

Y GATHERING YEARS

es Them Forceful Figures in These Strenuous Days

Dr. Lyman Abbott, D. D., LL. D., whose career has ranged from the bar to the ministry and from the pulpit to the editorial sanctum. As editor in chief of Outlook he has made that magazine potent in our social, political and religious life. Born at Roxbury, Mass., December 18, 1835.

Levi Parsons Morton, who for many years has been a vital force in the banking business of this country. He has run the gamut of political life from member of Congress to Vice-President of the United States. He was born at Shoreham, Vt., May 16, 1824. Photo by Cinedust Studio.

Joseph Hodges Choate, a brilliant example of the best at New York's bar. For more than thirty years he shone conspicuously in many of the most important cases tried in the courts of New York, as well as before the United States Supreme Court. He helped to break up the Tweed ring. Born at Salem, Mass., January 24, 1832.

Cardinal Gibbons, the senior representative of the Roman Catholic Church in America. Endeared to the communicants of many denominations. He recently summoned the men of his faith to volunteer for service in the defence of the Stars and Stripes. Born at Baltimore, Md., July 23, 1834.

Photo copyright by Baehrach

Photo copyright by E. Chickering & Co.

Dr. Charles W. Eliot, who might almost be said to have made Harvard famous, as he presided over that university from 1869 to 1909. Since then he has been president emeritus. This great educator has spoken recently in no uncertain terms in favor of universal military service. Born at Boston, Mass., March 20, 1834.

Commodore Elias Cornelius Benedict, banker and broker, and third in seniority upon the New York Stock Exchange. He has been doing business in Wall Street for nearly sixty years. Yachting has been his favorite pastime, and during his many cruises he has sailed a total of 350,000 miles. Born at Somers, N. Y., January 24, 1834. © Press Illustrating man in the medical fra- -ss upon that profession -or, specializing in the -y social betterment has -Germany, May 6, 1830.

Details, -on of -an of -a litera- -ferred up- -sted de- -doctor -orn at -Ohio,