

WASHINGTON LOSES FAITH IN CARRANZA

Success of Villa in Northern Mexico Big Setback to Administration Plan.

BANDIT HAS 9,000 MEN

Luis Cabrera to Confer With Secretary Lane To-day on Vital Topic.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—All hope of seeing Mexico pacified under First Chief Carranza has virtually been abandoned by the United States. The refusal of Carranza to sign the protocol drawn up by the joint commission in Philadelphia has faded into comparative insignificance in view of reports of a disturbing nature which have reached the State Department from northern Mexico. Carranza's control there has practically collapsed. Villa and his supporters are understood to have 9,000 men under arms, with the de facto government unable to put an effective cohesive force in the field against them.

Luis Cabrera, chairman of the Mexican Commissioners, has an engagement to see Secretary Lane, chairman of the American Commissioners, to-morrow. Secretary Rojas of the Mexican Commission, came to Washington this afternoon and arranged the conference for to-morrow. Secretary Lane said to-night that he had not been advised whether Mr. Cabrera would bring any message from Carranza. There is a belief here that he will be the bearer of an important message that will vitally affect the work of the joint commission.

Last Word to Carranza.

The fact that the President is understood to have served notice on the Mexican Commissioners that further parleys over the matter of signing a protocol will be tolerated and fixed to time limit in which Carranza should sign or refuse to do so and end the matter, is believed to be responsible for the hurried visit of the Secretary of State to the Mexican Commissioners to arrange a conference.

The announcement that conditions in northern Mexico were bad was made yesterday by the State Department this morning. It at once focused attention on the accumulative reports of Villa's growing activity and translated into official language the views entertained in the light of reports from the northern provinces. It is believed here that Carranza's refusal to sign is now of little consequence. With Villa in control of northern Mexico, an agreement with Carranza would be a mere formality.

The State Department described the activities in northern Mexico as so serious that the Department is now in a state of concern. Large groups of bandits are on the rampage. They are marauding unchecked and apparently control the country.

Carranzistas Deserting. It was stated officially that this Government suspects Villa of getting all the aid by means of the State Department in a loss to ascertain. The most plausible theory is that Villistas get much of their money from the aid of Carranzistas who forsake the banner of the de facto Government whenever Villa gains the upper hand.

It is in circles in touch with the Mexican Embassy here brought even more alarming news than that which was volunteered by the State Department. News from Mexico City is that Carranza is sometimes colored to meet diplomatic exigencies, and it was felt that this Government might now desire to paint the picture in blacker colors than it has in order to frighten Carranza into an eleventh hour signature of the protocol. But in well informed Mexican circles the situation is not so dark. Carranza is not so much a man of straw as he is reported to be. The game is up in northern Mexico. There are 9,000 in arms against him and we have not the cohesive force to cope with them.

VILLA PLANS BIG BLOW

Forces to Attack Chihuahua City and Juarez at Same Time. EL PASO, TEX., Dec. 27.—Villa's forces are preparing to attack Chihuahua city and Juarez simultaneously in an effort to establish railroad traffic between the border and Torreon. It was said to-day by a man familiar with the Villa bandit leader was preparing to move north with 5,000 men to attack Chihuahua city. Another force of 500 Villa followers were said to have been yesterday at the Calderon ranch, sixty-five miles southeast of Juarez.

Nirmlishing between the rebels at Calderon and the de facto troops which left Juarez yesterday for Chihuahua, reports here to-day but could not be confirmed in Juarez.

The occupation of San Luis Potosi by the Villa forces Monday was reaffirmed today by a man familiar with the Villa, but was denied by Soriano Bravo, the Mexican Consul, who said a message had been received to-day at Laredo, Tex., from San Luis Potosi stating that there was no truth in reports that the city had fallen into Villa's hands.

Confirmation of Torreon's capture by Villa forces was made to-day by Consul Bravo here. Torreon was evacuated by Gen. Talismante and his command of 1,500 de facto troops. Bravo said, because of a superior opposing force, Gen. Murguía reported from Chihuahua that his force had defeated Villa bands both at Guerrero and Santa Rosalia with heavy losses in men and war material. Speaking of the capture of Torreon, he said that this should not have occurred, as the Carranza garrison there was supplied for the city's protection and well equipped with arms and ammunition.

The Carranza garrison at El Oro, about 100 miles southeast of Parral, revolted December 21, looted the stores of the mining camp and then started south.

ARGENTINE SYSTEM FOR UNITED STATES

Military Training Bill to Follow Plan of South American Country.

