

BOB FITZSIMMONS'S LAST BATTLE ENDS

Former Heavyweight Champion Succumbs to Pneumonia at Age of 55.

GAME FIGHT WITH DEATH

Corbett and Jeffries Send Messages—Sketch of Remarkable Pugilist.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Robert Fitzsimmons, former champion heavyweight pugilist, died at a hospital here early today after an illness of five days of pneumonia.

He was taken ill last Tuesday while appearing in a vaudeville theatre and his ailment was at first diagnosed as ptomaine poisoning. Later it was discovered that he was suffering from double pneumonia and physicians said that his vitality sustained him until Saturday, when he lapsed into unconsciousness from which he did not rally except at intervals.

During the five days of his illness Fitzsimmons was the recipient of many messages from men whom he had formerly met in the ring, including James J. Corbett, from whom he won the championship, and James J. Jeffries, who took the title from him.

Until he sank into his final stupor Fitzsimmons fought for his life as he had fought for victory in the ring. Physicians said his life was prolonged several days by the administration of a medicine.

His illness was a nervous breakdown last Thursday and for a time it was believed her condition was dangerous, but she recovered and resumed her vigil at his bedside.

"Bob was a great fighter and a good boxer," said Mrs. Fitzsimmons. "He would not believe the exposure between the act and the drafts which blew through the windows caused his illness. Between the wife of the fighter and his son Robert, who arrived from New York too late to see his father in a conscious condition. The widow purchased a lot in Jamaica.

While Fitzsimmons performed in a sensational manner in the ring and never in his life dodged a challenger, yet he made less money than any of his predecessors in the championship.

MAGDALENA C. F. AHLERS. Magdalena C. F. Ahlers, public school teacher for nearly a quarter of a century and assistant principal of Public School 23, died Sunday in her home at 1111 Carroll street, Brooklyn. She was born in New York city and was a graduate of the Girls High School and the Brooklyn Training School for Teachers. She leaves her mother.

LEORA S. PIERSON. Leora S. Pierson died Sunday in her residence, 645 Putnam avenue, Brooklyn. Mrs. Pierson was born in Omaha, Neb., fifty-four years ago. Her husband, Francis H. Pierson, is on the editorial staff of the New York American and the editorial staff of the New York Herald. She leaves her husband, a son and a sister.

THEODORE A. DAVIS. LONG BRANCH, N. J., Oct. 22.—Theodore A. Davis, a Meriden war veteran, 90 years old, died here today after being confined to his bed for two years. He was a cabinet maker by trade. Besides his wife, three daughters and a son survive.

Hall Scores Knockout. Then came his bout with Jim Hall, who at the time claimed the middleweight championship of Australia. This bout took place in Sydney February 10, 1910, and Hall won by a knockout in the fourth round.

Fitzsimmons afterward put himself in black and white with the assertion that he "sold down" to Hall for a money consideration of $15,000. This assertion, however, on his prospects in Australia he decided to try his luck in America and landed in San Francisco in the spring of 1910, at which time he was 23 years of age and at the height of his physical powers. He weighed about 150 pounds in fine condition and had the appearance of an animated bear.

Billy McCarthy and Arthur Upham, two crack trial horses, were groomed to try on the Timaru Terror, but McCarthy was stopped in nine rounds and Upham in five.

Jack Dempsey, middleweight champion of America, was advised by unwise friends to make a match with the newcomer and lost title at New Orleans January 14, 1911, being knocked out in the fourteenth round after taking a terrible beating.

After disposing of a few middleweights of small ability Fitz took on Peter Maher, a contender for the heavyweight title, and made him quit at the end of the twenty round at New Orleans March 2, 1912.

It was on September 7, 1892, that Corbett and Sullivan for the American heavyweight title met in a fight for a match with the new champion.

Corbett told Fitz to "get a reputation" and the Cornishman proceeded to do so. He knocked out Jim Hall in four rounds at New Orleans March 4, 1892. Dan Creighton in two rounds at New Orleans September 26, 1894; Peter Maher in the round at Langtry, Tex., February 21, 1896; and stopped Tom Sparkey in the eighth round in San Francisco December 2, 1896. Wyatt Earp, the referee, called the blow foul with which Fitz hit the challenger, but the majority of those at the ringside declared the blow landed fair and in the pit of the stomach.

