

At close quarters with the Hun in almost open fighting. A detachment of our troops hurling hand grenades into enemy positions. Note the smoke from the explosions.

Copyright, Committee on Public Information.

Peace has its great engineering feats as well as war. Building the State highway on the side of Storm King Mountain, near West Point, is a task exceeding many emergency works abroad.

International Film.

Motorizing heavy field artillery is a task considered solved by American automobile engineers. The top view shows a five ton tractor hauling a gun across rough country; the middle picture shows a ten ton ordnance tractor, camouflaged, capable of handling an entire battery, and below it is seen a four wheel drive supply truck, fully loaded, taking a heavy grade.

Photos by N. Lazarnick.

Southern melodies, old and new, are sung with vim by this quartet from a negro labor battalion at Camp Gordon, Ga. Their efforts do much to cheer their fellows.

Photo, Underwood & Underwood.