

GIRL'S DRIVING WINS HORSE SHOW HONOR

Miss Vauchin Takes Blue Ribbon for Entry Over Men Rivals.

ENTHUSIASTIC OPENING First Day of Event Draws 8,000 Spectators to the Garden.

The show returned to New York yesterday. After a year's absence...

Miss Vauchin Takes Blue Ribbon for Entry Over Men Rivals.

ENTHUSIASTIC OPENING First Day of Event Draws 8,000 Spectators to the Garden.

The show returned to New York yesterday. After a year's absence...

Miss Vauchin Takes Blue Ribbon for Entry Over Men Rivals.

ENTHUSIASTIC OPENING First Day of Event Draws 8,000 Spectators to the Garden.

The show returned to New York yesterday. After a year's absence...

Miss Vauchin Takes Blue Ribbon for Entry Over Men Rivals.

ENTHUSIASTIC OPENING First Day of Event Draws 8,000 Spectators to the Garden.

The show returned to New York yesterday. After a year's absence...

Miss Vauchin Takes Blue Ribbon for Entry Over Men Rivals.

ENTHUSIASTIC OPENING First Day of Event Draws 8,000 Spectators to the Garden.

The show returned to New York yesterday. After a year's absence...

Miss Vauchin Takes Blue Ribbon for Entry Over Men Rivals.

ENTHUSIASTIC OPENING First Day of Event Draws 8,000 Spectators to the Garden.

The show returned to New York yesterday. After a year's absence...

Miss Vauchin Takes Blue Ribbon for Entry Over Men Rivals.

ENTHUSIASTIC OPENING First Day of Event Draws 8,000 Spectators to the Garden.

The show returned to New York yesterday. After a year's absence...

Miss Vauchin Takes Blue Ribbon for Entry Over Men Rivals.

ENTHUSIASTIC OPENING First Day of Event Draws 8,000 Spectators to the Garden.

The show returned to New York yesterday. After a year's absence...

Miss Vauchin Takes Blue Ribbon for Entry Over Men Rivals.

ENTHUSIASTIC OPENING First Day of Event Draws 8,000 Spectators to the Garden.

The show returned to New York yesterday. After a year's absence...

Miss Vauchin Takes Blue Ribbon for Entry Over Men Rivals.

ENTHUSIASTIC OPENING First Day of Event Draws 8,000 Spectators to the Garden.

The show returned to New York yesterday. After a year's absence...

Miss Vauchin Takes Blue Ribbon for Entry Over Men Rivals.

ENTHUSIASTIC OPENING First Day of Event Draws 8,000 Spectators to the Garden.

The show returned to New York yesterday. After a year's absence...

McE. Bowman cup with her little pony, Banamite. This event was for children's ponies not exceeding twelve hands...

The opening event of the programme, which was for stallions suitable for producing polo mounts...

English Entry Missing. Class No. 26, that followed, was won by H. S. Crossman's Meteor, a pony which carried off a blue last year...

Mrs. H. Josephine Williams's chestnut mare Lady Wilton and Mrs. Robert E. Todd's bay mare Screeper were victors in the early saddle classes...

Screeper also won the Baltimore cup from a big field of hackneys. In this event Mrs. David Wagstaff's Pointex was runner-up.

E. T. Stotesbury of Philadelphia received a blue when his black stallion Ebony King caught the eye of the judges in the class for trotters...

Irvington Nipper, a chestnut stallion exhibited by the Halcyon Farms, won the blue and the cup presented by J. W. Harriman and R. C. Vanderbilt for the best little pony...

Clinda scored only one victory during the day and that came in the open event, when Major Kilgour of Toronto, owner of the Sunnybrook Farm, won a blue with his champion bay gelding Touhy...

Class 19—Stallions suitable for getting polo ponies. First, Allan Pinkerton's ch. m. Peter, second, William M. C. Hoffman's, third, Louis Lee Higgins's, fourth, the yellow to announce, fifth, Mr. Stotesbury's entries, Tracie Higgs.