Five years after Corbett had won the title from Sullivan the champion was finally forced by public opinion to give the Cornishman battle, the contest tak-

DR. CONDON ON TRIAL FOR PIPER MURDER

Appears in Army Uniform and Pleads Not Guilty—Wife in Court.

VICTIM'S WIFE TESTIFIES

Witnesses Tell of Hearing Sound of Shot and Cries for Help.

Special Dispatch to The Sun. NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Oct. 22.—Capt. William J. Condon, Medical Reserve Corps of the United States Army, was arraigned for trial today before Justice James J. Berney in the Supreme Court upon the charge of having shot and killed John V. Piper, a post-graduate student of Rutgers College. The accused man appeared in the full uniform of his army rank and pleaded "not guilty" with an air of confidence.

Near him in the court room sat his wife, an attractive woman, who had no apparent fear as to the outcome of the trial. She heard the Prosecutor's assistant outline the most harrowing crimes imaginable, and then heard him tell the jury that the prosecution expected to show that Condon had committed the crime.

Count Judge Peter P. Daly sat with the presiding Judge. An hour was taken for the selection of the jury. During this time Dr. Condon was arraigned to plead to the charge. The defence will be the production of an alibi.

Opening the case for the State, Assistant Prosecutor John Coan said that Piper was a resident of Vermont, 24 years of age, and that he lived at 262 Comstock street, New Brunswick. He had graduated from the University of Vermont and came to New Jersey to take a post-graduate course in botany. For the purpose of getting money to defray his college expenses he tended the Condon furnace and that of the New Jersey Food Company.

Piper left his home at 9:45 o'clock on the evening of February 17, and no trace of him was found until June 15, when Jacob McBride found the body on the Spotswood-Englishtown road, about one mile from Spotswood. The body was found in a shallow hole, and the examination that followed showed that it had been placed in the underground near the road but a short time before it was found.

Arrested at Camp. Dr. Condon left home for Camp Oglethorpe, near Chattanooga, Tenn., the day before the body was found. Joseph E. Stricker, the county Prosecutor, caused his arrest at the camp and he returned for trial without question.

One hundred witnesses were waiting to be called. Twenty of them recanted the stand during the day. John V. Hubbard, who is both the local coroner and undertaker, swore that he entered the Condon cellar the day after the finding of the body, and that the peculiar odor emanating from a dead body was detected there.

Mrs. Paul Hayne, wife of the Rev. Paul Hayne whose parsonage is opposite the Condon residence, said that the day before the body was found she saw three men on the Condon roof acting in a suspicious manner.

Mrs. John V. Piper identified her husband's clothing, ring, penknife, watch, belt buckle and bank book, which were found June 18. She also told of his arrangement for tending the two furnaces.

Ten witnesses who were called during the afternoon session testified that they heard a shot fired upon the evening in question, and that the report came from the direction of the Condon home. One of the witnesses, a woman, said that she not only heard the shot, but heard someone cry out.

"My God! Help! Help!" Coroner Hubbard testified that he had found time on the doctor's automobile, and that there was mud on the machine, similar to that in the road near the spot where the body was found.

MEE'S DEATH IN ELEVATOR

Contractor Lashed Out of Moving Car to Take Son Aboard.

SAYS SOCIAL EVIL MENACES MANHOOD

Secretary Daniels Pleads With Medical Practitioners to Save Army and Navy.

URGES TRUTH BE TOLD

"To Preach Double Standard of the Sexes Is to Preach Immorality."

APPEAL TO AMERICA FOR STARVING POLES

Foreign Jews Report Situation in Ancient Kingdom Is Desperate.

The provisional executive committee for Zionism affairs, composed of some of the leading Jews of America, announced yesterday that it was preparing to take up with President Wilson the question of the relief of thousands of Poles, who are starving in Warsaw and the other cities of the ancient kingdom.

"There is not an army in the field whose effectiveness is not reduced by reason of immoral diseases," said Secretary Daniels. "The navy suffers likewise and business halts because venereal diseases destroy the manhood of workmen and fighters. During the last statistical year men of the American navy lost 141,274 days sickness from a small group of absolutely preventable diseases or rather diseases contracted by sin.

"People by the hundreds are literally dying of starvation in the streets of Warsaw and other cities of Poland and Lithuania, and only concerted action on the part of America, along lines similar to those followed for the rescue of Belgium, can stop the ravages of hunger and disease which are already collecting a horrible toll in these two countries.

