

COMRADES OF 1898 TOGETHER AT UPTON

Sergeants Green and Williams Come Back to Aid Colonel Train "Buffaloes."

NEGRO HAS TWO BARS As a Boy He Was at Second Lieut. Moss's Side in Battle of San Juan.

Special Despatch to The Sun. CAMP UPTON, L. I., Nov. 20.—Real war miracles are worked among the negro troops, and the 184th Division of the National Army could tell a hundred tales if the army talked. Ten thousand white officers have won long delayed jumps in pay and rank and 10,000 more fine, gallant old non-coms have come into their own these last six months.

M'CALL ATTACKED FOR SAVING NEGRO

West Virginia Calls Refusal to Extradite "Grave Reflection" on His State.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 20.—Characterizing the refusal of Gov. McCall of Massachusetts to honor his requisition for the return to West Virginia for trial of John Johnson, a negro, charged with attacking a white girl in this city, as constituting "a reflection upon the State of West Virginia and showing a deplorable lack of knowledge of it and its people," Gov. John J. Cornwell late today made public a letter which he had written to the Massachusetts Executive Council.

COKE PRICES FIXED BY U. S.

Scale Runs From $6 to $7 and Johnson's Commissions Are Barred.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Basic prices for by-product coke were fixed by the Fuel Administration today as follows: First quality, $6.50 per ton; second, $6.00; and crushed over one inch size, $5.50. The prices are per short ton of 2,000 lbs. at the plant where manufactured. They apply to car lots and to consumers or to dealers for wagon delivery. No commissions may be added by jobbers or other agencies.

ARGENTINE RAILWAY STRIKE SETTLED

Buenos Ayres, Nov. 19.—The strike of railway men on the Western and State railways has been settled.

DECLINES EXTRADITION FEARING PREJUDICE AGAINST NEGRO

Boston, Nov. 20.—Gov. McCall, in a letter to Gov. Cornwell of West Virginia, made public today, explained that he had declined to grant a requisition for the return to that State of John Johnson, a negro, charged with an attack on a white girl at Charleston, because of the "grave danger" that the defendant might be convicted and sentenced to death for a crime of which he may not have been guilty.

TONIGHT TONIGHT TONIGHT

Home Symphony Concert Leave It to Jane

The Philharmonic Orchestra Joseph Stransky, Conductor

MARIE SUNDELIUS, Soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Co.

BERYL RUBINSTEIN, Pianist

Tickets, 10 to 50 cents (war tax paid) on sale at Carnegie Hall all day.

SMALL MORTGAGES

Small mortgages are usually on small houses occupied by the owners who pay their interest and taxes promptly and keep the property in good order.

A substantial sum invested in this way is well placed, and just now the rate of interest is higher than usual—5%.

We can supply you with this desirable form of investment at the above rate, principal and interest guaranteed.

Investor has ever lost a dollar

BOND MORTGAGE GUARANTEE CO. Capital & Surplus, $10,000,000

176 W. 4th St., N. Y. 175 Remsen St., B'klyn. 130 Fulton St., Jamaica.

Y. W. C. A. DISCREDITS CAMP VICE CHARGE

Woman Agent Stationed at Yaphank Since Sept. 6 Heard of No Misdoings.

MRS. HUMISTON POSITIVE

Woman Lawyer Says She Will Prove Her Allegations Against Soldiers.

Officers of the Young Women's Christian Association yesterday said that one of their women agents stationed at Yaphank since September 6 had reported to them and also to Major-Gen. J. Franklin Bell that she had at no time seen anything in or about Camp Upton that would warrant the serious charges made against the soldiers by Mrs. Grace L. Humiston, the lawyer.

The report that two girls had died, which was one of the most serious of Mrs. Humiston's assertions, was brought to this agent, who it was also admitted, had investigated and found no foundation for the story.

