds in making loans.

"The purpose of the act," said a statement issued by the board, "was to prevent unlawful restraints and monopolies in the banking business." Congress intended to prohibit common control of member banks and of private bankers engaged in the same activities as member banks.

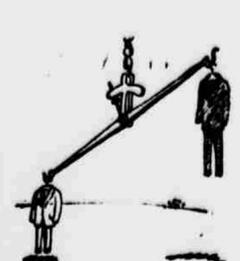

"The term 'private banker' is interpreted not to include the ordinary stock, note or commodity broker unless a substantial proportion of his profits are derived from or a substantial part of his business consists in one or more of the banking activities described, nor is it interpreted to include partnerships or individuals using only their own funds in making loans or investments."