"There has arrived here a special mission from the municipality of Warsaw to obtain foodstuffs for the Christian and Jewish population of Poland and Lithuania. The mission, which consists of Dr. Weichel Telenow, president of the Russian Zionism Federation, and Shabael Farbstein, head of the Warsaw Jewish Community, reports that the population in these countries is desperate.

"In civil life the number afflicted is quite as large proportionately as in the military service. Sir William Osler places these infectious diseases at the top as a menace in war and in peace. The time has come to realize that the subtlest foe of humanity must be conquered, and it can only be conquered by denying its existence, saying it is a necessary evil or applying palliatives. It is deadlier than malaria or cancer or tuberculosis.

"The remedy? There is but one—continence. It must be preached in the home, in the school, in the markets of trade, in the pulpit and military camps and among shipmates afloat. The eradication of the evil effects must be thorough, but the teacher who will be heard and heeded when the teachers of all others will fall on deaf ears is the word of authority from the medical profession.

"Tell Our Youths the Truth." "You gentlemen of the medical profession deal with life and death. You bring the bodies into the world and you close the eyes of the dead. You are the ministers of the teachers of the truth. It is a duty laid upon you, not by the moral law alone, but by the law of self-preservation that operates in nations as well as individuals. That

SAYS SOCIAL EVIL MENACES MANHOOD

Secretary Daniels Pleads With Medical Practitioners to Save Army and Navy.

URGES TRUTH BE TOLD

"To Preach Double Standard of the Sexes Is to Preach Immorality."

APPEAL TO AMERICA FOR STARVING POLES

Foreign Jews Report Situation in Ancient Kingdom Is Desperate.

The provisional executive committee for Zionism affairs, composed of some of the leading Jews of America, announced yesterday that it was preparing to take up with President Wilson the question of the relief of thousands of Poles, who are starving in Warsaw and the other cities of the ancient kingdom.

"There is not an army in the field whose effectiveness is not reduced by reason of immoral diseases," said Secretary Daniels. "The navy suffers likewise and business halts because venereal diseases destroy the manhood of workmen and fighters. During the last statistical year men of the American navy lost 141,274 days sickness from a small group of absolutely preventable diseases or rather diseases contracted by sin.

"People by the hundreds are literally dying of starvation in the streets of Warsaw and other cities of Poland and Lithuania, and only concerted action on the part of America, along lines similar to those followed for the rescue of Belgium, can stop the ravages of hunger and disease which are already collecting a horrible toll in these two countries.

"There has arrived here a special mission from the municipality of Warsaw to obtain foodstuffs for the Christian and Jewish population of Poland and Lithuania. The mission, which consists of Dr. Weichel Telenow, president of the Russian Zionism Federation, and Shabael Farbstein, head of the Warsaw Jewish Community, reports that the population in these countries is desperate.

"In civil life the number afflicted is quite as large proportionately as in the military service. Sir William Osler places these infectious diseases at the top as a menace in war and in peace. The time has come to realize that the subtlest foe of humanity must be conquered, and it can only be conquered by denying its existence, saying it is a necessary evil or applying palliatives. It is deadlier than malaria or cancer or tuberculosis.

"The remedy? There is but one—continence. It must be preached in the home, in the school, in the markets of trade, in the pulpit and military camps and among shipmates afloat. The eradication of the evil effects must be thorough, but the teacher who will be heard and heeded when the teachers of all others will fall on deaf ears is the word of authority from the medical profession.

"Tell Our Youths the Truth." "You gentlemen of the medical profession deal with life and death. You bring the bodies into the world and you close the eyes of the dead. You are the ministers of the teachers of the truth. It is a duty laid upon you, not by the moral law alone, but by the law of self-preservation that operates in nations as well as individuals. That

"The eradication of the evil effects must be thorough, but the teacher who will be heard and heeded when the teachers of all others will fall on deaf ears is the word of authority from the medical profession.

"You gentlemen of the medical profession deal with life and death. You bring the bodies into the world and you close the eyes of the dead. You are the ministers of the teachers of the truth. It is a duty laid upon you, not by the moral law alone, but by the law of self-preservation that operates in nations as well as individuals. That

"The eradication of the evil effects must be thorough, but the teacher who will be heard and heeded when the teachers of all others will fall on deaf ears is the word of authority from the medical profession.

