LONDON, March 12.—Germany's political ambitions in near Russia, and particularly the possible effect upon the Russian people of Japan's proposed invasion of Siberia, continue to loom large in the news columns of the London papers.

Gen. Alexieff and the more dependable element of the Cossack population in Siberia and Turkestan are suggested, with the aid of the Japanese, as the beginning of a possible nucleus for opposition to German domination.

The Petrograd correspondent of the Daily News says Lyoff is awaiting the landing of the Japanese army at Vladivostok, intending to accompany it in its invasion of Siberian territory.

Important Announcement Soon. A Tokio report via Peking says that an important announcement in regard to the Siberian situation is expected soon.

Special Cable Despatch to The Sun from the Petrograd. Copyright, 1918; all rights reserved.

PETROGRAD, March 12.—A former delegate from the Baltic fleet has reported to the Petrograd Soviet that the entire Russian Baltic fleet is being off Helmsing. The crews have melted away and only watchmen are left on the ships.

The dreadnoughts are expected to leave soon for the coast, but the remainder of the ships will stay in Finnish waters, where they practically will be in German hands.

With the army gone and the fleet incapacitated, the Moscow Soviet is trying to organize new forces with which to fight Germany "some future date."

The party has resolved, by a large majority, to ratify the Brest-Litovsk treaty.

PLANS RUSSIAN CANAL. Germany to Connect Baltic With the Black Sea.

LONDON, March 12.—While she proceeds rapidly with her membership in the League of Nations, Germany also is taking further steps for the exploitation of her conquests.

Advices received here from several sources indicate that the Russian Government scarcely will find itself established in Moscow before it will begin to move again, retreating eastward before the German armies, which apparently continue their advance regardless of the Brest peace treaty.

New Peace Movement Incubating in Germany

LONDON, March 12.—According to the Morning Post's Bernese correspondent, preparations are being made through the German newspapers and by German press agents for a new political move.

The correspondent says it is possible a fresh peace move is contemplated on the basis of the status quo prior to the war in the west and recognition of the present status in the east.

WARRINGTON, March 12.—According to a document obtained from Austria by secret means the Vienna Reichrat has not been unanimous in its approval of the peace treaty between the Central Powers and the Bolshevik and Ukrainian leaders in Russia, but has had to face a violent opposition from Jugoslavians.

A manifesto of the southern Slav group, signed by 35 of 37 Jugoslavian Deputies, was, it now develops, addressed to the Austrian and German governments and the Ukrainian delegations at Brest-Litovsk. It demands a radical change in internal affairs of Austria-Hungary by the establishment of an independent and sovereign Yugoslav State.

Publication of the manifesto was forbidden in Austria-Hungary. It begins with an emphatic protest against the refusal of Austria-Hungary to permit representatives of the oppressed nationalities of the Dual Monarchy to share in the negotiations.

The "terrible pressure of the present world war has resulted in the extermination of his ability and efficiency, however, and said that no better equipped man could undertake the difficult task of offensive and defensive propaganda in enemy countries.

PRESS BOGEY LAID BY LLOYD GEORGE

Premier Defends Journalists in Office and Denies Newspaper Control.

Special Cable Despatch to The Sun. Copyright, 1918; all rights reserved.

LONDON, March 12.—The anticipated debate in the House of Commons over the relations between the Government and the newspapers has resulted in Premier Lloyd George again laying the spectre of a press controlled ministry.

Mr. Lloyd George, in replying to a question by Austen Chamberlain, told the House that in every great allied country newspaper proprietors and editors are entrusted with high office.

He challenged the opinion that such men are disqualified from holding such posts in this country.

The Premier asserted that when newspaper proprietors and editors accept ministerial office they relinquish directly their political influence.

He said that he was not holding a ministerial position. Mr. Lloyd George paid a high tribute to his ability and efficiency, however, and said that no better equipped man could undertake the difficult task of offensive and defensive propaganda in enemy countries.

GOETHALS MAY BE BAKER'S ASSISTANT President Favors Stettinius for Other of New Posts.

Special Despatch to The Sun. Copyright, 1918; all rights reserved.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Senators visiting the White House are responsible for an assertion which gained currency today that the President has in mind the appointments of Major-General George W. Goethals and Edward R. Stettinius to the two new Assistant Secretarieships of War soon to be created by Congress.

It is known that the President has extraordinary confidence in the canal builder, and it is said that in making such a selection the Executive believes he can harness some of the criticism of the War Department's administration under Secretary Baker. Goethals, it is said, would be the President's choice for the senior Assistant Secretaryship, and it would devolve on him to sit at the head of the Department on such occasions as the President is out of Washington.

JAPAN UNDECIDED ON SIBERIAN PLAN

Entente Diplomats Discredit Reports That Expedition Has Started.

Special Despatch to The Sun. Copyright, 1918; all rights reserved.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The Japanese Government has come to no decision regarding the Siberian expedition, according to Entente diplomats here, who discredit reports that the expedition has already started.

The view now held in British and French circles is that Japan's proposal to land troops in Siberia was much in the nature of sounding out the Allies and the United States with regard to the plan and that Japan is still considering it.

The opinion of diplomats here is that Japan will now await developments confident that objections to the expedition will be removed if it can be shown that the menace of Germany in Siberia is real and necessitates military action to cope with it.

Japan, diplomats explain, has scrupulously followed a course of not taking a selfish advantage of the situation brought about by the war, and it is felt that this entitles the Tokio Government to the benefit of all doubt as to its present intentions.

JAPAN IS CAUTIOUS. Government Will Use Utmost Care, Says Premier.

LONDON, March 12.—A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph from Tientsin, sent last Saturday, says it was reported unofficially from Tokio that negotiations were going on between the Japanese and Siberian Governments and that the Japanese newspapers considered the situation acute.

The subject of Japan's intervention in Siberia is to be raised in the House of Commons Thursday by H. B. Lees-Smith, member for Northamptonshire. A. J. Balfour, Secretary for Foreign Affairs, is expected to reply.

The steamship defended itself with its guns on being attacked by the submarine.

RUSSIA'S WAR ROLE ENDED, SAYS LODGE

Tells Massachusetts Senate She Is Out for Good.

Special Cable Despatch to The Sun. Copyright, 1918; all rights reserved.

BOSTON, March 12.—Belief that Russia would never be a factor in the war again and that the conflict would be won on the fields of northern France was expressed by United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge before the Massachusetts Senate today.

"I wish the people of Russia nothing but good," he said, "but I believe that its Government will never be an active factor in the war again. Therefore, the duty of taking up the fight devolves upon the United States."

"I believe that the war will be won on the fields of northern France—where our American boys are. It is the duty of every citizen to see to it that they are given the greatest possible measure of assistance."

"To win the war we must act as if we are preparing for a long drawn out conflict. The crash in Russia affects Germany as much as it affects the Allies, because it is foolish to expect that those portions of Austria-Hungary territory with Rumanian populations, which she could occupy when she thought fit."

Finally in December, 1914, the Rumanian Premier, C. Bratianu, decided to intervene actively in conjunction with the Entente. He was, however, obliged to defer action owing to the unpreparedness of the Rumanian army and the difficulties attending a campaign.
