

FEWER EASTER BRIDES OWING TO HURRIED WAR WEDDINGS

THE last days of Lent are being devoted by society to works of philanthropy, and much attention is being paid to war relief and Red Cross work on all sides, even so far away from New York as Miami, Fla., where on Wednesday last Mrs. Arthur Curtis James gave an unusually artistic fete at Four Way Lodge, her winter home, for the benefit of the American Red Cross. There were several hundred in attendance to enjoy the beautiful floral display, the dances and the posing after famous Greek sculptures.

The theatre at the flower show did its share for the Red Cross, and its work was continued until Thursday of this week. Another entertainment that has been well patronized is the exhibition of Lieut. Henri Farre's paintings of aerial warfare in France, the proceeds of which will be divided among the children of French aviators killed in battle.

The Metropolitan opera has not been neglected, the audiences throughout the week showing no falling off in brilliancy, and there remain five weeks of the subscription season. The weddings of yesterday gave a bright ending to the week, although all had been advanced on account of the war.

Easter will come early this year, falling on March 31, and it does not seem as if there would be the customary number of weddings during April. This is easily explained by the hurried weddings of the Lenten season.

In all probability among the brides of April will be Miss Virginia Bruce Loney, whose engagement to Robert H. Gamble was announced some weeks ago. Mr. Gamble is at the school of aviation in Miami and at this time it is not possible to mention the wedding date.

Miss Katherine Garrison Chapin, a daughter of Mrs. Lindley Hoffman Chapin, will be married to Francis H. Biddle of Philadelphia next month, but the date of that wedding has not been fixed. A marriage in Baltimore on April 27 of interest here will be that of Miss Mary Tyler Duffy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Duffy, to Lieut. Seth Barton French, Ordnance Department, U. S. A., son of Dr. and Mrs. John Herndon French of this city. The wedding will take place in Emmanuel Church.

Lieut. Henri Farre's paintings of aerial warfare were shown at the Anderson Galleries during the past week. On some of the afternoons there have been shown moving pictures, and there has also been music. The exhibition will finish on Wednesday evening. To-morrow afternoon will be shown some of the latest films of aerial warfare, and during the evening there will be addresses by prominent aviators.

Among the visitors during the week have been Mrs. Ogden Goetz, Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Mrs. E. Henry Harriman, Mrs. George F. Baker, Jr., and Mrs. Goodhue Livingston, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund L. Baylis, Mrs. Maynard, Mrs. W. A. Astor, Mrs. John Magee, Mrs. W. Bourke Cockran, Mrs. John Dineley Prince, Mrs. William H. Crocker, Mrs. George F. Baker, Jr., Mrs. Charles B. Alexander and Mrs. August Belmont.

Members of the Junior League will continue their efforts in the selling of flowers and plants. They will include Miss Ruth B. Bliss and Miss Ruth Lockwood Manierre, secretary and treasurer of the organization; the Misses Lella Burden, Minnie Richards, Ruth Marden, Mary Lincoln, Jane Quintard, Eleanor Stevenson, Frances Fennell, Mrs. Dean, Elizabeth Manning, Jane Brower, Lucile Baldwin, Nina Ryan, Alice Hale, Sheila Byrne, Katherine Kent, Rosamond Sherwood, Mary Van Rensselaer Lorrillard, Constance Poor, Edith Gibb Pratt, Nina Dearth and Margaret Burton.

The general committee of the Red Cross department of the show includes Mrs. William Kinnicut Draper, Mrs. Newbold Le Roy Edgar, Miss Mary Parsons, Miss Bell Gurnee, Mrs. Arthur Scott Burden, Mrs. Harry H. Duryea and Miss Mary Cass Canfield.

