

ARMA EXPLOSIVES RECEIVERS TO STAY

Court Declines to Discharge Them on Petition of the Stockholders.

ELECTION PLAN HALTED

Odel and Holt Will Remain in Charge Until Company Is on Firm Ground.

John B. Stanchfield, general of the forces which have been opposing the contemplated plan for readjustment of the affairs of the Aetna Explosives Corporation...

Mr. Victor protested against this and against the anonymous circular which caused much excitement at the stockholders' meeting on Tuesday...

Mr. Stanchfield read Judge Mayer's letter from Julia T. Plunkett of Washington, D. C., a common stockholder...

He declared that any trifling with the affairs of the explosives concern would hamper its efficiency and naturally aid the foe...

While these bankers have contributed nothing to this company, he said, they stand ready to make about $100,000 by manipulation of its affairs...

To this Mr. Victor entered another forcible denial. He stated that he had been misled into signing the temporary injunction which prevented the election of a new board...

He directed that an order be issued on Monday in accordance with his decision.

Finck a Real Patriot. Sacrifices $200 a Year to Avoid Teaching German.

Edward M. Finck, for the last five years a teacher of languages in the public schools of Kearny, N. J., threw up his job yesterday and accepted another one at $100 less in order to disassociate himself from the German language.

Although school boards all over the country have dropped German from their curricula, the Kearny board has chosen to retain it, and Finck, who was receiving $1,800 a year, was expected to teach it. He is a graduate of Princeton and an ardent admirer of President Wilson.

Senator Sage made an attack on Supt. Anderson of the Anti-Saloon League, whom he charged with threatening legislation that would deprive the people of their right to drink.

Minority Leader Wagner spoke in favor of the referendum, saying that the Legislature, in deciding the prohibition question, first should know whether the people want to surrender their rights.

Others who spoke were Senators Otis, Walker, Bayard, and the Committee on the subject of the proposed Easter traffic congestion of railroads.

NEW LIBERTY MOTOR FLIES OVER CAPITOL 8,000,000 TONNAGE SUNK DURING 1917

Test in Hydroairplane Is Complete Success.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—The first Liberty motor to reach Washington in test service has been driving a navy flying boat from Norfolk and carrying the pilot and two passengers. It came in unheralded yesterday.

The boat, one of the smaller types for sea service, has not been placed on exhibition. Navy officials are highly satisfied with the performance of the motor. Further long distance tests are to be expected.

REFERENDUM PLAN KILLS DRY MEASURE

Continued from First Page. The net addition to labor in the last seven months had been 19,000 men, mostly unskilled. During February there was an increase of 2,500 men, which was as many new men as the yards could dig.

More Ships Would Shorten War. The Government believed, continued the Premier, that by special exertion the deficiency of 120,000 tons monthly in British shipping could be made good.

Wellington Applauded. The galleries and the Senate chamber were crowded and so vociferous was the applause at the conclusion of Senator Wellington's speech that Lieut. Gov. Schreckengost had to raise his voice to be heard.

Far back and dormant in the mind of every man there lingers the memory of an old friend, perhaps a celebrity of long ago that one admired or an old spot one loved to visit.

You see one of these names in print and it causes a rush of sudden memories of times and people and places that were contemporaneous, and uncovers a strain of sentimentality you never knew you possessed.

This is how a former user of our "number seven" collar felt when he saw it advertised last week.

At least he told us so and renewed old friendship in a way most acceptable to us. So in case there are others:

We carry "number seven" collars in all sizes at all times.