Class 20—Pony mares suitable for breeding polo ponies. First, Conover Farm's mare, second, Mrs. Robert E. Todd's bay mare Screeper, third, Mrs. Robert E. Todd's bay mare Screeper, fourth, Mrs. Robert E. Todd's bay mare Screeper.

Class 21—Stallions, 3 years old or over, not exceeding 12 hands. First, Clarence H. Mackay's ch. s. Holter, second, Mrs. Robert E. Todd's bay mare Screeper, third, Mrs. Robert E. Todd's bay mare Screeper.

Class 22—Saddle horses over 14.2 and not exceeding 15.2 hands, 3 years old or over, up to the 200. First, Mrs. Josephine Williams's ch. m. Lady Wilton, second, Mrs. Robert E. Todd's bay mare Screeper, third, Mrs. Robert E. Todd's bay mare Screeper.

Class 23—Saddle horses over 14.2 and not exceeding 15.2 hands, 3 years old or over, up to the 200. First, Mrs. Josephine Williams's ch. m. Lady Wilton, second, Mrs. Robert E. Todd's bay mare Screeper, third, Mrs. Robert E. Todd's bay mare Screeper.

Class 24—Jumpers, the horses required to clear 4 feet and not exceeding 15.2 hands. First, Sunnybrook Farm's br. g. Maudie, second, Mrs. Robert E. Todd's bay mare Screeper, third, Mrs. Robert E. Todd's bay mare Screeper.

Class 25—Saddle horses, exceeding 15.2 hands, 3 years old or over, up to the 200. First, Mrs. Josephine Williams's ch. m. Lady Wilton, second, Mrs. Robert E. Todd's bay mare Screeper, third, Mrs. Robert E. Todd's bay mare Screeper.

Class 26—Pony mares, exceeding 12 hands, 3 years old or over, up to the 200. First, Conover Farm's mare, second, Mrs. Robert E. Todd's bay mare Screeper, third, Mrs. Robert E. Todd's bay mare Screeper.

SOCIETY turned out enthusiastically for the National Horse Show, which opened yesterday in Madison Square Garden, which was elaborately decorated for the classic event.

of the day was the skill displayed by a number of young women who appeared in the ring and won over man.

MISS FRANCES RIKER. Copyright Underwood & Underwood.

been somewhat of a counter attraction the showing for the first day from the social standpoint was an indication that the event still remains an interesting feature.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Stotesbury occupied their accustomed box and they had as their guests their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brooks, Jr., Miss Julia Rush of Philadelphia, James H. R. Cronwell and William T. Eldridge, with Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Nixon were their son, Stanhope Nixon, and the latter's fiancée, Miss Doris Ryer, and with Mr. and Mrs. William Ziegler were Mrs. S. Stanwood Menken, Mrs. George Moffett and Mrs. Preston Witherspoon.

The Mayor and Mrs. Mitchell were present for the evening session and with them were Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Harriman, Mrs. Kenneth Castleman and Philip Foster, Mayor Mitchell and his party occupied Ferdinand C. Vanderbilt's box, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Graves and Miss M. Woods were among the guests of Mrs. Moffat, and Mrs. Walter Brooks, son joined Mr. and Mrs. Charles Greenough was Mrs. Greenough's brother, August Wilgus, who is her leave of absence from the French register.

August Belmont was a visitor during the afternoon and with him were his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Belmont. With Mr. and Mrs. Justus Rupert, who sat near by, were Mrs. William M. Friedman, Mrs. August Belmont, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hiltner Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Baker, Judge and Mrs. William H. Murray, occupying their accustomed box and near by were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Livingston Burrill and her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. Whitehead Watson.

Mr. and Mrs. David Wagstaff, E. Victor Low, Mr. and Mrs. Skellington Norton, Mr. and Mrs. Harry La Montagne, Mr. and Mrs. William M. Friedman, Mrs. August Belmont, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hiltner Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Baker, Judge and Mrs. William H. Murray, occupying their accustomed box and near by were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Livingston Burrill and her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. Whitehead Watson.

Miss Lorraine Liggett with "John Spian" is shown at the upper left and Miss Catherine G. West with "White Man" is shown below.