"You gentlemen of the medical profession deal with life and death. You bring the bodies into the world and you close the eyes of the dead. You are the ministers of the teachers of the truth. It is a duty laid upon you, not by the moral law alone, but by the law of self-preservation that operates in nations as well as individuals. That

"The eradication of the evil effects must be thorough, but the teacher who will be heard and heeded when the teachers of all others will fall on deaf ears is the word of authority from the medical profession.

"You gentlemen of the medical profession deal with life and death. You bring the bodies into the world and you close the eyes of the dead. You are the ministers of the teachers of the truth. It is a duty laid upon you, not by the moral law alone, but by the law of self-preservation that operates in nations as well as individuals. That

"The eradication of the evil effects must be thorough, but the teacher who will be heard and heeded when the teachers of all others will fall on deaf ears is the word of authority from the medical profession.

"You gentlemen of the medical profession deal with life and death. You bring the bodies into the world and you close the eyes of the dead. You are the ministers of the teachers of the truth. It is a duty laid upon you, not by the moral law alone, but by the law of self-preservation that operates in nations as well as individuals. That

"The eradication of the evil effects must be thorough, but the teacher who will be heard and heeded when the teachers of all others will fall on deaf ears is the word of authority from the medical profession.

"You gentlemen of the medical profession deal with life and death. You bring the bodies into the world and you close the eyes of the dead. You are the ministers of the teachers of the truth. It is a duty laid upon you, not by the moral law alone, but by the law of self-preservation that operates in nations as well as individuals. That

"The eradication of the evil effects must be thorough, but the teacher who will be heard and heeded when the teachers of all others will fall on deaf ears is the word of authority from the medical profession.

"You gentlemen of the medical profession deal with life and death. You bring the bodies into the world and you close the eyes of the dead. You are the ministers of the teachers of the truth. It is a duty laid upon you, not by the moral law alone, but by the law of self-preservation that operates in nations as well as individuals. That

"The eradication of the evil effects must be thorough, but the teacher who will be heard and heeded when the teachers of all others will fall on deaf ears is the word of authority from the medical profession.

"You gentlemen of the medical profession deal with life and death. You bring the bodies into the world and you close the eyes of the dead. You are the ministers of the teachers of the truth. It is a duty laid upon you, not by the moral law alone, but by the law of self-preservation that operates in nations as well as individuals. That

SAW CHILD THROWN INTO BLAZING HOUSE

Reporter Also Witnessed Killings by Militia in Race Riot.

SURGEONS PLAN AID

Are Devising Methods to Serve Both Nation and Civilians.

NEW ARMY CHECKED DISEASE

In the navy in 1916 there were admitted for treatment for venereal diseases 112 persons in every 1,000 and in the army 84 for every 1,000.

MAKES THREATS IN UNIFORM

Disloyalty Charged to German Speaking Russian in U. S. Army.

Victor Mast, who said he was born in Russia, was arraigned before Magistrate Brough in the Jefferson Market court yesterday upon the charge of making defamatory remarks in German about the uniform of the United States Army, which he wore at the time. Mast is a member of Company K, Forty-ninth Infantry of regulars.

Henry Fisher of 263 Sullivan street swore that Mast announced in German that he intended to wear the uniform one day more only. Then he would go to the Bowery, buy a pistol and blow the head of his commanding officer after which he would kill himself. Another witness court boarded the story.

The case was continued until Friday and is held under a bond of $500.

Water-Flowering French Narcissus For Holiday Bloom. Planted in damp moss or gravel and water, produce pure white flowers. Sur bloomers for rooms or window sashes.

13 Mammoth Bulbs, with catalogue, postpaid 65c. 100, by express, $1. 12 Hyacinths, 5 colors, $1. 25 Daisies in Tins, many colors, mixed, $1.25. 350 Lilies, these have the most beautiful fragrance. Mammoth Catalogue Free. VAUGHAN'S SEED STORE, Barclay St. cor Church.

Germany has added a new verse to the Hymn of Hate, putting this country on a par with Great Britain as the object of Prussian venom. It is Hate, card indexed and catalogued, for which the Kaiser will demand his pound of flesh and blood. The author was Vice-Consul at Plauen, Saxony, until we got into the war, and he tells of his personal experience with the strangest campaign ever known—of exciting the common people of one nation against the common people of another.