ONE YEAR OF SERVICE

In Time 500,000 Men Will Be Under Arms and Preparing.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—Argentina's military system is serving as a model for the universal service bill now being drafted by a committee of the Army General Staff. Officers familiar with staff opinion said to-day that while details had not been completed, the measure would follow closely the Argentine scheme, and was designed to keep half a million men under training, with 250,000 trained reservists subject to call.

It probably will be at least three weeks before the bill and accompanying estimates of costs are ready for submission to the Secretary of War. The chairman of the House military committee has asked to see it, and it will be sent to the Capitol for the committee's information, though there is no indication that it will go so far as to be introduced from the Administration. Secretary Baker has not said whether he will approve or disapprove.

One Year of Training. The main feature of the staff bill will be its provision for one year of intensive military instruction for all youths subject to its terms. It is expected that exceptions due to physical disqualifications and for other reasons, including plants necessary in war times, would leave available for army training between the ages of 16 and 18, 500,000 boys who reach the age of 18 each year.

In fixing upon a year as the minimum term for the training, the general staff has followed the theory that the United States seeks to provide only for an army of defense. It has been stated to the House committee by Major-General Hugh L. Scott that although European nations give every soldier at least two years of hard work before turning him into the reserve, because of the geographical position of the country, a year will suffice here. The argument advanced to support this view was that there would be sufficient time to give finishing touches to the military education of reservists after war had broken out and before invading expeditions could be landed in force.

500,000 Men Under Arms. In a broad way the outline of the General Staff continental army plan of last year would be followed in distributing the 500,000 men into 190 infantry and six cavalry divisions. Reservists would be liable for two years service in this force before passing into the organized reserve.

The result of the system had been in operation a number of years, would be to give 500,000 men under arms and in process of training, a million more in the organized reserve, and ready for immediate muster as first line troops, and behind these the unorganized but trained reserve numbering more than 1,000,000 men, on whom would be estimated of cost will be made by the General Staff committee.

At that time he gained a reputation for novel ideas, which the affair to-night gives promise of enhancing. Barney is understood to be awaiting his social debut without a trace of nervousness.

STOCK TIP PROBE NOW UP TO LANSING

House Rules Committee Will Report Wood Resolution if He Desires It.

LAWSON NOT TO TESTIFY

Chairman Henry Says He Plans Conference With Secretary of State.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—It is becoming manifest that it will require a strong effort to bring out of the House Committee on Rules the resolution of Representative Wood proposing an investigation into the charge that persons interested in stock market operations had advanced information of the Administration's notes to the belligerent Powers. Representative Henry, who expressed a desire to hear Thomas W. Lawson yesterday and, to some persons at least, gave the impression that he would invite Mr. Lawson to appear and tell what he knows, said to-day he would not call the Boston financier, never intended to call him, and finally said he intended to confer with Secretary Lansing and obtain his point of view before he brought the subject up in his Committee on Rules.

Mr. Henry, chairman of the Rules Committee, has the fate of the Wood resolution in his keeping and intimated to-day he would be governed by what Secretary Lansing desired. If the State Department thought it advisable to report the resolution for the investigation it would be reported. Otherwise it would be pigeonholed.

Wood Has Plenty of Evidence. Representative Wood says he has plenty of evidence to support his resolution and that he fears his resolution is to be put to sleep. Mr. Wood may have something to say on the floor of the House after the Democratic leaders have determined their course.

"I have information that a relative of one of the highest officials in the Administration made a statement to the press regarding the investigation which was obtained as to the peace note. He said short. I am not ready now to give his name, but when I have confirmed the statement, I will disclose it. I have also heard that diplomatic representatives in the United States who had early access to the information made a statement to the press regarding the investigation of the representatives of our Government abroad made profits."

Chairman Henry seemed much annoyed to-day that the press representatives sent out information after talking with him yesterday that he would invite Mr. Lawson to appear. He said it was a matter for the Committee to determine and that he could not act in advance of instructions from the committee. It is evident that some strong influence is being exerted to discredit the Lawson charge.

Some Get News Long in Advance. A remarkable story of the "leak" came to Mr. Wood to-day. A letter from his home town stated that the Board of Trade of Lafayette, Ind., received information from a stock exchange here in New York five hours before the note was actually made public in Washington.

Mr. Wood has received a lot of suggestions that have strengthened him in the belief that there ought to be an investigation. He will decide what use to make of the information after the Rules Committee has discharged its responsibility in the matter as it sees it. The progress of the investigation watched from the Senate side also and it is very likely that if the resolution is pigeonholed in the House committee a Senator will immediately introduce it in the Senate.