Williams Aldrich, which will take place in the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church on the afternoon of December 7, at 8 o'clock. A small reception will follow at 4 West Fifty-eighth street. Mr. and Mrs. Alexander will return to New York from Washington to-morrow.

Among those in the audience at the Theatre Francaise, the Garrick Theatre last evening to see the performance of "Catherine" were Gaston Lambert, French Consul-General to New York, and the Consuls-General to New York, Mr. August Belmont, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Woodger, Mr. and Mrs. William Haggard, Mr. and Mrs. Louis H. Woodger, Mr. and Mrs. Louis H. Woodger, Mr. and Mrs. Louis H. Woodger.

Notes of the Social World. Miss Rosalie Bloodgood will give a luncheon for debutantes at Sherry's on December 4.

Mr. and Mrs. John Van Rensselaer will be at home on Sunday afternoons in November. Mrs. E. S. J. Murling, Mrs. M. M. Madrox, Mr. and Mrs. W. Sharp Klimer, Major William Kelly, U. S. A.; Sir Adam and Lady Cecil Campbell Clark, Miss Mercedes Cermans and Mrs. Frank Vogel.

College Football Games Fall to Prevent Good Attendance. That contingent of society which remains faithful to the horse was much in evidence at the opening of the exhibition at Madison Square Garden yesterday afternoon and evening.

MARCELLA CRAFT IS HEARD IN RECITAL

Interpreter of Imaginative Power Hampered by Want of Technical Finish.

Marcella Craft, soprano, gave a recital of songs at Aeolian Hall yesterday afternoon. Miss Craft is an American whose operatic career was made in Germany. She attained high distinction there, but the war rendered her continued occupation impossible.

She obtained the materials of her programme yesterday from the treasuries of Richard Strauss and Hans Pfitzner. Five songs of the former comprised the first group. Then followed six songs of Pfitzner and a third group of five lyrics of Strauss.

Miss Craft has been heard in recital as well as in operatic performance in this city and the characteristics of her uncommon offering amply discussed. Yet at each performance she provokes response of her own quickly touched.

What is more unfortunate is that the want of elasticity in the tones militates against the realization of the singer's artistic purposes. She cannot always say things just as she wishes to but she is a deeply interesting artist, and often arouses genuine emotion in her hearers.

She has a vivid imagination and a versatile intellect. She has taste and a knowledge of style. She masters the content of her songs and presents in every instance a finely conceived interpretation, to which she brings the vibrating response of her own quick and sensitive spirit.

But after all it needs a great song to lift a singer to the summit of her powers. Miss Craft is at the summit of her powers. It is one of Strauss's masterpieces and will be heard when "Domestic" and "Alpine" symphonies are sleeping in the dust of libraries.

ALMA GLUCK SINGS. Heard by Large Audience in Interesting Recital Programme.

Alma Gluck, soprano, reappeared after a long absence from the concert platform in a song recital, announced as her one of the present season, yesterday afternoon in Carnegie Hall.

Recognized as the possessor of one of the most beautiful lyric voices now heard before the public, Mme. Gluck's advanced vocal technique, as well as her rapid path in the accomplishments necessary for the delivery of songs portraying finer sentiments, are both matters that have been watched with interest and warmly praised by her more critical hearers.

Her general performance was an uneven one; beauty of voice and style shone forth in full measure, to be offset again by a poor quality of tone and careless phrasing. The singer has acquired a certain amount of greater breadth of style and her voice has taken on an even greater degree of mellow loveliness in the middle register.

In Haydn's "With Venture Glad" Mme. Gluck did some beautiful work. She sang the aria with proper feeling and much smoothness of tone, but in Bach's "Hear, O Hear" she was less successful. The desired notes were sometimes lost, and first of all through undue haste and a labored breathing. "Those Softly Breathing" was an exquisite setting that it had to be repeated, and this again, with Regner's "Weggedell" ("The Kiss") was also very well sung, and so was Schubert's "Dem Madchen's Klage," though in this song the singer hardly caught its note of passion.

