

NEW YORK, SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 1917.
Copyright, 1917, by the Sun Printing and Publishing Association.

Photo copyrighted by Hain News Service.

PERSONALITIES OF GENERAL INTEREST IN THE DAY'S NEWS

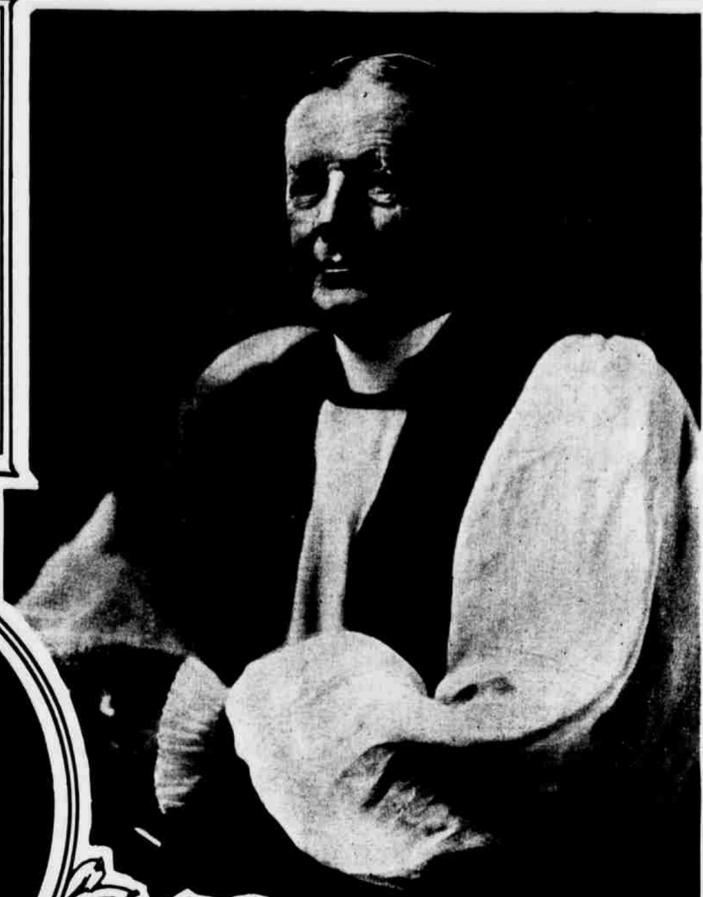

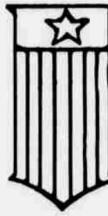

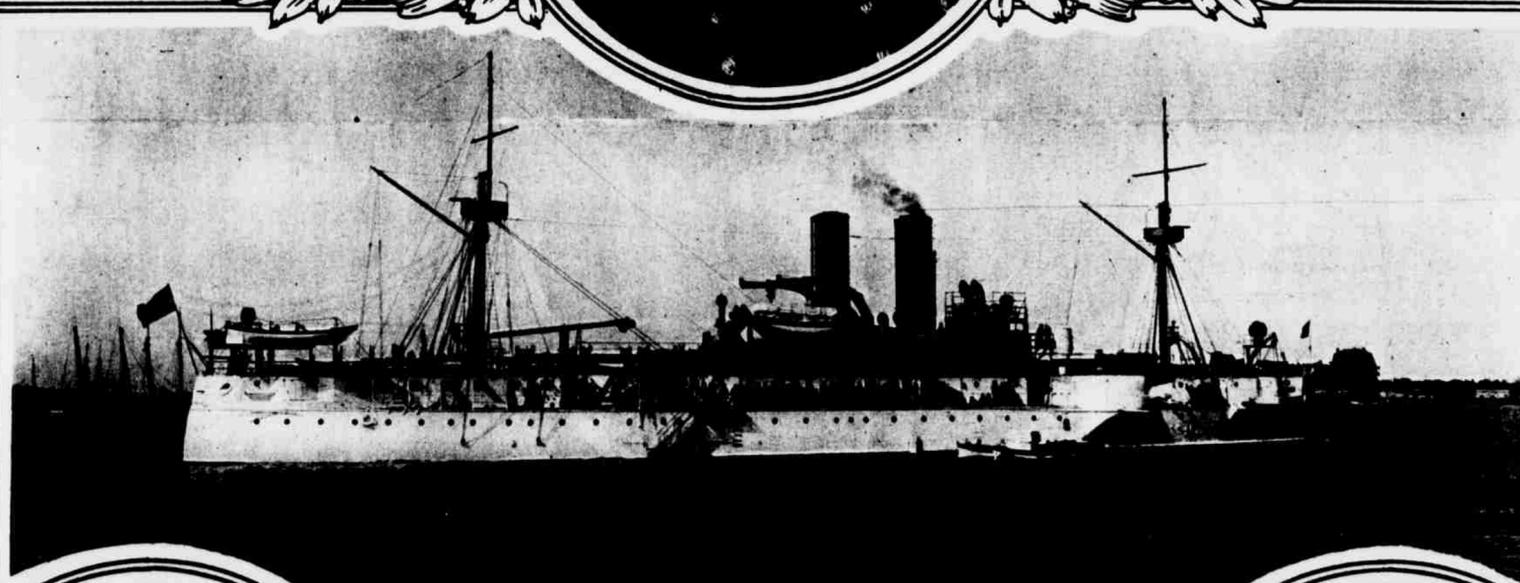

Photo copyrighted by Pirie McDonald.

Above—Recent photograph of Speaker Champ Clark of Missouri. Though he does not pose as dictator of the House of Representatives, like some of his predecessors, Speaker Clark is a leader of great influence, and may be a Presidential candidate in 1920.

Above—Bishop William Lawrence of Massachusetts, one of the leading prelates of the Episcopal Church, who is organizing a $5,000,000 pension fund for the Episcopal clergy, to which J. P. Morgan lends his name as treasurer.

In Circle—Admiral Sigbee, U. S. N., and the Maine, of which he was captain when she sank in Havana harbor, February 15, 1898. The anniversary will be celebrated next Thursday.

Photos by P. S. Rogers.

Copyright. Clinedinst.

Dr. Cary T. Grayson, whose nomination for Medical Director of navy with rank of Rear Admiral caused much comment.

A late portrait of Postmaster Morgan, known to New York as the "man who does." He has reshaped the postal service into one of efficiency. Photo by Vitall.

Photo by Davis & Sanford.

Sir Gilbert Parker, author of delightful Far Northern stories, is spending some time in a visit to this country.