Germany has added a new verse to the Hymn of Hate, putting this country on a par with Great Britain as the object of Prussian venom. It is Hate, card indexed and catalogued, for which the Kaiser will demand his pound of flesh and blood. The author was Vice-Consul at Plauen, Saxony, until we got into the war, and he tells of his personal experience with the strangest campaign ever known—of exciting the common people of one nation against the common people of another.

Germany has added a new verse to the Hymn of Hate, putting this country on a par with Great Britain as the object of Prussian venom. It is Hate, card indexed and catalogued, for which the Kaiser will demand his pound of flesh and blood. The author was Vice-Consul at Plauen, Saxony, until we got into the war, and he tells of his personal experience with the strangest campaign ever known—of exciting the common people of one nation against the common people of another.

Germany has added a new verse to the Hymn of Hate, putting this country on a par with Great Britain as the object of Prussian venom. It is Hate, card indexed and catalogued, for which the Kaiser will demand his pound of flesh and blood. The author was Vice-Consul at Plauen, Saxony, until we got into the war, and he tells of his personal experience with the strangest campaign ever known—of exciting the common people of one nation against the common people of another.

Germany has added a new verse to the Hymn of Hate, putting this country on a par with Great Britain as the object of Prussian venom. It is Hate, card indexed and catalogued, for which the Kaiser will demand his pound of flesh and blood. The author was Vice-Consul at Plauen, Saxony, until we got into the war, and he tells of his personal experience with the strangest campaign ever known—of exciting the common people of one nation against the common people of another.

Germany has added a new verse to the Hymn of Hate, putting this country on a par with Great Britain as the object of Prussian venom. It is Hate, card indexed and catalogued, for which the Kaiser will demand his pound of flesh and blood. The author was Vice-Consul at Plauen, Saxony, until we got into the war, and he tells of his personal experience with the strangest campaign ever known—of exciting the common people of one nation against the common people of another.

Germany has added a new verse to the Hymn of Hate, putting this country on a par with Great Britain as the object of Prussian venom. It is Hate, card indexed and catalogued, for which the Kaiser will demand his pound of flesh and blood. The author was Vice-Consul at Plauen, Saxony, until we got into the war, and he tells of his personal experience with the strangest campaign ever known—of exciting the common people of one nation against the common people of another.

Germany has added a new verse to the Hymn of Hate, putting this country on a par with Great Britain as the object of Prussian venom. It is Hate, card indexed and catalogued, for which the Kaiser will demand his pound of flesh and blood. The author was Vice-Consul at Plauen, Saxony, until we got into the war, and he tells of his personal experience with the strangest campaign ever known—of exciting the common people of one nation against the common people of another.

Germany has added a new verse to the Hymn of Hate, putting this country on a par with Great Britain as the object of Prussian venom. It is Hate, card indexed and catalogued, for which the Kaiser will demand his pound of flesh and blood. The author was Vice-Consul at Plauen, Saxony, until we got into the war, and he tells of his personal experience with the strangest campaign ever known—of exciting the common people of one nation against the common people of another.

Germany has added a new verse to the Hymn of Hate, putting this country on a par with Great Britain as the object of Prussian venom. It is Hate, card indexed and catalogued, for which the Kaiser will demand his pound of flesh and blood. The author was Vice-Consul at Plauen, Saxony, until we got into the war, and he tells of his personal experience with the strangest campaign ever known—of exciting the common people of one nation against the common people of another.

Germany has added a new verse to the Hymn of Hate, putting this country on a par with Great Britain as the object of Prussian venom. It is Hate, card indexed and catalogued, for which the Kaiser will demand his pound of flesh and blood. The author was Vice-Consul at Plauen, Saxony, until we got into the war, and he tells of his personal experience with the strangest campaign ever known—of exciting the common people of one nation against the common people of another.

Germany has added a new verse to the Hymn of Hate, putting this country on a par with Great Britain as the object of Prussian venom. It is Hate, card indexed and catalogued, for which the Kaiser will demand his pound of flesh and blood. The author was Vice-Consul at Plauen, Saxony, until we got into the war, and he tells of his personal experience with the strangest campaign ever known—of exciting the common people of one nation against the common people of another.

