MISS MARSTON A BRIDE

Robert J. Adams Leads Her in Open Air Altar in Her Connecticut Home.

Under a grove of honeysuckle at Glen Arlie, Byram Shore, Port Chester, N. Y., yesterday afternoon, Miss Jennie F. Marston, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar L. Marston, became the bride of Robert J. Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Franklin Adams of 88 North street, Greenwich, Conn., and 3 East Seventy-first street, New York. Four hundred guests, many from New York, witnessed the ceremony performed amid natural surroundings at a point overlooking the sound by Dr. W. H. P. Faunce, president of Brown University, who came from Lake Mohonk, N. Y., to officiate.

The bride was attended by Miss Alma Capen of New York as maid of honor. The bridesmaids were the Misses Constance Quimby, Dorothy, Elizabeth Williams, Margaret Cary of Chicago, Father Ward of Wilmington, Del., and Nancy Osborne of Pittsburg. Mary Hunter Marston, niece of the bride, was flower girl, and Edgar Lewis Marston, nephew of the bride, was the ring bearer. Jules Glanzer was his brother-in-law. The bridesmaids were the Misses Thous J. Munda, Trumbull, Thomas, Lieut. J. Berry Underhill, Lieut. Lincoln T. Hayes, Powell Fowler, Cornelius Smith and Roswell Mundy.

The bride's gown was of white tulle over white satin trimmed with her mother's wedding lace. The wedding supper was served under a large tent, the music being furnished by an orchestra on the pavilion floor and another was stationed on the large veranda. The Rev. Dr. Faunce, organist of the Fifth Avenue Baptist Church, presided at the pipe organ.

The bride is a Westover graduate of June last, the bridegroom is a Plattsburg graduate of the same year. The military favor with the uniform among the guests.

The bride's father, who is a member of the banking firm of Blair & Co., is on the Board of Fellows of Brown University, to which he recently presented the Field house.