Early yesterday afternoon word was sent from the office of the National Board of the Y. W. C. A., at 600 Lexington avenue, that a statement discrediting Mrs. Humiston's charges would be given out at 4 o'clock.

CAPT. SULLIVAN GETS 30 DAY SUSPENSION

Commander of Battery B, 105th Artillery, to Be Reprimanded for Flogging.

Special Despatch to The Sun. SPARTANBURG, S. C., Nov. 20.—Capt. Howard E. Sullivan of Battery B, 105th Artillery, charged with having permitted a flogging to be administered to Private Otto Gottschalk of his battery by non-commissioned officers and privates for violation of military regulations, has been sentenced by court-martial to be suspended from his command for thirty days, restricted to camp for thirty days, and reprimanded by his commanding officer.

The flogging of the court was made public today, after its approval by Brig.-Gen. Phillips, the reviewing officer, and at present in command of the Twenty-seventh division. The exclusion of the case was made public only after Gen. Phillips had first disapproved of the sentence because of its length and had sent the case back for revision.

The court declined to change its sentence, and Gen. Phillips thereupon approved it. It was stated that the record indicated clearly that he did not approve of it at all.

Gen. Phillips said that he was surprised to find that the reviewing officer, Gen. Phillips, had not only approved the sentence but had also recommended that the case be made public.

Gen. Sullivan was then visited in her office, 50 East Forty-second street, she said.

"I had a telephone conversation with Mrs. Sullivan earlier in the day, in which she said that she had seen the reviewing officer, had ordered that nothing be given out for publication."

Mrs. Humiston was then visited in her office, 50 East Forty-second street, she said.

"I had a telephone conversation with Mrs. Sullivan earlier in the day, in which she said that she had seen the reviewing officer, had ordered that nothing be given out for publication."

Mrs. Humiston was then visited in her office, 50 East Forty-second street, she said.

"I had a telephone conversation with Mrs. Sullivan earlier in the day, in which she said that she had seen the reviewing officer, had ordered that nothing be given out for publication."

Mrs. Humiston was then visited in her office, 50 East Forty-second street, she said.

"I had a telephone conversation with Mrs. Sullivan earlier in the day, in which she said that she had seen the reviewing officer, had ordered that nothing be given out for publication."

Mrs. Humiston was then visited in her office, 50 East Forty-second street, she said.

"I had a telephone conversation with Mrs. Sullivan earlier in the day, in which she said that she had seen the reviewing officer, had ordered that nothing be given out for publication."

Mrs. Humiston was then visited in her office, 50 East Forty-second street, she said.

"I had a telephone conversation with Mrs. Sullivan earlier in the day, in which she said that she had seen the reviewing officer, had ordered that nothing be given out for publication."

Mrs. Humiston was then visited in her office, 50 East Forty-second street, she said.

"I had a telephone conversation with Mrs. Sullivan earlier in the day, in which she said that she had seen the reviewing officer, had ordered that nothing be given out for publication."

Mrs. Humiston was then visited in her office, 50 East Forty-second street, she said.

"I had a telephone conversation with Mrs. Sullivan earlier in the day, in which she said that she had seen the reviewing officer, had ordered that nothing be given out for publication."

Mrs. Humiston was then visited in her office, 50 East Forty-second street, she said.

"I had a telephone conversation with Mrs. Sullivan earlier in the day, in which she said that she had seen the reviewing officer, had ordered that nothing be given out for publication."

Mrs. Humiston was then visited in her office, 50 East Forty-second street, she said.

STEEL ORDERS FLOOD MARKET

Heavy Structural Contracts for Government Work.

Consumers of pig iron and structural steel are actively in the market, and several large contracts were reported signed this week.

The Navy Department contemplates the construction of several large aviation buildings in New York city, for which it will require about 3,000 tons of steel.

The American International Shipbuilding Corporation has ordered 1,000 tons of steel for its new plant at Bay Ridge.