CHAUFFEUR'S NEW JOB LANDS HIM IN PRISON

His Plea of Family Illness Fails to Move Magistrate Cobb.

In spite of the almost tearful plea of Peter Oliver, a chauffeur, in the traffic court yesterday Magistrate Cobb gave him his choice of paying a $25 fine or spending two days in jail for driving his automobile within eight feet of a stopped trolley car.

Oliver, 35 years old, and living at 205 Prospect avenue, Brooklyn, said that a week ago he got a job with a taxicab company, after having been out of work for several months. His two children have been ill, he said, and medicine and doctor cost a lot of money. He felt that his troubles were at an end. He admitted he had violated the eight foot ordinance, but begged for a suspended sentence, as he said that if he was fined or sent to jail he would surely lose his job. Policeman Gennerich, who had arrested Oliver, said he had investigated Oliver's story and had found it true. He urged the Magistrate to be lenient.

Magistrate Cobb, however, said that too many persons are killed in the city's streets by taxicabs and that it was his duty to impose the fine or jail sentence. Oliver could not pay the fine so he went to jail.

The proposed bill, which carries the support of the league's 100,000 members in its 200 local branches, calls for training of every able bodied male citizen or son of immigrants who have declared their intention of becoming citizens.

BABY INJUNCTION DECISION DELAYED

Justice Bijur Tries Hard to Settle "Perambulators in Flats" Case.

Justice Nathan Bijur of the Supreme Court yesterday showed members of the parental class a means to prevent apartment house babies and baby carriages on the way to a promenade from being hauled through side entrances along with the kitchen refuse and ash cans. Take the baby in one hand—said the Justice in one effort—and the carriage in the other. Slide the carriage out the side exit and slide—no, carry the baby through the main door.

This explanation was delivered at the hearing before the Justice on the application of Albert Reese, a lawyer of 80 Maiden lane, that the owners of the Robert Morris apartments at 406 West 160th street be enjoined from compelling his daughter Margery, 4 months old, to roll forth in her chariot through the service door on West 160th street, just the same as the garbage and other by-products of the house.

Mr. Reese asserted in court that his favorite and only daughter has to endure the humiliation of being taken down stairs in her one eye power flivver by an elevator that resembles a freight lift.

Like "Seaside Railway" Trip. After being transported past the radiators and other impediments to navigation in the rear hall, he said, she is hoisted up three narrow steps, her mother acting as derrick, and then is free to dash down a steep grade on the street.

Richard Ely, counsel for the apartment owners, indicated that they didn't want the main lobby congested with babies loafing and looting in their imitations and making faces at every passerby.

"We don't wish," he said, "to have our beautiful foyer all cluttered up with baby carriages and its marble floor tracked over with the wheels of dirty rubber tires." From his remarks the impression gained ground that the apartments were positively honeycombed with children, but according to Mr. Reese there are only about a baker's half dozen.

When counsel for the owners displayed to the Justice a photograph of the foyer to reveal the decoration which a lot of disorderly babies in perambulators might cause there the plaintiff, as counsel for Margery and her car, promptly matched the picture of a rubber tire. FOUND YOUNG POLES LIVING IN BARRELS

Miss Naimka, Just Back From Tour, Says Polish Epidemics Rage Unchecked.

Miss Zofia Naimska of 50 Morningside Drive, who went to Poland five months ago to investigate conditions among the destitute inhabitants, has returned with a report which has caused a group of American women, including Mrs. Herbert L. Satterlee and Mrs. Samuel Thorne of this city and Mrs. Hartley Winslow of California, to found a new fund for the relief of Polish women and children.

Miss Naimska's trip was attended by handicaps and dangers throughout. It took her three weeks in Copenhagen to get permission to pass through Germany, and when she received her credentials she was sent through without being allowed to stop overnight in any part of the German empire. At Cracow, where she made her headquarters, she had to get a new permit every two weeks.

In traveling over the country between Warsaw and Lublin, occupied by Austrian troops, she found villages ruined, entire communities wiped out by typhus induced by starvation, and women and children badly wounded from bombardments.

Outside Warsaw she found children living and sleeping in barrels, their homes razed, and others who had no shelter but trenches originally dug for potato stores in. At Gorlice a recent bombardment had torn up the cemetery, scattering tombstones and coffins broadcast. She brought to this country a special film at Kovel, and also visited Przemysl.

As a result of the destitution, the death rate among Polish children has jumped 50 per cent. Miss Naimska reports that epidemics are unchecked.