Germany has added a new verse to the Hymn of Hate, putting this country on a par with Great Britain as the object of Prussian venom. It is Hate, card indexed and catalogued, for which the Kaiser will demand his pound of flesh and blood. The author was Vice-Consul at Plauen, Saxony, until we got into the war, and he tells of his personal experience with the strangest campaign ever known—of exciting the common people of one nation against the common people of another.

Germany has added a new verse to the Hymn of Hate, putting this country on a par with Great Britain as the object of Prussian venom. It is Hate, card indexed and catalogued, for which the Kaiser will demand his pound of flesh and blood. The author was Vice-Consul at Plauen, Saxony, until we got into the war, and he tells of his personal experience with the strangest campaign ever known—of exciting the common people of one nation against the common people of another.

Germany has added a new verse to the Hymn of Hate, putting this country on a par with Great Britain as the object of Prussian venom. It is Hate, card indexed and catalogued, for which the Kaiser will demand his pound of flesh and blood. The author was Vice-Consul at Plauen, Saxony, until we got into the war, and he tells of his personal experience with the strangest campaign ever known—of exciting the common people of one nation against the common people of another.

NEW YORK'S PRIVATE SCHOOLS

FOR BOYS AND YOUNG MEN. NEW YORK CITY, New York. BERKELEY-IRVING SCHOOL. A PREPARATORY SCHOOL FOR BOYS. 200 to 210 West 62nd Street. Individual instruction. Manual training. New gymnasium building, with large roof playground and swimming pool. Grading classes. L. D. RAY, Headmaster. Tel. Schuyler 4884.

TRINITY SCHOOL. 120-124 West 87th Street, New York. FOUNDED 1793. Primary, Grammar and High Schools. Prep for Columbia University. 100th Year Begins Monday, Sept. 24th.

PRIVATE SCHOOLS. There are so many excellent institutions that it is difficult for parents to decide which to select. To help solve your problem unselected information based on your particular instance and booklet of any school or college will be sent you free upon request. Write, stating near what city or town you would like your children to be, what kind of school and how much you desire to spend for tuition and support. Immediately upon reading this advertisement write to:

The Sun School, College and Camp Bureau, 120 Nassau St., New York.

Water-Flowering French Narcissus For Holiday Bloom. Planted in damp moss or gravel and water, produce pure white flowers. Sur bloomers for rooms or window sashes.

13 Mammoth Bulbs, with catalogue, postpaid 65c. 100, by express, $1. 12 Hyacinths, 5 colors, $1. 25 Daisies in Tins, many colors, mixed, $1.25. 350 Lilies, these have the most beautiful fragrance. Mammoth Catalogue Free. VAUGHAN'S SEED STORE, Barclay St. cor Church.

Germany has added a new verse to the Hymn of Hate, putting this country on a par with Great Britain as the object of Prussian venom. It is Hate, card indexed and catalogued, for which the Kaiser will demand his pound of flesh and blood. The author was Vice-Consul at Plauen, Saxony, until we got into the war, and he tells of his personal experience with the strangest campaign ever known—of exciting the common people of one nation against the common people of another.

Germany has added a new verse to the Hymn of Hate, putting this country on a par with Great Britain as the object of Prussian venom. It is Hate, card indexed and catalogued, for which the Kaiser will demand his pound of flesh and blood. The author was Vice-Consul at Plauen, Saxony, until we got into the war, and he tells of his personal experience with the strangest campaign ever known—of exciting the common people of one nation against the common people of another.

Germany has added a new verse to the Hymn of Hate, putting this country on a par with Great Britain as the object of Prussian venom. It is Hate, card indexed and catalogued, for which the Kaiser will demand his pound of flesh and blood. The author was Vice-Consul at Plauen, Saxony, until we got into the war, and he tells of his personal experience with the strangest campaign ever known—of exciting the common people of one nation against the common people of another.

Germany has added a new verse to the Hymn of Hate, putting this country on a par with Great Britain as the object of Prussian venom. It is Hate, card indexed and catalogued, for which the Kaiser will demand his pound of flesh and blood. The author was Vice-Consul at Plauen, Saxony, until we got into the war, and he tells of his personal experience with the strangest campaign ever known—of exciting the common people of one nation against the common people of another.