Through most of her classic songs, Mme. Gluck's singing was an uneven one; beauty of voice and style shone forth in full measure, to be offset again by a poor quality of tone and careless phrasing. The singer has acquired a certain amount of greater breadth of style and her voice has taken on an even greater degree of mellow loveliness in the middle register.

James M. Beck will speak on "International Law" before the National Law Association at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel on December 12.

James M. Beck will speak on "International Law" before the National Law Association at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel on December 12.

James M. Beck will speak on "International Law" before the National Law Association at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel on December 12.

GEN. SADLER, N. G. N. J., DIES AT AGE OF 86

Adjutant - General's Health Broke Down Under Strain of Mobilization.

Wilbur Fisk Sadler, Adjutant-General of the New Jersey National Guard since 1899, died yesterday at the home of his brother in Carlisle, Pa. His health suffered from overwork during the mobilization of the guard last summer at Sea Girt, N. J., of which he was in charge.

For a week during that time Gen. Sadler was practically without sleep. He received his orders to mobilize the State Guard on June 19, and two days later he reported to Major-General Leonard Wood that all the New Jersey contingent was ready to break down. On July 10 he went to Trenton, stayed there until September 11 and then took a month's leave of absence. He came to this city for a stay in camp, ready to entrain at all peace strength. At the same time he was directing the work of recruiting. This went on faster than he could obtain equipment from the War Department and he did not hesitate to criticize those responsible for the delay.

He had recovered from a severe attack of pneumonia just before the mobilization order came, and was not physically fit for even a normal amount of work. The excessive strain caused him to break down. On July 10 he went to Trenton, stayed there until September 11 and then took a month's leave of absence. He came to this city for a stay in camp, ready to entrain at all peace strength. At the same time he was directing the work of recruiting. This went on faster than he could obtain equipment from the War Department and he did not hesitate to criticize those responsible for the delay.

Gen. Sadler was president of the Broad Street National Bank of Trenton. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Sadler, and three children. He was 86 years old.

ALFRED JOSEPH NAQUET DEAD. His Efforts Reestablished the Divorce Laws in France.

PARIS, Nov. 11.—Alfred Joseph Naquet, a noted French chemist and politician, whose efforts divorced France from the divorce laws of 1816, died yesterday in Paris in 1867 and was condemned to fifteen months imprisonment for a share in a secret society. In 1868 he took refuge in Spain and returned in September, 1870, and became secretary of the Commission on National Defense. Soon after he was elected to the Chamber of Deputies and began agitation against the French divorce laws. His proposal for the reestablishment of divorce became a law in 1884, and in 1888, through his efforts, divorce became legal in France. He died in 1884, aged 66.

EMERSON HADLEY. Columbia Roommate of Charles Evans Hughes Dies, Aged 58.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 11.—Emerson Hadley, roommate of Charles Evans Hughes while at Columbia University law school, was found dead in bed at his home here today. He had suffered from heart disease for several years.

Mr. Hadley, who was 58 years old, was assistant general counsel of the Northern Pacific Railway. His wife and one daughter survive him.

Daniel Johnson. New Brunswick, Nov. 11.—Daniel Johnson, a member of the horticultural staff of the New Jersey State Agricultural experiment station here, died suddenly today on the grounds of the Rutgers College farm. Heart trouble, it is believed, was the cause of his death.

James P. Hall. Orange, N. J., Nov. 11.—James P. Hall, for half a century active in New York banking circles and who retired from the National Bank of North America, with which he was connected, was closed, died today at the home of his son, Frank W. Hall, 72 Roosevelt avenue, in Orange, N. J., as a result of Bright's disease. He was born in New York city and was the son of the late James P. Hall.

James P. Hall. Orange, N. J., Nov. 11.—James P. Hall, for half a century active in New York banking circles and who retired from the National Bank of North America, with which he was connected, was closed, died today at the home of his son, Frank W. Hall, 72 Roosevelt avenue, in Orange, N. J., as a result of Bright's disease. He was born in New York city and was the son of the late James P. Hall.

James P. Hall. Orange, N. J., Nov. 11.—James P. Hall, for half a century active in New York banking circles and who retired from the National Bank of North America, with which he was connected, was closed, died today at the home of his son, Frank W. Hall, 72 Roosevelt avenue, in Orange, N. J., as a result of Bright's disease. He was born in New York city and was the son of the late James P. Hall.