A meeting of all contractors has been called by the War Department for Monday in Washington.

JOINT CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ON WEST SIDE IMPROVEMENT WOULD REPEAL LAW.

The Joint Conference Committee on West Side Improvement, composed of Maurice E. Cannon, Marcus M. Marks and Calvin D. Van Name of the Board of Estimate and Public Service Commissioners Hervey and Whitney, yesterday recommended repeal, revocation and rescission of the ordinance adopted by the Board of Aldermen in 1847, under which the New York Central Railroad operated in Eleventh avenue.

The committee takes the ground that the right of public authority over any street in the city are not based on a franchise, but an ordinance revocable at any time, and urges revocation now in order that the dispute with the railroad may be more readily straightened out and the elimination of grade crossings insured.

The committee adds that it does not intend to urge or resort to action that might involve actual interference with the operation of the railroad during the continuance of the world war.

The existence of this conflict is, however, no reason why public rights should be abandoned or being discussed widely in all its phases among women both native and foreign.

The average number of women applying before election, Mr. Schuler said, was about two a day, but since November 1st there have been 172 applications, of an average of about ten for each business day.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

N.Y. CENTRAL OUSTER IN 11TH AV. IS URGED

Joint Conference Committee on West Side Improvement Would Repeal Law.

The Joint Conference Committee on West Side Improvement, composed of Maurice E. Cannon, Marcus M. Marks and Calvin D. Van Name of the Board of Estimate and Public Service Commissioners Hervey and Whitney, yesterday recommended repeal, revocation and rescission of the ordinance adopted by the Board of Aldermen in 1847, under which the New York Central Railroad operated in Eleventh avenue.

The committee takes the ground that the right of public authority over any street in the city are not based on a franchise, but an ordinance revocable at any time, and urges revocation now in order that the dispute with the railroad may be more readily straightened out and the elimination of grade crossings insured.

The committee adds that it does not intend to urge or resort to action that might involve actual interference with the operation of the railroad during the continuance of the world war.

The existence of this conflict is, however, no reason why public rights should be abandoned or being discussed widely in all its phases among women both native and foreign.

The average number of women applying before election, Mr. Schuler said, was about two a day, but since November 1st there have been 172 applications, of an average of about ten for each business day.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

REVOCATION DATE DEC. 1

Rights of Company to Street Since 1847 Not Based on a Franchise.

The committee takes the ground that the right of public authority over any street in the city are not based on a franchise, but an ordinance revocable at any time, and urges revocation now in order that the dispute with the railroad may be more readily straightened out and the elimination of grade crossings insured.

The committee adds that it does not intend to urge or resort to action that might involve actual interference with the operation of the railroad during the continuance of the world war.

The existence of this conflict is, however, no reason why public rights should be abandoned or being discussed widely in all its phases among women both native and foreign.

The average number of women applying before election, Mr. Schuler said, was about two a day, but since November 1st there have been 172 applications, of an average of about ten for each business day.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

VOTES FOR WOMEN AID TO CITIZENSHIP

Husbands Becoming Naturalized So Wives May Enjoy Right of Ballot.

The granting of suffrage to women in New York State will have the effect of bringing about the naturalization of thousands of male aliens who hitherto have not found the time or felt the inclination to become citizens.

This can be deduced from the statistics in this and other New York cities since Election Day.

Charles Schuler, chief of the Naturalization Bureau of the County Clerk's office in Manhattan, said yesterday that the business of the office since November 6 showed clearly not only that women appreciate and will exercise the vote, but that they will be greatly effective in increasing the number of men voters by naturalization.

"About twice as many men as before election appear here every day," he said, "and in practically all cases they are accompanied by their wives. This means simply that women do not propose to be deterred by the fact that their husbands are not citizens."

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.

Mr. Schuler said the increase in men applicants became very noticeable as before election, and he explained to a number of women how under the law they could not be naturalized themselves if their husbands remained aliens.