Germany has added a new verse to the Hymn of Hate, putting this country on a par with Great Britain as the object of Prussian venom. It is Hate, card indexed and catalogued, for which the Kaiser will demand his pound of flesh and blood. The author was Vice-Consul at Plauen, Saxony, until we got into the war, and he tells of his personal experience with the strangest campaign ever known—of exciting the common people of one nation against the common people of another.

Germany has added a new verse to the Hymn of Hate, putting this country on a par with Great Britain as the object of Prussian venom. It is Hate, card indexed and catalogued, for which the Kaiser will demand his pound of flesh and blood. The author was Vice-Consul at Plauen, Saxony, until we got into the war, and he tells of his personal experience with the strangest campaign ever known—of exciting the common people of one nation against the common people of another.

Germany has added a new verse to the Hymn of Hate, putting this country on a par with Great Britain as the object of Prussian venom. It is Hate, card indexed and catalogued, for which the Kaiser will demand his pound of flesh and blood. The author was Vice-Consul at Plauen, Saxony, until we got into the war, and he tells of his personal experience with the strangest campaign ever known—of exciting the common people of one nation against the common people of another.

Germany has added a new verse to the Hymn of Hate, putting this country on a par with Great Britain as the object of Prussian venom. It is Hate, card indexed and catalogued, for which the Kaiser will demand his pound of flesh and blood. The author was Vice-Consul at Plauen, Saxony, until we got into the war, and he tells of his personal experience with the strangest campaign ever known—of exciting the common people of one nation against the common people of another.

Germany has added a new verse to the Hymn of Hate, putting this country on a par with Great Britain as the object of Prussian venom. It is Hate, card indexed and catalogued, for which the Kaiser will demand his pound of flesh and blood. The author was Vice-Consul at Plauen, Saxony, until we got into the war, and he tells of his personal experience with the strangest campaign ever known—of exciting the common people of one nation against the common people of another.

Germany has added a new verse to the Hymn of Hate, putting this country on a par with Great Britain as the object of Prussian venom. It is Hate, card indexed and catalogued, for which the Kaiser will demand his pound of flesh and blood. The author was Vice-Consul at Plauen, Saxony, until we got into the war, and he tells of his personal experience with the strangest campaign ever known—of exciting the common people of one nation against the common people of another.

Germany has added a new verse to the Hymn of Hate, putting this country on a par with Great Britain as the object of Prussian venom. It is Hate, card indexed and catalogued, for which the Kaiser will demand his pound of flesh and blood. The author was Vice-Consul at Plauen, Saxony, until we got into the war, and he tells of his personal experience with the strangest campaign ever known—of exciting the common people of one nation against the common people of another.

Germany has added a new verse to the Hymn of Hate, putting this country on a par with Great Britain as the object of Prussian venom. It is Hate, card indexed and catalogued, for which the Kaiser will demand his pound of flesh and blood. The author was Vice-Consul at Plauen, Saxony, until we got into the war, and he tells of his personal experience with the strangest campaign ever known—of exciting the common people of one nation against the common people of another.

Germany has added a new verse to the Hymn of Hate, putting this country on a par with Great Britain as the object of Prussian venom. It is Hate, card indexed and catalogued, for which the Kaiser will demand his pound of flesh and blood. The author was Vice-Consul at Plauen, Saxony, until we got into the war, and he tells of his personal experience with the strangest campaign ever known—of exciting the common people of one nation against the common people of another.

Germany has added a new verse to the Hymn of Hate, putting this country on a par with Great Britain as the object of Prussian venom. It is Hate, card indexed and catalogued, for which the Kaiser will demand his pound of flesh and blood. The author was Vice-Consul at Plauen, Saxony, until we got into the war, and he tells of his personal experience with the strangest campaign ever known—of exciting the common people of one nation against the common people of another.

Germany has added a new verse to the Hymn of Hate, putting this country on a par with Great Britain as the object of Prussian venom. It is Hate, card indexed and catalogued, for which the Kaiser will demand his pound of flesh and blood. The author was Vice-Consul at Plauen, Saxony, until we got into the war, and he tells of his personal experience with the strangest campaign ever known—of exciting the common people of one nation against the common people of another.

Germany has added a new verse to the Hymn of Hate, putting this country on a par with Great Britain as the object of Prussian venom. It is Hate, card indexed and catalogued, for which the Kaiser will demand his pound of flesh and blood. The author was Vice-Consul at Plauen, Saxony, until we got into the