James P. Hall. Orange, N. J., Nov. 11.—James P. Hall, for half a century active in New York banking circles and who retired from the National Bank of North America, with which he was connected, was closed, died today at the home of his son, Frank W. Hall, 72 Roosevelt avenue, in Orange, N. J., as a result of Bright's disease. He was born in New York city and was the son of the late James P. Hall.

James P. Hall. Orange, N. J., Nov. 11.—James P. Hall, for half a century active in New York banking circles and who retired from the National Bank of North America, with which he was connected, was closed, died today at the home of his son, Frank W. Hall, 72 Roosevelt avenue, in Orange, N. J., as a result of Bright's disease. He was born in New York city and was the son of the late James P. Hall.

JACK FROST TARDY, COAL PRICES DROP

"Black Diamonds" Brought $3 to $9.50 and $10 a Ton. Retail, Yesterday.

When coal prices began to drop in the week before yesterday, the fall in the market was not so general as it has been since. The price of coal was $9.50 a ton, and the price of anthracite was $10 a ton.

Assistant District Attorney Deane of Kings county, who has charge of the Attorney Lewis's investigation, has found no evidence leading him to believe a conspiracy exists among Brooklyn coal dealers to boost retail prices.

Assistant District Attorney Deane of Kings county, who has charge of the Attorney Lewis's investigation, has found no evidence leading him to believe a conspiracy exists among Brooklyn coal dealers to boost retail prices.

Assistant District Attorney Deane of Kings county, who has charge of the Attorney Lewis's investigation, has found no evidence leading him to believe a conspiracy exists among Brooklyn coal dealers to boost retail prices.

Assistant District Attorney Deane of Kings county, who has charge of the Attorney Lewis's investigation, has found no evidence leading him to believe a conspiracy exists among Brooklyn coal dealers to boost retail prices.

Assistant District Attorney Deane of Kings county, who has charge of the Attorney Lewis's investigation, has found no evidence leading him to believe a conspiracy exists among Brooklyn coal dealers to boost retail prices.

Assistant District Attorney Deane of Kings county, who has charge of the Attorney Lewis's investigation, has found no evidence leading him to believe a conspiracy exists among Brooklyn coal dealers to boost retail prices.

Assistant District Attorney Deane of Kings county, who has charge of the Attorney Lewis's investigation, has found no evidence leading him to believe a conspiracy exists among Brooklyn coal dealers to boost retail prices.

Assistant District Attorney Deane of Kings county, who has charge of the Attorney Lewis's investigation, has found no evidence leading him to believe a conspiracy exists among Brooklyn coal dealers to boost retail prices.

Assistant District Attorney Deane of Kings county, who has charge of the Attorney Lewis's investigation, has found no evidence leading him to believe a conspiracy exists among Brooklyn coal dealers to boost retail prices.

Assistant District Attorney Deane of Kings county, who has charge of the Attorney Lewis's investigation, has found no evidence leading him to believe a conspiracy exists among Brooklyn coal dealers to boost retail prices.

Assistant District Attorney Deane of Kings county, who has charge of the Attorney Lewis's investigation, has found no evidence leading him to believe a conspiracy exists among Brooklyn coal dealers to boost retail prices.

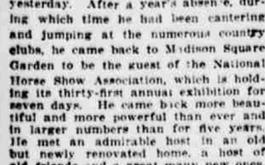

Assistant District Attorney Deane of Kings county, who has charge of the Attorney Lewis's investigation, has found no evidence leading him to believe a conspiracy exists among Brooklyn coal dealers to boost retail prices.

Assistant District Attorney Deane of Kings county, who has charge of the Attorney Lewis's investigation, has found no evidence leading him to believe a conspiracy exists among Brooklyn coal dealers to boost retail prices.

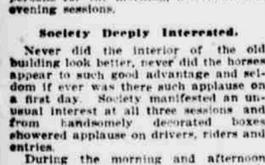

Assistant District Attorney Deane of Kings county, who has charge of the Attorney Lewis's investigation, has found no evidence leading him to believe a conspiracy exists among Brooklyn coal dealers to boost retail prices.