Mrs. Schuyler Neilson Warren, Mrs. Stephen Dwyer, Mrs. David Rumsey, Mrs. Maurice Wilson, Mrs. Miss Amy Seabury Weeks and T. Tlestone Wells are members of the committee that has invited Canon Cabanel, who is a member of the French Commission to the United States, to deliver his address on "The Soul of France" on the afternoon of March 27 in the ballroom of the Plaza. Miss Agnes Reppier will make the introduction, and there will be recitations by Miss Paulette Noizeux of the Theatre du Vieux Colombier. Tickets at $2 each may be obtained of Mrs. Marren at her home, 22 East Thirty-eighth street. The proceeds of the lecture will be devoted to the Slaves in Whippany, N. J. A reception will follow the lecture. Among the members of the general committee are Mrs. Henry Addison Alexander, Mrs. William H. Appleton, Mrs. Jose Ayman, Mrs. Francis C. Barlow, Baron de Belleville, Mrs. Henry Havel Binnis, Mrs. Gerald M. Borden, Mrs. Douglas W. Campbell, Mrs. Clarence Cary, Mrs. Edward Livingston Coater, Mrs. Frederick L. Prominent women of New York city have joined in the movement started by the French Government to establish an American market for the handwork of the mutilated soldiers and the widows and orphans of France. In addition to ordering hundreds of dollars worth of the toys, lingerie and laces now on display at the headquarters of the Arts et Metiers Francaise, 22 East Forty-second street, these women who are known throughout the country as leaders of American social life, are arranging a benefit for the wounded French craftsmen which will be given at the Century Theatre on the evening of March 24. Noted opera and theatrical stars have volunteered their services. Among the patronesses who are taking an active interest in the benefit are Mrs. Charles B. Alexander, Mrs. Robert Bacon, Mrs. Samuel H. Benson, Mrs. Arthur Scott Burden, Mrs. Ernest Brooks, Mrs. Hodgson Burnett, Mrs. James Byrne, Mrs. George Blinn, Mrs. Philip Benckard, Mrs. Pierce Carter, Mrs. Francis Dumas, Mrs. Grenville Emmet, Mrs. Snowden A. Fehnestock, Mrs. Jules Glanzer, Mrs. Hollis H. Hunnewell, Mrs. John P. Kane, Mrs. Johnston Livingston, Miss Caroline L. Slater, Mrs. Arthur Scribner, Mrs. Charles Smith, Mrs. Donald Vanderbilt and Mrs. John Wannamaker, Jr.

Mme. Robert J. Bagues, wife of Lieut. Bagues, and Mrs. Lucille Craft are in charge of the New York branch of the Arts et Metiers Francaise, and Mrs. Charles B. Alexander, wife of the President of France, and Mrs. William G. Chapman, wife of the American Ambassador to France, are directing the Paris organization. The foremost men and women of France are backing the movement in order to obtain a permanent market for the products of the French soldiers and the French women who have given so much to their country. Through American women who are cooperating with the French authorities the artisans will be kept informed of American tastes and directed in their work that they may please their American market. Hundreds of orders for laces, frocks, toys and perfumes have already been sent to France.

The French Consul-General, Gaston Liebert, and the Marquis de Polignac, patron of the Arts et Metiers Francaise, will also attend the benefit performance.

Mrs. Charles A. Van Rensselaer's aeronautic committee of the Woman's Naval Service is arranging a lecture to be given in Carnegie Hall on the evening of March 22 by Capt. R. Hugh Knyvet, intelligence officer and scout of the Fifteenth Australian Infantry. His subject will be "Making the World Safe for Democracy." Seats may be secured at the headquarters of the committee, 263 Madison avenue.

Mrs. Van Rensselaer is chairman of the committee, and associated with her are Mrs. Clinton Gilbert, Mrs. Melvin A. Bronson, Mrs. Charles S. Whitman, Mrs. Benjamin Thaw, Mrs. Henry A. Wise Wood, Mrs. E. French Vanderbilt, Mrs. William H. Crocker, Mrs. Horatio N. Slater, Mrs. William E. Benjamin and Mrs. E. Henry Harriman.

Southern resorts and California are still claiming many who are leaving this city for the Easter holiday.