MISS FRANCES RIKER. Copyright Underwood & Underwood.

MISS FRANCES RIKER. Copyright Underwood & Underwood.

MISS FRANCES RIKER. Copyright Underwood & Underwood.

MISS FRANCES RIKER. Copyright Underwood & Underwood.

MISS FRANCES RIKER. Copyright Underwood & Underwood.

MISS FRANCES RIKER. Copyright Underwood & Underwood.

MISS FRANCES RIKER. Copyright Underwood & Underwood.

MISS FRANCES RIKER. Copyright Underwood & Underwood.

MISS FRANCES RIKER. Copyright Underwood & Underwood.

MISS FRANCES RIKER. Copyright Underwood & Underwood.

MISS FRANCES RIKER. Copyright Underwood & Underwood.

MISS FRANCES RIKER. Copyright Underwood & Underwood.

MISS FRANCES RIKER. Copyright Underwood & Underwood.

MISS FRANCES RIKER. Copyright Underwood & Underwood.

MISS FRANCES RIKER. Copyright Underwood & Underwood.

MISS FRANCES RIKER. Copyright Underwood & Underwood.

MISS FRANCES RIKER. Copyright Underwood & Underwood.

MISS FRANCES RIKER. Copyright Underwood & Underwood.

MISS FRANCES RIKER. Copyright Underwood & Underwood.

MISS FRANCES RIKER. Copyright Underwood & Underwood.

MISS FRANCES RIKER. Copyright Underwood & Underwood.

MISS FRANCES RIKER. Copyright Underwood & Underwood.

MISS FRANCES RIKER. Copyright Underwood & Underwood.

MISS FRANCES RIKER. Copyright Underwood & Underwood.

MISS FRANCES RIKER. Copyright Underwood & Underwood.

MISS FRANCES RIKER. Copyright Underwood & Underwood.

MISS FRANCES RIKER. Copyright Underwood & Underwood.

MISS FRANCES RIKER. Copyright Underwood & Underwood.

MISS FRANCES RIKER. Copyright Underwood & Underwood.

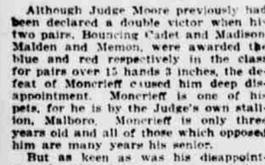

MISS FRANCES RIKER. Copyright Underwood & Underwood.

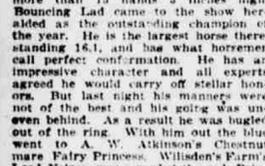

MISS FRANCES RIKER. Copyright Underwood & Underwood.

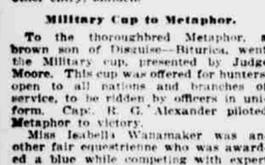

MISS FRANCES RIKER. Copyright Underwood & Underwood.

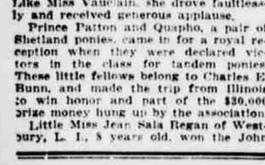

MISS FRANCES RIKER. Copyright Underwood & Underwood.

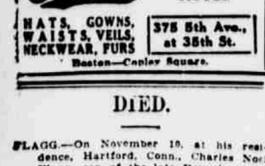

MISS FRANCES RIKER. Copyright Underwood & Underwood.

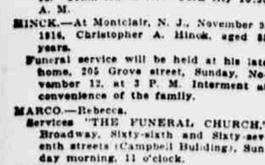

MISS FRANCES RIKER. Copyright Underwood & Underwood.

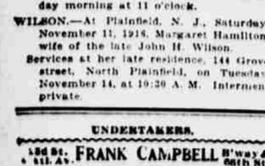

MISS FRANCES RIKER. Copyright Underwood & Underwood.

MISS FRANCES RIKER. Copyright Underwood & Underwood.

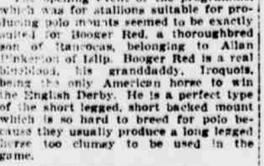

MISS FRANCES RIKER. Copyright Underwood & Underwood.

